After a short overview of the game in chapters I and II, the following chapters follow roughly the turn order. The last chapter is dedicated to specific rules. The second rulebook part is the set of historical events (or almost historical) that make the game tick. It is divided in economic events and political events, ordered by period of apparition (period I starting in 1492 and period VII ending with the French Revolution). The third rulebook part contains various listings such as minor countries characteristics. Most of this information is already available on counters. The fourth rulebook part holds the game tables and players aids. There are eight pages of general tables plus one page per country played (thirteen different countries are available during the course of the game). The fifth rulebook contains the scenarios as well as some advices on playing the game. The game is meant to be played as a Great campaign spanning over 300 years of history, from Columbus journey to America to the French Revolution. Other scenarios, for a shorter game as well as ways to learn the rules progressively, might be written someday. The sixth rulebook part contains the table of contents, the index and various lists. It is not necessary for the game (but may be useful while browsing the rulebook). Apart from this introduction, each point of this rulebook is fully numbered (such as "paragraph C.3 of section III.3.3.3"). The counters are not pre-cutted. Thus, you will need to print them (23 pages, in full colours), glue them and cut them. Beware that some counters are double-sided while some are simple-sided. Beware that there are two size of counters (plus the triangle shaped manufactures). Gluing and cutting is a tiresome process. We advice to do it all before playing (rather than waiting for the counter to be needed). You will probably need counters trays (6 is good) to hold them. The maps are intended to be printed on a A0 sheet (each). You can try printing them smaller (A1) but they will then be very crowded with the counters. That means that you will need one (or two) large table to hold the maps, enough room for nine players around, and some private space for secret diplomacy. . . Organisation of the rules As stated, the whole rulebook is organised into several booklets. Rules Following this informal Introduction, the rules are organised in chapters, Sections, and numbered paragraphs. Each point being fully numbered for easy reference. The first two chapters, chapter I (Game components) and chapter II (The powers: at home and abroad), are introductory chapters. They describe the components and the main concepts of the game. The following chapters, from chapter III (Events) to chapter XII (Inter-turns Phase) describe the core rules. Each chapter corresponds to one phase of the game turn (or part of), in order. These should be read by each player before playing. Then, chapter XIII (Winning the game) deals about fame, glory and all that. Victory Points (VPs) are earned slowly during the game, a bit at each turn and slightly more at the end of each period. Each player will need to read the corresponding part of this chapter in time, but reading all of it is not necessarily. The rules close with chapter XIV (Specific Rules). This chapter explain the specific rules of each country. Both the majors and minors countries do have specific rules ("ways to cheat"). These specific rules are the salt of the game, the thing that makes each country different from the other. Don't panic, you'll manage. . . Europa Universalis is without a doubt a monster game. The core rules are more than 300 pages long. Each player has a 9 pages player's aid. The game components include two huge maps and almost 3500 counters. Lastly, a turn usually require 2 to 6 hours to play. Hence a great campaign, the way it is meant to be played, represents between 250 and 350 hours of playing. That is, if you play one week-end per month, your game will last for a couple of years (the game has a rather low density of counters and writing down positions between play sessions in not too hard). However, Europa Universalis is not that hard to play. . . Great efforts have been made to streamline the rules (apart from the specific rules). The motto being "the game is complex, not complicated". Most actions in the game are quite similar from one turn to another. Quickly, you will learn to do them without hesitating. Quickly, you'll will be able to concentrate on the time-consuming but interesting aspects of the game: Diplomacy and Strategy. Europa Universalis is about Diplomacy. This is a multiplayers game. You cannot win alone. You will need to discuss a lot with other players. You will see that the Diplomacy phase is very important and has a lot of depth. Countries are not balanced in term of strength. If you play a weak country, you'll need to find alliances to get money, troops, peace, . . . If you play a strong country, you'll need to divide your opponents or they will still be able to crush you. We do not advice to put a time limit on the Diplomacy phase. It is not uncommon for a single Diplomacy phase to last for 1 hour, sometimes 2. These are usually intense hours worth playing. Europa Universalis is about Strategy. The Military phase is the other important phase. It can lasts for 2 or 3 hours during big wars. You will see that the Military rules are quite detailed, maybe the most complicated rules around. That makes a good strategy really worthwhile. You will learn the geographic strengths and weakness of your country. You will soon cherish those few +1 die roll modifiers you can grab. You will know the thrill of a good strategy winning you the war. You will curse the stroke of bad luck that can turn an easy battle into a disaster. Europa Universalis is a very deep game. You will feel the real position of a Monarch taking decisions that greatly affect your country, Europa Universalis is a game with a great emotional implication of the players. You will probably want to recall some of your best (or worse) moves even years after, or to tell them to other EU players. Playing tip: Due to the highly interactive Military phase (with many interceptions possible), Europa Universalis is not well suited to play-by-mail and we advice a face-to-face game. When playing a game with beginners, the best is to have at least two experienced players. One can play the monster (Spain), hard to begin with, while the other can play a less important country (such a Portugal or Poland) and act as a rule layer and arbiter. If you have only one experienced player, it is probably better to have him play a small country and be a rule layer (with time to answer questions). Give Spain to a player who is not afraid of monster games. . . Before playing with beginners, we advice you to play an initiation session. After a quick overview of the rules, you can "jump" into a new game. Everybody will make a lot of errors (both "cheating" (rule errors) and strategic or tactical errors). But after 3 to 6 turns (1 or 2 days, usually), everybody should know the rules well enough. Then, you can start the real game. "Loosing" 2 days of play may seem long, but compared to the duration of the game, this is actually OK. Before playing for real, make sure that everybody knows the most common rules. Each player should also read the specific rules of his country. The rest can be interesting but is not necessarily. Decide also on an arbiter (usually the most experienced player) as rules conflicts will probably arise.

Reading the specific rules of your opponents is not required but can greatly help build a strategy against them. Reading the specific rules of all minors countries is usually not needed but you should probably read the rules for countries with which you will interact (that is, countries in your geographical area). Events Political events If the specific rules of each country are the salt of the game, the political events are the real meat. Each turn, four historical events are rolled for in a more or less organised way. These events create special conditions to apply. Often, they give opportunities (or obligations!) to create new wars. Sometimes, they provide with drastic changes of alliances or new political situations. Most of the events happened historically. Some of them did not happened but seemed plausible enough to be added to the game. Political events are grouped by periods so that, say, the American Revolution may not occur before England has a chance to colonise North America. Even if grouped by historical periods, the events occurs in a randomly fashion. This provides a unique, yet hopefully plausible, historical background for each game. Moreover, the way the players react to the events can be quite different from the historical reactions of the monarchs of this time. Thus, the history in game can be quite different from the History as it did happen. In order to win the game, each player will need to react properly to the events. Trying to be in a good position to exploit opportunities and to avoid major drawbacks requires a careful playing. Between the (political) choices proposed for each event and the actual military conduct of the wars, players will have a lot to do. Reading the events is not necessarily before playing. In some way, it is even better if nobody knows them as each player will then enjoy the surprise of things as the historical monarchs did. However, knowing the events (especially the big ones) helps planning. Moreover, after playing once, you will know the big events and this will give you an edge over beginners. Each group should choose which policy to apply toward events (read them in advance or not) and stick to it (and, especially, use fair play if you decide to keep the events secret. . .) Revolts, diplomacy and economic events In addition to the political events, there are also some economical events. These occur once per turn per country, always among the same set of events. They give an additional random flavour to the game. Sometimes, political events will simply result in a peasant's revolt as well as some diplomatic instability. This is resolved using the revolt and diplomacy events. Tables, Appendices, Scenarios, Index Appendices, Tables and Index The appendices mostly contain the complete description of minors countries. You don't need to read them before you actually need them. You may want to browse through it in order to know which are the strong minors. It contains mostly a lot of quite arid information that makes little sense before you actually start playing. The Player's aids contain the summary of all the tables required to play. They are also in the rules, so there is nothing new in the aids worth reading before playing. Each player will need a full set of player's aid during the game, so make sure to print enough. The index is used it for reference purpose only. Scenarios The scenarios booklet should contains several scenarios for larger and larger games. It currently only contains the largest one: the Great Campaign. Europa Universalis is designed to be played as a Great Campaign. You'll find there the setup for this scenario.

4 Introduction Someday, we might add additional setups for shorter games, both shorter campaigns and “battle” or “war” scenarios. But frankly, this is not our most important task today. A couple of meta-tips about the rules These rules use many visual tools to help the reader. Coloured boxes are sometime used to highlight some features of the game such as the following ones: Design note: Sometimes, we feel the need to explain stuff about the meaning of the rules. History of the game In the 1990’s, Philippe Thibault wrote the original Europa Universalis game, that we refer as “EU6” as is was designed for 6 players only. In the early 2000’s, Pierre Borgnat and Bertrand Asseray wrote an addendum to these rules, adding two players and modifying many aspects of the game. Quickly, Jean-Yves Moyen and Jean-Christophe Dubacq joined the project. We decided to rewrite the whole rules from scratch and to add a ninth player. The result is thus called “EU9”. Most terms in these rules that do refer to something precise, such as a rule, an event, a leader, . . . are usually hyperlinks. That means that if you’re reading the rules on an electronic device (computer, tablet, . . .) you can click on almost anything and jump to the page in the rules where it is described. Example: Try clicking on the following and see where it leads (your device probably has a “back” feature to come back here afterwards): ANG, chapter V (Incomes), section VI.3.3 (Bankruptcy), BRAZIL, event I-1 (Treaty of Tordesillas), event part IV-A.α (Creation of the Germanic Alliances), subevent VII-5.y (Reign of Terror and Directoire), I Süleyman, Richelieu, Prinz Eugen. Lastly, the choice of language, fonts and colours in which terms are written also carries information on what kind of entity it actually depicts. If two terms are written in the same way, that usually means they depict similar entities (leaders, country, troops, cities, . . .) Example: Consider the differences between: NORVEGIA (minor country, in Latin), NORWAY (a region on the map, in English), Norge (a single province, in local language) and Mer de Norvège (a sea zone, in French). Getting help If you have questions about the game, or if you need help on the rules, please feel free to contact us. You can ask us on the EU mailing list at Yahoo groups, either in English (EU-list@yahoogroups.com) or in French (EuropaUniversalis@yahoogroupes.fr). Since both of these mailing lists were created for the original Azure Wish edition of the game (EU6) and not for this BAMGames rewriting (EU9), please make sure that you state clearly that your question is about the BAMGames rewrite. Otherwise, you might annoy people and you'll probably get answers based on the EU6 version of the rules which, in some points, is quite different from this one. Or you can ask at the forum http://europa-universalis.frbb.net/forum.htm (in French, but we'll answer in English if needed). This forum is specifically about the BAMGames version of the game. There is also a dedicated thread on the BoardGameGeek forums: https://www.boardgamegeek.com/thread/1278052/eu9-9-players-rewrite Some of us are also present on other gaming forums such as ConsimWorld (http://talk.consimworld.com/, in English) or Strategikon (http://www.strategikon.info/phpBB3/, in French). This is however not the most reliable way to reach us.	People— master – 2016-04-14 5 People Authors The original Europa Universalis game was written by Philippe Thibaud for Azure Wish Edition in 1993. They may differ from the initial setup. C.2 Minor countries existing in 1492 Shields bearing the arms of a minor country recall the initial possessions of the minor country. C.3 Influence Blurred shields represent influence of a country (either major or minor) on a province. Since it is in those cases rarely important, a more recent city was chosen. Cities built after the 17th century have been avoided. Also, keep in mind that a city represents the whole urban infrastructure of a province. Sometimes taking a city will really mean "take a bunch of cities all hidden deep in the mountains". In the ROTW, cities are actually places where European control can be exercised, and conquest done; we do not mean to say that India or China were empty of cities (this would be most untrue), only that most places would not lend themselves to conquest.

[R]12 Counters 1.1.4.1 Control of a province A Each province is owned by one country. A.1 Change of ownership can only occurs by formal annexation (usually at the end of a war, sometimes by wedding or other events). B During wars, provinces can also be controlled by a country different from their owner. B.1 Control of a province occurs by taking and holding the city of the province. C It is possible and common for a given province to be owned by a country, but controlled by another country. 1.1.5 Symbols in Sea Zones A Each sea zone has a difficulty. It is the number written in the picture of a storm (or calm sea). B Some sea zones in the ROTW have an additional malus, either +1 or +2 making travel through them even harder. C Some sea zones are also trade zones. The trade zones are depicted with the silhouette of a ship in a coloured square (Sea Trade Zone) or circle (Country Trade Zone). C.1 The numbers in the silhouette are the incomes of the trade zone. 1.1.6 ROTW provinces A On the ROTW map, provinces are grouped in areas. All the provinces of an area share some characteristics: income value, colonisation difficulty, trading-post implantation difficulty, initial number of natives and exotic resources. A.1 All provinces of the same area are grouped by a coloured line. The characteristics of this area are written in a box of the same colour near the area. B The three numbers are (in order) the income, difficulty, and tolerance of the area. B.1 Each province of the area has these numbers. B.2 If an area has no tolerance, use its difficulty whenever tolerance is required. C The strength of natives in the area is written below the soldier picture. C.1 The choice of soldier (Indian, Zulu, Samurai, . . . and a couple of Easter eggs) is purely decorative and has no influence on the game. C.2 Natives are present in each province of the area with the same strength. D Exotic resources are depicted with symbol (for the type of resource) and numbers (for the quantity of such resource). D.1 Exotic resources are shared by all the provinces of the area. They are not present in the same amount in each province. They can be exploited from any province of the area and countries will need to agree (or fight. . .) if several of them want to exploit the same resource. D.2 The snowflakes are not an exploitable resource but design the cold areas in the ROTW. The higher the number, the colder the area. E Round the world The sea zones Pacifique Sud-Est and Pacifique Nord-Est are adjacent to Grand océan pacifique. 1.1.7 Tracks A The ROTW map also holds several game tracks. A.1 There are two diplomatic tracks, one for the European diplomacy with one line per major country, and one for the ROTW diplomacy with one box per ROTW minor country. Diplomacy works differently in Europe and in the ROTW. A.2 The exotic resources tracks are use to store both the total amount of exotic resources exploited (by type) and the price of them. This information is updated once per turn. A.3 The technology track keeps both the technological level of countries (both major and minor) and the technology goals to be reached (they will move).	[R]13 Game components— master – 2016-04-14 A.4 The turn track is coloured by periods. It can also be used to hold those counters that only come into play at precise time (mostly historical leaders). 1.2 Counters TODO: Add images of more or less all type of counters (not only leaders). A Types of counters There are several types of counters: Military (land and sea units, fortresses) ; Leaders ; Economical (colonies and trading posts, trade fleet, manufactures, gold mines, trade centers) ; Military markers (control and ownership, siege-works, revolts, pillages) and Game markers (diplomacy, technology and exotic resources). A.1 The military markers are in unlimited quantity. If you need more of them than provided, use whatever you think convenient to represent them. A.2 All other counters are in quantity limited by the game. If you need more than you have, too bad but you can't create them. B Levels and side Many two-sided counters act as "containers" for smaller counters (military) or abstract economical stuff. B.1 These counters can hold a certain number of "levels" (usually 2, 4 or 6). B.2 They are used on the side marked ⊖ if they hold half or less than their maximum level and on the side ⊕ if they hold more than half. 1.2.1 Military counters A All these counters are intentionally in a limited amount. If you don't have enough, you can't do what you intended. A.1 Exception: REBELLIS (both "Rebellion" and "Revolt") and PIRATÆ counters are in unlimited amount. 1.2.1.1 Land units A Detachments The basic land unit is the land detachment (LD). It contains both infantry and cavalry. B Armies Army counters (A) contain both infantry, cavalry and some artillery. B.1 An A⊖ is always exactly 2LD (plus some artillery). An A⊕ is always exactly 4LD (plus artillery). B.2 A can be broken up at almost any time. The result is a number of counters representing the same number of LD without creating new A counter. B.3 Thus, an A⊕ can be broken into an A⊖ and 2LD, or into 4LD but never into 2A⊖. B.4 An A⊖ can be reinforced by 2LD and turned into an A⊕. B.5 It is never possible to merge several LD into a new A counter. C Exploration detachments In the ROTW only, it is possible to break a LD into 3 land detachments of exploration (LDE) as a result of battle or attrition. C.1 Conversely, 3LDE can be merged into a LD. C.2 LDE cease to exist the moment they enter a province or sea zone on the European map. D Army class The roman number on each land unit it its Army Class. D.1 Army class is an abstract representation of the military doctrine of a country. It plays a huge role during battle (it mostly represents relative size of troops, as well as quantity and quality of artillery and cavalry). D.2 The Arab number (or letter) is an identification number of the counter and plays no in-game role. D.3 The image has purely decorative function and plays no role whatsoever, although armies of the same class tend to have similar images. E Militia and natives
[R]14 Counters E.1 The white counters represent colonial militiae and are used when not at full strength (to keep track of the current strength). E.2 Similarly, the BARBARIA counters are used to keep track of reduced native strength. 1.2.1.2 Sea units A Detachments The basic sea unit is the naval detachment (ND). A naval detachment is roughly 3 or 4 ships of the line plus accompanying smaller ships (depending on the period). A.1 Notice that ND are on the back of LD. Thus, creating a ND de facto reduce the number of available LD. This is intended. B Galleys In the Mediterranean and Baltic seas, it is also possible to use galleys detachments (NGD). C Transports Naval transport detachments (NTD) contain only transport ships. They may not participate to battles but can be used to carry gold or troops. D Fleet A fleet (F) counter is only a container of a certain number of ND (or NGD) and NTD. D.1 The exact countenance of a F counter varies depending on the period and the country. D.2 It is always possible to break a F into its components (ND and NTD). D.3 It is always possible to group some ND (and NTD) into a F counter, even if the counter is not full. It is even allowed (but usually unwise) to create a F with a single ND. E Exploration detachments As a result of battle or attrition, a ND can sometimes be broken into three naval detachments of exploration (NDE). E.1 Thus, a NDE is 1 or 2 ships. E.2 NGD can never be broken into NDE. E.3 3NDE can always be merged into a ND. E.4 NDE can exist both on the ROTW and European maps. F Privateers (P) are smaller ships armed to harm enemy trade. F.1 They are not military units per se but whenever needed, each side of a P is considered to be equivalent to 1ND (e.g. for hierarchy purpose). G The image and number on F and ND counters are here for identification purpose only. G.1 The identification number is used to keep track of the content of each F on the corresponding record sheet. 1.2.1.3 Fortresses A Levels Fortresses can be of level 1 to 5. A.1 Contrary to many counters, there is one different counter for each level. A.2 Fortresses of high level cannot be built at the beginning of the game and have different conditions before becoming available. A.3 Since the counters are double-sided, building a fortress of a given level usually prevents another one from being built. Typically, building a level 5 fortress prevents the country from building the level 4 fortress on the back of the counter. B Permanent fortress Each city (in Europe or not) also holds a fortress of level 1 or 2. These are permanent fortresses and no counter is needed to represent them. C Forts Fort are considered as fortresses of level 0. They can only be built in the ROTW. D Level 1 fortresses also exists as generic (white) counters. These are in unlimited amount (make more if needed) and are used only to depict temporally diminished fortresses during wars and to depict the permanent fortress of level 6 COL in the ROTW.	[R]15 Game components— master – 2016-04-14 D.1 Each country has its own set of level 1 fortresses in case it needs a permanent level 1 fortress (usually, in the ROTW). 1.2.2 Leader counters 1.2.2.1 Values of leaders A Categories and name Leaders all have a symbol depicting their category (e.g. general, admiral, . . .) The category indicates which actions a leader can do (e.g. an admiral leads fleet, not armies). A.1 At the top of the counter, the name of the leader is written. It can be either a real name (for historical leaders), a generic name (such as "King"), or a ② (for anonymous commanders). A.2 The colour of the counter, as well as the shield on the right, indicates which country the leader serves. B Life and death On the left of the counter of historical leaders are two numbers. They indicate the turns at which the leader is available. B.1 The leader is active during all these turns. Thus a leader with the numbers "3-7" is available from the beginning of turn 3 to the end of turn 7. B.2 Historical leaders may die during battle and thus become unavailable earlier than what is indicated on the counter. B.3 Some leaders have instead a first number in Roman number (e.g. "III-20"). These are leaders arriving into play by an event and the number identifies this event (in this case, event III-20 (The Great Moghol Akbar)). C Values The bottom of the counters holds the proper values of the leader. C.1 The letter is the rank. The earlier in the alphabet, the higher the rank (i.e. rank "A" is better than "B" and so on). C.2 The three numbers following the rank are the values of (respectively) manoeuvre, fire and shock. They are use during movement and battle and are often the most important piece of information concerning a leader. They range between 1 (sometimes 0) and 6. C.3 Some leader have a fourth value (between 1 and 4), the siege value. D Modifiers Some leaders have optional modifiers on the right of the counter. See below for their meaning. D.1 Special powers that only exists for leaders of one country are shown using a different colour for the symbol depicting category. E Pachas are special Turkish leaders. See §C (Pashas) of section XIV.8.1.2 (Turkish Military system) for details. 1.2.2.2 Symbols on leaders A Information on the leader counters can be read as shown in figure 1.2 (A sample of all leader counters possible). B The meaning of the various symbols that define the leaders in this rulebook is as follows: B.1 For the main category: ⚓ (admiral), ⚔ (conquistador), ⚡ (explorer), ⚔ (general), ⚙ (engineer), 👑 (king), ⚡ (admiral-king), ⚔ (privateer), ⚙ (governor), ✈ (missionary). B.2 For the optional marks: R (allowed in the ROTW), $ (allowed only in AMERICA), * (main side of the counter), @ (allowed only in ASIA), P (is also a privateer), m (allowed only in the MEDITERRANEAN SEA), ♡ (does not die at the first failed survival test in battle). B.3 The country-specific powers are marked with a main category of different colour: Dutch Indonesian Conquistadors (🇳🇱), English Sea hound (🇬🇧), French Licensed privateers (🇫🇷), Portuguese Viceroy (🇵🇹), Turkish Barbary Coast privateers (🇹🇷), Turkish Viziers (🇹🇷). B.4 Two leaders (Marlborough and Friedrich II) have their name and values written in a different colour (white instead of black or yellow). They have a bonus (actually, an absence of malus) to their survival tests in battle. C Double-sided leaders Some leader counters have two sides (both representing the same individual). C.1 In most cases, one of the sides bears a *. This denotes the main side of the leader. C.2 Under no circumstances the two sides of a counter may be used at the same time.

In several cases, this significantly differs from the actual geographical continent baring the same name (e.g. ASIA does not include SIBERIA). In game, continents are usually areas of influences of some power and thus include only the geographical zone where that power actually tried to impose an exclusive power (e.g. HISPANIA tried to impose a Spanish exclusive in SPANISH WORLD without bothering about the Portuguese in BRAZIL (as a result of the Treaty of Tordesillas)). In short: beware that in game “continents” are not always exactly the same as geographical continents. AFRICA is the whole continent of Africa, inland from MAURITANIE to SOUDAN and including the islands of SAINTE-HÉLÈNE, CABO VERDE, MADAGASCAR, MASCAREIGNES and SEYCHELLES. AMERICA is all the New World, including MALOUINES, CARIBBEAN and BRAZIL. BRAZIL is the following Areas: BELÉM, RECIFE, RIO. The rest of the rules is ordered in game turn order and each concept will be fully described (with all the rules governing it) in due time.   II.1 Generalities II.1.1 Fair play  A Due to the nature of the game, it is extremely easy to cheat by “accidentally” making errors while computing incomes, expenses or DRM, by putting the wrong number of counters on maps, . . . A.1 In case of genuine errors, correct them as best as you can. Often, it is possible to correct a wrong computation of income or expense by simply reporting it to the current turn (if it did not happen too long ago). Sometimes, the error is too old or backtracking too complicated, improvise as best as you can. . . A.2 The game designers may not be held responsible for any physical damage that could occur as a result of fellow players discovering that you’ve cheated.  II.1.2 Precedence  A In case of apparent contradiction within the rules, resolve the conflict with the following precedence: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Event descriptions supersede any other rule (and often create abnormal situations). • Specific rules take precedence over regular rules. They are “ways to cheat” allowed (or mandatory) for each country. • Common rules only apply if not contradicted elsewhere. B If there is a contradiction between two events, then the one that occurred the latest takes precedence. But this is usually not intended and probably is a bug in the rules. C If there is a contradiction between two specific rules, or between two regular rules, this is a bug. Please contact us so we can answer it.  II.1.3 Rounding  A When rounding is required, it is always done in the disfavour of the player performing the action. A.1 Especially, any gain (in money, victory points, . . .) is rounded down while any loss is rounded up. A.2 In case of doubt, use the rule of thumb “who can the more can the least”. If a country should gain 1.9 🗝, it has not gain 2 🗝, thus the sum must be rounded down; conversely, if a country has to pay 1.1 🗝, it has to pay more than 1 🗝 and the debt must be rounded up. A.3 Note that if country A decides to give 1.5 🗝 to country B, then country A has to pay more than 1 🗝, hence 2 🗝 (round loss up) but country B has gained less than 2 🗝, hence only 1 🗝 (round gain down). Free hint: don’t plan do to this if you don’t want money to disappear. . .

[R]24 Religions and cultural groups  II.1.4 Order of resolution A Often, several similar actions should theoretically be resolved simultaneously but may require decisions of players and are thus resolved one by one (e.g. sieges, attacks of natives, automatic competition . . .) Normally, it is explicit in the rules how to do the resolution in case of disagreement. If not, use the following guidelines. A.1 If a single player has a decision to make before each roll (e.g. for sieges: assault or proper siege), then each alliance, in decreasing order of initiative, resolve its action in the order of its choice (in case of disagreement inside the alliance, in a random order). A.2 If several players have a decision to make before each roll (e.g. for automatic concurrence), then the actions are resolved in a random order. II.1.5 The letter and the spirit A As much as possible, we try to write precise and unambiguous rules. We also try to explain the "spirit" of the rules and to make our intention clear. A.1 In some cases, the rules are very technical, almost "algorithmic", and you may not understand the whys immediately. In those cases, apply them without thinking. B In a couple of cases, the precise description of the rule is too complicated to write (as this is not a mathematics book . . .) and we may explain only the spirit without formalising completely the letter. Those cases will always be explicitly mentioned in the rules. B.1 In those cases, use good sense to interpret the rules. In case of disagreement, use discussions and votes (among players not implied) and create home rules as needed. C If any rule seems strange, allows some non-historical behaviour, or is abused by tricky players, you are welcome to create home rules to circumvent the problem. After all, this whole rule book is mostly home rules and clarification on the original Europa Universalis game by Philippe Thibault. II.2 Countries A Majors and minors Countries are separated into Majors countries and Minors countries. B Majors countries are the ones who, during the historical framework of the game, played a role of great influence in Europe or even in the whole World, thus shaping History as we know it. B.1 Some majors countries had a more local (geographically or timely) influence. B.2 Each player plays one Major country at a time. Some players play the same Major during all the game while some switch mid-game. C Minors countries are countries who played only a small role in History. C.1 This can be either because they were too small (e.g. COLONIA) or because they were quickly destroyed by their powerful neighbour (e.g. SYRIA), or because their influence was very local and only influenced a couple of other nations (e.g. PERSIA or SCOTIA). C.2 This does not mean that minors countries did not shape History, but merely that they lack the World-wide or Europe-wide influence that, say, England or Austria had and that playing them would be less interesting. D See section I.4.1 (Major countries) for a list of majors countries and section XXIV.2 (Short list of all minor countries) for a list of minors countries. E Europeano-centrism The game is, voluntarily, centred on Europe and European powers. This is because we want to focus on the Age of Discoveries and the way the colonial powers managed to take control of almost all the World. E.1 Thus, non-European powers are always minors countries, even those who did have a large influence and territorial base such as CHINA or MOGOLIS IMP. E.2 This choice allows the game to focus on intra-European relationships. 	The powers: at home and abroad— master – 2016-04-14 [R]25  II.3 Religions and cultural groups II.3.1 Religions and standings A Each country, major or minor, has a religion. A.1 Several actions or events in the game depend on the religion of a given country. A.2 Several countries (both major and minor) may (or must) change religion during the course of the game. A.3 The religion of minor countries is indicated in the description of the country, see section XXIV.2 (Short list of all minor countries). The religion of major countries is indicated in scenario description. A.4 Religions are also indicated on the map. The colour of the border of the main (non-blurred) shield in each province depends on the religion of the province (which is usually the religion of the country). B Several religions are further subdivided into standings. Some actions depend not only on the religion but also on the precise standing of the country. B.1 Minors countries usually have no standings, unless explicitly stated. B.2 The precise standing inside a religion is noted as "Religion/Standing" such as "Catholic/Counter-Reformation". Sometimes, only the standing is specified (e.g. "Counter-Reform" means "Catholic/Counter-Reformation"). B.3 If no standing is precised, then the effect apply to all countries of the given religion, whether they have a standing or not. B.4 Majors countries have no standing at the beginning of the game and have to choose one when event I-8 (1) (Reformation) happens or when they change religion as well in a few other circumstances. Some Majors may stay without standing. II.3.2 Cultural groups A Each country (major or minor) belongs to one cultural group (except POL and RUS who belong to two groups). A.1 These groups are used to determine the technological level of minor countries and the way they progress. Check section VI.8.1 (Technology) for details on technology. B Cultural groups usually contains all countries of one or more religion. Thus, we may use the same names (and symbols) to depict them. But these should not be confused. C The cultural groups in which a minor country belongs is indicated as its "Military doctrine" in the Appendix. II.3.3 List of religions and cultural groups A We give here a list of all religions, standings and cultural groups. II.3.3.1 Catholic † A Before event I-8 (1) (Reformation), this religion has no standings A.1 After, there are two Catholic standings: Conciliatory and Counter-Reform (also called Counter-Reformation). A.2 If needed and not specified, consider Catholic minors as begin Catholic/Counter-Reformation. B Catholic provinces have a golden shield border. II.3.3.2 Protestant † A This religion is created by event I-8 (1) (Reformation). A.1 Before this event, treat all Protestant countries as Catholic. B There are four Protestant standings: Anglican and Puritan (available only for ANG) ; Strictly protestant (or Rigorous) and Tolerant (available only for SUE). B.1 Protestant minors, as well as other Protestant majors, have no standing. C Protestant provinces have a white shield border.
[R]26 Religions and cultural groups  II.3.3.3 Latin † A The Latin cultural groups contains all Catholic and Protestant countries, plus POL, plus RUS after its army reform. II.3.3.4 Orthodox † A There are two Orthodox standings, available only for RUS: Religious tolerance and Champion of Orthodoxy. A.1 Orthodox minors, as well as POL if it choose to become Orthodox, have no standing B Orthodox provinces have a orange/brown shield border. C The Orthodox cultural group contains all Orthodox countries, plus POL. C.1 Notice that POL belongs to both the Latin and Orthodox groups, whatever its religion but that POLONIA (once it becomes minor) belongs only to the Latin group. II.3.3.5 Christian A Christian countries are either Catholic, Protestant or Orthodox. A.1 If an event of effect affects Christian countries, then it affects all countries of these three religions. II.3.3.6 Sunni ☪ A This religion has no standings. B Sunni provinces have a green shield border. II.3.3.7 Shi'ite ☪ A This religion has no standings. B Shi'ite provinces have a blue shield border. II.3.3.8 Muslim A Muslim countries are either Sunni or Shi'ite as well as some ROTW countries. A.1 If an event of effect affects Muslim countries, then it affects all countries of these two religions and ROTW minor Muslim countries. A.2 European Muslim countries are either Sunni or Shi'ite. ROTW Muslim countries do not have this distinction. A.3 ROTW Muslim countries are the one with a ☪ symbol on the ROTW diplomacy track: ACEH, ADEN, AYMAN, SUDANIA and GUZARATE. Other ROTW countries are considered as having no religion for game purposes. II.3.3.9 Islam ☪ A The Islam cultural group contains all European Muslim countries and some ROTW countries. A.1 beware that in the ROTW the Islam group and the Muslim minors are not the same things. eg: GUZARATE is Muslim but not in the Islam group while MOGOLIS IMP. is within the Islam group but not Muslim (for game purposes). Design note: The effect of being Muslim is to give Diplomatic bonus to TUR on the minor. Since MOGOLIS IMP. was a large independent country, TUR should not easily ally with it (and only smaller ROTW countries are Muslim). The effect of being in the Islam group is a faster technological advance. Thus, only larger ROTW countries are in the Islam group. II.3.3.10 Other religions ☪ A The Other "religion" groups all religions that are not already specified. A.1 It mostly includes Hinduism, Buddhism, Shinto and various Paganism. A.2 We do not mean that these religions are all the same. But they played no role in European conflicts and were treated more or less the same way by Christian missionaries in India, Africa, America or Asia. Thus, they have the same effect in game. A.3 Similarly, we do not mean that religions or standings not listed here (eg Judaism) did not exist. But they had no large scale effect and do not require special rules within the game. 	The powers: at home and abroad— master – 2016-04-14 [R]27  II.3.3.11 Medieval A The Medieval cultural group contains INCA and AZTECA. A.1 Natives in AFRICA, SIBERIA, OCEANIA and PACIFIQUE are considered to be part of this group. II.3.3.12 ROTW ☪ A The ROTW cultural group contains all ROTW countries that are neither in the Islam group nor in the Medieval one. A.1 Natives in continents and areas not listed as Medieval are considered to be part of this group. A.2 Beware that some ROTW countries are of Muslim religion but belong to this cultural group. II.3.3.13 Special cases A HELVETIA is both Catholic and Protestant. A.1 Whenever a major attempts an action on it, considered its religion to be the worst possible case between them. A.2 Typically, HELVETIA is always considered to have another religion for Diplomatic actions ; Catholic/Counter-Reform countries have no religious CB against HELVETIA and may not convert it (as it is also Catholic) ; and so on. B UNITED STATES is either Protestant or Catholic, but not both. B.1 Its religion depends on the religion of the major against who it declared its Independence. See event VII-4 (War of Independence in the Colonies) for details. B.2 UNITED STATES may be created several times (representing Bolivarian revolutions as well as hypothetical revolutions in Canada, India or Indonesia). In this case, each of the different UNITED STATES may have a different religion. II.3.4 Religious enmities A When the game start (in 1492), religious enmities are actives. They last until the end of event IV-A (Thirty Years' War). A.1 Religious enmities mostly make relations between Catholics and Protestants harder, but they also hamper a bit relations between Christians and Muslims. II.4 The passing of time II.4.1 Periods A period represents a number of game turns, historically homogeneous, with a duration of approximately 30 to 50 years (more or less). The 62 game turns are distributed in seven periods to simulate the different epochs of the era covered by the game. These periods give the rhythm of the campaign game, especially the 1492-1792 Grand Campaign. Each player possesses for his country, a series of structural limits to his purchases and actions that is determined for each one of the periods covered in the game. These limits are a maximum that cannot be exceeded, except for a very few specific cases. II.4.2 List of periods The seven periods (with corresponding length in game turns and main historical features) covered by the game are the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Period I, 1492-1519: 6 turns (discovery of the New World, Wars in Italy and consolidation of the powers) • Period II, 1520-1559: 8 turns (Turkish expansion, exploration and colonisation by HIS and POR, Reformation and first religious struggles) • Period III, 1560-1614: 11 turns (Spanish domination, Dutch war of independence, French wars of religion, Swedish rise to power) • Period IV, 1615-1660: 9 turns (Dutch commercial domination, Thirty Years War)

[R]28 The passing of time <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Period V, 1660-1699: 8 turns (French “Grand Siècle”, wars of Louis XIV) • Period VI, 1700-1749: 10 turns (Russian and Prussian rise to power) • Period VII, 1750-1800: 10 turns (English domination, from the Seven Years War to the American Revolution) II.4.3 Limits by period A Within each of the above periods, countries played by the different players have a certain number of structural limits for their different actions and purchases as well as for the number of available counters (whether military or commercial) and the content of these counters. B Limits These limits are valid each turn during the period for which they apply. B.1 The period limits cannot be exceeded, except for some particular cases specified in the rules. C Limits Tables The limits, for each player, are regrouped in two different tables on the specific player’s aid. The first presents the limits per period applicable globally for the whole duration of a period, such as the maximum number of counters of a given type usable in the period. The second table presents the limits per turn within each period, such as the maximum purchase available each turn. C.1 Taking into account the variable length, in number of turns, of the different periods, it is usually necessary to read the numerous information printed on these tables at the beginning of a given period, their usage proving then very repetitive within a same period, thereby making them self learning. C.2 The monarch sheet holds space to write down the limits of the current period to allow an easy access in game. Example: If you are unfamiliar with the game, take a player's aid with you before reading the following. We advice to use the Portuguese one as it contains few exceptions and is thus easier to understand. II.4.3.1 Period limits table A The limits fixed in this table cannot be exceeded in principle. This is valid in any and all turns of the period. A.1 Some events or other particular circumstances may change the limits. These special cases are all recalled in the table. B Trade The DTI (Domestic Trade Index) represents the global dynamic of the internal trade of the country. The FTI (Foreign Trade Index) represents the global dynamic of the foreign trade of the country. B.1 Some countries also have a special FTI usable only for a precise set of actions. See the Specific rules of the country for details. B.2 DTI, FTI and special FTI may vary between 1 and 5. B.3 The actual value may never exceed the limit for the current period printed in the table. B.4 The actual value of the DTI, FTI and special FTI is written by the player on his monarch sheet. B.5 If, for any reason, the actual DTI, FTI or special FTI of a country is above its period limit, immediately decrease it to its maximum value. B.6 If the actual value is 1 and an event require it to be decreased, don’t change the value. The actual value may never be smaller than 1. B.7 The actual value of the special FTI may never be smaller than the actual value of the FTI. If the case arise, increase the value of the special FTI so that it is equal to the FTI. C Manufactures The country has a limit of MNU (Manufacture) counters (triangle shaped) that it may have in play, on the map of Europe, during a given period. C.1 This is a limit in terms of counters. Each counter has two sides representing an increasing capability of the MNU. C.2 This limit may be exceeded by 2 counters, at the risk of economical losses. See section II.4.3.2 (Exceeding Limits in MNU).	The powers: at home and abroad— master – 2016-04-14 [R]29 D Colonial establishments The country has a limit of COL (Colonies) and TP (Trading Post) counters that may be placed on the map, outside of Europe, for the whole length of a period. D.1 This is a limit in terms of counters. Each counter has two sides with up to 6 levels representing an increasing development of the establishment. D.2 This limit may never be exceeded. If at any moment a country has more COL or TP on map than counters available for the period, immediately remove (at player’s choice) exceeding counters. E Fleet Each country has a maximum number of ND that may be in play at the same time. E.1 This counts both the ND counters and the ND inside the F counters. E.2 NGD only count as half. E.3 This limit may not be exceeded. If a country ever owns more ND than this limit, immediately destroy exceeding ND (at player’s choice). F Troop size Land and sea unit have some specific size. This is a structural description of the military doctrine of the country rather than a real limit. F.1 A F counters may contain up to a certain number of ND (first value) and NTND (second value), depending on their side. NGD count as half a ND. F counters are only containers and may be created for free at any time if the need occurs. F.2 An A⊕ counters automatically contains the indicated number of Artillery. An A⊖ only contains half as much (round down). A counters do contain artillery even with Medieval technology (this is siege artillery only). F.3 Land troops belong to a certain class of army. This is the military doctrine of the country and may not be changed voluntarily. Armies of the same class hold roughly the same number of infantry and cavalry. Example: During period I, Portugal has a maximum DTI of 3, as per scenario description, it is also its actual value in 1492. Thus, POR will not be able to increase its DTI during period I. However, the maximum DTI switch to 5 in period II. This does not automatically increase the actual DTI, but simply allows POR to attempt administrative actions to do so. During period I, POR may never have in play more than 3 MNU counters. Since two of them are placed in 1492, POR may only create one more before 1520, when a fourth counter will be available. POR may also increase the level of its MNU (and flip them to their ⊕ side) since this does not create new counters. A total of 6 Portuguese MNU are provided in order to give the player choice on which industry to develop. During the first three periods of the game, F⊖ of POR may contain at most 2ND and 1NTD. Its F⊕ may contain only 4ND and 1NTD. It is possible to have a non-full counter (such as a F⊖ with only 1ND and no NTD or a F⊕ with 3ND and 1NTD). The exact content of the counter being written on the colonial sheet. Note that due to maintenance cost, it is usually most unwise to have F counters with very few ND in them. POR may not, in period I, have more than 12 total ND on the maps (including those in F). In period I, A⊕ of POR automatically contain 2 artileries (an abstract measure of the guns, howitzers and such). In 1520, this switch to 3 and all existing A are automatically upgraded to this value (as the typical content of field forces evolves with time). A⊖ contains half that many artileries, round down, hence only 1 in this case. Troops of POR are of class III, an abstract measure of the military doctrine of the country (notably with respect to typical size of field forces as well as cavalry number and doctrine). This never changes (only a handful of countries change their army class). Class III regroup most occidental powers. II.4.3.2 Exceeding Limits in MNU A A player can decide to exceed the limits of a period by up to 2 MNU counters, with the restriction that the absolute limit is the number of such counters provided in the game. However, this puts the economical stability at risk. B If a revolt occurs in such a power, and if the result of the die-roll serving to determine the strength of the revolt is even, then the power immediately suffers economical losses. B.1 Exception: If it has created its Stock Exchange HOL (event event III-2 (Amsterdam Stock Exchange)) and ANG (event IV-8 (1) (Creation of the London Stock Exchange)), suffer from losses only if the die is 10, 12, 14, 16, 18 or 20. B.2 If there was no die-roll (eg some revolts caused by events), roll to check for economical losses.
[R]30 The passing of time C If the power is at Stability-1, -2 or -3 at the beginning of a turn (before rolling for monarch survival), it has 50% chance to suffer economical losses in addition. C.1 Exception: If it has created its Stock Exchange HOL and ANG may suffer losses only if Stability is -2 or -3 at the beginning of a turn. D Economical Losses The power loses 1 in Stability and 2 MNU counters (not levels) are eliminated (chosen at random). II.4.3.3 Actions and investments A At each turn, each country is allowed to do a certain number of actions (administrative or diplomatic) to increase its economical capacity or diplomatic influence. B Most actions are performed by spending a certain amount of money. There are usually three possible costs, called investments, for each kind of action. B.1 Paying an higher investment increase the chances of success of the action. B.2 Specific value of the monarch also have a lot of influence on the chances of success. Playing tip: It is usually better (in term of probability of success relative to the amount spent) to do several time the same action at the basic investment than to do it once at high investment. However, it will also take more time as some attempts will fail. Thus, for the long term development of the country (almost all administrative actions and often for Diplomacy), it is usually a good idea to use only basic investments. In some cases, however, the result has to be achieved as fast as possible (typically for raising Stability or technology, and in some case for administrative actions to meet certain objectives). Then, a higher investment is the way to go but the result might cost a lot of ₤ . . . C Each turn, all actions are first written down, and payed for, before being resolved simultaneously. Thus, it is impossible to wait for the result of a given action before deciding to do another one. D Most administrative actions are resolved on table VI.1 (Administrative Actions) by cross-referencing a column (depending on the estate of the power and the investment for the action) and a die-roll. II.4.3.4 Turn limits Table A The turn limits per period concerns essentially diplomatic and administrative actions, and also the logistical elements (recruitment, etc.) for each country and each period of the game. B Diplomacy Each country has a maximum number of diplomatic actions relative to its diplomacy on minor countries allowed during each turn of the period. C Administration Each country has a maximum number for every administrative operation that it can attempt each turn within the period, in particular: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Commercial Development • Colonisation • Establishment of Trading Posts • Competition Action D A country may always use fewer actions (or even none) than allowed by his maximum period/turn limit. E Technology In addition to these specific limits, each country may attempt each turn to increase both its land and its naval technology. E.1 However, only one of the two technology increases may be attempted with more than a minimal investment.	The powers: at home and abroad— master – 2016-04-14 [R]31 F Domestic action Each country may also each turn attempt one (and only one) of the following actions: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Increase its actual DTI. • Increase its actual FTI. This does not increase the special FTI unless the FTI becomes larger than the special FTI (in which case the special FTI is raised at the same value as the FTI). • Increase its actual special FTI. • Create a new MNU. This can either switch an existing counter from its ⊖ side to its ⊕ or create a new ⊖ counter. • Raise exceptional taxes. G Free maintenance Basic forces indicate the number of units considered to have a free maintenance (i.e. those in play without having to pay their maintenance each turn). Land units of this basic force are veterans. H Military force purchase The military force purchase indicates the maximum number of forces, (either LD or ND), that the country may buy in each Purchase phase. H.1 NGD count only for half a ND in the purchase limit. H.2 Exploitation of wood and fisheries increase the limit of ND, see section VII.3.3 (Naval forces). H.3 The ND limit may not be exceeded. H.4 the LD limit may be exceeded. Every LD recruited below the limit is payed at normal cost, then every LD below twice the limit is payed at double cost and finally every LD below three times the limit is payed at triple cost. H.5 It is not possible to recruit in a given turn more LD than three time the turn limit. I Minimum Leaders The player must also have in permanence a certain number of leaders, specified by type (♂, ♀, ♂, ♀). If the historical (named) leaders that the player receives do not suffice to reach this minimum leader quantity per type, he can take some additional leaders at random, among his available unnamed ♀ leaders of the required type. I.1 The ♀ leaders of majors countries are removed each turn and new ones are drawn if needed. I.2 The monarch leader as well as the Turkish Vizier and Swedish heirs are never counted in this limit (they all bore a “monarch” symbol (crown)). I.3 If a country as more named leader than its limit, then no unnamed one is drawn. I.4 Should a country fall below its limit during the turn (due to death in battle), a new ♀ leader is drawn at the beginning of the next round in order to reach the limit again. Example: In period I, POR may attempt each turn up to 2 diplomatic action, 1 Trade Fleet Implementation, 1 COL, 2 TP and 2 concurrence actions. None of them is mandatory. Any action performed must be paid for and is not guaranteed to succeed. In period I, POR maintains for free one F⊖ and 3D. The D may be used either for LD or ND. In period I, POR may not buy more than 4ND each turn. It may buy up to 2LD at normal cost, plus 2 more at double cost and again 2 more at triple cost. It cannot buy more than 6LD in a given turn. In period I, POR must have each turn at least 1♂, 1♂, 1♂ and 1♂. At turn 1, its only historical leader is Dias, an ♂. Thus POR must draw at random amongst its leader one ♀ ♂, one ♂ ♂ and one ♀ ♂. Should Dias dies during the turn (eg, speared by natives in the Cape peninsula), he is replaced by a ♀ ♂ at the beginning of the next round. Similarly, if the ♀ ♂ attempts a war in MAURETANIA and dies in the desert, he is replaced by another ♀ ♂ (possibly the same) at the beginning of next round. At turn 2, the leader limits have not changed but POR received new historical leaders and now has: Dias (provided he did not die on turn 1), an ♂, Cabral, another ♂, and Da Gama, who counts as a ♂. Thus, it must draw a ♀ ♂ and a ♀ ♂. Having 2 ♂ (more than the limit) is not a problem since both of them are named (historical leaders). However, if one of them happen to die during the turn (eg, lost at sea near BRAZIL), the other one is enough to fulfil the limit of 1 an no ♀ ♂ is drawn. If, by a stroke of bad luck, both Dias and Cabral die during the turn, then a ♀ ♂ (and only one) is drawn as replacement in order to reach the limit (of 1). Note that Da Gama may be used as a ♂ but always counts towards the limit of ♂ (as per section VIII.1.1.1 (Double-sided Leaders)). Thus, it is possible for POR to have 3 ♂ active at the same time (Dias, Cabral and Da Gama), but Da Gama still counts as a ♂ and no ♀ ♂ is drawn. Similarly, if both Dias and Cabral die, a ♀ ♂ is drawn whichever side Da Gama is used.

Going into debts is not a good way to get ride of inflation. B.2 Because of inflation, each country needs to get at least some money into its RT each turn. Example: Exchequer test.— Country A has a gross income of 300 ₮. It has a total expenses of 200 ₮ (includes administration, loans interest and refund and military) and 40 ₮ in RT. During the Exchequer test, the results give 50% in regular income, 40% in prestige income and 20% in loans (a good result). Thus, its regular income is 150 ₮ (50% of 300), its prestige income is 120 ₮ and its maximal national loan amount is 60 ₮. Money must be spent first from the regular income. So the 150 ₮ of the regular income are used and 50 ₮ of expenses remains. There are several solution to cover this: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • It is possible to use 50 ₮ of the prestige income to pay for expenses. The 70 ₮ remaining must be spent for prestige VPs and cannot go into the RT. No loan is required and so none is contracted and inflation has to be payed from the 40 ₮ of RT. • It is also possible to choose to get more VPs by spending all the 120 ₮ of prestige income into VPs. A new loan of 60 ₮ can be contracted to pay for the remaining expenses (50 ₮) and get 10 extra ₮ into the RT (to pay for inflation). • Another possibility is to spent all the prestige income in VPs but forgo the loan. The remaining 50 ₮ of expenses is then payed from the RT (thus going to -10 ₮) and inflation will lower it some more (probably not the wisest choice). Several other possibilities exists and are up to the player choice. Notice that the easiest way to get money back into the RT (to pay for inflation and Diplomacy) is to contract a new loan. Example: The loan trick.— Loan refund being expenses, they can be payed by the prestige income thus giving a process to circumvent the prohibition of putting prestige money in the RT: A country has 100 ₮ in loans and 200 ₮ in incomes. Its expenses are 80 ₮ and it choose to spend an extra 50 ₮ to refund loans (this must be chosen before the military phase, so do it carefully while at war!) Thus, its total expenses is 130 ₮. The Exchequer test gives 80 ₮ of regular income, 60 ₮ of prestige income and 60 ₮ of loans. The 80 ₮ of regular income is spent and 50 ₮ of expenses remains. These can be covered from the prestige income (and 10 ₮ of prestige is spent for VPs). A new loan of 50 ₮ is contracted and all its amount can go into the RT. The net effect on the loans is null and all happened as if prestige income went into the RT. . . . But to do this trick you need to have some loans to refund (and re-contract immediately) and you need to carefully estimate the Exchequer test as a bad result can cause a huge hole in your RT. Trying to be too greedy when doing this is a good way to force you to take an international loan.
 [R]42 The Great Discoveries   Example: When things go wrong: international loans.— A country has 500 ₮ of gross income. Being at war, and forced to pay the interest of previous loans give a total expenses of 700 ₮ (those armies and fleet don't move for free). Fortunately, the RT is still quite OK at 10 ₮. The Exchequer test goes badly (as often in wars) and gives a result of 30%/20%/40%. So the regular income is 150 ₮, the prestige income is 100 ₮ and a maximum loan of 200 ₮. The regular income covers a small part of the expenses and the prestige income is also quickly swallowed to pay for some troops rather than receptions. . . 450 ₮ still need to be found. The burghers reluctantly loan 200 ₮ still leaving a 250 ₮ large 'hole' in the budget. Rather than going badly into debt (usually a bad idea), the country choose to appeal to Genoese and Dutch bankers and manage to get a 140 ₮ loan. Not bad but still not sufficient to cover the expenses. Moreover, the international loan must be refunded within 15 years (hopefully this won't happen in the middle of another war). The 140 ₮ of the international loan cover for part of the expenses but the extra 110 ₮ must be taken from the RT, bringing it to -100 ₮ with 340 ₮ more in loans than at the start of the turn. Another similar turn and bankruptcy will knock on the door. Maybe now is a good time to try and make peace after all. . .   II.8 The Great Discoveries Countries can launch great expeditions in order to discover and explore the New World as well as find new routes to India and its riches. All other resources are only exploited in the ROTW. A.2 The Exotic Resources Record Sheet keeps track of the exploitation of Exotic Resources (globally) while each player has a Colonial sheet to record the exotic resources exploited by his colonial establishments (and MNU). B Each exotic resource has a price, recorded on the prices track (on the ROTW map). B.1 Prices change each turn, partly because of the global economic situation (one die roll) and partly because of a specific market situation (one die roll per resource, depending on the exploited quantity). See section VI.12 (Exotic resources price variation, Trade centres and convoys) for details. B.2 Exotic resources bring to each country an income equal to the product of the price of the resource and the quantity exploited by that country. C Exotic resources are depicted on the ROTW map by a symbol as well as a number in a coloured shape. The number indicates how many resources of this type are available while the shape indicates how the resource can be exploited. C.1 The shape of the symbol of the resource indicates how it can be exploited. See section V.5.2 (Exotic resources) for details about exploitation of exotic resources. D Monopoly on Exotic Resources A country exploiting at least 6 resources of the same kind can claim a monopoly. D.1 A partial monopoly is if the country exploits at least as many units as all other countries together. D.2 A total monopoly is if the country exploits all exploited units but two. D.3 Resources exploited by minor countries are counted in the total, but see §B of section IV.4.4.5 (Guzarate, Ayman, Aden, Aceh). E Progressive appearance Some resources appear only late in the game: Sugar (in BRAZIL) in 1560 (turn 15, period III), Products of America and Sugar (elsewhere) in 1615 (turn 26, period IV), Cotton (in AMERICA and INDONESIA) in 1750 (turn 53, period VII). E.1 In 1615 and 1750, when the resources appear, they appear at the rate of exactly one resource per turn per Area. If there are several possibilities for a given Area, the resource is determined at random.	The powers: at home and abroad— master – 2016-04-14 [R]45 Example: GUYANA provides 3 resources that appear in 1615: 2 Sugar and 1 Product of America. Thus, in turn 26 only one of them (chosen at random) will be available; on turn 27, a second one (still chosen at random) appears and only in 1625 (turn 28) will the three resources be exploitable. ANTILLES has 8 Sugar. Thus, it will only reach its full production capacity by turn 33 (1650). In 1615, there are in ANTILLES both colonies of FRA and ANG with enough levels to exploit 1 Sugar each and a colony of HOL with enough levels to exploit 2 Sugar. The first Sugar appears and 3 countries can exploit it. Thus an automatic competition is done. The resource is finally exploited by FRA. In 1620, a second Sugar appear. FRA still has the right to exploit the first one and keeps it, hence FRA has no more free levels in ANTILLES to exploit the new resource. An automatic competition in done between ANG and HOL only and the resource goes to HOL. In 1625, a third resource appears. Both ANG and HOL still have the capacity to exploit it (because HOL has enough levels to exploit 2 Sugar). Hence a new automatic competition is resolved and the resource goes again to HOL. In 1630, FRA managed to raise its COL and can now exploit 2 Sugar. Thus, both FRA and ANG are able to exploit the fourth Sugar. However, the players agree and FRA forfeits its claim. The resource is exploited by ANG. In 1635, the fifth resource appear and only FRA can exploit it, thus taking it without need for competition. In 1700, several other COL have been settled in ANTILLES thus exploiting the 8 Sugar there. HIS wants a part of the trade and successfully create a new COL. Since all the resources are already attributed, there is no automatic competition and HIS will need to do some voluntary competition (spending money and action and angering other players) in order to exploit some Sugar. F Development of trade in India The trade of exotic resources changes during the game in India. Some events may change the flux of goods towards south India and Bengal. F.1 Before the fall of the Kingdom of BISINAGAR (due to event II-A (Mogolis Imp. Expansions), event III-21 (Wars in India),...) one can exploit only 1 Products of Orient and 1 Spice in KARNĀṬAKA. A marker is used to show that the resources are limited. F.2 After the fall, one can exploit fully the 2 Products of Orient and 2 Spices. F.3 Before event III-20 (The Great Moghol Akbar), BĀNGLĀ is limited to 1 resource of each type. Use a marker as reminder. F.4 After event III-20 (The Great Moghol Akbar), BĀNGLĀ can now exploit 2 resources of each type. Flip the marker to its "2" side. F.5 When a COL is built in Kaḷaḷāṭā and either event III-20 (The Great Moghol Akbar) has happened or this is period VI or VII, the full potential of the Area is reached (3 Products of Orient, 3 Spices and 3 Cotton). G Fishing and naval construction The owner of many fisheries get some reward from the great numbers of fishers in his country related to the construction of military naval units (see §B (Increasing the limit) of section VII.3.3.1 (Naval recruitment in Europe) and §C (Fisheries) of section VII.3.3.2 (Naval Recruitment in the ROTW)): II.8.4 Trade of Wood A Wood is not an exotic resource. As such, it does not bring any income coming from a fluctuating price. However, it is exploited in a similar way (through colonial establishments or manufactures). B Wood production Wood is produced each turn, and cannot be kept. Each unit of wood can be produced by either a MNU or a ROTW establishment. C ROTW Wood A COL⊕ or TP⊕ in an Area with a Wood resource can be turned in a Wood factory: it brings the normal income, and produces 1 unit of wood that can only be used by the owner of the colony. C.1 A wood factory TP or COL cannot exploit any exotic resources, nor a gold mine. Several different players can produce wood in the same Area, but only one unit of Wood can be produced per player per area. C.2 The exploitation of wood begins with a simple declaration (as a diplomatic announcement) and can only be stopped by the loss of the establishment.
[R]46 The Great Discoveries C.3 A minor country wood factory does provide the wood to its Patron (in the case of PORTUGALLIA). However, it is not possible to turn an establishment of a minor into a wood factory (that is, if POR creates a wood factory, it stays so and will provide wood for the patron of PORTUGALLIA, but the patron of PORTUGALLIA may not decide to turn a Portuguese establishment into a wood factory). D European Wood A Wood MNU of level 1 produces 1 unit of Wood that can only be used by the producer. A Wood MNU of level 2 produces the same thing, plus 1 unit of Wood that can only be sold to a foreign country. D.1 The price is fixed to 10 ⌚ per unit, that goes in line A4 (Wood and Slaves) of ERS. D.2 The buyer must not be at war with the seller, and either the buyer has a commercial fleet in the seller's CTZ, or the seller has a commercial fleet in the buyer's CTZ. D.3 For this purpose, PRU, POL and SUE count the STZ Baltique as their CTZ, and POR uses CTZ HISPANIA. E Use of wood Wood raises the naval construction limits and the free maintenance (see §G (Effect of Wood.) of section VII.2.1 (Basic forces) and §B (Increasing the limit) of section VII.3.3.1 (Naval recruitment in Europe)). II.8.5 Minors colonial politics A Some minor countries did also attempt to colonise the new world with more or less success. A.1 These attempts are resolved using event part E-19.α (Minor country colonisation). II.8.5.1 Minor establishments A Effects Minor establishment exploit 1 resource per side (whatever the usual rules for this resource). B Military A Minor establishment ⊖ is a fort with 1LDE of veteran militia (Latin, class III). B.1 A Minor establishment ⊕ is a fort with 2LDE of veteran militia (Latin, class III). B.2 The militia fights out of the fort if and only if enemies are landing in the province (it stays inside if the enemy comes by Land). Events

Chapter III

III.1 The events phase

A Overview.

A.1 Economical events are always rolled on the same table while political events are rolled to the table corresponding to the current period.

A.2 Political events or other circumstances can call for a Revolt event (either anywhere or on some specific country table) as well to create some diplomatic disarray among minor countries.

B Sequence.

B.1 Monarch survival (III.2)

B.2 Economical events (III.3)

B.3 Economic situation (III.4)

B.4 Piracy (III.5)

B.5 Historical/Political events (III.6)

B.6 Revolt events (III.7)

B.7 Diplomatic events (III.8)

III.2 Monarch survival

A Monarchs that are scheduled to die at the current turn die. Their players roll for a new monarch.

B Players whose monarchs are not scheduled to die at the current turn roll for monarch survival.

B.1 Some historical monarch are exempted from survival rolls during the first few turns of their reign. Check the specific rules of each country for details. If such a monarch is currently ruling a country, the corresponding player does not roll for monarch survival.

C Some events give a modifier for survival tests. These modifiers are cumulative.

C.1 Countries with negative stability have a +1 modifier for survival tests.

C.2 Monarch with fragile health have a +1 modifier for survival tests.

C.3 Turkish sultans with less than 7 in MIL also have a +1 modifier for survival tests.

D The result of the survival test can be found in the "survival" column of the table table III.1 (Reign).

D.1 If the net result is 1, the monarch will rule 1 more turn than initially scheduled. This can only happen twice for each monarch (more "1" results are ignored). Mark this on the monarch sheet.

D.2 If the net result is 10 or more, the monarch dies immediately. The player has to roll for a new monarch.

E For TUR only, if the result is 9 or more, a Revolt in Turkey is rolled as per section III.7 (Revolt events).

E.1 In addition, for the Turkish player, if the result is 11 or more there is an automatic dynastic crisis when rolling for the new sultan.

Table III.1: Reign

III.2.1 New monarchs

A Players whose monarch died roll for a new monarch.

B Reign length First, a die is rolled in table III.1 (Reign) to check for dynastic crisis as well as reign length.

B.1 Some countries have die roll modifier for this die. Check the specific rules of each country.

C Dynastic Crisis If the result is 1 or less, a dynastic crisis occurs.

C.1 The country immediately loses 2 Stability and the values of the new monarch will be halved at the first turn (minimum value remains 3).

C.2 In addition, if the country is at war or had dynastic ties with another major country, a succession war may occur as per section XIV.14.5 (The Wars of Succession).

C.3 A new die as to be rolled to determine reign length. Neither dynastic crisis nor fragile health may occur this second time.

D Fragile health If the result is 10, the new monarch will have fragile health.

D.1 A monarch suffering of fragile health has a +1 modifier for all its survival tests.

D.2 A new die has to be rolled to determine reign length. Neither dynastic crisis nor fragile health may occur this second time.

E If the result is neither 1 nor 10, or if this is the second roll (after a 1 or 10), read the 'age' and 'reign length' columns of the table.

F The scheduled reign duration of the new monarch is found in the "reign length" column of the table.

F.1 On a result of 8 or more, the new monarch is young and will have limited capacities until he reaches adult age.

F.2 On a result of 8, the monarch is only a teenager. He will have a -1 to all characteristics on his first turn of reign.

F.3 On a result of 9, the new monarch is still a child. He cannot be used as a general and he will have a malus of -2 to all characteristic on his first turn of reign. He will become a teenager on the second turn (-1 to all characteristics) and an adult on the third.

F.4 On a result of 10, the new monarch is just a newborn. On its first turn of reign, he will have -3 to all characteristics and cannot be used as a general. He will become a child on the second turn of reign, a teenager on the third and an adult on the fourth.

F.5 These maluses can never drop the characteristic below 3.

Table III.2: Successor's Values

H Characteristics For each of the three characteristics, roll for a new value in table table III.2 (Successor's Values).

H.1 The base column for each country is indicated on the side of the table.

H.2 If the deceased monarch had a characteristic higher than the base column of his country, roll in the column immediately to the right of the base column for his successor (for this characteristic).

H.3 If the deceased monarch had a characteristic lower than the base column of his country, roll in the column immediately to the left of the base column for his successor (for this characteristic).

H.4 If a dynastic crisis occurs this turn, the values of the new monarchs are always rolled on the base column of the country.

I Military average Unless specified for some named monarchs, the monarch can also be used as a general (or admiral for VEN) and lead troops in battle. However, the exact values of monarchs as military leaders are not known precisely before they actually fight a battle. Instead, only a "military average" is known which gives a global indication whether the monarch will be a good or bad leader, but surprises may arise.

I.1 Once the characteristic of a monarch are known, roll 1d10 and cross-reference the result with the MIL of the monarch in table III.3 (Monarchs' Military Skills) to find the military average. Report this value on the monarch sheet.

I.2 When needed, and only when needed, the precise values for manoeuvre, shock and fire are determined. This usually happens at the first battle involving the monarch, except for manoeuvre which may be needed earlier due to attrition.

I.3 For each of the value needed, roll a die on the bottom of table III.3 (Monarchs' Military Skills) to obtain a modifier between -2 and +2 and add this modifier to the military average to get the exact value.

I.4 These final values can never be less than 0 or more than 6.

J Siege Only monarchs whose military average comport a + may have a siege value. All other have a siege value of 0.

J.1 If a monarch with a + is implied in a siege, consider his base value for siege as 1, modified as the other characteristics by a roll on table III.3 (Monarchs' Military Skills) (minimum 0).

Example: New monarch.— It is the beginning of turn 3. The Doge, Barbarigo is scheduled to die now, so VEN has to roll for another one. The values of Barbarigo are 8/5/6 (for ADM/DIP/MIL). Since there is no specific monarch in the rules for the succession of Barbarigo, the regular procedure for new monarchs is used.

Firstly, VEN rolls for reign length. He rolls a 7 which is modified by -2 per specific rules for VEN (see the modifier on the right of table III.1 (Reign)) for a result of 5, hence Loredano will last for 7 turns. He becomes Doge on turn 3 and is thus scheduled to die at the beginning of turn 10. (historically, he will fail a survival roll on turn 7).

Then VEN rolls for the characteristics. Looking on the right of table III.2 (Successor's Values), there is no special case for VEN, so the base value is 6. Since the ADM of Barbarigo is 8, larger than the base value, VEN gets a 1 column shift bonus for this characteristic. He rolls a 4, cross-referencing it in column 7 gives a new ADM of 6. Then, VEN rolls for DIP and gets a 6, cross-referencing it in column 5 (-1 column for the less than base value of the predecessor), he gets 5. Lastly, he rolls a 8 for MIL which, in column 6 (predecessor has the same as base value), gives 7.

So, Loredano is 6/5/7, rather a good monarch.

Remark: The die rolls for determining the values of the Doge should all be modified by +1 as per specific Venetian rules. This has been omitted here to simplify the example. Consider that the actual rolls were 3, 5 and 7 to obtain the same results. Then, VEN rolls for military average and gets a 9! Cross-referencing it with the MIL of 7 in table III.3 (Monarchs' Military Skills) gives a military average of 3. The new Doge could even be a military genius.

Later, on turn 5, HIS, FRA and SANCTA SEDES ally themselves in the League of Cambrai and attack VEN! The player decides to send his Doge as an admiral to try and repulse the enemy fleet. When the Venetian galleys go at sea, VEN needs to know the manoeuvre of his Doge. He rolls a die and gets 6, this means no modification from the military average of 3. A bit later, the Venetian fleet engage the Spanish and the fire and shock of the Doge must be known. VEN rolls two dice, getting respectively 2 and 10 for modifiers of -1 and +2 from the military average.

So, as an admiral, the Doge is a leader 325. Quite good news for a galleys admiral in this age of boarding.

Table III.3: Monarchs' Military Skills

K Excellent Ministers Some events can give Excellent Ministers that enhance the characteristics of the monarch for some time.

K.1 Unless specified otherwise, the value of the Minister may be used instead of the value of the Monarch when rolling for a new Monarch.

K.2 Unless specified otherwise, a Minister retires after the "new Monarch" segment of the event phase (during the turn he is scheduled to leave office).

Table III.4: Random Piracy and Economy Roll

B If the economical situation roll was 1 or 10 (or 3 or 6 and a named PIRATÆ ⚡ is alive) or if event E-12 (Pirates) was obtained this turn, several Pirate may appear. Determine the target of piracy for the turn.

B.1 If there are two or more causes for piracy, then the target is "Everywhere".

B.2 If the only cause for piracy is the economic situation, the target is indicated in the table.

B.3 If the only cause for piracy is a single economical event, then the target is rolled at random: 1-5: America ; 6-10: Asia.

C For each STZ in the target, in the order indicated below (this is relevant for named pirates), roll on die. If the die is greater or equal than the appearance threshold of the STZ, place a Pirate⊕ there.

C.1 In a STZ with several Pirate⊕, or with a named pirate, check whether they stay at sea or try and loot an establishment.

D Targets of piracy Depending on the target, roll for the STZ indicated, in order.

D.1 Everywhere: STZ Caraïbes, STZ Amérique, STZ Océan Indien, STZ Mer d'Arabie, STZ Golfe de Guinée, STZ Mer de Recife, STZ Côte du Pérou, STZ Mer de Chine, STZ Côte de Patagonie, STZ Cap des tempêtes, STZ Mer des Canaries.

D.2 America: STZ Caraïbes, STZ Amérique, STZ Golfe de Guinée, STZ Mer de Recife, STZ Côte de Patagonie, STZ Cap des tempêtes, STZ Mer des Canaries.

D.3 Asia: STZ Océan Indien, STZ Mer d'Arabie, STZ Côte du Pérou, STZ Mer de Chine, STZ Mer des Canaries.

D.4 Yes, STZ Mer des Canaries is both for piracy in America and in Asia. Yes STZ Golfe de Guinée and STZ Cap des tempêtes are only for America. Yes, STZ Côte du Pérou is for Asia.

E Appearance threshold The appearance threshold for Pirate for each ROTW STZ is written on the right-hand-side of the STZ symbol.

E.1 Some STZ have several thresholds. Use the largest one if only one country has COL/TP bordering the STZ; use the second number if two countries have COL/TP bordering the STZ and use the smallest number if three or more countries have COL/TP bordering the STZ.

E.2 Remember that the STZ contains the seazone where the symbol is located as well as all adjacent seazones. Thus, an establishment borders the STZ if it is coastal and touch any of these zones.

F Pirate Placement When placing Piracy counters on the map:

F.1 No Pirate counter may be placed if there is no commercial fleet in the target STZ.

F.2 Two Pirate⊕ are immediately exchanged for a single Pirate⊕.

F.3 There are no limits to the number of P counters that can coexist in a single STZ.

III.3 Economical events

A Each player rolls for an economical event during the "Economical events" segment of the Event phase.

B To roll for an economical event, each player rolls two dice and look for the result on table XV.1 (Random economical events).

B.1 The first die gives a column. The second die gives a line. By crossing the column and line, the number of an economical event is found.

B.2 The effect of the event applies immediately. Check chapter XV (Economical events) for the description.

C Unless explicitly specified in the description, each economical event only affects the player rolling it.

D In case of disagreement, economical events are rolled in decreasing order of initiative and resolved as soon as rolled.

III.4 Economic situation

TODO: TBD Moves to the end of the Diplomatic phase if Economical Event Pirates is removed.

A Economic Situation A die is rolled for both the global economic situation and raise of piracy.

A.1 Combined with the event E-12 (Pirates), it is now possible to place Piracy on the map.

A.2 Place the Economic situation marker on the track on the ROTW map to remember the result of the roll. It will be used during the Administrative phase to handle the variation of prices of exotic resources. See section VI.12.1 (Price of exotic resources).

B Inflation

B.1 If "Inflation" is obtained (1 or 10), increase the level of inflation by 1, that is move the marker one box to the right (without exceeding the maximum level). This is the same effect as event E-32 (Inflation) except that it can happen the same turn as another event E-32 (Inflation) or event E-45 (Deflation).

Design note: The die roll for economic situation must be made during the event phase as it has an influence on piracy (see below). However, variation of prices must be made after the diplomatic phase as speculation has an effect on prices and is declared during diplomacy. Thus, the result of this die must be kept and reused later in the turn. In practice, speculation is rare and the important point is that prices variation occurs once per turn.

III.5 Piracy

TODO: TBD Moves to the end of the Diplomatic phase if Economical Event Pirates is removed.

TODO: TBD Make Piracy appear more frequently if Economical Event Pirates is removed. For example, for line 3 and 6, keep the Piracy whether there is a named Pirate or not.

III.5.1 Raise of Piracy

A The roll for economic situation, read in table III.4 (Random Piracy and Economy Roll), may cause the apparition of some Pirate (PIRATÆ P). The result is partly modified if there is a named pirate in play at this turn, see section III.5.2 (Named Pirates).

A.1 A Pirate P⊖ or Pirate P⊕ is placed in the target STZ according to the table, unless a result of 1 or 10 was obtained, in which case the procedure below is used.

III.5.2 Named Pirates

A Some famous pirates appear as named PIRATÆ ⚡ and are treated like other named leaders.

A.1 If a named pirate is alive and not yet on the map, he will take command of the first Pirate that appears in his area of action (AMERICA, ASIA, or ROTW).

A.2 Named pirates may never be placed in Europe, even if a Pirate can be placed in Europe due to various events.

A.3 If more than one named pirate is in play, place them in decreasing order of Rank. It is possible that one or more named pirate are not placed at a given turn. It is possible that a pirate admiral is placed in the same STZ that another (existing from previous turn).

B Pirate with named admiral always test to check if they loot a TP or COL, with a modifier to the die roll equal to the shock of the admiral.

C At the end of a turn, if there is a Pirate⊖ with a named admiral, it becomes a Pirate⊕. Pirate⊕, even with admiral, remain unchanged.

D As any privateer, named pirates use their manoeuvre to protect the Pirate they are stacked with and check for survival if their Pirate is destroyed.

III.5.3 Sea or land?

A If there are no named pirate and no more than one Pirate⊕ in a given STZ, then all Pirate in this STZ will attack TF.

A.1 If there is a named pirate, check if he stays at sea or tries to loot an establishment.

A.2 Whenever a second Pirate⊕ is placed in a STZ, immediately check if he stays at sea or tries to loot an establishment.

B Each Pirate that may loot is tested by one die, modified by +1 for each (other) Pirate⊖ and +2 for each (other) Pirate⊕ present in the STZ.

B.1 Named pirates also add their shock value to this test.

B.2 A result of 10 or more means a looting, otherwise the pirate will attack the commercial fleets.

B.3 The target of the looting is chosen at random among all TP or COL bordering the STZ. Move the counter to the target (it is considered to disembark at the beginning of the first round of the military phase).

III.6 Historical/Political events

A Political events are grouped by period. To each period corresponds both a set of events and a table to roll for these. Events are rolled using two consecutive die rolls. Each result is either the number of an event or a 'R' followed by the number of an event.

B Each turn, 4 political events are rolled. It may happen that a fifth event is required. No more than 5 political events can happen on the same turn.

C To roll for an event, roll two dice.

D If the first result is 10, the second die indicates what to do according to the "10" column in the table.

D.1 A result of "+1" (event) indicates that a fifth event will be rolled this turn.

D.2 A period number (either the previous or next one) indicates that this event will be rolled on the table of the given period instead of the current one.

E If the second result is 10, the last line of the table indicates what to do.

E.1 Usually, this event will have to be redrawn in either the next or previous period. A third roll might be needed to decide between next and previous period.

F In no case can more than 5 events occur in the same turn. If the "+1" result is obtained more than once, this only means that the corresponding event will be rolled on another period table, as indicated.

G In no case events of a period other than the current, next or previous one can occur.

G.1 In such cases (double-next or double-previous), restart from the current period table.

[R]56 Historical/Political events H If none of the die roll is '10', proceed as follows: H.1 The first die gives a column in the table. H.2 The second die determines the precise event. H.3 Results of the table are counted from the top of the column. H.4 Already marked off results are skipped. H.5 If the bottom of the column is reached, then the count resumes in the next column (wrap around to the first column if the last column with events of the table was already reached). H.6 When the count reaches the second die, the result reached by the count will be applied.  Design note: This counting down is slightly more complicated than a simple cross-referencing of two numbers (as done for the economical events). It has, however, interesting properties with respect to the probabilities of each event occurring. The first columns of each event table are usually more likely to be rolled than the last ones, hence events there are more likely to occur. However, marking off an event has the effect of "reducing" the size of its column, thus events at the top of the following column become more probable. Hence, in a given period, events of the first columns are likely to occur early in the period while events in the last columns are unlikely to occur early but become more and more likely to occur as time goes.  I Once the result is found, if the corresponding event can be applied, mark the result off in the table as it must be skipped in future counts. I.1 Some events cannot occur if certain conditions are not met, in which case an event must be re-rolled with or without marking off the corresponding result in the table. Check the precise event description for details. I.2 Most events can only happen a given number of time (usually, only once). If an event is drawn after already occurring its maximum number of time, mark off the result in the table but play R/D instead. I.3 Some events share the same number in the events list for the period, such as event I-11 (1) (The End of the Golden Horde) and event I-11 (2) (Russian Annexation of Pskov and Ryazan). If this number is obtained in the table, apply these events in order. It is possible that all the events with the same number occur in the same turn if this number is rolled several time in the table. J Revolts If the result if 'R' followed by a number, a R/D (Revolt/Diplomacy event) may occur. J.1 If no R/D occurred this turn (either by another 'R' result or because a specific event description told to apply a R/D event), then a Revolt/Diplomacy event (R/D) happens as per section III.7 (Revolt events) and section III.8 (Diplomatic events). Mark off the box. J.2 If one or more revolts already occurred this turn, then the event given by the number may occur. Consider that the box only contains the number and proceed as described above. J.3 Events creating revolts or rebellions without explicitly applying a R/D event (eg event I-7 (2) (Revolt of the Comuneros)) are not considered as a R/D and thus do not prevent further 'R' result to be treated as a R/D rather than a number. K If the result is a number, the corresponding event may occur. K.1 Check the event description for effects and applicability.	Events— master – 2016-04-14 [R]57 Example: Rolling for events.— It is the first turn of the first period. Political events are thus rolled on chapter XVII (Political Events of Period I). The first die roll is 9. The second is 6. In the column 9 of the event table for period I, we look at the sixth non marked off number. It is "R6". Since no revolt has been rolled this turn, the first event will be R/D and this box of the table is marked off. Then, for the second event, the rolls are 10 and 1. This indicates that there will be 5 events this turn. Then, we reroll for the second event. The rolls are 7 and 9. In the column "7-8", the ninth non marked number is 3. Since I-3 (1) (Wars in Italy (Napoli)) can happen (as explained in the event description), the box is marked off and the event will happen. Then, we roll for the third event. The die are 3 and 4. The fourth number in column "4-4" is 1. However, I-1 (Treaty of Tordesillas) cannot happen at the first turn (America has not been discovered). Hence, as per event description, the event is not marked off and the dice are rerolled. Rolling again for third event, we obtain 10 and 2. Since there are already 5 events scheduled for this turn, there cannot be 6. Hence, according to what is written in the last column, the event has to be rolled in period II. Rolling for third event in period II, the dice are 10 and 5. It should be an event in period III. However, in period I, no event of period III may happen. Hence, we go back to period I instead. . . Rolling again for third event, the dice are 8 and 2. The second non marked box in column "7-8" is "R11". Since there already was a revolt this turn (as first event), the 11 is applied. The box is marked off and I-11 (1) (The End of the Golden Horde) will happen. Then, we roll for fourth event. The dice are 7 and 5. In column "7-8", we looked for the fifth non marked off box. Since the second box ("R11") has been marked off at the third event, it is skipped. The fifth non marked box is in the sixth line, "R4". Since there already was a revolt this turn, I-4 (1) (Declaration of Hungarian Freedom) is applied (and the box is marked off). Lastly, we roll for the fifth event. The dice are 5 and 10, indicating that we must roll on the next period. We roll for fifth event on period II. The dice are 8 and 6. Looking for the sixth non marked box in column 8, the result is 7. The box is marked off and II-7 (War between Poland and Turkey) will happen. So, to sum up, there will be 5 events this turn (instead of 4) and these will be: R/D, event I-3 (1) (Wars in Italy (Napoli)), event I-11 (1) (The End of the Golden Horde), event I-4 (1) (Declaration of Hungarian Freedom), event II-7 (War between Poland and Turkey). The revolt is resolved as explained below. The other events are resolved as per their specific description.  Playing tip: One player, usually one knowing the game quite well, should be designed to take care of political events. This "events-keeper" ask other players to roll the dice and take care of counting the boxes and marking off the results as needed, making note of which events do occur each turn. It is easier to start by rolling all four events (with the event-keeper quickly checking that the event can occur). Then, once they are known, the event-keeper should read (aloud) the events descriptions for all to hear. Since the precise order in which the events are resolved is usually not an issue, the events-keeper can read them in an order different from the one they were rolled. Especially, it is advised to first announce all the events names and then read the descriptions. It is also often preferable to start reading small events with few specific rules and finish with the big stuff. Then while players start to discuss the new diplomatic situation created by the events, the events-keeper can ask another player to roll for the revolts and diplomatic events. Due to their many switching between tables, revolts are best rolled by one other player. Diplomatic events, on the other hand, require a lot of reading on the same table and are best rolled by the event-keeper with another player near the diplomatic track to implement the results.
[R]58 Revolt events C For each Revolt, dies are rolled in order to determine: C.1 The country where the Revolt occurs (unless already specified elsewhere). C.2 The province where the Revolt happens. C.3 The strength of the Revolt. D Roll 2d10 and read the revolted country in the column of the current period on table XVI.3 (Revolt table: target area and strength). The target country may be a MIN or other abstract entity in which case a pseudo-stability is provided in brackets. D.1 Decrease this pseudo-stability of minors in the table by -1 if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • This is HOL* and HIS perceived the taxes at the preceding turn; • This is POR* at the turn of event III-6 (Portuguese Disaster in Africa) or after. D.2 Even if the Revolt was caused by an event from another period, always use the column of the current period for determining the target country or area. E Roll 1d10+the Stability of the target (or modified pseudo-stability) on the target country's table and read the result in the column corresponding to the current period (for some countries, there is only one column to use for all periods). E.1 Even if the Revolt was caused by an event from another period, always use the column of the current period for determining the revolted province. E.2 Exception: For Revolt is FRA cause by event III-11 (Wars of Religion in France), follow the instruction on top of the table. F Groups Often, the result will be a group of provinces; a further roll is required to choose the resulting province. F.1 In some groups, the number of targets may vary: roll with equal probability between all possible choices. F.2 Some groups bear the same name but do not have the same content. Use the definitions attached to the table. G The revolt is against the owner of the province. This may be a different country than the one whose table was used (e.g. a revolt rolled on the table for FRA may well occur in HIS in which case the revolt is against HIS for all purposes). G.1 Revolts inside minors countries are automatically suppressed if the minor stays inactive for one full turn. Otherwise, they do expand as usual and hamper supply or income as well as Stability of the diplomatic patron. H Lastly, roll 2d10 in the last column of table XVI.3 (Revolt table: target area and strength) to find the strength of the revolt. H.1 There may be any of the following: Revolt counter (either ☉ or ☉), troops (LD or A☉), ✕ and sometimes seizing the ♠ (simply noted "♠" in the Table). H.2 If there are troops, they are considered to have the same characteristics (size, artillery, . . .) as the country in which the revolt occurs. Their technology is the technology this country had at the beginning of the turn. They may not move, are supplied within the revolted province and can only retreat in the ♠ after battle (they are thus destroyed if forced to retreat and they do not hold the ♠). They may cause a major battle with the usual loss of Stability. They do besiege the ♠, even if there are less LD than the level of the ♠ (exception to the normal siege rules). H.3 ✕ sometimes leads the revolt, sometimes the troops, sometimes there are two leaders, one for each. If the ✕ is written after the Revolt, he leads it, if he's after the troops, he leads them. H.4 If the ♠ is seized, the LD is inside it. The ✕ leads the Revolt and retreat inside the ♠ once the revolt is crushed (if the rebels still hold the ♠). H.5 A CTZ or STZ may be rolled as a revolted province. Roll for the strength as usual but put in a Pirate☉ or Pirate☉ instead of a Revolt. Ignore the troops or capture of the city if any and use a ± instead of a ✕. The Pirate attacks all TF in the CTZ/STZ.  III.7.1 Revolts and Rebellions A Revolts may occurs both from R/D events or during civil wars events. In the second case, they are called Rebellions. A.1 Both of these case may put Revolt (or Rebellion) counters as well as A or LD in play. 	Events— master – 2016-04-14 [R]59 A.2 Unless specified otherwise, use counters labelled "Rebellion" when they come from a political event and counters labelled "Revolt" in all other cases (R/D, TUR survival roll, . . .) B "Revolt" and "Rebellion" counters are not considered friendly to one another. That is, if a R/D occurs during a civil war, it is considered to be a peasants revolting against any and all factions at war. B.1 As a general rule, "Revolt" counters (either troops or Revolt) are friendly to nobody (including other "Revolt" counters from another province) while all "Rebellion" counters within the same country or entity are friendly one to another and they may be friendly to other powers. C Apart from this, Revolt and Rebellion work in the same way. Especially for rolling dice to determine where it occurs and at which strength. C.1 Unless otherwise specified, rules applying to Revolt also apply to Rebellion.  III.8 Diplomatic events Design note: Description and meaning of diplomatic status of minors can be found in chapter IV (Diplomacy). A Every time a R/D occurs, both a Revolt and a Diplomacy event occur. A.1 Diplomacy events do not occur when revolts are rolled as per a specific event description or special rule. Only the R/D event (result 'R' in the table) triggers a Diplomacy event. A.2 In some conditions an event cannot be played (e.g. because it was already played) and is resolved as a R/D result instead. Hence there may be several Diplomacy events in a given turn. B If Diplomacy event occurs, a first die is rolled to know which religion suffers from troubles. B.1 Even if several Diplomacy events occur, only one religion will suffer from troubles. B.2 The troubled religion is rolled in table XVI.1 (Troubled Religion table). B.3 On some results, an additional check for $D (Uprising of a conquered minor province) of this section will be made. C Then, for each Diplomacy event, roll for a group of minors to test in table XVI.2 (Diplomatic table). C.1 For each minor country in the group, roll 2d10 (+3 if the minor is of the troubled religion). C.2 If the result is higher than the fidelity of the minor, the diplomatic status of the minor is lowered by one for each extra point (the marker goes one box to the left toward Neutral). C.3 For ROTW minors, if the roll is 2 or more than the fidelity, then all FR are broken to NR while AT go to FR; if the result is 5 or more than the fidelity, all AT and FR are broken to NR. C.4 If the fidelity of the minor is higher than the result, nothing happens. C.5 Countries that either do not exist (yet or any more) or are still/already a major country are not tested even if they do appear in the table. D Uprising of a conquered minor province If a result of 1, 4 or 7 was obtained for the first die (troubled religion), check for the autonomous uprising of a province of a Minor country that would be owned by another power. D.1 The group or groups affected is obtained by rolling 1d10 in table XVI.2 (Diplomatic table). Then, in each group, in the order written, find the first (still existing) minor country that does not own all its National territory or that has a Præsidio in its territory. A group is defined by a name in bold (2 groups are sometimes obtained on a given result leading to 2 possible uprisings). D.2 ROTW countries are never subject of uprising. D.3 This minor immediately takes back the ownership of one of these territories, or destroy a Præsidio (chosen at random) and a state of war is considered to exist between this Minor and the previous owner of the province (or a state of overseas war if a Præsidio was destroyed this way). This is not a declaration of wars per se (more like a revolt) so there is no proper Call to allies (only as if continuing an existing war, the diplomatic patron of a minor involved can choose to enter the war (with a CB) or stay out (with no penalty)) and there can be no generalisation of war this turn if this is an overseas war.

[R]60 Diplomatic events  D.4 The MAJ victim of the uprising may sign an immediate white peace with the uprising minor, forfeiting the province or Præsidio. E Minor declares a war If a result of 10 was obtained for the first die, a random minor declares war to a random neighbour. E.1 The minor is chosen by rolling 1d10 for a group of countries in the table above and then randomly choosing one existing minor of this group. For this purpose, consider each result as a single group even if there are two names in bold. E.2 The chosen minor declares war to one of its neighbours, chosen randomly. E.3 Usual calls for allies happen during Diplomacy phase, for all countries involved in this war. E.4 If the minor is a ROTW country, its neighbours are other minors countries owning areas adjacent to its own areas, as well as countries having a TP or COL in its areas or adjacent ones. E.5 If the minor is a ROTW country, the war is an overseas war. E.6 In case of PERSIA/ORMUS, it is considered as a single country with neighbours both in Europa and in the ROTW but will only declare war (regular or overseas) to one of its neighbours. 	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]61   <h2>Diplomacy</h2> <h3>Chapter IV</h3> <h4>IV.1 Diplomatic phase</h4> A Overview. This phase is played simultaneously. Players may negotiate to establish agreements between them (official alliances or informal agreements). During this phase also, players may declare wars (between them or against minor countries). They end this phase by making diplomatic actions with minor countries to control them (or to lower the level of control of other players). These levels of control are appreciated to various degree (Royal Marriage, Subsidies, Military Alliance... etc.). B Sequence. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> B.1 Declarations of Wars caused by events, and induced Reactions B.2 Negotiations between Players B.3 Announcements of Alliances B.4 Other Announcements: Agreements, Trade Refusal,... B.5 Declarations of War, and Reactions B.6 Diplomacy on Minor Countries B.7 Resolutions of Diplomatic Actions B.8 Diplomatic Counter adjustment B.9 Activation of ROTW minors, and reactions <h4>IV.2 Agreements between Major Powers</h4> <h5>IV.2.1 Negotiations</h5> <h6>IV.2.1.1 Negotiations between Players</h6> A Players can negotiate freely between them to get into various kinds of agreements, as long as they respect the letter and the spirit of the rules. Players' diplomatic relationships may however be "officialized" in alliances, or may be broken. B Players negotiate between them, freely. It is advised that the time of negotiations be limited to at most 10 minutes on an average (5 is counselled, but not always possible or realistic). <h6>IV.2.1.2 Outcome of Agreements</h6> A When negotiations are closed, players announce their agreements: informal agreement, or formal agreements: alliance (by specifying which), or some possible trade refusal. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> A.1 This is done during the Diplomatic Phase on the fourth segment (the Announcement Segment), after Declarations of Wars caused by events, but before the declarations of War and any Diplomacy on minor countries. A.2 Formal Agreements should be decided before the Announcement Segment. Then they are made made loudly in the order of the initiative. As the Agreements need not be written beforehand, a player could change his mind just when doing announcements: this is allowed but no negotiation can take place at this time. A.3 The simple public announcement of the agreement suffices to validate it. This public agreement bears treaty value.
[R]62 Agreements between Major Powers  A.4 A formal agreement can be written down during the phase of negotiations. If this is the case and one player refuses to make the announcements, his power loses 1 Stability. A.5 Formal agreements can be kept secret: they have value only if written down and signed by all allies. They can be used later, but with reduced value. B There exist several types of Announcements: Alliances of different kinds, each corresponding to a precise agreement, and Trade Refusal. The type of alliance must always be publicly announced to all other players, or kept secret and written down. <h4>IV.2.1.3 Alliances</h4> A Only players possessing a determined alliance can co-operate in the various domains considered hereafter. Alliances are of 4 different levels: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> A.1 Dynastic Ties A.2 Loan Treaty A.3 Defensive Alliance A.4 Offensive Alliance B Generalities Alliances are concluded between two or more players. A player can conclude as many different alliances as he desires with the same player, and/or with different players, with the restrictions given for each type of alliance as described hereafter. B.1 A Formal Agreement (except Loan Treaty) is valid for this turn, the two following ones, and the very beginning of the next turn, until the beginning of the segment of Announcements (at which point the Formal Agreement that ends could be signed again). B.2 Secret agreements must specify the type of alliance, the powers involved, the first turn of the alliance, or would be void. They last 3 turns (like announced alliances). Dynastic Ties are always public and can not be kept secret (secret Dynastic Ties are void). C Dynastic Ties A pair of players may conclude a marriage between the ruling families of their realms, so as to create family ties. They can no longer declare war on each other without Casus Belli (CB). This alliance lasts for the whole duration of the next 2 consecutive turns, except when specific events occurs, forcing its cancellation. C.1 To conclude this marriage, one of the two players has to offer a dowry to the other. The dowry has to be 100 ₮ (minimum, more can be offered up to the gross income from previous turn of the Power), or consists of one single province, COL or TP, immediately ceded to the other, receiving, party upon conclusion of the agreement, at the end of the Diplomatic Phase. Note that the province is still owned by its former controller for the following segment of Declaration of Wars, the transfer would be latter, at the end of the phase. C.2 Money transferred is recorded on line A3 (Gifts and loans between players) of ERS. C.3 The ceded province, Colony or Trading Post must be owned and controlled by the ceding player, i.e. it is not possible to cede any territory in revolt or occupied by another player at the time of the dynastic treaty. C.4 The two players are authorised in addition to exchange an extra province, COL or TP. This exchange may be made in addition to the dowry (e.g., exchange of one province + dowry of a province/or 100+ ₮), but it is not compulsory and may never involve national provinces. The previous condition on control holds. C.5 The dynastic alliance can be cancelled at any given time. The party that cancels it loses 2 Stability levels. C.6 Only a dynastic alliance allows players to cede or exchange a province, COL or TP. Each ceded possession has to be specified at the time of the alliance conclusion. C.7 Each ceding of a province, COL or TP, costs 1 level of Stability to the ceding party. C.8 War of Successions. The player that pays the dowry can benefit from a War of Succession inside the other player's country, if a dynastic Crisis occurred in the country that received the dowry. After Dynastic Ties are established, the rights in case of War of Succession are valid for 8 turns. When a dynastic Crisis happens, the power is allowed to declare war on that country as if he had a CB, or on the contrary he is allowed to enter as an ally of that same country, 	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]63  as if he had a defensive alliance with it. See section XIV.14.5 (The Wars of Succession) about the conditions of this war. C.9 A dynastic alliance cannot be renewed with the same player less than 3 complete turns after the official end (i.e. be it after two turns or earlier be-cause it was previously broken) of the previous alliance. C.10 A dynastic alliance cannot be formed with a player of a different religion unless a 2 Stability level loss is incurred for doing so. This applies until the end of Religious Enmities between Protestant, Catholic and Orthodox countries. It always applies between all Christians and Muslims. C.11 No Dynastic alliance can be formed by TUR with any other player. D Loan Treaty Only players that have agreed on a Loan treaty can lend money from one to the other. One is referred to as the "lender", the other as the "borrower". D.1 The sole possibilities for a player to give money to another are by Dynastic Ties (as a dowry), by Peace Resolution or by a Loan Treaty. D.2 Money transferred by loan treaty is recorded on line A3 of ERS. E Restrictions on loans E.1 Powers having different religions and signing Loan Treaty lose 1 Stability if they transfer 50 ₮ or more to the same borrower in one turn. E.2 Exceptions. FRA, if Catholic/Conciliatory, and ANG beginning with Period IV, may lend money to any MAJ with no penalty for Religion. HOL, after being recognised by HIS (see event III-1 (1) (Revolt of the United Provinces)), may also lend money to any MAJ with no penalty for Religion. E.3 The lender can not give more than 150 ₮ per turn to a given borrower. E.4 Exception. HOL or ANG if it has created its Stock Exchange (event III-2 (Amsterdam Stock Exchange) and event IV-8 (1) (Creation of the London Stock Exchange)) can transfer up to 250 ₮ per Loan. E.5 Restriction: during one turn, the lender is forbidden to lend more than his gross income when adding all the transfers made. E.6 A given Power can not be both borrower and moneylender in different Loan Treaties at the same time. F Modalities of refunding F.1 Modes of pay-back and interest are left to the discretion of players. The "loan" can be even a gift without refund. F.2 The treaty remains valid as long as the borrower has not paid back all received ducats. Other loans can be concluded on following turns, but always in the same way (moneylender to borrower). No new, additional, loan treaty can be concluded between these two players as long as that one remains valid. Loans that are gifts end at the end of turn. F.3 The borrower can break the treaty at any time, and refuse to pay interest and/or the capital owed to the lender. In such a case, he loses immediately 1 Stability level and receives a negative modifier of -1 on the Exchequer test during 5 turns. F.4 The moneylender may freely abandon the Loan and transform it in a gift at any Declaration Phase of a following turn. This ends the Treaty. F.5 If an event releases a CB between the moneylender and the borrower and that the war is declared between them, the treaty is immediately broken without penalty. In such a case, no back payment or reimbursement is to be made by the borrowing country. G Defensive Alliance A player linked to another player by a defensive alliance may has to declare war on any other country that attacks his co-signer. He benefits from a CB for this specific declaration. <ul style="list-style-type: none"> G.1 The Alliance is effective to be used on the turn of its contracting. G.2 The player can either enters the war by its own will or if the co-signer ask him to honour the alliance.

[R]64 Agreements between Major Powers G.3 If the player is called by his ally and refuses to declare war along with his co-signer, he immediately loses 2 Stability levels and the alliance is cancelled. The co-signer also receives a temporary CB against the defaulting player. G.4 The co-signer player may also prefer not to call for his Ally (or Allies). In this case, the allied player is left free to declare his participation in this war (with a CB) or not. If the Ally chooses not to participate, he suffers no penalties and the Alliance is not considered as broken. G.5 If a secret alliance is called for and the co-signer refuses to declare the war in response of this alliance, the loss is reduced to 1 Stability instead of 2. The betrayed power still has a temporary CB against the defaulting power. G.6 This Alliance lasts for the duration of the next 2 turns, except when and if cancelled by events or voluntary cancellation by one (or even both) of the co-signer. G.7 All declarations of war by this way cost only 1 Stability level (whatever number of declarations in the current turn). G.8 When the players are forming an "Alliance", they have to sign together the same peace with their enemies. With a minor country: count all the modifiers enemy minor/all allies. If peace is accepted, the allies must share the gains. With a major country: as for minor country, except for allies make an average of their Stabilities (rounded down). G.9 If at war against the same enemy, all allied players move and play together (at the lowest player's Initiative rating rank). G.10 If an ally is twice at -3 Stability at the phase of Peace, he must sue for peace, and sign a separate peace. In this case, his Alliance is not considered as voluntarily broken (and there is no CB). H Offensive Alliance Same as for the preceding type of alliance, except that it applies also in the case where the co-signer is at the origin of the war declaration on another, third-party player or minor. H.1 The details are the same as for a Defensive Alliance. IV.2.1.4 The Trade Refusal A A player can refuse the access of his market to the foreign trade of another player, even in peace, but that costs him 1 Stability level at the moment he announces his decision. Once taken, the decision can be maintained from one turn to the other (without any additional decline in Stability); the decision can be repelled later by the power at no cost. B Reaction of the Other Player B.1 The other player whose trade has been denied then receives a temporary Commercial CB against the player refusing him trade. This CB is to be used in the segment of Declarations of Wars and starts a new war. B.2 Alternatively, he may refuse his own trade in reaction and reprisal. He then suffers from the same effects (loss of 1 level of Stability, and Commercial CB to the enemy). This is to be announced immediately. C Value of Trade Refused C.1 When a player is refused the trade of another, a foreign trade loss is assigned: it is calculated on the basis of the refusing player's European Trade value, i.e. the income of the refusing player's provinces, including vassals. This value is added to the amount of the European Market that is denied as foreign trade. C.2 The player being refused trade gains also no income from Commercial fleets in the own CTZ of the refusing MAJ (neither regular nor monopoly incomes). C.3 The player being refused trade gains half of its usual income (trade plus monopoly income if he has the monopoly) in some STZ, depending of the MAJ that refuses Trade: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • TUR: STZ Mer Caspienne, STZ Mer Noire occidentale, STZ Mer Ionienne; • VEN: STZ Golfe du Lion, STZ Mer Noire occidentale, STZ Mer Ionienne; • POR: STZ Mer des Canaries, CTZ HISPANIA; • POL and SUE: STZ Baltique. • HOL and ANG: STZ Mer du Nord. C.4 These TF still count toward ownership of trade centres and the income of trade centres is not affected. D A Trade Refusal breaks any past Loan Treaty between the two Powers with no further penalties. See §E (Speculation) of section VI.12.1.2 (Variation of price) for the effect. A.3 Trade of wood is decided as a diplomatic announcement. See section II.8.4 (Trade of Wood) for the effect. IV.3 Diplomacy with European Minor Powers IV.3.1 Presentation IV.3.1.1 Actions and control A Informal Overview After having negotiated between them, players may "negotiate" with minor countries. Each player has 1 to 6 diplomatic actions per turn. This number is given for each country and each period, as per the Limits table located on Players' Aides. Each diplomatic attempt against one minor country uses 1 such action and an investment in ducats which can be basic, medium or strong. Actions and diplomatic expenses have to be written on line A5 (Diplomatic actions) of ERS. Results of those actions are assessed: each is solved with the help of three dice. In case of success, the influence that the player exerts on the minor is adjusted. Each minor country that is influenceable by the diplomacy of players has a diplomatic status marker displaying the relevant indications for the diplomatic game. Each such counter is placed on the diplomatic track located on the Rest-of-the-world map. Such a counter must be found in permanence placed in a square corresponding to its attitude towards a player or in the square reserved to the neutrals. B Levels of Diplomatic control The principle of the diplomacy with European minor countries is that there can be only one influence of any one single player on a given minor, meaning that this player has a preponderant influence, or diplomatic control of the minor country; he is also names the "Patron" of the minor country. This influence is divided into different levels of increasing importance, which are: Neutral Neutral (not really a status, rather the fact of being independent). RM Royal Marriage (dynastic ties unite the reigning families of the two countries). SUB Subsidies (the countries share economic ties and have mutual debts). MA Military Alliance (the two countries have concluded military alliances and may help each other during wars). EC Expeditionary Corps (the minor country is susceptible of sending larger armed forces). EW Entry in war (the minor country may be called for a full participation in a war). VA Vassal (the minor country is effectively dependant on the authority of the major country, and will participate in wars). AN Annexation (the minor country has really become part of the major country in some form, and counts for many things as such). C Limit This influence may be limited sometimes to a maximum level for some specific minor countries or for some particular players. It is even possible that a player could not make diplomatic action against a particular minor (e.g. the Turkish player against PERSIA). D The Diplomatic Track Each player has a line of his own on the diplomatic track situated on the Rest-of-the-world map. Columns indicate the different diplomatic status that the player can achieve on a minor, as described immediately above.
[R]66 Diplomacy with European Minor Powers E Diplomatic Counters Each counter (front/back) regroups information concerning the minor country mentioned on that counter. All this information also figures in the Annexes dealing with minor countries. IV.3.1.2 Other A It is possible to give a province to a minor country if either this is a province formerly owned by it (at any point during the game) or it has a blurred shield of the minor. A.1 This is not an action, this does not count toward the limit of actions per turn. B If the minor is not existing anymore, it is immediately recreated as a VA of the major giving a province. B.1 If the minor cannot be VA, put it on the highest possible diplomatic level allowed for it instead. IV.3.2 Diplomatic actions IV.3.2.1 Principles of diplomatic actions A A player has a number of diplomatic actions which is limited according to the period in play (from 1 to 6 actions per turn). Even though the Diplomatic Actions are resolved after the Declarations of Wars, the rules are explained here (because Diplomatic control is helpful to understand the wars). A.1 The action is aimed at increasing the level of control of the player on that minor country, or decreasing the level of control of another power on a minor country. A.2 The player registers on his monarch sheet all his diplomatic actions of the current turn, by specifying which minor countries are aimed at. He must pay the cost of each action (written on line A5 of ERS) and indicate on his monarch sheet the level of investment placed in that action (either basic, medium or strong). A.3 Diplomatic Supports The player can also declare that he is supporting one action of another player. This support is a diplomatic action of the player by itself (it has to be paid as a basic investment diplomatic action), and must be written on the supporting player monarch sheet. A.4 Supports can be discussed and established as an informal agreement between the player granting support and the one receiving it. A.5 "Selling" supports is possible by contracting a loan treaty at the same time, but remember the limits on loan treaties. B Writing actions When deciding which actions to make, a player should write all of them in details on his monarch sheet: the turn at which the action occurs, the country targeted, the amount of money spent (investment) and the resulting bonus to die roll (as explained below). Writing all this before actually resolving any of the actions will greatly speed up and smoothen play. C A player can make only one action on a given minor country per turn. D No diplomatic action is allowed on a European minor country that is fully involved in any war (even a Civil War) even by a major country that is not part of the war. The only "diplomatic" action allowed on minors at war with the player is separate peace. There is no such restriction for minors in limited interventions. E Cost of Diplomatic actions The costs are the following: E.1 Basic investment: 20 ⚀ E.2 Medium Investment (+2 to the die-roll): 50 ⚀ E.3 Strong investment (+5 to the die-roll): 100 ⚀ E.4 Support (+1 to the die-roll): 20 ⚀ F Actions must have been written down to be considered as valid. IV.3.2.2 Resolution of an action A Order of Resolution Intended actions are first written down by all players, then they are announced and then solved, minor by minor, the order of which being of no importance (choice of minor according to the initiative if contentions between players), in the following order: A.1 players decide of their reactions;	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]67 A.2 resolve opposed actions (on minor countries already controlled by a power, or if two powers aim at the same Minor); A.3 resolve remaining unopposed actions. A.4 Note that all actions should be announced first, then all reaction should be decided and only after should the action be resolved. If you start resolving your actions earlier, don't complain that your opponent bases his ones actions or reactions on the results of your actions. B Reactions by Another Player on a Minor it controls B.1 When an action is made on a minor already on the track of a player, this power may react depending on whether it was also making an action to increase his own level of control, or not. B.2 If the Patron is doing an action There is no "reaction" investment to be paid by the controlling player excepts that the player may decide to immediately raise his level of investment and pay the difference. This level of investment is paid for his own action and the action will be considered at the same time as a the "reaction". B.3 If the controlling player did not plan to make any action on that minor He is then allowed to take a "reaction" on that minor by paying the investment required. This reaction is in addition to the actions he is normally entitled for the current turn. B.4 If the controlling (i.e. defending) power refuses to make any reaction by not paying any investment in reaction, the minor country is immediately placed in Neutral position and defends itself according to his new Neutral stance. B.5 Note that the defending player benefits from a bonus applicable to the die roll according to the degree of control that he exerts on the minor. This bonus is reminded to the player's attention at the top of the Diplomatic track on the map. B.6 Money spent for reactions (if any) is recorded on line A6 (Diplomatic reactions) of ERS. C Resolution of Opposed Actions If several powers are doing actions (including reaction) on the same minor, these actions are resolved together at the same time (each player rolls his die-roll and modifies it). The player that obtained the best result (i.e. the highest modified result) is selected to proceed further. C.1 Solve ties by competitive unmodified die-rolls, but the original result will be used for the resolution. C.2 If a reaction (that was not originally an action) is the best result, do not proceed further (no progression point can be gained, the reaction only served to keep the minor). D Resolution of the Action The power selected with the best result compares its result to the following score: D.1 the score in reaction (even if it was originally a normal action) of the controlling power if it was opposing the attempt and did not achieve the best result (only the controlling players can use his score here, not another player attempting an action on the same minor); D.2 otherwise, the sum of 2d10 in all other cases. D.3 The player earns a number of progression points equal to the difference between his (modified) die roll and this latter result. D.4 If the difference is null or negative, it does get any points of progression (there is no "negative" progression). E Modifiers Any player that rolls for this Minor Diplomacy has his die-roll modified as follows:

[R]68 Diplomacy with European Minor Powers +? DIP value of his monarch +0/+2/+5 Investment (20 , 50 , 100 ) +1 per other player supporting the action +1 RM or SUB box (controlling player only) +2 MA or EC box (controlling player only) +3 EW, VA or AN box (controlling player only) +1 same religion -4 different religion (until the end of Religious Enmities) -2 between Islam and Christianity (after the end of Religious Enmities) -3 For TUR against some Barbaresque countries +1 bonus of player's country as per the diplomatic marker of the minor country -3 on POLONIA (not applicable if Absolutism was established, or due to some events) +? as per applicable event +N if the MAJ gives a province of value N to the minor country this turn -1 for each province of the minor country owned by the MAJ. -3 if the player is or was at war (full or limited) against the minor during the current or preceding turn F How to read the Diplomatic Values of each Minor Each Status (i.e. box) on the diplomatic track has a variable cost of progression, according to the level of control (status name is printed at the top of the track) and the concerned minor country. F.1 Political status Neutral, RM and SUB cost always 1 point of progression. Exception: to enter the SUB box for HELVETIA costs 3 points. F.2 The cost is variable for the other status according to minor countries. It is indicated on their diplomatic marker, as well as in the list of minor countries located in the Appendix handbook F.3 If a • figures on the diplomatic marker for a particular status, it indicates that this political status is not achievable with this minor country. F.4 If initials appear instead of a figure (cost), they indicate that only the country having these initials can reach this political status, under the restriction that a specific event allowing it has occurred. G Diplomatic Markers Adjustment Costs of progression indicate the minimum number of points of progression to advance the counter of the concerned minor on the diplomatic track. G.1 When all diplomatic actions have taken place, the minor country diplomatic marker is moved according to the number of points of progression obtained for that minor and the costs to enter the various status boxes, in favour of the player having obtained the success on this minor. G.2 Advancing a diplomatic counter is never mandatory. A player may always stop the marker progression even if sufficient progression points remain. G.3 Moving back a marker is mandatory. If the marker reaches the Neutral box while doing so and some remaining points of progression are still available, the marker can then progress in favour of the player that has succeeded in the action as explained below. G.4 All points of progression balance that do not suffice to enter into the box is lost and not applicable. G.5 The diplomatic marker of a minor country is moved on the track until it reaches a political status box, as allowed by the number of points of progression and the various costs to enter those boxes. If the marker has progressed, intermediate boxes indications are ignored. Apply only the result and benefits of the status corresponding to the box where the marker is located. H Handling reactions When an action is opposed by a reaction (or in case of a competitive action lost by the controller), the score need to be compared both to the reaction score and later to 2d10 (as per regular minor). H.1 Comparing the action score with the reaction gives a number of progressions points used to reach Neutral.	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]69 H.2 Once the minor is Neutral, roll 2d10 for it. Compare the (original) score of the action with them to get a number of progression points, then subtract the number of points previously used to reach Neutral. The result (if positive) is the number of progression points used to raise the Example: A simple action.— At turn 1, FRA tries to do some diplomacy on SABAUDIA which is already in MA, the French monarch is Charles VIII with a DIP of 9 and he chooses to make a basic investment only. Both FRA and SABAUDIA share the same religion (Catholicism). Thus, the total modifier for FRA is +12 (+9 for DIP, +1 for religion and +2 for control). FRA rolls a 3, for a net result of 15. Someone else rolls 2d10 for SABAUDIA and gets 6 and 5 for a result of 11. FRA thus scores 4 progression points. SABAUDIA is already in MA, the next box is EC. According to the diplomatic value (in the Appendix), it costs 2 points to raise SABAUDIA to EC. There are still 2 points left. However, raising SABAUDIA to EW would cost 3 extra progression points which FRA doesn't have. So, SABAUDIA stops in EC and the 2 extra progression points are lost. Example: A competitive action.— At turn 1, both ANG and HIS want to make an action on PALATINATUS (which is Neutral). The three countries are Catholic (PALATINATUS will become Protestant later but it begins Catholic). Both ANG and HIS choose to make a basic action, their respective DIP is 7 and 6, thus giving modifiers of +8 for ANG and +7 for HIS. ANG rolls 4 for a final result of 12 while HIS rolls 7 for a final result of 14. Thus, only HIS is allowed to do an action. Someone rolls two dice for PALATINATUS and gets 4 and 9 for a total of 13, to the amusement of ANG. HIS thus only scores 1 progression point, enough to get PALATINATUS in RM but no further. Example: A reaction.— At turn 1, FRA also wants to try and get SANCTA SEDES out of Spanish hands. Thus, he makes his second diplomatic action on it, still with a basic investment resulting in a +10 modifier. HIS did not plan any action on SANCTA SEDES and shocks when he learns about the French villainous move, claiming that he is the most Catholic king out there and should morally be the only one with ties to the Pope. FRA smiles and calmly asks if HIS wants to react to this action or forfeit his illegitimate claims on Rome. If HIS choose not to react, then SANCTA SEDES will immediately becomes Neutral and the French action is then resolved normally. However, HIS wants to keep his lead on SANCTA SEDES and thus choose to react. He has to decide at which investment. Since his DIP is only 6, a basic investment will yield in a +8 modifier (+1 for religion and +1 for control), somewhat smaller than the French +10. So, HIS decides to limit the risks and use a medium investment, thus spending an extra 50  but reaching a +10 modifier. Both roll a die. FRA rolls 7 for a total of 17 while HIS only rolls 1 for a total of 11. Thus, FRA gets 6 progression points. The first one is used to bring SANCTA SEDES back to Neutral. Then, the rest of the action is resolved as against a normal Neutral (and the extra progression points against HIS are lost). HIS swear to take his revenge and quickly grab two dice, rolling 6 and 8 for a total of 14. FRA initial total was 17, so he has 3 progression points against SANCTA SEDES, however, one is considered to have been already used against HIS, so there are 2 left, just enough to bring SANCTA SEDES in SUB. Even if HIS had initially rolled 9, for a total of 19, higher than FRA, he could not have raised his control on SANCTA SEDES because this was a reaction and not a planned action. Playing tip: It is more efficient to have all the players simultaneously write down all the diplomatic actions they want to do this turn, including the computation of the bonus ; then have pair of players (as soon as they are finished) roll for their actions (with the other rolling for the minor) and write done the result (number of progression points) ; and lastly implement the results (going to the diplomatic track and moving the markers, maybe rolling for subsidies or dowries. This avoids numerous back and forth journeys to the diplomatic track to implement the results and speeds the rolling process by pre-computing everything (thus requiring less time overall). Note also that the influence of the diplomatic actions of other players on the immediate other phases (incomes and expenses) is almost null. So, as soon as one has resolved ones diplomatic actions, one can begin computing ones incomes and thinking about expenses. Only the military phase will require further synchronisation between players. I Reading markers The cost for entering the different boxes is specified in the Appendix. Additionally, it is written on the diplomatic counters for easy reference during game. The front of the counter shows values for dowry, subsidies and MA while the back (with the "at war" strip) shows values for EC, EW, VA and AN.
[R]70 Diplomacy with European Minor Powers IV.3.3 Effects of the Diplomatic control IV.3.3.1 Royal Marriage A The Royal Marriage (RM) box gives the advantage of a bonus of +1 during any ulterior diplomatic phase as long as the player controlling the minor country retains this status. B The Dowry When the minor country diplomatic marker reaches the RM box by advancing (not by moving back), the player rolls one die. If the result is: B.1 Even the player receives the sum of the dowry in ducats as indicated on the diplomatic marker. B.2 Odd: the player has to pay the dowry. C This sum (positive or negative) is written on line A7 (Subsidies and dowries) of ERS. D if the player refuses to pay the dowry, the marker is returned immediately to the Neutral box. IV.3.3.2 Subsidies A The position of a diplomatic marker on the Subsidy (SUB) box gives a bonus of +1 during any ulterior diplomatic phase for the player controlling the minor country. B Payment of Subsidies. When the minor country diplomatic marker reaches the SUB box by advancing (not by moving back), the player rolls a 1d100 He modifies the obtained die-roll result by the Subsidy modifier (always negative) indicated on the minor country marker. If the result is: B.1 positive: it indicates the number of ducats that the player receives from the minor; B.2 negative: it indicates the number of ducats that the player has to pay to the minor. C This sum (positive or negative) is written on line A7 of ERS. D If the player refuses to pay, the marker is immediately and directly returned to the Neutral box. E The positive net amount obtained by Subsidies can never exceed 50 , except explicit precision of the contrary as explained in some events. F When a players pays the subsidies, the ducats thus transferred to the minor are deducted from the player treasury (and just marked-off i.e. there is no such thing as "minor country treasury"). IV.3.3.3 Military Alliance A The position on the Military Alliance (MA) box gives a bonus of +2 during any ulterior diplomatic phase for the player controlling the minor country. B Alliance. As it is an alliance, if the MIN is declared war upon or if it declares war, it will call for its patron, that is also an ally. C Limited Intervention in wars. Conversely, the MIN is allowed to be involved in a limited way in the wars of their patron. This declaration is a Reaction, and is shown by placing the forces of the MIN on the map. Additionally and as an exception to the rules of reaction, a limited intervention can be declared at the instant a status of MA (or better) is obtained, so at the end of the phase of Diplomacy (and not at the usual segment where reactions are allowed). C.1 A limited intervention of a minor country is made only with its basic forces. It can draw supply only from its own provinces (and so can not go further than 12 MP from its country). C.2 Units can not go out of the European map if the minor country has no TP/COL on the ROTW map. They can not participate in discoveries if it is not specified for this minor power (mainly PORTUGALLIA and HOLLANDIA are allowed). C.3 In MA, the intervention is at most of one land stack and one naval stack outside the minor country. C.4 The MIN receives reinforcements each turn in the administrative phase. The base reinforcement is given in the Appendix. These reinforcements are only used to recreate the basic force of the MIN, should they be diminished. C.5 The MIN has a free active campaign each turn, and free passive campaign each other round. Its Patron may increase the level of the campaign by paying for this.	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]71 C.6 The MIN is in fact out of the war: its territories can not be attacked or trespassed if it is only in limited intervention. The MIN is not part of the Peace Treaty that will end the war. The MIN may withdraw from the war if its diplomatic status changes. C.7 A MIN that is announced in limited intervention in a war offers a free CB to the enemy alliance to involve fully the MIN in the war. D Full involvement in wars. Some events, or declaration of wars may involve fully the minor country in a war. D.1 In this case, the status is shown by by putting the Diplomatic marker of the MIN on the side reading "At War" and the Diplomatic position is increased to Entry in War (EW). IV.3.3.4 Expeditionary Corps A The position on the Expeditionary Corps (EC) box gives a bonus of +2 during any ulterior diplomatic phase for the player controlling the minor country. B Alliance. As it is an alliance, if the MIN is declared war upon or if it declares war, it will call for its patron, that is also an ally. C Limited Intervention in wars. Conversely, the MIN is allowed to be involved in a limited way in the wars of their patron. The conditions are the same as in MA, except that the MIN in EC add one LD or ND (controller's choice) to its reinforcements each turn. D Full involvement in wars. Some events or declaration of wars, may involve fully the minor country in a war. The conditions are the same as in MA. IV.3.3.5 Entry in war A The position on the Entry in War (EW) box gives a bonus of +3 during any ulterior diplomatic phase for the player controlling the minor country. B Alliance. As it is an alliance, if the MIN is declared war upon or if it declares war, it will call for its patron, that is also an ally. B.1 Additionally, the Patron may ask for a full entry in war on the minor country, as an ally fully involved in the war. This is done during the announces of Reactions to a declaration of war (as if calling for alliances of MAJ). To participate, a minor must be rolled for and a modified result of 6 or more must be obtained on 1d10. B.2 Modifiers to this entry die-roll depend on the country the player wants his minor to declare war upon. They are the following: +? political bonus of the MAJ on the country +2 if the enemy has a common border with the MIN -2 if the closest enemy province is 6 MP or more from the minor territory, and more than 2 sea zones away from a minor coastal province -2 if the religion of all enemies is the same as that of the minor (until the end of Religious Enmities). -3 for POLONIA (not applicable if Absolutism was established, or due to some events) -4 if the minor country is already involved in a different war B.3 Failure to this test lowers the diplomatic control to EC immediately, and forbids the Major power to declare a limited intervention of this Minor country at the current turn in this war. C Limited Intervention in wars. Conversely, the MIN is allowed to be involved in a limited way in the wars of their patron. The conditions are the same as in MA, except that the MIN in EW add one LD or one ND (controller's choice) to its reinforcements each turn. D Full involvement in wars. Some events or declaration of wars may involve fully the minor country in a war.

[R]72 Diplomacy with European Minor Powers D.1 In this case, there is no restriction to the manner that the MIN conducts the war. The status is shown by putting the Diplomatic marker of the MIN on the side reading "At War". D.2 It maintains up to its Basic Force at the beginning of each turn. Additional forces can be maintained by their Patron. D.3 It receives reinforcements based on a roll on the Reinforcement Table. It has, for free, an active campaign for each round, plus some major (or multiple) campaigns given by the reinforcements table. The Patron may complete the cost of those to a higher level of activity if need be. D.4 It will have to sign a Peace Treaty to cease the war (a Separate Peace or the common Peace Treaty). IV.3.3.6 Vassalisation A The position on the vassalisation (VA) box gives a bonus of +3 during any ulterior diplomatic phase for the player controlling the minor country. B Income Vassal income from provinces, colonies, Trading Posts, exotic resources and commercial fleets is included in the controlling player's income, both during war or peacetime. B.1 Their income is added to blocked foreign trade for Foreign trade income, and count for domestic income. C The territory of a VA country is always open to its controlling power. The allies of this powers and its enemies can pass through the VA if (and only if) the Patron has been in it before during the current turn. C.1 Movements, supply passing through, staying in and battles are permitted to those countries. The territory is friendly to the controlling power and its allies, and enemies to others. C.2 No siege or pillage are possible. The cities are supply sources only to the Vassal minor country. C.3 Fortresses may be maintained by the Patron. D Alliance. A VA is tightly associated to its Patron. D.1 The controlling power may decide to fully use its VA in war, or to declare only a limited intervention, or do nothing (except that the territory of the VA is accessible as said above). All those declarations can be made as reactions at any turn of the war. Once a VA is fully involved in a war, it stays so until a Peace is signed. D.2 The enemies of the Patron can declare during the diplomatic phase that they fully include any VA in an existing war: the VA is now in full war. Also, a declaration of war against a VA is actually a joint declaration of war against the Patron. D.3 A VA can only be involved in war (full or limited way) if the VA is at the distance of 12 MP or 4 sea zones from one enemy province of a Power fully involved in the war. E Limited intervention in wars. The VA can be involved in a limited way in the wars of their patron. The conditions are the same as in MA, except that the MIN in VA gain no free reinforcement each turn, including its own basic reinforcements. E.1 Instead, the Patron may pay for reinforcements, on his own treasury, to raise troops up to the basic forces of the country. The maximal reinforcements so raised are the basic reinforcements indicated in the Annexes, plus 2 detachments (LD or ND). E.2 All the basic forces of the MIN can be used. F Full involvement in wars. Some events or declaration of wars may involve fully the minor country in a war. Additionally, its Patron or the enemies of this power may declare at any Diplomatic Phase that the VA is now fully involved in the war. F.1 The conditions are the same as in EW. F.2 Vassals and Separate Peace A vassal ally never accept to sign a separate peace unless its capital is under enemy control (and unbesieged by friendly forces), or it is forced to accept an unconditional peace (when totally conquered), or its monarch is captured and ransomed for the right to attempt a separate peace.	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]73 IV.3.3.7 Annexation A The position on the Annexation (AN) box gives a bonus of +3 during any ulterior diplomatic phase for the player controlling the minor country. When the minor country marker is in the AN box of a player, that country is considered as annexed by the player. B Units and Income of Annexed Minors All force of an annexed minor are removed, and provinces of that minor are annexed, although they cannot be considered as national provinces of the annexing player. B.1 The player receives all income from annexed provinces as if they were his own, including for Manufacture percentage income. B.2 He may build units there as in other non-national provinces. B.3 For military operations, the annexed country is part of the controlling power. C Condition of Annexation To be annexed diplomatically, a minor country has to be adjacent to a province already controlled by the annexing player, otherwise the diplomatic counter of this minor cannot be move up to the Annexation box. D Dis-annexion An diplomatically annexed minor can be dis-annexed if another player succeeds in moving the diplomatic marker of the MIN on the diplomatic track, away from the AN box. D.1 A minor can also be dis-annexed by a Diplomatic Agitation during the event phase, by a change that could make the marker's present position be moved one or more boxes. D.2 Destroyed minor countries (possible by some events, or by rules on Turkish, Russian or Polish Annexions) are not annexed for this rule: their diplomatic marker is not put in Annexion and the Diplomatic Agitations do not affect them. IV.4 Diplomacy with non-European countries IV.4.1 Diplomacy status in ROTW A The following minor countries are on ROTW map. INCA, AZTECA, GUZARATE, BISINAGAR, MOGOLIS IMP., CHINA, IAPONIA, SIBERIA, AYMAN, ADEN, SUDANIA, MYSURIA, HYDERABADA, IROQUOIS, DURRANIS IMP., ORMUS (a special part of PERSIA). The relations between European Major Powers and those countries are governed by different diplomatic rules. B Generalities A Major Power has a specific status regarding each one of those countries: NR No relation. FR Formal relation. AT Alliance Treaty. B.1 NR is not recorded; B.2 FR and AT are recorded by placing a ROTW diplomatic counter of the Major Power in the diplomatic status box of the relevant minor country, that is found on the ROTW map, on the side showing FR or AT as needed. B.3 Note that the number of ROTW Diplomatic counters provided to each MAJ is limited by design. A Major Power may always decide to lose a relation in order to free a needed counter. Each counter allow for one FR (front) or one AT (back). C Diplomatic status is achieved by doing diplomatic actions, as described in the section IV.3.2 (Diplomatic actions). A diplomatic action on a country in the ROTW counts as one of the allowed actions, but it is resolved differently. IV.4.2 Diplomatic actions in the ROTW A Conditions to attempt actions. In order to attempt a diplomatic action on a ROTW minor country, a Major Power needs to have discovered at least one province of the minor country, and needs to
[R]74 Diplomacy with non-European countries A.1 either have a TP/COL in an area owned by, or adjacent to the country, or adjacent to the same seazone, A.2 or have a Commercial fleet in a seazone bordering that country, A.3 or have an emissary in the minor country at the diplomatic phase, A.4 or be TUR attempting action on AYMAN, ADEN or SUDANIA, A.5 or be VEN after subevent I-13.a (War in Indian Sea), attempting action on ADEN, AYMAN and GUZARATE A.6 No diplomatic action is allowed if the power is fully at war against the minor country of the ROTW. B Emissaries An emissary is a Conquistador (or an Explorator used as a C, with values divided by 2), a Governor, a Missionary, or a Mission. To be helpful, an emissary has to be in the target minor country, or in an adjacent region, or in a province bordering the same (discovered) sea as the minor country. C Resolution of diplomatic actions in ROTW The result of the action is always given by the difference between 1d10 rolled by the MAJ (plus bonuses below) and the resistance given by the sum of 2d10. C.1 as for actions on European minors, the actions (and final bonus) has to be written on the monarch sheet and the cost is recorded on line A5 of ERS. D Modifiers to the diplomacy die-roll +0/+2/+5 Investment (20 Ⓓ, 50 Ⓓ, 100 Ⓓ) +FTI (the one applicable in the ROTW) +? Manoeuvre of one emissary (3 for Mission; Bonus+Manoeuvre for Missionary) +2 if same religion (TUR with AYMAN, ADEN, GUZARATE, and SUDANIA) -2 for Christian on Muslims (until the end of Religious Enmities) +2 in defence if the MAJ has already in AT E Results (modified roll minus the resistance) <0 Failed, missionary killed ≥2 one level gained ≥5 goes to AT E.1 An adjusted roll strictly higher than the resistance (2d10) plus one raises the diplomatic status of one level (from NR to FR, or from FR to AT), or of two if the difference is 5 or higher (all the way to AT). E.2 Going to a higher level of relations is always voluntary and can be declined. E.3 More than one power can make a diplomatic action on a country in the ROTW at the same time. The attempts are not in opposition. Several major countries may have FR or AT with the same minor at the same time. E.4 An adjusted roll less or equal to the resistance causes nothing, except that a Missionary that served as an Emissary is killed (and may come back afterwards). F Reaction Any MAJ sharing an AT with the MIN has the opportunity to react. It uses the same condition and modifiers as diplomatic action in ROTW. As a reaction, the MAJ pays the action (according to the investment), this is recorded in line A6 of ERS, but the action is not counted as one of its own at this turn. If the roll of the reacting player is higher than the resistance (sum of 2d10), the result of the action is given by the comparison with his roll. G Opposing to other countries' relations. A Diplomatic action may be aimed at diminishing the diplomatic relations of some or all Major Powers with the minor. This counts as one diplomatic attempt and is allowed provided the power satisfies the conditions to make diplomacy on this minor country. The opposed MAJ (s) is/are announced before the action and they defend their status as usual, by paying the cost of a Diplomatic action (that is not counted as one of their permitted actions for the turn), if they have no action planned. G.1 Both opposing MAJ make a roll of 1d10, modified as above. If the acting MAJ obtains a higher roll than an other MAJ opposing the action, the result is that this MAJ lowers its diplomatic status of one level (from AT to FR, from FR to NR).	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]75 Example: Diplomatic action.— During turn 2, Da Gama lands in India and stays inside the territory of BISINAGAR at the end of turn. Thus, he may act as an emissary during the diplomatic phase of turn 3. The special FTI for ROTW of POR is 5 and the player chooses to make a small investment only. Thus, the final bonus is +11 (+6 for the Manoeuvre and +5 for the FTI) which is already rather good. . . POR rolls 6, for a total of 17 while the minor rolls 4 and 8 for a total of 12. The difference between the two is 5 which is enough to go directly to AT. POR now has to pay 2d10 Ⓓ as presents to the local Rajahs (see below). Example: Diplomatic reaction.— At turn 8, TUR manages to get an AT with ADEN, allowing it to get part of the spice trade. Since subevent I-13.a (War in Indian Sea) occurred earlier, VEN, always eager to get more hold on the spice trade, attempts some diplomacy on ADEN and TUR decides to react. None of them has emissary in the country. The FTI are 4 for VEN and 3 for TUR. VEN chooses to make a medium investment for a final bonus of +4 (FTI, +2 for the investment but –2 for the religious difference) while TUR only reacts with a small investment for a final bonus of +5 (FTI, +2 for being both Muslims). VEN rolls 8, for a total of 12. ADEN rolls 3 and 2 for a total on 5. If the action was not opposed, this would be enough to get an AT! However, TUR rolls 5, for a total of 10. Thus, the Turkish roll is taken into account rather than the minor one and VEN only gets a difference of 2. Still enough to go to FR. Example: Hampering another status.— It is turn 53 (1750). Both FRA and ANG have an AT with MYSURIA. Sensing that colonial tensions may arise in a state of war sooner or later, the East Indian Company decides to play on the intra-indian struggles and sends Clive in an attempt to convince MYSURIA to break its alliance with FRA. The Compagnie des Indes Orientales learns about it and quickly sends Dupleix to try and counter the English deeds. ANG makes an action on MYSURIA, specifically to lower the relation with FRA, with a FTI of 5, a manoeuvre of 4 for Clive and a medium investment, thus getting a final modifier of +11. FRA also has a FTI of 5 and a manoeuvre of 4 for Dupleix but only reacts with a small investment (after all, India can't be more important than the sugar Islands of the Caribbean, says the King) for a final modifier of +11 (+2 for defending its AT). ANG rolls 8, for a final result of 19 while FRA rolls 7, for a final result of 18. Since the English result is higher, the diplomatic status of FRA is lowered by one level and goes to FR. IV.4.3 Consequences of "Formal Relations" A In the provinces of the minor country, neither Native Activation (during each round), nor reaction of the MIN due to the presence of military forces, will be made if only stacks of one LD would be responsible of the test. A.1 The presence of more than one LD in any one province, or of an A may still cause such activation. B Any war (normal or overseas) between the powers and the minor country will break the status to NR. Native reaction in a province of the minor country is not a war and changes nothing. IV.4.4 Consequences of an "Alliance Treaty" IV.4.4.1 Generalities A For INCA, AZTECA, GUZARATE, MOGOLIS IMP., CHINA, IAPONIA and DURRANIS IMP., the MAJ has to pay 1d100 Ⓓ immediately, or the status remains FR only. B For BISINAGAR, SIBERIA, AYMAN, ADEN, SUDANIA, MYSURIA, HYDERABADA, IROQUOIS, and ORMUS, the MAJ has to pay 2d10 Ⓓ immediately, or the status remains FR only. C The effect of FR on lone LD is still applied. D Supplementary effects vary according to each MIN. E Having an AT is analogue to a VA status for Victory Conditions. IV.4.4.2 IAPONIA and CHINA A The MAJ can have a TP in each area of the minor country that will not cause a test of reaction of the Native country at the beginning of the turn.

[R]76 Diplomacy with non-European countries B Closure of China or Japon. Events subevent III-22 (1).α (Closure of China) and subevent IV-22.α (Tokugawa's Commercial Restrictions) close respectively CHINA and IAPONIA for the following effects: B.1 The reaction level of the country is raised to 11 (so a reaction is automatic if the conditions are met); the fidelity is raised to 16. B.2 The country refuses any diplomacy, except as detailed afterwards; existing diplomatic status remain so (and other powers are forbidden to try opposing existing relations); B.3 AT allow each country to keep only one TP in CHINA or IAPONIA, and not one per area (that TP causes no reaction of the minor country); B.4 No new TP counter can be placed in any area belonging to the country, by means of administrative actions, except in FORMOSE or CHOSŌN; B.5 The only way to have a new TP is to take control of the TP of another country (by military means, and a peace, or by placing a new TP in the same province and using automatic concurrence to try to replace the existing TP) in which case the Treaty status is given to the new controller of the TP and lost by the previous one. B.6 New areas that would be conquered later by CHINA or IAPONIA would suffer from the same restrictions, but existing TP or COL are not destroyed immediately (unless the event says so). Moreover, for the new areas controlled, the Activation level is 6 only (and not automatic). In these area, it is possible to create new TP by administrative action, but the rest of the restrictions apply. C Treaty of Nerchinsk. Event event V-19 (The Treaty of Nerchinsk) results in the annexion by CHINA of area AMOUR, and some provinces in BAIKAL. C.1 The Activation level of CHINA is 6 herein. C.2 Powers having a COL/TP in this area are allowed to attempt diplomatic actions on CHINA. If they manage an AT status, they can have and keep up to 2 COL/TP in AMOUR, or (exclusive) keep one existing in the rest of CHINA (as per the previous rule ; note that such a TP can not be created) that will not cause reaction of the minor. IV.4.4.3 BISINAGAR A BISINAGAR will not react to the presence of TP in its provinces. It will react to the presence of COL. A.1 Exception: with an AT of POR, BISINAGAR will never to the presence of a Portuguese COL in its territory. B Neither BISINAGAR nor natives in its territory will react to the presence (movements or remaining) of stacks of at most one Ⓐ⊕ in its territories. IV.4.4.4 MOGOLIS IMP., SIBERIA, SUDANIA, DURRANIS IMP. A The concerned minor country will not react to the presence of TP⊖ in its provinces. It will react to the presence of COL or of TP⊕. A.1 Exception 1: with a Treaty, DURRANIS IMP. will not react to the presence of a COL in Herât. A.2 Exception 2: with a Treaty, SUDANIA will not react to the presence of COL of TUR. A.3 Exception 3: with a Treaty, MOGOLIS IMP. will never react to the presence of a Portuguese COL in its territory. B Neither the minor country nor natives in its territory will react to the presence (movements or staying there) of stacks of at most one Ⓐ⊕ in its territories. IV.4.4.5 GUZARATE, AYMAN, ADEN, ACEH A Neither the minor country nor natives in its territory will react to the presence (movements or staying there) of stacks of at most one Ⓐ⊕ in its territories. B If there is only one power having AT with the country, the resources produced by the TP/COL of the minor country are given to this power (it gains the income and count those resources as its own to obtain a monopoly). C The minor country can be used as an ally in wars. D They do not react to COL of TUR, except ACEH. E AYMAN controls Sogotra if no power has an establishment (fort, TP or COL) in the province.	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]77 IV.4.4.6 MYSURIA, HYDERABADA A The minor country will not react to the presence of TP in its provinces. It will react to the presence of COL. B Neither the minor country nor natives in its territory will react to the presence (movements or staying there) of stacks of at most one Ⓐ⊕ in its territories. C The minor country can be used as an ally in wars. IV.4.4.7 IROQUOIS A IROQUOIS will not react to the presence of TP⊖ in its provinces. It will react to the presence of COL or of TP⊕. B Neither IROQUOIS nor natives in its territory will react to the presence (movements or staying there) of stacks of at most one Ⓐ⊕ in its territories. C The minor country can be used as an ally in wars. IV.4.4.8 ORMUS, part of PERSIA A Specifics of Ormus. Ormus is a ROTW province in Golfe Persique belonging to PERSIA. In general, Ormus is dealt with as a normal ROTW province (allowing forces to enter in it without war declaration, placement of TP, etc.), with usual Native reaction, or country ORMUS reaction. A.1 No COL can ever be placed in the province (but a TP may be). A.2 A reaction of the minor ORMUS is actually a declaration of Overseas war by PERSIA, as is a war declaration against ORMUS. A.3 A country at war against PERSIA and the owner of forces or TP in Ormus is allowed to attack it from the European map also. A.4 The fortress in Ormus acts as a Præsidio against Bam. A.5 See also §I.3 of section I.1.2 (Provinces and Sea Zones). B Effects of a Treaty. AT with ORMUS allows a player to have a TP in Ormus that attracts no reaction from ORMUS, as long as the AT holds. B.1 The power can also enter this province with military forces, or fortify the TP. This draw no reaction from ORMUS. C Afghanistan. PERSIA may also own AFGHANISTAN because of some event. It will not react to the presence in this area of TP⊕ of a power having a AT with ORMUS. It will react to the presence of COL or of TP⊕. C.1 PERSIA will also not react to the presence (movements or staying there) of stacks of at most one Ⓐ⊕ in AFGHANISTAN, if those are owned by a power having a AT with ORMUS. Neither would natives react under this condition. IV.4.4.9 INCA and AZTECA A Permanent AT of Incas and Aztecs. In 1492, INCA and AZTECA are always in AT with every power. This can change because of event event II-19 (Resistance of the American Empires), or when a power besieges their capital. B Effect of AT. B.1 The concerned minor country will never react, neither to military forces, nor presence of TP/COL. B.2 Natives in the area of the country can be attacked with no declaration of war. The capitals of the empires can also be attacked without war against the country (but Natives has to be attacked first for assault or siege). C Fall of the American empires. C.1 If its capital is controlled by a power at the end of a turn, an American empire is destroyed. The number of Natives in each province is now 2 LD (instead of 20 LD). C.2 Place immediately a COL of level 3 on the city, owned by the power controlling the city. If this power is HIS, it must immediately place a mission there, either by drawing an available mission in the pool, or by moving a deployed mission that is in the same area; then the highest rank Conquistador present in the region is nominated as Vice-Roy of the area.
[R]78 Diplomacy with non-European countries D Attack on capital Whenever the capital of INCA and AZTECA is attacked, a test of reaction is made at the end of the round (after the result of siege or assault). If there is a reaction, the concerned minor country declares an immediate Overseas war against the aggressor. D.1 Its troops are deployed (even in occupied provinces) and Natives in all its provinces are activated for the war. D.2 If this is the last round of the turn, the Fall of the Empire is suspended for this turn (but may happen on the future turn). IV.4.5 Countries from the ROTW as ally A Some countries from the ROTW in AT can be used as ally in wars: ADEN, AYMAN, GUZARATE, MYSURIA, HYDERABADA and IROQUOIS. The power having the AT can ask for a limited intervention. This is a declaration in reaction, and is shown by placing the forces of the MIN on the map. A.1 If more than one power have AT, all that want can ask for limited intervention. Then they all roll 1d10, modified by the modifiers for diplomatic actions in the ROTW. The power that rolls highest gains the intervention for this turn (in case of ties, no intervention). This test should be renewed at each turn, and the side of intervention thus may change. A.2 Reciprocal alliance. As it is an alliance, if the MIN is declared war upon or if it declares war, it will call for its patron, that is also an ally. If the power does not respond the alliance (at the least a limited intervention), the status is broken to FR. B Conditions of the Limited intervention in ROTW. B.1 A limited intervention of a minor country is made only with its basic forces. It draws supply only from its own provinces (and so can not go further than 12 MP from its country). Its units can not go on the European map. B.2 The intervention is at most of one land stack and one naval stack outside the provinces of the minor country. B.3 The MIN receive reinforcements each turn in the administrative phase. The base reinforcement is given in the annexes. These reinforcements are only used to recreate de basic force of the MIN, should they be diminished. B.4 All campaign costs for the MIN are paid by its ally. B.5 In the provinces that it controls, the MIN is allowed to attack forces of enemies, but the Natives are not activated (only the basic forces may attack). During the end of turn, the forces can do "Native attack" on TP/COL of an enemy power that is in an area the MIN controls, but this does not use also the Natives (unless specified in the description of the country). B.6 The MIN is in fact out of the war. The MIN is not part of Peace Treaty. But its territories could be crossed as it is usually permitted. IV.4.6 Military Diplomacy and Treaty A A power at war (normal or overseas) against a country in the ROTW signing a victorious peace treaty of level 2 or higher, and forfeiting all other conditions of peace, may do the following: A.1 reducing any or all AT and FR of other powers, to respectively FR and NR. A power that has its diplomatic status broken this way gains a temporary free Overseas CB against the responsible power; A.2 and, sign a FR with the ROTW country, or upgrade a FR in AT. B A power at war (normal or overseas) against a country in the ROTW achieving a peace of level 4 or higher, and forfeiting all other conditions of peace, may do the following: B.1 break any or all AT and FR of other powers to NR. A power that has its diplomatic status broken this way gains a temporary free Overseas CB against the responsible power; B.2 and upgrade its position by imposing a AT to the ROTW country. C Note that Allies in this victorious war can each apply the previous effects (excepted to break or reduce FR or AT of Allies in the same war).	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]79 IV.4.7 Activation of ROTW minors A At the end of the diplomatic phase, a test is made for each ROTW minor to see whether it declares war against countries inside its territory. A.1 A ROTW minor may react against any or all countries having either troops (including LID'E, forts of fortresses) or colonial establishment (COL or TP) inside its territory (the areas it owns and the provinces with its own colonial establishments). A.2 FR and AT may allow some troops and/or establishment inside the territory of a minor without triggering activation, as explained above. A.3 Leaders alone (with no troops) never cause minor activation. B For each minor and each country that can cause activation of the minor, roll one die. B.1 If the roll is strictly smaller than the Activation level of the minor, it declares an oversea war against the offending country (and breaks an eventual AT or FR to NR). B.2 Otherwise, nothing happens. B.3 Activation levels are given in the Appendix (in the description of the minor) and recalled on the ROTW diplomatic track (on the ROTW map). B.4 Remember that for some countries (eg CHINA), the activation level may depend on the province where the troops or establishment are located. B.5 It is completely possible for a minor country to declare war this way against one offending country but nor against another, even in the same turn. The test is made for each offending country separately (in decreasing order of initiative in case the order is relevant). C Reactions after these declarations of war happen as usual. D Activation of ROTW minor should not be confounded with activation of the natives. D.1 The former is the whole country declaring war, it is done in the diplomatic phase and result in diplomatic announcements. D.2 The later is local population reacting, it is done during each military round and does not causes a new war or change the diplomatic status. Moreover only one province is concerned each time. D.3 Colonial establishments usually to not cause native activation (the local population is rather happy to trade) while it may cause minor activation (the government is not happy to see its trade regulation broken by European). D.4 The same troop, however may both cause minor activation and native activation (and thus must roll both in the diplomatic phase and each military round as long as the condition for activation exists). Design note: Since the activation happens at the end of the diplomatic phase, you have one attempt to get a good diplomatic status after landing troops. This typically occurs in two cases: • At the end of a military phase, an emissary lands in a country. During the upcoming diplomacy phase, the emissary has one attempt to establish diplomatic status with the country before the troops he might have with him cause minor activation. • During the event phase, a R/D causes the diplomatic status of a ROTW minor to decrease. You have one attempt to re-establish it before seeing your trade burnt to the ground (or more if by chance the minor is not activated this turn. ...) IV.5 On wars IV.5.1 How Wars Begin Wars take place due to independent decisions of any player or players (announced during the Diplomatic phase) or may be started by events.

[R]80 On wars IV.5.1.1 Wars caused by events A Some wars may be caused by events, offering a CB to some MAJ, or telling that some MIN declares a war. A.1 The description of political events may offer a CB to some countries. The CB that are described under the "Event Phase" part are used during the first step of the Diplomacy Phase, before formal Agreements are made and before private discussions are allowed. By order of Initiative, all players announce which declaration(s) of war allowed by events they use, or not. A.2 The reaction on wars breaking down this way are resolved at that time. Note that no new Formal Agreement could have been signed at this turn, but Alliances of a past turn are usable (they finish in the next segment only). A.3 If an event gives a CB under the "Diplomacy phase" part of the description, then the CB is used normally after discussion and other agreement, including new alliances. A.4 If an event gives several CB, all countries using these CB against common enemies are automatically allied for this war (only), unless the event specifically speaks of distinct wars being possible. B Wars continuing other wars If a war should begin between two countries already at war against each other, the exact meaning of this depends on the nature of the war about to begin for the country declaring the war: mandatory, incompatible with other wars, or provoked by the country. Most events are mandatory; the other ones are explicitly mentioned in the event. B.1 Mandatory war The new conditions of war described in the event are added to already existing conditions. A MAJ can announce at the diplomatic phase that an already running conflict becomes the new war. Calls for allies are made at this point (according to the conditions of the new war) because the war's motives change. The only thing that should be ignored is the initial declaration of war, since the country is already at war (a CB for this turn is deemed to have been used). B.2 Incompatibility The new war can be made incompatible with wars between the two countries about to begin the new one. Usually, the event calls for a replacement event (the event did not happen at all, and another one is rolled for instead). However, a war with incompatibilities can be followed by a mandatory war. B.3 Controlled war The new war is indicated as being controlled by a country. It may delay the event (which, as above, did not happen at all and is replaced by another one), or accept the event and apply it as if it were mandatory. B.4 Armistices An Armistice may not be signed for an ongoing war that is transformed by either a controlled or a mandatory war. IV.5.1.2 Wars by voluntary declarations A Wars are also declared during the Diplomatic phase by the attacking player, in the fourth segment of the phase, after the segment of Announcements of Formal Agreements. No private negotiation is permitted between the Announcements and the Declarations of Wars. B War using CB described under the section "Diplomacy Phase" of an event, has to be declared at that time. C A whole segment of reactions following these declarations of wars is then made. D Restriction on Wars A War is usually declared against an Alliance that is either a power currently at peace, or an Alliance already formed in an ongoing war. D.1 The only way to declare against only one power of a warring Alliance (instead of the whole Alliance) is if the attacker has a CB (either permanent or given by event, temporary CB are not enough) and uses it against this power. IV.5.2 Casus Belli A A Casus Belli (CB) allows declaring war by losing only 1 Stability level, without any loss of victory points (VP). CB are of two different types, permanent or temporary, and may be usual or free. Free CB allows declaring of wars without loss of Stability.	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]81 B Temporary Casus Belli The temporary CB is provided by events, or by the rules. Usually it may be used only once and is then cancelled; a temporary CB is valid for 6 turns, excepted if specified differently in the description of the CB. Some temporary CB are linked to the existence of a condition: the CB is valid as long as the condition is met; if the CB is used and the war terminates, the CB could still be valid if the condition is satisfied. C Permanent Casus Belli Here are the permanent CB: C.1 Following the event event I-8 (1) (Reformation), all Catholic countries have a permanent CB against all Protestant countries (and vice versa). This is no longer valid after the end of Religious Enmities. C.2 HIS has a permanent CB against all Pagan or Muslim countries. This is no longer valid after 1700, included. C.3 TUR has a permanent CB against all Christian countries, against PERSIA, against ÆGYPTUS and against SYRIA. This is no longer valid after 1700, included. C.4 A player has a permanent CB against any country (player or minor) that has has annexed a national province of the player. IV.5.3 Cost of a War Declaration A A declaration of war costs VP, as well as a loss of Stability, according to whether the player has a CB or not. B Cost in Victory Points B.1 No VP: with CB B.2 -10 VP: without CB, against a player or a minor country vassal of a player. B.3 -5 VP: without CB, against a minor (except vassal minor country - see above). C Cost in Stability C.1 none: with a Free CB. C.2 -1 level: with CB. C.3 -2 levels: without CB. C.4 Note Cost in lost Stability may be altered by existing treaties and alliances between players, or also by event description. Especially, breaking and alliance (either defensive or offensive) costs 2 extra levels of Stability. D Wars and reduction of Trade The war forces all belligerent players to refuse mutually the trade access to their market. This influences the calculation of their foreign trade income as follows: D.1 The European market value of each power is decreased by the amount of Income of the enemy player's provinces (including vassals). D.2 Other commercial income sources (commercial fleets, exotic resources, etc...) are not affected directly by the state of war. D.3 Note that this reduction of Trade does not affect the commercial fleet, as would do a Trade Refusal declaration (but a declaration for this effect can be added to the war). IV.5.4 Overseas Wars IV.5.4.1 Commercial and Overseas CB A Some CB are obtained to wage a restricted kind of war that is called an Overseas War. They are called Commercial CB or Overseas CB and may be free, permanent or temporary as usual. Some events, or conditions in the rules, give other Commercial or Overseas CB, as indicated in their description. B Overseas CB not coming from events B.1 TUR vs. all Christian countries in periods II and III; B.2 Permanent CB against any country that has the monopoly of the player's CTZ (be it a MAJ or a MIN); B.3 Permanent CB against any country that is in Trade Refusal against him; B.4 VEN vs. TUR (both ways) as long as the BALKANS are troubled;
[R]82 On wars B.5 HIS (before III-1 (1)), HOL, FRA, ANG have a permanent CB against owner of CC Atlantic; B.6 HIS against powers having TP or COL in SPANISH WORLD (free) or in CARIBBEAN; (recall that SPANISH WORLD does not include BRAZIL and the islands) B.7 Any Protestant country against HIS and POR (or PORTUGALLIA) during periods I to IV; B.8 HOL against catholics having COL/TP in Asia in period III and IV after creation of the VOC; B.9 All Christian countries have a permanent CB against the Barbaresques countries; B.10 All MAJ have a permanent CB against minor countries from the ROTW (excepted ORMUS); B.11 POR with a Vice-Roy, against ROTW minor countries (except ORMUS) (free CB). C A Commercial/Overseas CB may be used to initiate an Overseas War. Declaring an Overseas War without a Commercial/Overseas CB is not allowed. D When an Overseas War is declared, reactions caused by the war may be made as usual. IV.5.4.2 Permanent State of Overseas War A Barbaresque countries. Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3) (countries of the Barbary coast) are CYRENAICA, TRIPOLIS, TUNESIA, ALGERIA and MAURETANIA. They are always in a state of restricted Overseas War against every Christian countries. A.1 It allow them to use Privateers and naval forces (no land forces) to attack Christian countries. Christian countries can use their own naval forces or Presidios to fight against the Barbaresques. A.2 As an exception, Privateers of the Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3) may loot European provinces adjacent to the STZ they attack, even if they are European provinces usually outside the scope of Overseas Wars. A.3 TUR plays the Barbaresques that are neutral, and the diplomatic patrons play those that are not. The specific rules tell the STZ that are attacked by the Privateer. A.4 This state of war causes no loss of Stability. A.5 Reinforcements They receive some reinforcements each turn: ALGERIA gains a $\text{P} \ominus$ each turn; in periods I to III it receives also a $\text{N} \text{D}$ or 2 $\text{NG} \text{D}$ (player's choice) and in periods IV and after, only one $\text{NG} \text{D}$ or a $\text{N} \text{D} \text{E}$. Other countries gain only a $\text{P} \ominus$ 2 turns after their Privateer has been destroyed. A.6 Exception. Whenever Dragut is in play and if it used in its Privateer leader role, a $\text{P} \ominus$ of TUNESIA is raised (even if eliminated at previous turn). A.7 Mandatory Sea Sortie The Privateers usually have to go out at sea each turn, except if their Patron decides against it: a test is made at the beginning of the 2nd round if the Privateer is not at sea, by rolling 1d10 for each country the Patron wants to keep the Privateer at port. This is permitted if the result is lower or equal to the number of the current period plus the Diplomatic status bonus and the geopolitical bonus. B The Knights. The ORDO HOSPITALIS is always in a state of restricted Overseas War against TUR. B.1 It allow them to use Privateer and naval forces (no land forces) to attack TUR. TUR can use their own naval forces to fight against them. B.2 The diplomatic patron of the ORDO HOSPITALIS play this forces, or HIS if it is neutral. B.3 The annexes specify the reinforcements gained by the ORDO HOSPITALIS each turn: a $\text{P} \ominus$ (or \oplus if in Rhodos), and a $\text{NG} \text{D}$ or a $\text{N} \text{D} \text{E}$. B.4 This state of war does not cause automatic Stability loss at the end of turn. But, at each turn that the pirate of The Knights inflicts losses on Turkish commercial fleets, TUR loses at least 1 Stability level (that is, the Knights' privateer causes a loss of Stability if and only if TUR does not already loose Stability for another reason at the end of turn (war, revolts, ...)) IV.5.4.3 Restriction in Overseas Wars A Reaction of the victim. A country that has an Overseas war declared upon gains a temporary CB against the attacker to declare a regular war.	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]83 A.1 If/When this CB is used, the war changes and causes a whole new set of reactions allowed by this new full-blown war. The state of Overseas war is no more. A.2 This CB can be used in reaction as a free CB on the first turn of the war, or as a normal CB to declare a full war on following turns (as long as the Overseas war continues). B Reactions other than this case are restricted: B.1 Calls of allies (Formal Alliance or Limited Alliance) are made as usual excepted that they give only Overseas CB; B.2 No minor country may be involved completely in an Overseas war if it was not the victim of the war, or if it is not a VA of an involved MAJ; C The course of the war. C.1 Overseas wars can cause no military action on the European mainland (that is all land provinces on the European map), except provinces in Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3), ÆGYPTUS and MESOPOTAMIA. C.2 No trade refusal or reduction is applied (except if an added declaration of Trade Refusal is made by one country). C.3 An Overseas War is not exactly a state of War for the power. If it is its only war, a MAJ would have to use the costs of Maintenance as if at peace. C.4 Minor countries in EW cannot be called for a full intervention in the war. C.5 In any other aspect, except when specified, an Overseas War is conducted as a regular war. For instance, any naval operation, attacks by Privateers, fights in the ROTW (COL, TP, in any provinces on the ROTW map) are allowed, as well as limited intervention of MIN. D Peace and Overseas wars. D.1 A minor country always accepts a proposed white peace to end an Overseas War at the end of a turn. D.2 A peace treaty ending an Overseas War may not involved change of ownership of any province on the European map. D.3 Transfer of TP (even \ominus) counts as a full province. D.4 If an Overseas War is not finished at the end of a turn, the loss of Stability (due to this war) by involved countries is limited to 2 levels per turn (instead of 4). IV.5.5 Reactions to a Declaration of War IV.5.5.1 Generalities about Reactions A On both segments allowing Declarations of wars, Reactions can be made by any power, after all initial Declarations of War. Going through in the order of initiative, and then circling again until no-one has anything left to declare, each power can make none, one, or several declarations in reaction. A.1 Note that some reactions can only be made just following some initial declaration (usually a new war, or mere new conditions due to events) – at the same turn and segment; whereas others can be made spontaneously at any turn. B Reactions immediately after a declaration of war B.1 Call for help by a MIN at war of its Patron (this is done before other reactions of Major powers, see afterwards) B.2 Call for a MAJ Ally (offensive if aggressor; defensive or offensive if attacked) B.3 Use of an offensive or defensive alliance (even if not explicitly called by the ally – it cannot forbid it) B.4 Signing an Alliance for Intervention (and thus declaration of limited intervention by a MAJ) B.5 CB to transform an Overseas War into a full-blown war (free CB) C Reactions at any turn C.1 Begin/End a limited intervention of a MIN in MA, EC, EW or VA C.2 Begin/End a limited intervention of a country from the ROTW with which one has AT C.3 Call for full intervention of one of its own minor in EW; requires a test, not permitted in Overseas Wars (no further than 12 MP from the nearest enemy) C.4 Full implication of one of its VA, no further than 12 MP or 4 sea zones from the nearest enemy fully involved

[R]84 On wars C.5 Full implication of one of the VA of the enemy, no further than 12 MP or 4 sea zones from the nearest ally fully involved C.6 Association of two alliances at war against the same third alliance; not on the first turn of war of any of the alliances C.7 Declaration of War against an alliance that is at war against the same third alliance as the declaring country (this is done with a CB and is not allowed in Overseas Wars) C.8 Armistice in a war continuing from a previous turn C.9 CB to transform a continuing Overseas War into a full-blown war (normal CB) C.10 Foreign Intervention in a Religious War, or a Civil War C.11 Declaration of complete Trade Refusal against powers that are at war with the reacting power IV.5.5.2 Guidelines about successive declarations of wars. A No new war can begin by reactions (excepted by reacting to a Trade Refusal). Reactions are mere extensions of an existing war. One can react after a reaction, broadening further the scope of the war. B When a reaction puts a country in a war, this country has to join a whole alliance and its thus at war against every enemies of this alliance. If it is allied to countries in both sides of the war, it has to break one of the alliances. C The sole possibilities to have multi-sided wars is then to have different wars involving the same country(ies). All country that join the alliance at war against several alliances at the same time will have to declare war against all those alliances. C.1 Conversely, entering the war at the side of an alliance B, when alliance A is at war against B and C, is a war only against A and the Neutrality is conserved regarding C, i.e. no co-operation, no supply, no passing through provinces controlled or occupied by the other alliance. Note that this situation gives a CB to alliances B and C against the other one, or on the contrary, they could declare that they ally together in this war. C.2 Three-sided wars (or more) where more than two alliances are at war against each other are allowed. IV.5.5.3 Signing an Alliance for Intervention A Alliances for Intervention are signed in reaction to a declaration of war. Such an Alliance involves two Major powers, one at war and another one. The second country enters then the war in a limited intervention at the side of the alliance of the first power. A.1 This is a kind of alliance and the intervening power uses a CB given by the alliance to enter the war in this limited way: it loses 1 Stability. A.2 Usually, only a country that is victim of a declaration of war (even in reaction due to alliance, or by a minor country) can sign an Alliance for Intervention. A.3 Exception: ANG and PRU may always sign Alliances for Intervention with attacking countries. A.4 Signing an Alliance for Intervention is only possible on the first turn of a war (or new developments), except if written otherwise in some events. A.5 Limited intervention is forbidden in Religious or Civil Wars, excepted if the event explicitly says otherwise. B Conditions of a limited intervention of a MAJ. B.1 The power is not at war because of the intervention. It uses the costs of Maintenance at peace (if not involved in another war). B.2 The power can use up to one land stack and one naval stack to do anything as part of the war. Once a land or naval stack has been committed, no other land or naval (respectively) force of the power can be involved in this war. These forces are the only one that can move in provinces at war, attack, besiege, assault, do naval transport of forces at war, make a blocus, fight against Privateers, and so on. . . All conquests (including captured monarchs) are made for the sake of the alliance at war (he chooses one country, a MAJ is possible). All pillages made by his stack go in his TR. B.3 All other forces of the power doing a limited intervention are as if at peace. All provinces of the power are also not part of this war and only its forces can enter them.	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]85 B.4 Minor countries controlled by the power are not part of the intervention (this includes VA). Exception: see §C of section XIV.1.1 (English intervention in wars). B.5 A power can do limited interventions at the same time in more than one war. It cannot intervene on the side of enemy alliances. C Continuation of a limited intervention. C.1 After the Truces, if the war is still going on, any power of the enemy Alliance has first the possibility to declare Full war against the intervening Power, having a CB and paying 1 Stability to do so. C.2 Else, a limited intervention ends at the end of the turn, excepted if the power doing the intervention spends 1 Stability at the end of turn (after Stability improvement action), in addition to any other loss of Stability. C.3 If the intervention ends, the forces are redeployed as when signing a white peace. There is no gain of Stability. C.4 If the intervention continues, the power will be able to send reinforcements as long as those are stacked at the end of the first round with the intervening stacks. C.5 If the intervention continues, the enemy alliance has a free CB at the following Event Phase to declare a full war against the intervening power. Example: Alliance going into flames.— It is turn 10. HIS, VEN and POL are allied in a holy Catholic league (defensive alliance) while TUR and FRA also have a defensive alliance. TUR decides to send the Levant convoy (see §B (Levant Convoy) of section VI.12.2.1 (The convoys)) to FRA, thus providing a commercial CB to VEN (who owns the Mediterranean centre of trade and thus believes he should get the convoy). VEN decides to use this CB (thus losing 1 Stability). TUR reacts by turning the war into a full blown war, hoping to advance in the Balkans (no Stability lost as this is a free CB). Since VEN has now been victim of a declaration of war, the Doge calls his Polish allies (to protect the Balkans) and POL accepts and declares war on TUR (cost 1 Stability for POL). TUR then decides to call its minor VA, CRIMEA, fully into the war to chop on the Polish flank. In the West, HIS was not called into the war, however, Carlos V decides that this is a good opportunity to try and seize Tunis. Thus, HIS uses the CB provided by his alliance and declare war to TUR and then to its VA, TUNESIA (1 Stability lost). François I^{er}, always eager to harm the Hapsburg, then uses its alliance to react to the Spanish aggression by also declaring war. He'd like to declare war only on HIS but cannot as war must be declared against the full alliance, in this case VEN, HIS, POL (and maybe some minors allies). This cost him 1 Stability. HIS would then like to call for a full war his ally, PALATINATUS, in order to open a second front against FRA. However, PALATINATUS is only in EW. Since PALATINATUS is not adjacent to FRA but nonetheless less than 6 MP away, and HIS has no specific bonus on it, he must roll 6 or more on a die to successfully call it. HIS rolls 7 and PALATINATUS declares war on FRA. Back in the East, RUS believe that this could be an opportunity to weakens the Crimean. So, he react to the Turkish attack by signing an alliance for limited intervention with HIS, VEN and POL (cost 1 Stability). After Diplomatic actions on minors are made, both CAZAN and ASTRACAN are on the Turkish diplomatic track, thus TUR decides to call them for limited intervention in this full blown war (to defend CRIMEA). Both CRIMEA and PALATINATUS are fully at war. They will thus receive reinforcements in the upcoming administrative phase. On the other hand, CAZAN and ASTRACAN are only in limited intervention. They will only have their basic forces but are not part of the war (and thus cannot be entered by enemy troops). RUS is also not fully at war. He will use the (more expensive) peace maintenance cost and cannot send more than one stack in the war ; moreover all his conquests will be made for the behalf of another major (for example HIS), and count as his for peace purpose. But no enemy troops can enter Russia and besiege his fortresses. At the end of turn, RUS can choose to stop its intervention. In this case, Russian troops go back in Russia but the fortresses he has conquered are not given back to TUR (they are still controlled by HIS). Alternatively, RUS can choose to stay in intervention (losing 1 Stability). In this case, at turn 11, TUR can choose to generalise the war and fully imply RUS in the war (with no Stability lost, this is a free CB to be used at the same time as CB provided by events). If this is done, this new declaration of war can causes a full new set of reactions. . .
[R]86 On wars Example: Three-sided wars.— In 1700 (turn 42), event VI-1 (The Great Northern War) is rolled. As per event description, it provides both RUS and POL CB against SUE (plus some other conditions). Both RUS and POL separately decide to use them. So, there are two wars going on: RUS (and eventual allies) against SUE and POL (and allies) against SUE. However, Russian may not enter Poland or attack Polish troops and conversely as these countries are not in the same war. Swedish troops (and allies) can go both in Poland and Russia as SUE is at war against both. Note that if a Swedish fortress is besieged and taken by RUS, POL cannot later go and besiege it as this would be an attack against a Russian fortress. . . In turn 43, the war is going on. Since there are two alliances (namely RUS and POL) at war against the same third alliance (SUE), they can do one of the following: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Keep the wars separate and continue as the previous turn. • Decide to join the wars. RUS and POL will then be allied for the duration of the war (only). They can now go in each other territory, stack troops together, . . . but must sign a peace together. • Declare war one to another. The alliance (RUS or POL) declaring the war loses 1 Stability for this (normal CB). Then, there will be a three-sided war between SUE, RUS and POL. Each of them can go in each other territory, or attack each other troops. Polish troops can now besiege a Swedish fortress that was previously taken by RUS and, in case of success, the fortress will be controlled by POL (and count as such for peace). Three different peace will need to be signed as there are 3 wars, each peace using specific differential for its own war. . . IV.5.5.4 Armistice A An armistice can be signed in any war that began in a previous turn (but not if it begins this turn, or has new conditions due to an event or a transformation from Overseas to full war). All powers in both enemy alliances has to agree the Armistice; if not, none is signed. A.1 Usually, no Armistice is allowed in Religious or Civil Wars, excepted if the event says otherwise. A.2 Some events call for mandatory Armistices: no one has to agree. . . B The countries stay at war for the turn but can make no offensive action against the enemy alliance. All besieged provinces at the time of the Armistice has to be freed on the first round. Provinces that are controlled by the enemy stay so. B.1 During the turn, it is forbidden to enter a province, COL or TP of the enemy that was not controlled at the beginning of the turn. Interception, siege, attack by naval units or privateers are also forbidden. B.2 Use of Præsídios or Strait fortifications, however, is still allowed (as when the countries are at peace). C At the end of the turn of the Armistice, if no peace is signed, the enemy alliances lose 1 Stability in addition to normal losses (after Stability improvement action), in replacement of the Stability losses normally caused by this war. Moreover, this turn will not be counted as a turn of war to compute the length of the war (and the Stability loss associated). C.1 The countries are still considered at war for attempts of Stability improvement and maintenance. IV.5.5.5 Religious Wars, Civil Wars A Some wars caused by events are said Religious Wars, or Civil Wars. In a Religious War, any Major Power that shares the religion of one of the two sides may intervene in the war to help the side having the same religion. In a Civil War, any Major Power can intervene for one side or the other. A.1 Those interventions are ruled by the Foreign Intervention (§B of this section) limits. A.2 Several kinds of more important interventions (limited war or full war) may be allowed in the precise description of the event. Except for those allowed, interventions, any other kind of war or attempts to be involved in a Religious or Civil War implies the effects described in "Excessive Foreign Implication". A.3 Exception: during event III-1 (1) (Revolt of the United Provinces), wars against HIS or HOL do not qualify as Excessive Foreign Implication if fought out of Holland and the Spanish Netherlands. A.4 List of Religious Wars. TODD: Double- or triple-check the list of religious and civil wars. . . event II-9 (War of the Schmalkaldic League), event III-D (Religious Wars in France), event III-1 (1) (Revolt of the United	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]87 Provinces), event III-1 (3) (League of Nassau), event IV-A (Thirty Years' War), event III-B (Religious War in Sweden), event III-C (Religious War in Poland), event III-15 (2) (The Time of Troubles in Russia), event IV-1 (1) (Bohemian Revolt), event IV-1 (2) (Revocation of the Truce of Augsburg), event IV-7 (1) (English Civil War), event IV-14 (Revolt of La Rochelle) A.5 List of Civil Wars. event IV-16 (The Fronde), event IV-2 (2) (War for the Unity of the HRE), event IV-13 (2) (Agitation of the Swedish Nobles), event IV-7 (2) (The Parliament and the English Kings), event V-4 (The War of Spanish Succession), event V-3 (The Glorious Revolution in England), event VI-11 (War of Polish Succession), event VI-13 (War of Austrian Succession), event VI-4 (Jacobite Rebellion), event VI-14 (War of Succession in Kurland), event VII-13 (Revolt of Pugachev), event VII-4 (War of Independence in the Colonies), event VII-5 (The French Revolution), event VII-2 (The War of Bavarian Succession). A.6 Added to these lists, any War of Succession following a Dynastic Crisis becomes a Religious Civil War before the end of Religious Enmities, and a Civil War afterwards. B Foreign Intervention Other countries may, without declaring a war on the country suffering the civil war, send units to fight in that country. In Religious Civil Wars, the intervention is necessarily on the side of a faction that shares same religion as that of the intervening player. B.1 This Foreign Intervention is not a war (nor a declaration of war) and costs 1 Stability for each intervention. It is announced as a reaction during the Diplomatic Phase. B.2 This intervention is limited to a maximum of one land stack of at most one , and/or one  counter per allied player. (i.e. per country, not group of countries). These forces are the only one that can move in provinces involved in the Religious/Civil War (including provinces of powers that are fully involved in the war); movements or campaigns in the ROTW is not allowed (excepted if the event says otherwise). All conquests are made for the sake of the side supported in the war. All pillages made by his stack go in his own TR. B.3 Minor countries controlled by the power are not part of the intervention (this includes VA). B.4 A power can do Foreign interventions at the same time in more than one war. It cannot intervene at the same time on the side of enemy alliances. C Continuation of a Foreign Intervention. C.1 A Foreign intervention ends at the end of the turn if no force of the Foreign power stays in a province at war. C.2 If the Foreign Intervention continues, no reinforcement can be send in the war; no Stability is lost by the intervening power. It is possible to end an intervention and resumes it afterwards (see next point) so that new forces are sent. C.3 A Foreign intervention can be resumed at any turn after it has ended but this costs 1 Stability to the Foreign power intervening. In Civil Wars, the Foreign intervention could resume as an ally of the other side. D Excessive Foreign Implication. No player can send more than one  on the side of any one faction in such a war, if a limited or full intervention of his power is not allowed in the event. D.1 If ever a power declares war on the country where the civil war rages, the civil war stops temporarily in a mandatory Armistice. The victim country may use units of both factions in his civil war to fight against the invader(s). In addition: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. Revolts do not incur any Stability loss during excessive foreign interventions. 2. Rebel and loyal units may not collaborate (i.e. transport, stack and/or fight together). 3. If an Excessive Implication occurs, events concerning the same Civil War are still marked off but their application is suspended. On any following turn when the intervention is over, such already marked off events (during the above intervention turns) will occur in addition of regular events on a even roll of 1d10 (no more than 1 per turn). D.2 However, the units of both factions are kept under the control of the victim country until the peace is signed with all foreign invaders. D.3 Once the Excessive Implication is over, the civil war is resumed and the rebels receive reinforcements if they have lost 25% or more of their initial strength (proceed as per first turn of the civil war).

[R]88 On wars  Design note: Excessive foreign intervention is not really meant to happen. If you start to think that it is often a good thing to do to achieve your goals, you're probably abusing some loophole in the rules. Typical games should not see more than one or two excessive foreign intervention (and most of the time, none should occur). Typically, trying to use excessive foreign intervention to artificially lengthen a civil war, lower the Stability or your enemy or destroy loyal troops while keeping rebels alive to give them the edge are abuses. Excessive foreign intervention should only arise when another event is rolled and call for a new war with a country already in civil war. TODD: Add a (high) VP cost for EFi unless using a CB provided by event to dissuade players from abusing it ??? -30VP should be enough to prevent abuses. IV.5.6 Call for ally by Minor countries IV.5.6.1 Generalities A A minor country can be involved in various ways in a war: A.1 Limited intervention, as per the previous rules; this intervention is possible in a war of its Patron if the diplomatic status is MA, EC, EW or VA; A.2 Full intervention if it was declared war upon, or if it declares war. When a European minor country is fully involved in a war, no-one is allowed diplomacy action on it. A.3 In Overseas wars, the intervention are of the same kinds, but constrained by the limits of Overseas wars. B A minor country can declare a war in the following occasions: B.1 Some events (including R/D); B.2 A VA is fully involved by its Patron, as a reaction. The Natives in areas owned by minor countries in the ROTW, and the cities, can not be attacked by a power if it is not at war against the minor country. Exception: a reaction during the turn by Natives may cause battles in such a province without involvement of the minor country; in this case the power can continue to attack the Natives in this province until the end of the turn, but not the cities. B Wars in the ROTW. An overseas war is sufficient to make a war against a country in ROTW, by definition of this kind of war. B.1 Forces of a country in the ROTW may never go on the European map. They are deployed in any province they own (even if there is COL or TP or enemy forces; in the last case, an immediate battle happens before the first military round). B.2 A country in the ROTW always receives fixed reinforcements each turn of limited or full war, as described in the Annexes. Those can only raise their force to the basic forces of the country. B.3 If a minor country is at peace during one whole turn, its basic forces come back entirely. B.4 The forces of a minor country are always in full supply in the provinces of owned areas, and use those provinces as supply sources if outside the area. A province where there is a TP/COL or a fort controlled by an enemy can not be used as supply source to go outside (but minor troops are still supplied within the province). B.5 A country in the ROTW uses all the Natives that are in the areas that it controls. Natives are of moral "conscript" (exception: Natives in JAPON are "veteran") and are added to regular forces if there is any in the province. They never move. They will attack TP and COL in their provinces if they are at war against the owning country. B.6 Natives and regular forces of minor countries can do "Native attack" in owned areas at the end of the turn to destroy COL or TP. Additionally, regular forces can turn down controlled TP as per normal rules (Natives cannot). C Areas with no minor countries. Some areas are less organised: no minor country owns them. A European country can decide to attack Natives or cities in the corresponding provinces without being at war, with no declaration beforehand. C.1 If Natives are attacked in a given province, they will continue to react (as defined afterwards) against the aggressor until the end of the turn. C.2 To assault or besiege a city, a power has first to attack the Natives of the province (or they have to be already active). Design note: By "less organised", we do not mean, of course, that areas such as South-East Asia or Indonesia were lacking states. Dai Viet, Ayutthaya, the sultanate of Borneo and other countries clearly exists. However, these countries were of a rather local importance and their relative strength and tolerance to the Europeans is directly represented by the values of the corresponding area. ROTW countries correspond to large empires such as China or the Mogols, with a large territorial base or a powerful army. 	Diplomacy— master – 2016-04-14 [R]91  IV.6.2 Reactions by countries in the ROTW A At the end of the phase of event, a test of reaction is made in a country from the ROTW where one of the conditions is met: A.1 there is a military force in one of its province (excepted if this force is in a foreign COL settled in the province, or if allowed by a FR or AT); A.2 there is a European COL or TP that is not allowed by diplomatic status (or a special rule). B The test is 1d10, compared to the Activation level of the country. If it is strictly inferior to the Tolerance level in the area, the Natives react. When the Tolerance is "-", no reaction can happen. C Effect of a reaction. C.1 The reaction is an attack of the Natives against the units that caused the reaction, and all units of the same country in the province (not area). C.2 The attack is resolved immediately (as an interception if it is caused by a movement, or a regular battle if it is at the end of the round or due to botched TP/COL action). C.3 The reaction last until the end of the turn and the Natives will attack any other force of the power causing the reaction that is in the province. Only one battle is possible each round (at the time of the first interception by reaction, or at the end of the round). Natives will then attack COL/TP owned by the power at the end of the turn. Note that if A has activated the Natives against him, and controls a fort of fortress of the side B who has not, the Natives would attack A and besiege its forces (attrition if A is withdrawn in the fortress) but would not attack a COL/TP owned by B (even if controlled by A) at the end of the turn. C.4 If units of another player enter the province later in the turn, they can also provoke a reaction of the Natives against them.

Incomes

Chapter V

V.1 Incomes

A Overview The Income segment of the administrative phase is detailed here. It is played mostly independently (the only information that one may need from the other players is their Gross Land Income if they are at war or doing Trade Refusal). Each player will compute the income of their country, coming from various sources. All this is summed up to form their new RT. It helps to refer to the Economic Record Sheet (B) included in this chapter to understand everything. The Economic Record Sheet (B) serves as a register for all financial operations of the country. The RT and on-going loans are stored (and computed) on the other ERS (A and C).

Computation of income is only the first segment of the administrative phase. However, it is separated from the rest of the phase for clarity.

Part of the income is differed (gold form ROTW, Convoys, Exceptional taxes) and only perceived at the end of the turn (usually with some hazards on the way). They are however briefly described here in order to have all the income sources together. Check the corresponding Chapters for a complete definition of these incomes.

V.2 Land income

A The player registers three kinds of land income:

- The income of all his provinces in line B1 (Provinces income) of ERS;
- The income of all the provinces of his vassal minor countries in line B2 (Vassal provinces income) of ERS;
- In negative, all the provinces (either his or his vassals') that are inexploitable (due to revolts, military occupation, looting, enemy control, or corrupted pashas) are recorded in line B3 (Occupation, Pillages, Revolts) of ERS.
- Some random events (e.g. event E-4 (Agricultural crisis)) mark their gains or losses in line B4 (Event) of ERS.

A.1 The sum of all this is the Land Income, and goes in line B5 (Land income) of ERS.

TODO: Add partial ERS to the examples.

Example: All along, the examples will details the income phase of the first turn for POR.

At the beginning of turn 1, POR owns the provinces of Trás-os-Montes (income 5), Beira (3), Tejo (6), Alentejo (6), Algarve (5), Tânger (2) and Açores (2) (counted as an European province even if located on the ROTW map). Thus, its Provinces incomes is 29 ⚡, written in line B1.

At the beginning of the game, POR has no minor ally, especially no VA and no Vassal provinces income. However, since the Diplomatic phase occurs before the income segment, it is possible that a lucky Diplomatic action succeeded in getting POR a VA. This is unlikely and we'll suppose it did not happen. So POR has no Vassal provinces income and can leave line B2 empty (or write 0 in it, but leaving it empty is usually more readable).

Let's suppose that the events of turn 1 resulted in a revolt in Beira. Then POR write -3 in line . Notice that it is easier to do this count in negative because the content of line B1 will usually be the same every turn (except when one annexes or loses provinces) while the revolts change almost every turn. This avoid tedious recomputation of incomes each turn.

Thus, the Land income of POR is 29+0-3=26 ⚡, written in line B5.

V.3 Industrial income

V.3.1 Manufactures

A Manufactures represent industries of all types developed by the player (triangular-shaped counters).

B The manufactures all have a fixed income.

B.1 The sum of all the incomes of the manufactures goes in line B6 (Manufactures val.) of ERS

B.2 The income of resources exploited by various manufactures (fishing, salt) is not recorded here.

B.3 A MNU brings no income if the province it is located also brings no income (due to military occupation, revolt, pillage, corrupted pashas, ...)

C All manufactures bring other advantages than their incomes.

C.1 If there is a * on the counter (Metal, Instruments and Art manufactures), only one such MNU per country provides the bonus (that is, only consider the MNU of this type of higher level).

C.2 Otherwise, the advantage is summed for all manufactures of this type.

C.3 Quick summary of the advantages: Metal MNU enhance land technology research ; Instruments MNU enhance naval technology research ; Art MNU help increase Stability; Cloth and Wine MNU increase the income from foreign trade ; Cereals MNU increase the income from domestic trade ; Salt, Fish and Wood MNU produce resources of Salt, Fish or Wood.

Example: At turn 1, POR has two MNU. The Instruments MNU in Tejo has an income of 7 ⚡ while the Wine MNU in Trás-os-Montes has an of 4 ⚡.

Since none of them are in the revolted province of Beira, both provide their income. Thus, the income is 7+4=11 ⚡ (written in line B6).

V.3.2 European Gold

A Each European mine brings a fixed income of 20 ⚡ as long as that mine is not depleted (this may happen following event E-26 (Depletion of a mine)). The European mine income is registered on line B7 (European mines) of ERS.

A.1 A mine brings no income if the province it is located also brings no income (due to military occupation, revolt, pillage, corrupted pashas, ...)

B The income of mines located outside of Europe is processed separately, because it has to be repatriated to Europe before it can be credited to the player's treasury.

B.1 Exception: Elmina. If POR is a major country and owns a TP in CÔTE D'OR, it exploits two gold mines as European mines (for a total of 40 ⚡). Destruction or loss of ownership of this TP definitely cancels this effect.

Example: As per Specific rules, POR can exploit two gold mines in Elmina as if it were European gold (see above and section XIV.4.1.5 (The African gold)). Thus, its European mines income is 40 ⚡ (20 ⚡ per mine), recorded in line B7.

V.3.3 Industrial income

A The sum of all these incomes is put in line B8 (Industrial income) of ERS.

Example: The Industrial income of POR is 11+40=51 ⚡.

V.4 Trade income

V.4.1 Domestic trade

A The Domestic Trade is computed by cross-indexing the Total provinces Income (the sum of line B1 of ERS and line B2 of ERS, that is the province income of both the country and its vassals without considering pillages, revolts, military occupation or other hazards) added to bonuses provided by MNU against the DTI of the country in table V.1 (Domestic Trade Income).

A.1 Each level of Cereals MNU owned by the country adds 20 ⚡ to the Total provinces Income for this computation only.

A.2 The result is put in line B9 (Domestic trade income) of ERS.

Land Income+?	1	2	3	4	5
1-40	1	2	3	4	5
41-80	3	6	9	12	15
81-120	5	10	15	20	25
121-160	7	14	21	28	35
161-190	9	18	27	36	45
191-220	12	24	36	48	60
221-240	15	30	45	60	75
241-250	18	36	54	72	90
≥251	20	40	60	80	100

?=+20 ⚡ x sides of Cereals MNU

Table V.1: Domestic Trade Income

Example: The Total provinces income of POR is 29+0=29 ⚡ (the revolt in Beira does not change it). Since POR has no Cereals MNU, it stays unchanged. Thus, POR will look in line 1-40.

The DTI of POR is 3, so POR looks in column 3, the result is 3 ⚡ written in line B9.

Notice that if POR decide to build a Cereals MNU (and succeed), its Land income would become 29+20=49 ⚡ (for this computation) allowing it to look in the second line (41-80) for a total of 9 ⚡. So, in addition to its fixed and variable incomes, this MNU would bring 6 ⚡ of Domestic trade income each turn and will quickly refund itself. ... (it may, however, not be the best strategic choice to do immediately).

V.4.2 Foreign trade

A The Foreign Trade is computed according to the Blocked trade and the FTI of the country.

B Each country has a Basic blocked trade (corresponding to its Domestic market), expressed below table V.2 (Foreign Trade Income).

B.1 For some countries, this is fixed and for some other it depends on the provinces owned.

B.2 Note: countries not mentioned (POL, POR, PRU, VEN) have a Basic blocked trade of 0 ⚡. RUS also has a Basic blocked trade of 0 ⚡ before it fulfils the condition indicated in the table.

C Each country has an Extra blocked trade which is the sum of its vassals income, trade refusal (including due to wars) and some other events.

C.1 The Extra blocked trade only is reduced by 50 ⚡ for each side of Wine or Cloth MNU owned by the country (thus 100 ⚡ for a level 2 MNU).

[R]96

Trade income

C.2 The Extra blocked trade can never be reduced below 0.

D The sum of the Basic blocked trade and the Extra blocked trade is the Blocked trade.

D.1 Note that the Basic blocked trade is never reduced. Thus, the Blocked trade will always be at least equal to the Basic blocked trade.

D.2 Locate the line corresponding to the Blocked trade in table V.2 (Foreign Trade Income).

D.3 For each UNITED STATES that exists and is at peace, go up one line in the table (several UNITED STATES may be created as result of revolts in the colonies of other countries than ANG).

D.4 Cross-referencing the line for the Blocked trade with the column corresponding to the FTI of the country gives the Foreign trade income, to be put in line B10 (Foreign trade income) of ERS.

Blocked Trade	1	2	3	4	5
≤49	30	60	90	120	150
50-99	27	54	81	108	135
100-149	24	48	72	96	120
150-199	21	42	63	84	105
200-299	18	36	54	72	90
300-399	15	30	45	60	75
400-549	12	24	36	48	60
550-699	9	18	27	36	45
700-899	6	12	18	24	30
900-1099	3	6	9	12	15
≥1100	1	2	3	4	5

Basic blocked trade per country: FRA 200 ₮/ ANG 100 ₮/ HOL, SUE 50 ₮

HIS 50 ₮, or 100 ₮ if owns 2 of: BURGUNDIA, SICILIE, HOLLANDIA

AUS 50 ₮, or 100 ₮ if owns 2 of: BURGUNDIA, BOHEMIA, HUNGARIA

RUS 50 ₮ if owns 3 Khanates (or Cossacks) countries

TUR 100 ₮, or 200 ₮ if owns 2 of: HUNGARIA, SYRIA, ÆGYPTUS

NB: a country is owned when half (round up) its provinces are owned.

Extra blocked trade: Vassals, Trade refusals, wars, events.

Wine and Cloth MNU: reduces extra blocked trade by 50 ₮×sides

Table V.2: Foreign Trade Income

Example: POR has a Basic blocked trade of 0. Let's suppose it declared war on MAURETANIA on turn 1 and TUR chose to defend MAURETANIA. . . . Then MAURETANIA is refusing trade to POR, creating an Extra blocked trade of 12 ₮ (the sum of the incomes of its provinces). Similarly, TUR refuses trade to POR creating an Extra blocked trade of 88 ₮. The total Extra blocked trade of POR is 12+88=100 ₮.

However, POR has a Wine MNU of level 1. This allows it to reduce its Extra blocked trade by 50 ₮ for a final value of 100-50=50 ₮.

The Blocked trade of POR is 0+50=50 ₮, so it will look its Foreign trade income in the second line of the table (50-99). Its FTI is 2 (never use special FTI here), so POR looks in the second column and find the result of 54 ₮ for its Foreign trade income, written in line B10.

What happens with TUR? At turn 1, it has a Basic blocked trade of 100 ₮. POR creates an Extra blocked trade of 29 ₮. Even if TUR had a Cloth MNU (this is not the case at turn 1), it would only reduce the Extra blocked trade by 50 ₮. So it will actually reduce it by 29 ₮ and the extra 21 ₮ of bonus would be lost.

[R]98

Trade income

C The initial positions are Nil for the Great Orient centre, Veneto for the Mediterranean centre, Vlaanderen for the Atlantic centre and Dijl for the Indian centre.

D If the province in which the Trade Centre is located is militarily occupied, the trade centre does not bring any income this turn.

D.1 Revolts, pashas, pillages or other hazards do not impact the Trade Centres income.

V.4.4.2 The Great Orient centre

A The Great Orient centre is initially located in Nil and moves to Izmir as soon as Nil is not own by ÆGYPTUS (usually at the time of conquest by TUR).

B The income of the Great Orient centre is 100 ₮, plus modifiers.

B.1 10 ₮ are added for every complete group of 3 non-European COL or TP counters (any side).

B.2 Exception: If a minor is giving its colonial income to a Christian major other than VEN due to §B of section IV.4.4.5 (Guzarate, Ayman, Aden, Aceh), do not count its establishments as non-European ones (don't count them as European ones either).

B.3 10 ₮ are subtracted per complete set of 5 COL or TP counters (any side) in ASIA (except SIBERIA) of a Christian player (all but TUR).

B.4 10 ₮ are added for Muslim control of Ormuz; 10 ₮ for Soqotra; and 10 ₮ for either S. Malacca or Central Sumatra. For these rule, these provinces are considered controlled, in decreasing order of precedence by (i) a major (other than VEN) having a AT with a country with a COL/TP in the province ; (ii) any country (major or minor) having a COL/TP in the province ; (iii) Muslim controlled if the province is empty.

B.5 10 ₮ are subtracted per Christian TF counter (any side)in STZ Mer d'Arabie and STZ Océan Indien, with maximum of -50 ₮.

B.6 50 ₮ are subtracted if TUR and PERSIA are at war.

B.7 It can never be negative. At worse, it becomes 0 ₮.

B.8 Therefore, the income at turn 1 of the Great Orient centre is 170 ₮, since there are 10 TP of GUZARATE, 1 TP and 1 COL of ADEN and 1 COL of AYMAN and the 3 straits are controlled by Muslims (GUZARATE for S. Malacca and Ormuz and empty for Soqotra).

B.9 Notice that if POR signs an AT with ADEN, then its COL and TP are not counted as "non-European" anymore (without being counted as "Christian"), thus there will only be 11 non-European establishment instead of 13 and the income of the centre will drop to 160 ₮.

B.10 This income is registered in line B14 (Trade centres income) of ERS of the country owning the centre.

All along the 16th century, there was a commercial (and sometime military) fight to bring the goods from Orient (pepper and other spices, silk, . . .) to Europe. The historical road went mostly through land with the Silk road from China and the indo-arab trade in the Red sea. Portuguese opened a sea road going round Africa.

The land road went through Egypt and Turkey, both of them raising heavy taxes on this trade represented by the Trade centre income. Venice was principally in charge of distributing it in the Mediterranean, again with heavy profit, thus building its commercial empire.

As soon as Christian found a new road for these good, they try to get rid of the Turks and Venetian in between. Portuguese, then Dutch and English merchant seized the spice trade.

Thus, the "land road" income decrease with the number of Christian establishment buying or producing goods and sending them to Europe along the "sea road". Venice is an exception to this because it still wanted to use the "land road" rather than the "sea road". Minor countries tend to keep the old (land) road except if they have specific agreement with majors. Controlling the straits also allows to control the trade.

The growth of the "sea road" is reflected in the appearance of the East Indies convoy described after the Trade centres.

C As long as the Great Orient centre is in Nil:

V.4.3 Commercial fleets

V.4.3.1 Trading zones

A Each TF bears a letter for identification and has a level between 1 and 6 recorded in the Commercial fleet table situated on bottom left of the Colonial record sheet.

A.1 The counter is to be placed on its ☉ side if the level is between 4 and 6, on its ☾ side otherwise.

A.2 Counters are placed in a CTZ or a STZ. Each country can have only one TF per CTZ or STZ.

A.3 For easy reference, a global Trade fleet sheet is also provided to record the level of each country in each sea zone. It is best kept by a player with heavy commercial activity (POR, HOL or ANG, usually).

B A commercial fleet in a STZ brings an income of 1 ₮ per level.

B.1 A commercial fleet in a CTZ brings an income of 2 ₮ per level

B.2 Exception: Baltic: Each level of TF in STZ Baltique brings an income of 2 ₮, as if it were a CTZ.

B.3 These incomes are reported in line B11 (STZ+CTZ level income) of ERS.

Design note: There is no CTZ for Sweden, Poland and Prussia, that went through the Baltic Sea for their trade. However, there was an intense flux of merchandise going through this area.

Example: At turn 1, POR has a TF of level 3 in STZ Mer des Canaries, bringing 3 ₮ of Level income (1 ₮ per level in STZ) and a TF of level 1 in STZ Golfe de Guinée for another 1 ₮ of Level income.

So, its total STZ+CTZ level income is 3+1=4 ₮ written in line B11.

V.4.3.2 Monopolies

A If in any CTZ or STZ, a country has a TF of level 6, it has a total monopoly and can register the sum inscribed in large print in the CTZ or STZ symbol in line B12 (STZ+CTZ monopoly income) of ERS.

A.1 Note that in this case, no other country may have a TF in this CTZ or STZ. See section VI.8.2 (Competitions).

B Otherwise, if it has a TF☉, it has a partial monopoly and can register half the sum inscribed in large print in the CTZ or STZ symbol in line B12 of ERS (round down).

B.1 Only one country may have a TF☉ in a given CTZ or STZ. See section VI.8.2 (Competitions).

C For each CTZ or STZ where a country has a TF☉, it can register the sum inscribed in small print in the CTZ or STZ symbol in line B12 of ERS.

C.1 This sum is usually 1/10th of the large sum, or 1/5th on the ROTW map.

D Players also register the number of partial and total monopolies they have in Trade Zones as these bring VPs. This is recorded in line B13 (Partial/Total monopolies (trade)) of ERS. This is used for VPs computation.

Example: POR has no monopoly. However, it has TF in two STZ and still gets a presence bonus equal to the number in small print in these STZ. For STZ Mer des Canaries, this is 4 ₮ while for STZ Golfe de Guinée, this is 3 ₮. Thus, its STZ+CTZ monopoly income is 4+3=7 ₮ written in line B12.

Since it has no monopolies, it has nothing to write in line B13

V.4.4 Trade centres and convoys

V.4.4.1 Trade centres

A Trade centres represent the main hubs of trade in selected areas of the World. They are given to the country dominating the trade in these areas (usually by having more TF) and bring a substantial income. Trade centres must be located in a province of the owning country.

B There are four Trade Centres, marked by counters: Great Orient, Atlantic, Mediterranean and Indian.

B.1 Position of the Trade Centres change during the Interphase (at the end of turn). However, we remind here how they are attributed. See section XII.2 (Trade centres) for details.

Incomes— master – 2016-04-14

[R]99

C.1 One half of its income is gained by ÆGYPTUS if at war ; or VEN otherwise.

C.2 The other half is gained by SYRIA if at war ; or TUR if SYRIA is either conquered or not at war and on the turkish diplomatic track.

D The Great Orient centre moves to TUR when ÆGYPTUS is conquered.

V.4.4.3 Atlantic, Mediterranean and Indian Ocean centres

A The Atlantic and the Mediterranean trade centres bring a fixed income to their owner of 100 ₮.

A.1 The Indian Ocean trade centre brings a fixed income to its owner of 50 ₮.

A.2 They are given to the country having the most levels of TF in the corresponding STZ and CTZ. See section XII.2 (Trade centres) for details.

A.3 This income is registered in line B14 of ERS.

V.4.4.4 Trade centres losses

A "Guerre de course" is not reliable for a country which is dominating trade in a region as privateers are likely to turn against the most numerous vessels rather than against the sparser enemy ships.

B If a IP belonging to a country allied with the owner of a Trade centre (including the owner himself) causes permanent losses on an enemy TF in a STZ or CTZ belonging to this centre, then the income of the centre is decreased by 10 ₮ per permanent loss caused for the next turn.

B.1 See section IX.3 (Attacks by Pirates & Privateers) for details.

C This loss is recorded (in negative) in line B15 (Trade centre losses) of ERS.

V.4.4.5 Convoys

A Convoys represent heavy trade of specific resources (gold or spices). They are given to the country dominating trade in this resource (usually by exploiting most of it). They do not bring income per se but must be brought back to Europe where the gold they carry can be unloaded. However, the journey can be dangerous and convoys can be attacked and seized by pirates, privateers or enemy fleet.

A.1 Convoys are not taken into account during the Income segment. However, they do bring income at the end of turn (especially the Spanish gold fleets) so we remind here how they are attributed.

B There are four possible convoys: the Levant fleet of Izmir, the East Indies convoy, the Flota de Oro, and the Flota del Perú.

B.1 Convoys are attributed during the Interphase.

B.2 Each convoy represent a certain number of ships carrying gold. During the Military phase they must be moved toward Europe and can be attacked by P or enemy F.

B.3 When a convoy safely reaches Europe, its gold is unloaded into the country's RT (line A10 (Gold from ROTW and Convoys) of ERS).

C The Flota de Oro and Flota del Perú convoys are given to HIS when it exploits sufficiently many gold in AMERICA.

D The Levant convoy is given to TUR as soon as it owns the Great Orient trade centre. TUR must send it to another player each turn.

E The East Indies convoy is given to the country who exploits the most of the following resources: Silk, Product of Orient and Spices if it exploits at least 10 of them.

V.4.5 Trade income

A The sum of all these incomes is put in line B16 (Trade income) of ERS.

Example: POR does not own any Trade centre at the beginning of the game, so it has nothing to write in lines B14 and B15. Thus, its Trade income is 3+54+4+7+0-0=68 ₮ written in line B16.

[R]100 Colonial income V.5 Colonial income V.5.1 Colonies & Trading-posts A Each COL brings an income registered in line B17 (Colonies) of ERS: A.1 A COL⊖ brings 1 ⌚ per level, and as many ⌚ as the income value of the Area (first number, see section I.1.6 (ROTW provinces)). A.2 A COL⊕ brings 1 ⌚ per level, and twice the income value of the Area. A.3 However, COL exploiting gold do not provide income. See §A.4 of section V.5.3 (ROTW gold). B Each TP brings an income registered in line B18 (Trading posts) of ERS: B.1 A TP⊖ brings 1 ⌚. B.2 A TP⊕ brings 2 ⌚. C COL and TP do not bring any income if they are pillaged, revolted or military occupied. D [BLP] If the path between a COL or TP and Europe goes through a Fortified strait, the controller of the Strait may choose to close it. D.1 This has to be announced in the Diplomatic phase. This immediately gives an Overseas CB to the owner of the establishment. D.2 Establishment behind closed Straits do not bring any income this turn. Neither regular income or resource income. Example: At turn 1, POR has a COL of level 3 in Cabo Verde bringing an income of 3 (level) + 1 (one time the income of the Cabo Verde area) = 4 ⌚ written in line B17. It has a TP of level 3 in Elmina, bringing an income of 1 ⌚ (it is side ⊖ and the income of Côte d'Or is not taken into account for TP) written in line B18. V.5.2 Exotic resources A COL and TP, as well as certain MNU in Europe can exploit a limited number of exotic resources. A.1 The income of the exotic resources is the product of the number of exploited resources of each kind, multiplied by the price of each resource (computed as per section VI.12.1 (Price of exotic resources)) A.2 This is recorded in line B19 (Exotic resources) of ERS. A.3 Players exploiting sufficiently many resource can speculate to try and increase the price. See §E (Speculation) of section VI.12.1.2 (Variation of price). Example: At turn 1, the TP in Elmina can exploit 3 Slaves as it is level 3 (and does so even if it produces gold as per Portuguese special rule). The initial price of Slaves is 2 ⌚, so POR gains 3×2=6 ⌚, written in B19. B Manufactures MNU can have only 2 levels per counter. B.1 A Fishery (Fish MNU) may only be built in a coastal province. It exploits as many Fish as its level (1 or 2). B.2 A Salter (Salt MNU) may only be built in a province with Salt resource (the number indicating the quantity). B.3 A Salter of level 1 exploits 1 Salt. B.4 A Salter of level 2 exploits all Salt from the province (up to 3). B.5 Exception: A Venetian Salter of level 2 in Veneto exploits all the Salt from Venetian coastal provinces. C Square resources. C.1 In ASIA, it requires 3 TP levels or 2 COL levels to exploit 1 unit of Sugar, Cotton or Products of America, without need for Slaves. C.2 Outside of ASIA, it requires 2 COL levels to exploit 1 unit of Sugar, Cotton or Products of America. Furthermore, those resources are subject to the need of Slaves in AMERICA (see §L (Slaves and plantations) of this section).	Incomes— master – 2016-04-14 [R]101 D Fish. It requires 1 COL level to exploit 1 unit of Fish. E Fur. E.1 Each TP level can exploit up to 2 units of Fur. E.2 A COL can exploit all the Fur in an Area. However, each COL⊕ in the Area reduces the number of available Fur by 1 unit. F Circled resources. For all other resources (Products of Orient, Salt, Silk, Slaves, Spices), one level of COL or of TP exploits up to 1 unit of the resource. G Gold. See §A.4 of section V.5.3 (ROTW gold) if there is a gold mine in the province where a COL is. H Wood. Wood does not bring income as other resources, but it brings advantages in naval constructions and can be sold to other countries. See section II.8.4 (Trade of Wood) for exploiting and selling Wood and §G (Effect of Wood.) of section VII.2.1 (Basic forces) and §B (Increasing the limit) of section VII.3.3.1 (Naval recruitment in Europe) for the effects of Wood. I A ROTW minor country will exploit resources if and only if it has TP or COL to exploit them, following the same rules as major countries. J Exotic resources on the ROTW map are shared for a whole Area (see section I.1.6 (ROTW provinces)); if there is only two resources of Spices in an Area, two outposts in different provinces of the same Area will have to share the exploitation. J.1 If there is disagreement for the exploitation of resources, this is settled through the competition mechanism (section VI.8.2 (Competitions)), that eliminates levels until there can no more be disagreement. J.2 Note, however, that the right to exploit a resource may change only if there is a change of situation in the Area (new level of establishment, a country announce that it stop its exploitation, . . .) K New exploitation There are only a few cases where there might be a disagreement for the exploitation of a resource: a new resource appeared (through events, because of competition or military intervention in the previous turn, because it is one of the resources that appear late), or the number of levels available to exploit the resource changed in this turn. K.1 Those two cases will lead to automatic competition. At the end of the administrative phase, a competition will take place until there are enough resources (or no more enough levels) for everybody to be satisfied with the current attribution of resources. K.2 If the whole market in an Area is already attributed, there is no automatic competition. The players have to spend competition actions (see section VI.8.2 (Competitions)) to change the market repartition, or do it through the use of diplomacy (exotic resources exploitation can change in the Diplomatic phase by a simple announce). L Slaves and plantations Some resources require Slaves to be exploited in plantations in AMERICA (the square ones: Sugar, Products of America and Cotton). At least 1 unit of exploited Slaves is required for each unit of exploited resource requiring slavery. L.1 Triangular trade These units of Slaves can come either from the same country exploiting it (and gaining income both for the Slave and the other resource), from another major selling its Slaves, from minors allies or from contraband. L.2 Reselling of slaves If a major country wants too sell part of its Slaves production, it is free to do so at any price. He must perceive the sum during the diplomatic phase (written in line A4 of ERS). However, the sold Slave units cannot be used in his own plantations (obviously). L.3 Contraband of slaves If a country has at least one level of TF in STZ Mer d'Arabie or STZ Golfe de Guinée, or if another MAJ in this position gives him this right, he can use the contraband of Slaves for his colonies. He receives only half the usual income (round down for each unit of the resource) for the exotic resources exploited with contraband Slaves.
[R]102 Colonial income L.4 International contraband If a country needs Slaves but does not fill the conditions above, it still can use the contraband of Slaves, but he will receive no income for the exotic resources exploited that way. The resources, however, are considered exploited for price variation purpose (it is not possible to "hold back" exploitation). L.5 Slaves of allies Minor countries can sell for free the Slaves they exploit to their Diplomatic patron (e.g. PORTUGALLIA during event III-7 (Annexation of Portugal by Spain)). L.6 Note that Slaves always bring income to the country that produce them. The sale of Slaves happens independently of this income and does not change it. M Players also register the number of partial and total monopolies they have in Trade Zones as these bring VPs. This is recorded in line B20 (Partial/Total monopolies (resources)) of ERS. Example: Using Slaves.— In the late 17th century, ANG exploits a total of 6 Sugar (price 6) and 3 Product of America (price 5). Thus, it should theoretically bring an income of 6×6+3×5=51 ⌚. However, since all this is done in AMERICA, Slaves are needed to work in the plantations (ASIA had much more local population that was used as workers in the plantations). ANG only exploits 4 Slaves (price 7). If ANG do not find anyone wanting to sell Slaves and has no TF close to AFRICA, it must use international contraband. Thus, its 4 Slaves allow to exploit 4 Sugar, but the rest (2 Sugar and 3 Product of America) is lost. The income is thus 4×7 (for the Slaves) + 4×6 (for the Sugar exploited with them) + 0 (for the other resources exploited with contraband Slaves) = 52. Note that (i) Slaves both brings income per se and allows other resource to bring income, making it a very valuable resource ; and (ii) ANG cannot choose not to use contraband Slaves and not to exploit the remaining resources (lower exploitation has a better chance of raising prices). If it has sufficient levels of COL to exploit it, it must do so. Now, suppose that the treaty of Methuen has been signed. PORTUGALLIA is on the Diplomatic track of ANG and gives its 2 Slaves for free, for a total of 6 Slaves. Only 3 resources still require Slaves. HIS agrees to sell 1 Slave for 3 ⌚. ANG cannot find the last ones but has a TF in STZ Golfe de Guinée allowing for direct contraband. Thus, the situation is now: For HIS, the Slave both brings an income of 7 ⌚ during incomes and a "gift" of 3 ⌚ during the Diplomatic phase. For ANG, 3 ⌚ are paid to HIS for 1 Slave during the Diplomatic phase. So ANG has a total of 7 Slaves (4 of its owns, 2 of its minor ally and 1 brought to HIS) and must use two from contraband for the last resources. It get to choose which resources use contraband Slave and only brings half income, it is better to choose the cheapest one, in this case Product of America. The final income for ANG is 4×7 (its Slaves) + 6×6 (all the Sugar is exploited normally) + 1×5 (1 Product of America can be exploited) + 2×2 (2 Product of America is exploited at half price, round down) = 73 ⌚. V.5.3 ROTW gold Note: Gold may be produced by gold mines located in the ROTW map. This gold is not registered in the country's income immediately, because it has first to be repatriated to Europe. But it is nevertheless produced during the income phase. The repatriation of the gold takes place during the Military phase. A To exploit a gold mine, a COL (with any number of levels) has to be in the province containing the mine symbol. If a country wishes to exploit gold, it simply has to announce it during the Diplomatic phase. A.1 A country is never obliged to exploit a mine even if it has a Colony in that province. A.2 Once announced, the exploitation is definitive until depletion of the mine (by event E-26 (Depletion of a mine)) and cannot be voluntarily stopped. A.3 A ROTW gold mine produce 20 ⌚ worth of gold (or silver, jewels, . . .) each turn, except for the mine in Tenochtitlan (AZTECA), producing 40 ⌚, and the mine in Potosi (INCA East), producing 50 ⌚. Both these incomes are recalled on the map. A.4 A COL exploiting a mine produces no other income, nor does it exploit Exotic Resources. The gold produced is reported on the Colonial Record Sheet. A.5 No slaves are needed to exploit a gold mine. A.6 Gold has a major influence on the variation of inflation, see section XI.5.1 (Increase of Inflation).	Incomes— master – 2016-04-14 [R]103 B Gold can be transported by earth during the income phase or during the redeployment phase (see section IX.9 (Gold repatriation)) (or both). B.1 During the income phase, Gold can be stored in any port COL in the Area where it was produced or an adjacent one. B.2 From the ports, the gold has to be repatriated to Europe using NT⌚, the Flota de Oro convoy or the Flota del Perú. Each NT⌚ can carry up to 15 ⌚ worth of gold (each Transport point is worth 5 ⌚). Example: Since POR has a specific rule for its gold in Elmina, there is no ROTW gold for it. So, it's ROTW Income is 4+1+6 = 11 ⌚. V.6 Other incomes V.6.1 Events & diplomatic incomes A Economic events may change the RT. The economical events all tell exactly at which point their effect goes in the ERS. The political events usually act between line A1 (RT at start of turn) and A2 (RT after Events) while the economical ones usually act on lines A2, B4 and B24 (Events). B Diplomatic events modify the RT in two ways: expenses for the diplomatic actions, subsidies and gifts or loans between major players. The latter go in line A3 of ERS, the first and second in line A5 of ERS, line A6 of ERS and line A7 of ERS. Reimbursement of loans between major players also comes at this point. V.6.2 Exceptional taxes A Exceptional taxes are an administrative operation. However, since it brings money, the computation is recalled here. A.1 Exceptional taxes being a domestic action, it cannot be performed at the same time as another domestic action, and it might be forbidden by bankruptcy. A.2 Check section VI.6.3 (Exceptional taxes) for details. B Exceptional taxes may be raised only if at war and if Stability is not -3. C Summary. To compute the exceptional taxes modifier: C.1 First, lower Stability by 1 (except if an enemy stack besiege or occupy a province during a non-civil war). C.2 Then, add 3 times the Stability to the ADM of the monarch. D The modifier is written in line B39 (Exceptional taxes modifier B) of ERS and copied in line A11 (Exceptional taxes modifier A) of ERS. D.1 At the end of turn (only), roll 1d10, add the modifier and multiply the result by 10. D.2 This is the amount of ⌚ gained (or lost in case of a negative number) by the taxes. V.7 Income computation V.7.1 Gross income A The Gross income is the sum of the Land Income, Industrial Income, Trade Income and Colonial Income. It is written in line B25 of ERS and copied in line A14 of ERS. A.1 The Land Income was defined in section V.2 (Land income) and is the income of owned provinces. A.2 The Industrial Income is the sum of the various incomes of section V.3 (Industrial income), i.e. Manufactures income and European Gold. A.3 The Trade Income is the sum of the various incomes of section V.4 (Trade income), i.e. Commercial fleets, Domestic Trade, Foreign Trade and Trade Centres (but not Convoys).

Mandatory actions and bankruptcies

B.1 Counters lost that way are simply removed from the map. The levels in them are lost and nothing is gained in exchange of this loss.

C A country may not attempt an action that would create a counter of a kind whose limit is reached. For example, a country having reached its maximum number of COL for the period may try to increase the level of existing ones but it may not attempt to create a new COL.

C.1 However, it is possible at the beginning of the administrative phase to voluntarily destroy COL, TP, MNU or TF in order to free counters and use them elsewhere. It must be done before actions are planned (and resolved).

VI.3 Mandatory actions and bankruptcies

VI.3.1 Commercial fleet adjustment

A Temporary losses TF suffer temporary losses from piracy. This is handled by having a maximum level and a current level.

A.1 The current level represents the current amount of trade a country has in a trade zone.

A.2 The maximum level represents the potential trade that a country will have once the turmoils caused by piracy will be tamed and repaired.

A.3 Both the current and maximum levels must be kept for each TF (by its owner and on the general TF sheet).

A.4 Both these levels are between 0 and 6.

A.5 The current level may never be larger than the maximum level. If this somehow happens, decrease the current level to the value of the maximum level.

A.6 A commercial fleet is destroyed when its maximum level reaches 0, not its current level.

B Current level Unless specified, when the level of a TF is mentioned in the rules, use the current level.

B.1 Specifically, use the current level for deciding which side (☉ or ☽) the counter should be, computing incomes, deciding monopolies, allocating Trade Centres and modifying TFI actions.

B.2 If the current level is 0 but not the maximum level then the TF still exists: the counter is still here and cannot be used elsewhere and the TF is considered as present for all effects where presence only (ie whatever the level) affects game (eg as modifier for TFI or concurrence done by other countries).

C Maximum level The maximum level is used only to determine monopolies for end-of-period VPs.

D Changing levels Unless specified, any change of level (whether gain or loss) changes both the current and maximum level.

D.1 Especially, bankruptcies, TFI and competitions affect both the current and maximum levels.

D.2 If this would cause the current level to go below 0, or the maximum level to go above 6, then only the level that can be affected is modified (eg, if your opponent has a TF with a current level of 0, you can still do competition on it to decrease its maximum level ; conversely, if one of your TF has a maximum level of 6 and a current level of 2, you can spend money to do TFI on it and speed up the recovery process).

D.3 Only piracy and automatic adjustment (recovery from piracy) may affect the current level without affecting the maximum level.

E Automatic adjustment Each TF whose current level is smaller than its maximum level increases its current level by 1 (that is, recovers from previous temporary losses).

E.1 This gain is of 2 levels for a TF that has a maximum level of 5 or 6.

E.2 Notice that this adjustment automatically happens for each TF of each country in each CTZ/STZ. That is, a player does not have to choose which TF is adjusted and may not transfer adjustment from one TF to another or save it for a further turn.

[R]110

Mandatory actions and bankruptcies

B.3 Erase all international loans: Write in line C4 (International bankruptcy) of ERS the amount of ongoing international loans (sums of the amounts in line C3 of ERS of all the following turns) and erase any values currently in line C2 of ERS and line C3 of ERS for the following turns.

B.4 Loss 30VPs.

B.5 Apply the worst possible bankruptcy result: loss 2 Stability; loss either 2 levels of TF or 1 level of MNU (player's choice when a choice exists); this turn, the country may not attempt domestic actions (DTI or FTI improvement, MNU placement, Exceptional taxes); the country has 2 TFI actions less than normal this turn.

B.6 Loss 1 level of DTI (unless this would put it below the minimal value of 1).

B.7 Counts as 2 bankruptcies: it will hamper further Exchequer tests for 5 turns.

C Major bankruptcy In case of Major bankruptcy, do all the following, in order:

C.1 Erase loans: choose between erasing all national loans (write in line C7 of ERS the amount which is currently in line C5 of ERS) or up to 200 ₤ international loans (write any number between 1 and 200 in line C4 of ERS and diminish the line C3 of ERS of the following turns by the same amount (may be split among many loans), if this puts the amount of ongoing international loans at 0 ₤, erase the value in line C2 of ERS for the following turns). Only one of the two possibilities can be made with each Major bankruptcy.

C.2 Loss 15VPs.

C.3 Apply the worst possible bankruptcy result: loss 2 Stability; loss either 2 levels of TF or 1 level of MNU (player's choice when a choice exists); this turn, the country may not attempt domestic actions (DTI or FTI improvement, MNU placement, Exceptional taxes); the country has 2 TFI actions less than normal this turn.

C.4 Counts as 1 bankruptcy: it will hamper further Exchequer tests for 5 turns.

D Small bankruptcy In case of Small bankruptcy, do all the following, in order:

D.1 Determine amount: choose the amount of national loan erased, between 1 and 200 ₤. This amount may not be larger than the current amount of national loans (line C5 of ERS). Write this amount in line C7 of ERS.

D.2 Determine effects: roll 1d10, add the ADM of the monarch and the Stability of the country (may be negative), plus any modifier listed below table VI.2 (Bankruptcy Roll). Find the result in the first column of table VI.2 (Bankruptcy Roll) to determine the line in which effects are read.

D.3 Loss Stability: According to the effect, a certain amount of Stability may be lost.

D.4 Loss TF: According to the effect a certain number of TF levels may be lost by the country. These may be lost in any STZ or CTZ. If the result is 10 or less, the player may choose to loss 1 level of MNU instead of all the levels of TF if the choice exists (that is, it is not possible to choose to "lose" 1 or 2 levels of nonexistent TF in order to save a MNU, if the country has less levels of TF than what must be lost and the result is 10 or less, one level of MNU must be lost). However, if the country has no TF and no MNU (or no TF and the result is 11 or more), then nothing is lost.

D.5 Loss actions: According to the effect, a certain number of TFI are lost for this turn only (if this is more than the allowed number of actions in a given turn, no TFI are allowed this turn but there is no "carry over" of lost action to the next turn). If the result is 14 or less, in addition, the country may not do any domestic operation this turn (DTI or FTI improvement, MNU creation or Exceptional taxes).

D.6 Loss 5VPs.

D.7 Counts as 1 bankruptcy: it will hamper further Exchequer tests for 5 turns.

Playing tip: Bankruptcies affect the Exchequer test for the next 5 turns. In order to remember this, one can put a small * in line A14 of ERS of the next 5 turns.

VI.3.2 Loan management

A Interests Each country must pay a 10% interests on all ongoing loans.

A.1 For international loans, it is 10% of the original amount, even if it was partly refunded. Note that once the loan is totally refunded (even before term), it is no more ongoing and does not require paying interests anymore.

A.2 For national loans, it is 10% of the current amount (round up).

A.3 Interests must be payed the turn the loan is refunded (ie refunding loans happens after paying interests in turn order). This prevents one turn interest-free loans.

B Interests are written on the loan ERS, in line C2 (International loans interests) of ERS and line C6 (National loans interests) of ERS.

B.1 line C2 of ERS is filled when an international loan is contracted.

B.2 line C6 of ERS is filled at this segment, it is 10% (round up) of line C5 (National loans at start) of ERS.

B.3 The sum of line C6 of ERS and line C2 of ERS is copied in line B26 (Loan interests) of ERS.

C Mandatory refund International loans must be refunded at most 3 turns after they are contracted. If line C3 (International loans refunds) of ERS is not empty, an international loan ends this turn. Write in line B27 (Mandatory loan refund) of ERS the amount in line C3 of ERS.

C.1 National loans don't need to be refunded. . .

Example: At turn 1, POR contracts an international loan of 70 ₤. It must pay 7 ₤ interest at turns 2, 3 and 4 and refund the loan no later than turn 4.

Even if POR refund 20 ₤ of this loan at turn 2, the interests at turns 3 and 4 are unchanged (7 ₤). However, if POR fully refund the loan at turn 3 (in this case, by paying the 50 ₤ left from turn 2), then it is no more ongoing and there are no interest to pay at turn 4.

At turn 1, FRA contracts a national loan of 54 ₤. At turn 2, it has still 54 ₤ of ongoing national loans and must pay 6 ₤ interest (rounding in disfavour of the player, as always). Then, still at turn 2, FRA decides to refund 30 ₤ of this loan but contracts a new one of 83 ₤. At turn 3, it has 54-30+83=107 ₤ of ongoing national loans and must thus pay 11 ₤ of interests. These loans do not need to be refunded and may well last for the whole game if the player wishes so (but interests must be payed each turn, actually this represent refunding old obligations and contracting new ones).

D Treasure collapse At this point, if the sum of the RT and the Gross income minus the loan interests and the mandatory refund is negative, the country suffers a collapse. This usually happens when the RT is highly negative because of several turns of spending much more than the income.

D.1 In case of collapse, the country must makes a Complete bankruptcy (see section VI.3.3 (Bankruptcy) below).

VI.3.3 Bankruptcy

A Players decide whether their country attempts a bankruptcy and which kind (small, major or complete).

A.1 In case of Treasure collapse, the country must undergo a Complete bankruptcy (see above).

A.2 Bankruptcies must be declared and resolved before planning administrative actions as their result can prevent some of them.

A.3 Bankruptcies are declared and resolved immediately.

A.4 Notice that bankruptcies are declared and resolved after interests are payed and after mandatory refund of international loans.

B Complete bankruptcy In case of Complete Bankruptcy, do all the following, in order:

B.1 Set the RT to 0 ₤ (change the value in line A8 (RT after Diplomacy) of ERS).

B.2 Erase all national loans: Write in line C7 (National loans bankruptcy) of ERS the amount which is currently in line C5 of ERS.

Administration— master – 2016-04-14

Example: At turn 10, with 150 ₤ of national loan, more than its income, RUS tries a bankruptcy. The monarch is Ivan IV who is not afraid to take money from its boyars without asking; he has an ADM of 6. RUS decides to do a small bankruptcy in order to "erase" all the debt (150 ₤). RUS has a Stability of 2.

Thus, the die roll is modified by +6 (ADM of Ivan IV) +2 (Stability) -3 (larger than 100 ₤ bankruptcy) = +5. RUS rolls 7 for a net result of 12. Looking in the table in the line "11-14", RUS lose 1 Stability (going to 1), 1 TF level (but since it has none, nothing is lost), 1TFI for this turn (again not a loss since RUS has no TFI in period II) an may not do any domestic action for this turn.

If the die roll had been 4, and the result 9, then RUS would had to choose between losing 1 TF level or 1 MNU level, and since it has no TF at this point, it would had to lose 1 MNU level.

1d10 +mod.	Stability lost	TF lost	Actions lost
≤1	-2	2 [†]	2TFI, *
2–5	-2	1 [†]	2TFI, *
6–10	-1	1 [†]	1TFI, *
11–14	-1	1	1TFI, *

†or one level of MNU (player's choice)
* No Domestic Action: no Exceptional taxes nor DTI, FTI, MNU.

Test: 1d10+ADM Monarch±Stability

+1 has a Stock Exchange
-3 if larger than 100 ₤ Small Bankruptcy
-1 per MNU counter above limit
± per event (HIS: +1 if Expulsions)

Types of Bankruptcy

Small (up to 200 ₤ National Loan): test (-5VPs?)
Major (all National Loans or up to 200 ₤ International Loan): lose 15 VPs, apply the worst result
Complete (all Loans, RT=0): lose 30 VPs, automatically worst result , DTI -1, counts as 2 Bankruptcies

Table VI.2: Bankruptcy Roll

E Results of the bankruptcy are applied immediately, especially before any administrative action is planned.

E.1 Since the modifiers for some actions depends on the Stability, the levels of TF or of MNU, this may have an impact.

E.2 Moreover, knowing which TF are lost might give another country trade opportunities (at monopolies or Trade centres) and thus affect the choice of actions and not only their resolution.

[R]112

Loan refund

Playing tip: Complete and Major bankruptcies are very costly and should be avoided. . . But sometimes it's better to hang the bankers rather than curse the debt.

Small bankruptcies can be done quite frequently. Especially with a good monarch. Felipe II made a huge use of bankruptcies during his reign to avoid paying the bankers. With a good monarch and a good Stability, a small bankruptcy can be almost harmless and a huge relief for the budget. However, a backfire is always possible, so don't try them during wars.

The loss of TF and TFI make small bankruptcies quite costly for the commercial powers (such as ANG or HOL), especially during the periods where the Trade centres are disputed. On the other hand, powers such as RUS or POL will usually not lose much more than 1 Stability. Beware that a poor result (below 10) will still cost them 1 MNU which can be very expensive for these countries with less means to build new ones.

Bankruptcies hamper the Exchequer test, but loans also do (and they cost money each turn in interests). So, using small bankruptcies is often a good way to manage loans. . . Don't hesitate to borrow some money from your nobles when in need (at war, usually), even if you don't intend to repay them. But take into account the fact that you will need some time at peace in order to do your bankruptcies in a good situation (and to refund other loans if wanted). Moreover, the Economical system works better if you have a small amount of loans all the time, so take that into account when deciding whether to go bankrupt or not.

VI.4 Choices of actions

A All players simultaneously chose which administrative actions they which to perform. The description of actions is done in the following Sections (from section VI.5 (Loan refund) to section VI.8 (Other administrative operations)).

A.1 Each planned action is written down. Even if the explanation of the resolution of the action is done together with the explanation of the action itself, resolution occurs only when all actions have been planned.

B Maintenance and recruitment of troops and fortresses is also part of the administrative actions. Even if they have their own description later and their own Segments in the turn sequence, they must be planned as other actions.

VI.5 Loan refund

A Countries may refund loans. Either national loans (this is never mandatory) or international loans before they come to term.

B National Loans Choose the amount of refund you want to do. It must be smaller than the current amount of National Loan (difference between line C5 of ERS and line C7 of ERS).

B.1 Write this amount in line C8 (National loans refunds) of ERS.

C International Loans Choose the amount of refund you want to do in advance. It must be smaller than the current amount of International Loans (the total of line C3 of ERS for all the following turns, but not the current one).

C.1 Write this amount in line C3 of ERS, adding it to the current value if any.

C.2 Decrease the values in line C3 of ERS by the same total amount, distributed as wanted among all the following turns.

C.3 If this put one value to 0 £, decrease the value of line C2 of ERS by 10% of the initial amount of that loan, for all the turns between the current one (excluded) and the last turn of the loan (included).

[R]114

Domestic operations

Example: Double loan (cont.): partial refund.— At turn 3, POL decides to refund 60 £ of international loans. Thus, it writes 60 in line C3 of ERS of turn 3. POL now has to decrease the amount of ongoing loans (that is, line C3 of ERS of future turns) by 60. It may choose to either refund the first loan and part of the second, or refund the second, or refund part of both (probably not the best solution). POL chooses to refund the second loan. This will remove more interests (two turns), but also means that the first loan will have to be refunded at turn 4.

Thus, POL sets line C3 of ERS of turn 5 to 0. This is a 60 £ decrease, hence no other action is needed on that line. Since a loan has been entirely refunded (set to 0), its interests also have to be removed. Thus, POL removes 6 from line C2 of ERS of turns 4 and 5 (between now and the term of the loan). The loan ERS is:

Turn	1	2	3	4	5
C1 (new)	50	60
C2 (interest)		5	11	115	6
C3 (refund)			60	50	60

Example: Double loan (cont.): partial refund.— Suppose that instead of refunding the second loan, POL chooses to refund the first one completely as well as 10 £ of the second one. Since the second loan is still ongoing, its interests have to be paid in full and the loan ERS is:

Turn	1	2	3	4	5
C1 (new)	50	60
C2 (interest)		5	11	116	6
C3 (refund)			60	50	6050

There are more interests to pay, but the final refund is later. Thus, it is not clear which solution is the best, and it may depend on the situation. Typically, if POL is planning to be at war at turn 4, it may be best not to have a refund scheduled at the same time.

VI.6 Domestic operations

A Each country may attempt at most one Domestic operation each turn.

A.1 Bankruptcies may prevent countries from doing any Domestic operation at a given turn.

VI.6.1 Manufacture creation

A The operation of MNU creation uses column ADM +DTI-9+Investment.

A.1 The following modifiers to the die-roll are used:

- +? Stability of country
- 1 For HIS if inflation level is 10% or more.
- 1 For RUS before construction of S:-Petersburg, for TUR and for POL.
- +2 For ANG, from period VI onward.
- ±? By event

A.2 If the result is a "S", then one level of MNU is gained. One can either turn a counter on its second level side, or take a new MNU counter.

A.3 The place where the MNU is built must respect the location restrictions (below).

A.4 For limits on the number of counters, see section II.4.3.1 (Period limits table) and section II.4.3.2 (Exceeding Limits in MNU).

A.5 If the result is "F", nothing happens (and the money is lost).

A.6 If the result if "½", use the normal procedure: roll 1d10 if the result is less or equal than the FTI, treat as "S" if larger than the FTI, treat as "F". Note that FTI is used even if it played no other role in this operation (ie it is not used to compute the column, only to resolve ½).

D Write in line B29 (Optional loan refunds) of ERS the sum of line C3 of ERS (the part that was not taken into account in line B27 of ERS) and line C8 of ERS.

Example: Simple loan: contracting the loan.— At turn 1 (during the Budget phase), FRA contracts an International Loan of 100 £. As per §D (International Loans) of section X.4.1 (Expenses), it writes 100 £ in line C1 (New International loan) of ERS of turn 1 (new money), 100 £ in line C3 of ERS of turn 4 (refund in 3 turns) and 10 £ in line C2 of ERS of turns 2, 3 and 4. The loan ERS of FRA is:

Turn	1	2	3	4	5
C1 (new)	100
C2 (interest)		10	10	10
C3 (refund)				100

Example: Simple loan (cont.): partial refund.— At turn 2 (during the Administrative phase), FRA decides to refund 40 £ of this loan. Thus, it write 40 in line C3 of ERS of turn 2 and decrease line C3 of ERS of turn 4 by the same amount (leaving 60). Since the loan is still ongoing, the interest are not changed. The loan ERS is now (with changes in red):

Turn	1	2	3	4	5
C1 (new)	100
C2 (interest)		10	10	10
C3 (refund)		40		10060

Note that the interests do not decrease if the capital does not reach 0.

Example: Simple loan (cont.): term.— Suppose that FRA does not refund its loan at turn 3. Then, at turn 4 its loan ERS is still:

Turn	1	2	3	4	5
C1 (new)	100
C2 (interest)		10	10	10
C3 (refund)		40		10060

Thus, FRA has no choice and must refund now the 60 £ of capital still due (in addition to the 10 £ of interests).

Example: Simple loan (cont.): complete refund.— Suppose now that at turn 3, FRA decides to refund the last 60 £ of the loan. Thus, it writes 60 in line C3 of ERS of turn 3 and decrease line C3 of ERS of turn 4 by the same amount. Since this amount reaches 0 £, the loan has been entirely refunded and no more interests shall be payed. Thus, FRA erases line C2 of ERS for turn 4 only (all the turns between 3 excluded and 4 included). The loan ERS looks like:

Turn	1	2	3	4	5
C1 (new)	100
C2 (interest)		10	10	100
C3 (refund)		40	60	100600

Note that interest must be payed on the turn where the capital is refunded. Note also that if FRA did not remember the initial amount of the loan (typically because another loan is ongoing), it can always find it by looking back at line C1 of ERS 3 turns before the term that was just erased.

Design note: Most practical cases fall in the previous examples. The following example is an extreme case that almost never happens.

Example: Double loan: contracting the loans.— At turn 1, POL contracts a 50 £ International Loan and at turn 2 another 60 £ one. Thus, it's loan ERS is as follows:

Turn	1	2	3	4	5
C1 (new)	50	60
C2 (interest)		5	11	11	6
C3 (refund)				50	60

[R]116 Domestic operations A.2 A “S” is a success, and the FTI or DTI increases by 1. A.3 A “F” is a failure and nothing happens. A.4 A “½” is resolved as normal: roll 1d10 and treat as “S” if less or equal than FTI, “F” otherwise. A.5 For limits, see section II.4.3.1 (Period limits table). B Other Trade Indexes Some countries (POR, RUS, HIS, HOL) have two FTI: one reserved for some operations in the ROTW, and one for all other operations. B.1 The specific FTI can be used in all covered administrative operations instead of the normal FTI, to determine the column as well as for the case where a ½ is obtained. B.2 Improvement of the FTI does increase the two values; that is, consider the special FTI to be “regular FTI +n” rather than a value by itself. B.3 However, it is possible to increase the special FTI only (to avoid going over the limit of regular FTI). This is done by a regular FTI improvement action. B.4 Conversely, if the special FTI is already at its maximum, increasing the regular FTI does not change it. Example: At turn 1, RUS has a FTI of 1. Since this is also its limit for the first period, it may not increase it. However, RUS has a special FTI with a limit of 3 for period I. Thus it may attempt to increase its special FTI. With a ADM of 6, this gives a base column of -3 before investment. The DRM is +2 (+3 for Stability but -1 for Russian under-development before S:Peteršburg). Let's suppose that by the end of period V, RUS managed to increase its special FTI to 4 (the regular one is still at 1 since this is the limit). At the start of period VI, the Russian limit for FTI becomes 2. Thus, RUS may increase its regular FTI to 2. In case of success, this also increases the special FTI to 5. At the start of period VII, if S:Peteršburg has been created, the limit of FTI goes to 3. Thus, RUS may increase it again. However, since the special FTI is already at its limit of 5, it does not change.  Playing tip: Since the DTI improves the column for MNU creation, it is easier to first improve DTI and then try to improve MNU. But MNU provide more advantages than simply money and you may want then asap.   VI.6.3 Exceptional taxes  A Condition In order to raise Exceptional taxes, a country must both: A.1 be at war (including civil or religious wars but excluding overseas wars and mere interventions) and A.2 be able to pay the eventual cost in Stability (see below). That is, a country at -3 Stability may not raise exceptional taxes unless these don't cost a loss of Stability. B Loss of Stability A country raising exceptional taxes immediately loses 1 Stability unless both of the following conditions occur: B.1 The country is involved in at least one regular war (ie neither civil nor religious nor overseas, interventions don't count) and B.2 At least one national province is either controlled or besieged by an enemy in this war.  Design note: In other words: • Oversea wars don't allow one to raise exceptional taxes because the people won't see the need of raising funds to defend a few acres of snow. • Religious or civil wars allow to raise taxes but this always causes turmoil (loss of Stability) because there is always an opposite faction within the country to disagree with the need. • “Normal” wars allow to raise for taxes and if a province is occupied the people even see that the nation is in danger and everybody gladly gives money for war effort without second thought. • If you're not able to pay for the Stability cost, that means that the country is so wary of the war that people can't and won't do more efforts... except in case of great danger (where you don't need to loss Stability). 	[R]117 Administration— master – 2016-04-14 C To proceed with the taxes, the player announces he will perceive the taxes, and his country loses 1 Stability level (if needed). The decrease in Stability occurs immediately at the beginning of the administrative segment (hence, before any other administrative action is resolved). C.1 The modifier is obtained by adding the ADM of the monarch, the value of Stability level multiplied by 3, and other possible modifiers (from events). It is written in line B39 of ERS and copied in line A11 of ERS. C.2 Only at the end of turn (after expenses...) will the real amount of the taxes be known. It will be obtained by rolling 1d10, adding the previous modifier, and multiplying this sum by 10. This number of  is added to the RT in line A12 (Exceptional taxes) of ERS. C.3 The result could be negative, with a low Stability. C.4 See section X.2 (Exceptional taxes) for the details. D Remember: do not roll for exceptional taxes during income. Only write down the modifier. The exact roll will happen at end of turn, once expenses are planned. Thus, one can only get a rough estimate of this amount and must spend money according to this estimation. Example: Good taxes.— At the beginning of the Seven Years War, Friedrich II decides to gets extra income to prepare the invasion of Saxony and raises exceptional taxes. The Stability of PRU is +3 (as the war was declared with a free CB), so PRU is allowed to raise taxes. It immediately loses 1 Stability. The ADM of Friedrich II is 9, the Stability of PRU is now 2 (3-1). Thus, the modifier is 9 (ADM) + 3 × 2 (Stability) = 15, written in line B39 of ERS and copied in line A11 of ERS. At the end of the turn, PRU checks the precise amount of the taxes by rolling 1d10 and gets 7. Thus, the final amount is 10 × (7+15) = 220 . All in all, a good operation, but things could not go wrong with high Stability and ADM. Later in this war, the Russian armies have invaded Brandenburg and are looting left handed gloves in Beřijn! Moreover, the war in Bohemia did not went that well and war weariness took its toll, thus decreasing the Prussian Stability to 0. Friedrich II decides to raise exceptional taxes again. Since one national province (Brandenburg) is currently besieged by Russian troops, there is no need to loose Stability. Hence the modifier for the taxes is 9+3×0=9. This still guarantees a good income (at least 100 . Example: Bad taxes.— During the French wars of religion, the French monarchy is desperately looking for money to fund its campaign against the Huguenots and repeatedly summons the États Généraux in successive attempts to increase taxes. French king, Henri III has an ADM of 6, and FRA has a Stability of -2 due to the already long turmoil. Since it can loss 1 Stability, FRA is allowed to raise exceptional taxes. Then compute the modifier of 6 (ADM) + 3 × -3 (Stability) = 6 - 9 = -3. Write this on the ERS. At the end of the turn, the exact amount of taxes is computed. Rolling 1d10 gives only 2, for a final amount of 10×(2-3) = -10 ... FRA actually has to pay some money as result of this operation (representing cost for gathering members of the États Généraux and to send tax collectors without a large success). Note that it is not possible to renounce this “tax” once the result is known, so better check the modifier before deciding and estimate risks cautiously. A couple of years later, the Holy League takes arms against the French king and immediately takes control of Păřiș. In a bold move, Henri III decides to assassinate the League leader, Guise. This creates such a turmoil that the Stability of FRA goes to -3 and a new religious war erupts. FRA would like to risk exceptional taxes again. However, its Stability is already at -3 so it cannot pay for it. Păřiș is enemy-controlled but this does not provides “cost-free” taxes during religious wars (many people supported the late Duke of Guise and are rather reluctant to help fund the war against his followers...) So, exceptional taxes are not possible until FRA somehow manage to raise its Stability.
[R]118 External Operations  VI.7 External Operations   VI.7.1 Trade fleet Implantation  A Commercial Fleets The operation of Trade fleet implantation targets a STZ/CTZ. Then, use base column FTI-#Fleets+Investment. A.1 See the access limitations in section VI.7.4.1 (Trade fleet) for restriction on the seas that may be targeted. A.2 #Fleets is the number of foreign commercial fleets in the targeted STZ/CTZ, whatever their side. A.3 When targeting its CTZ, a country adds its DTI to the initial column. A.4 When targeting the CTZ of another country, the DTI of the owner of the CTZ is subtracted from the initial column. A.5 POR and HOL (after creation of the VOC) use their special FTI if targeting a STZ in the ROTW, both for column computation and to resolve ½. A.6 The following modifiers to the die-roll are used: +1 If attempting country's TF is already . -1 If at least one pirate is present in the STZ/CTZ. -1 If there was at least one battle, pirate or privateer during the previous turn in the targeted STZ/CTZ. ±7 By event. A.7 A result of “S” increases the level of the TF by 1. If this is the first level, put a counter in the STZ/CTZ (beware that the number of counters is a restriction on the number of TF a country may have, and some countries have other limits). If the TF reaches level 4, turn the counter on its  side. A TF may never have more than 6 levels. A.8 See §D (Fleets) of section VI.8.2.2 (Automatic competitions) if two fleets are  in the same STZ/CTZ or when one TF reaches level 6. A.9 A result of “F” is a failure: nothing happens but the money is lost. A.10 A result of “½” is treated as normal: roll 1d10, if less or equal than FTI (use special FTI if allowed), treat as “S”, otherwise, treat as “F”. Example: At turn 1, ANG wants to increase its trade in the Baltic sea and attempts a TFI in STZ Baltique. The base column is 2 (FTI) - 4 (for the presence of 4 others TF: HOLLANDIA, DANIA, HANSA and SUECIA) = -2, the DRM is 0. Maybe, trying to raise the FTI first could be a good idea. At turn 1, VEN wants to increase its trade in the Adriatic and attempts a TFI in CTZ VENETIA. The base column is 3 (FTI) + 3 (DTI, since the target is its own CTZ) = 6 which is thresholded to 4 (the maximum possible) and the DRM is +1 because the TF is already . At turn 1, TUR wants to try and steal the Venetian trade in Adriatic and attempts a TFI in CTZ VENETIA. The base column is 2 (FTI) - 3 (DTI of VEN since the target is someone else CTZ) - 1 (for the presence of the Venetian TF) = -2 and the DRM is 0.  VI.7.2 Colonies   VI.7.2.1 Normal procedure  A Colonisation The operation of Colonisation targets a province in the ROTW that does not already contains a foreign COL, a Minor establishment or a Pirate haven. If this is the first level, put a counter in the province (beware that the number of counters usable during each period is restricted). If the COL reaches level 4, turn the counter on its  side. A COL may never have more than 6 levels. A.6 A result of “F” is a failure: nothing happens but the money is lost. A.7 A result of “½” is treated as normal: roll 1d10, if less or equal than FTI (use special FTI if allowed), treat as “S”, otherwise, treat as “F”. B An unmodified result of 1 or 2 (even if the action is a success) requires a second roll of 1d10: if it is strictly less than the Tolerance value for the Area, the natives are immediately activated and will attack during the redeployment phase (as per section IX.2 (Attacks by Natives)). B.1 Note that Area with no Tolerance (eg in AMERICA) are not subject to this critical failure. C Special cases C.1 If per chance several players choose the same province for a first COL implantation, they will do an automatic competition between their COL. Resolve it as automatic competition between TP with the loser(s) losing 1 level of COL until only one country still has levels here. See section VI.8.2.2 (Automatic competitions). C.2 If the province was occupied at the beginning of the administrative phase (either by a fort, or military forces, or a TP of another country), the implantation gives an Overseas CB to this country (even in case of failure). By exception, this CB is used at the end of the administrative phase. Minors never use this CB. C.3 If a COL is successfully created and survives automatic competition, enemy Forces in the province are repatriated to the nearest TP or COL, an enemy fort or TP in the province is destroyed. C.4 There is a rule to transform a TP in a COL if a city is present in the province. See below.

 [R]120 External Operations   Example: At turn 1, POR wants to raise its COL of La Praya in Cabo Verde. The Difficulty is 3, the FTI of POR is 5 (special FTI for the ROTW) and POR chooses to make only a small investment. Thus the base column is 5 (FTI) - 3 (Difficulty) = 2. There is a +2 DRM because the COL already exists. POR rolls a 2 for a net result of 4, in column +2 this gives a ½. So POR has to roll lower than its FTI (use special FTI again) and rolls a 6. This is a failure; the COL gains no level but the 30 ₤ of the action are lost. It is an unmodified die roll of 1 or 2 and can thus activate natives! But since there is no Tolerance in Cabo Verde, it has no impact. On turn 2, HIS has left Colón (☞ <R> H 6.1.1 [T1–T3]) in Cuba and wants to create a COL in the rich new World. The FTI of HIS is 2, the Difficulty of the Area is 3. This gives a base column of -1. Since HIS wants a base in America has soon at possible, it does two COL actions there and each of them with a Medium investment (50 ₤) to roll on column 0 (which has one less F than column -1). There is a +3 DRM for the MAN of Colón (halved on land for ☞). Since HIS has not succeed in any COL attempt in the game, one of the attempts (player's choice, but in this case it is not important since they are otherwise the same) will be the "first one" and suffer a DRM of -3 while the other only has -2. Note that since all actions must be scheduled before any is resolved, the second malus will stay even if the first attempt is successful (the worst case for the player applies). So, the first attempt is in column 0 at 0. HIS rolls 6 and gets ½, a second roll of 4 is larger than the FTI, thus it is a failure. The second attempt is still in column 0, but at +1. HIS rolls 7 for a net result of 8. It's a success! A COL of level 1 is put in the province and HIS won't suffer the "first attempts" malus anymore (on following turns).   Playing tip: The MAN of a ♦ is very important for creating COL (and TP). Indeed, each point of MAN is basically 10% more chances of success. So, at the end of a turn, you have to think in advance to where you'll want to colonise on the next turn and place your leaders there. For countries with many good ♦ (HIS, POR and in a smaller measure HOL then FRA), correct placement is the key to a very fast grow of the colonial empire at small cost. Since even in column -4 there is a success, with a ♦ with a MAN of 5, this means 60% chance of S (plus some other for the ½). . . On the other hand, countries with less ♦ (ANG) will sometimes need several actions to put a COL. The bonus for an existing COL will help them to concentrate on existing establishments, but spreading the empire is harder and must be done either with the few ♦ you'll get or with massive amounts of money (Large investments). The malus for first attempts is very painful, especially with no ♦ to overcome it. Basically, unless you have someone competent or vast amount of money at your disposition, consider that there is a 90 ₤ "fee" to enter the colonial game and that the first three attempts are wasted in paying it. Moreover, some progression may occur due to events as well as in the administrative phase. Lastly, the Administrative table is not read in the usual way when resolving this action. A.1 Once everybody has performed its increase technology action (both majors and minors), an adjustment of counters occurs. Check the precise procedure below and follow it closely. The order in which the adjustments occur is important and must be precisely respected. B Technology: general procedure The improvement of technology is done as follows, each step must be completed by all countries before moving to the next. Some steps occur both during event and administrative phases while some occur only during the administrative phase (during the Technology adjustment segment). B.1 Progression through events (majors and cultural groups, event phase); B.2 Progression through administrative operations (majors, administrative phase); B.3 Minor countries progression (cultural groups, administrative phase); B.4 Cultural groups adjustment (cultural groups, administrative phases); B.5 Goals adjustment (goals, administrative phases); B.6 Goals time adjustment (goals, administrative phase). C Progression When a country or cultural group gains technological levels, advance the corresponding marker (Land or Naval) in the corresponding box. C.1 A marker can never stack with a goal of the same kind (Land or Naval). If a technology marker exactly reaches the box where a goal is, then it gains one extra level for free and is put just after the goal. Example: At turn 11, the Land technology of FRA is at level 20 and the goal Arquebus at level 21. FRA manages to gain 1 level of Land technology, thus reaching level 21. Since the marker for FRA may not stack with the marker for Arquebus, FRA gains an extra level for free and is now at level 22. D Events and majors Follow the text of any event (economical or political) that tells to move some technology markers. D.1 Major country may progress in technology through an administrative action. See section VI.8.1.2 (Technology improvement) for details. E Cultural groups progression There are four symbols in the turn track: , , , . When one of these symbols is in the current turn box, the technology counters (both Land and Naval) for this group advance of 1 box during the administrative phase. F Cultural groups adjustment If the technology of a cultural group is 7 or more levels below the technology (of the same kind: Land or Naval) of a major belonging to that group, increase the level of the cultural group so that it is only 6 levels below the highest major of that group. F.1 Remind: POR, HIS, FRA, ANG, VEN, HOL, SUE, AUS, PRU are in the Latin group ; POL is both in the Latin and Orthodox groups ; RUS is in the Orthodox group and also in the Latin group after its reform ; TUR is in the Muslim group. Example: At turn 11, the Land technology for FRA is at 20 and for the Latin group at 15. FRA manages to raise its technology to 22. Latin do not increase normally at turn 11. However, at the end of the administrative phase, the Latin marker is more than 6 boxes below the French one. Since FRA is part of the Latin group, increase the Latin Land level to 16 (=22-6).	Administration— master – 2016-04-14 [R]125 G Goals adjustment At the end of the administrative phase, each goal that was reached during the current phase is moved down until it is in a box preceding a country or group technology counter or two boxes above another goal of the same kind. Example: Blocked by a marker.— At turn, 11, suppose that we have the following positions of markers and goals: Land HIS at 18, Naval VEN at 19, Land FRA at 20 and Arquebus at 21. FRA tries and manages to raise its Land technology at level 22 thus reaching Arquebus. Suppose that none of the other markers moved (eg HIS missed its action and other countries are too far away). After all technological improvements, the situation is: Land HIS at 18, Naval VEN at 19, Arquebus at 21 and Land FRA at 22. Since Arquebus was reached, it must be moved down at the end of the administrative phase. Since it is a Land technology, it ignores the Naval marker of VEN (Land technologies always ignore Naval technologies). However, it is stopped by the Land technology marker of HIS and is thus at level 19. After adjustment, the situation is: Land HIS at 18, Naval VEN and Arquebus at 19, Land FRA at 22. Now that the French learnt the trace italienne and its art of fortification, the Spanish will be quick to learn on the field and should manage to get Arquebus on next turn. . . but there will still be five years of technical domination by the French armies. Example: Blocked by another goal.— Suppose that Renaissance is at level 3 (blocked by the ROTW group at level 2), Arquebus at level 10 and only the RUS marker, at level 9, is between them. RUS increases its Land technology and gets Arquebus. Thus the marker must be adjusted down. There are no Land technology marker to block it, but it is blocked by the goal marker of Renaissance and stays at level 5. The “empty” level 4 is here to force ROTW to access new technologies one at a time. H Time adjustment If a goal is available (the current turn is larger or equal to the turn written on the goal counter) and not blocked by another goal or marker (as above) of the same kind (Land or Naval), the goal is adjusted down by one level. Example: At turn 21, after technology improvement, suppose that the best Land technology of countries and groups is 27. Since Muskets is available at turn 21 and at level 30, it decreases to level 29. If nobody manages to raise its technology at turn 22, then Muskets will still be available and ahead of countries, so it will decrease further to 28. Then Muskets will be at level 28, blocked by the Land technology of someone at level 27, thus it will stop its time adjustment (but will do goal adjustment as soon as somebody acquires it). Example: Suppose that the ROTW Land technology is at level 2, the Renaissance at level 3 and Arquebus was adjusted down at level 5 per Goal adjustment. Since Arquebus is available, it should move down due to Time adjustment. However, it is still blocked by Renaissance (one free box must stay between two technologies) and stays in place. Playing tip: Time adjustment only occurs for goals that nobody possess. Indeed, goals reached by someone undergo Goal adjustment which directly move them down until they are blocked. And since they are blocked, they do not move by time adjustment any more. So, only the newest technology may undergo Time adjustment. Design note: The order in which the different steps occur is very important and should be respected carefully. Especially: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Cultural group adjustment occurs after scheduled progression of groups. • Goals adjustment occurs only once per turn (during the Administrative phase) and not each time someone reaches a goal. So, a country 3 levels behind a goal may not hope for someone else to reach the goal and make it drop before raising its technology on the same turn (however, this can be done in 2 turns). To do it properly: at the end of the administrative phase, one player should do the Cultural groups progression followed by all the adjustments in order. VI.8.1.2 Technology improvement A Administrative operation

[R]128 Other administrative operations B Every time the technology of the Latin group increase, also increase the technologies (both Land and Naval) of each former major by 1 level (if it is still on the track). C As soon as the technology of the Latin group is at the same level (or above) than the one of a former major, immediately remove the marker of the former major. This occurs because only the group undergoes Cultural Group adjustment. D When a former major (PORTUGALLIA, VENETIA, POLONIA) is involved in battle: D.1 use the technological level of the marker or this major if it is still on the track; D.2 otherwise, use the technological level of the Latin group. VI.8.1.6 Military Revolutions A Some events/leaders give the possibility of Military Revolution. Only one of the two effects below may happen each turn for each country: A.1 Catching up If the country does not already have the newest technological goal that can be obtained, it gains it and its marker goes to the box immediately after it. It may gain several technologies in one turn (if it was really lagging behind) in which case it pay the conversion cost that many time. A.2 Breakthrough If the country has the highest technology goal available, and the next one will become available during the current period, the country obtains this goal, and its marker is placed two boxes ahead of the goal marker which is not moved ; the goal will not undergo Goals adjustment nor Time adjustment before the turn written on the counter. The country may not increase its technology further before the goal is regularly available for everybody. The country has to pay the conversion cost for reaching a new technology as usual. B Note that military revolutions are free and replace the technology advancement action on the turns where they occur. C Spreading breakthrough If a country participate in a battle including at least one of its A and one A of a country that has a technology which is not yet available, it gains the right to reach this technology on following turns. D The two A involved may be either allies or enemies in said battle, that is one may learn both from it allies and it enemies. D.1 The countries that do not directly benefit from the breakthrough must still increase their technology as usual in order to reach the goal. D.2 The goal is still considered as not available when resolving the action. D.3 The goal does not undergo Goal or Time adjustment before being regularly available. D.4 Countries that did not directly benefit from the breakthrough must stop at the level immediately above the level of the goal (ie, the level immediately below the level of the country benefiting from the breakthrough). D.5 Neither the country benefiting from the revolution nor the ones getting the technology some other way may improve their technology further until the technology is available for everybody. E Existing Military Revolutions: E.1 during event IV-7 (1) (English Civil War), due to Cromwell (Baroque (representing the New Model Army), or Arquebus in period III); E.2 during event IV-A (Thirty Years' War), due to Gustav Adolf (usually Baroque, representing Läderkanonen and other innovations); E.3 due to Friedrich II (Lace, representing the Oblique order).	Administration— master – 2016-04-14 [R]129 Example: At turn 27, event IV-1 (1) (Bohemian Revolt) occurs and at turn 28, it degenerates into event IV-A (Thirty Years' War). At turn 29, SUE enters the war and, as per event description, it benefits from a Military Revolution on each turn of the war. Suppose that the current technology of SUE is only Arquebus. Since SUE does not have the best technology available (Muskets), it only has a Catching up and immediately gets Muskets for free. Nothing more happens. SUE still need to pay for conversion costs on this turn. On turn 30, SUE does have the best technology available. The next one is Baroque, available at turn 33, which is during the current period (IV). So SUE benefits from a breakthrough. It immediately gets Baroque and is placed 2 levels above (hence level 42). It may not move before Baroque is available (turn 33). SUE still need to pay for conversion costs on this turn (and is usually happy to do so). During turn 30, a battle takes pace at Brettenfeld involving 1A of SUE (plus Saxons allies) against 1A of AUS (plus Bavarian allies). The Austrians are severely beaten, but since they experimented the new tactics the hard way, they can now reach Baroque (of course, not before turn 31 since technology does not increase during military phase). At turn 31, SUE cannot gain the next technology as it is not available during this period, so even if it still benefits from a military revolution (one per turn during the event), it has no effect. AUS can get Baroque and succeed. It must stop at level 41 (one level above the goal) and may not move further before turn 33 (when the goal will be available). During turn 31, a stack composed of 1A of AUS and 1A of HIS fight against 1A of HOL. HOL learns the new tactics the hard way, but HIS learn them from watching their allies. Thus, at turn 32 both HOL and HIS will be allowed to reached Baroque (and stop at level 41). At turn 33, everybody may reach Baroque and countries that already have it may move further. VI.8.2 Competitions A The competition mechanism is the way to settle all matters of conflicts of the administrative phase. This is used to reduce other people's trading fleets, settle the cases where two TP or COL are installed at the same time in the same province or where a single resource may be exploited by several outposts, etc. There are two kinds of competition: normal competition (one country pays for an action that will target another country), and automatic competition (some conditions are not respected in a specific zone, and there is competition until the conditions are respected). B Sequence Normal competition happens during the administrative phase, at the same time as other administrative actions. Automatic competition happens at the end of the administrative phase, after all other administrative actions have been resolved, to solve conflicting situations. Automatic competition for the exploitation of exotic resources may also happen after the Peace phase (since peace may change owners of TP or COL or destroy TP). VI.8.2.1 Normal competitions A Target The administrative action of normal competition targets an item of another country (major or minor). A.1 Competition may target: a commercial fleet, a TP, or a COL exploiting resources. A.2 A TP or COL can only be targeted if the country has a TP or a COL in the same Area. A.3 A commercial fleet in the ROTW may only be targeted if it is in a legal STZ according to section VI.7.4.1 (Trade fleet). B Reaction The target country, may react by paying a Basic investment, Medium investment or a Strong investment. B.1 This does not count towards its own limit of actions. There is no limit on the number of reactions a country may do each turn. B.2 The player must be informed of all the details of the action (target and investment) before choosing whether to react. The player may wait to know all the competitions that are done against him before deciding whether to react for each of them. That is, Administrative actions (including competitions) should be all planned, then announced publicly before deciding to react; and only after reactions are decided can actions be resolved. B.3 Minor countries automatically react with a medium investment. B.4 Money expended for reactions is recorded in line B36 (Administrative reactions) of ERS. C Column The competition actions are resolved in table VI.1 (Administrative Actions). The column is: (FTI country) + (Investment country) - (FTI target) - (Investment target).
[R]130 Other administrative operations C.1 Investment adds (or subtracts) 0, 1, 3 columns for Basic, Medium, Strong (as usual). C.2 If targeting a TF in a CTZ, the owner of the CTZ adds its DTI to his FTI (as bonus if it is the acting country, malus if this is the target). C.3 If the target chooses not to react at all (no investment), then do not subtracts its FTI nor its DTI for finding the column. D Modifiers The die-roll is modified as follows: D.1 Commercial fleet -1 if there is at least one commercial fleet of a third party in the target STZ or CTZ. D.2 TP or COL -1 if at least one third party TP is in the Area. D.3 Wars -1 if there were battles (including fighting privateers or piracy) in the Area or the STZ (or CTZ) in the previous turn. E Results E.1 A result of "S" decreases the level of the target by 1 (Exception: COL, see below). If this is the last level, remove the counter in the province or sea zone. If the TF or TP reaches level 3, turn the counter on its ☹ side. E.2 A result of "F" is a failure: nothing happens but the money is lost. E.3 A result of "½" is treated as normal: roll 1d10, if less or equal than FTI (use special FTI if allowed), treat as "S", otherwise, treat as "F". F Competition on COL If a competition targets a COL and succeed, the COL does not loss a level. F.1 However, it loss, for this turn only, the possibility to exploit one of its resources. F.2 The resource is thus freed and can be exploited by other establishments in the Area. G freeing resources If a COL is victim of competition, or a TP is victim of competition and does not have enough level to exploit all its resources anymore, it must free one resource (or more) for other establishments to exploit. G.1 The freed resource is chosen by the owner of the establishment. Minor countries always free the resources that currently cost less, in case of equality the resource whose maximum price is the smallest (at random in case of further equality). Example: At turn 2, Da Gama, in a brief war against GUZARATE, manages to seize the TP in S. Malabār and thus exploits the Spice and the PO that it exploits. During turn 3, POR wants to seize the other Spice in the Area and does competition on the TP of GUZARATE in Kolīkot (since POR has a TP in the same Area, it may do competition). POR chooses to do two competitions (its limit for the period) on the TP, each with Medium investment (60 Ⓓ total). The minor country automatically reacts with Medium Investment and a FTI of 2 (as explained in section VI.10 (Administration for minor countries)). Thus, the column is 5 (Special FTI of POR) + 1 (Investment of POR) - 2 (FTI of GUZARATE) - 1 (Investment of GUZARATE) = 3. There is a -1 DRM as battles (in this case sieges) occurred in the Area on turn 2 for the capture of the TP. For the first action, POR rolls 7 for a result of 6. It's a success and the TP of GUZARATE losses a level. For the second action, POR rolls 3 for a result of 2, it's a ½. A second roll gives 5, less than the FTI of POR (5), so it's also a success and the TP losses a second level. Since the TP of GUZARATE is now of level 1, it can not exploit 2 Spice anymore (it can only exploit 1). So it must free one of the two exploited resource (in this case, the choice has no importance). If POR also managed to raise the level of its newly conquered TP, it can immediately exploit this resource (otherwise, since there are no other establishment, the resource is not exploited immediately). VI.8.2.2 Automatic competitions A Conditions Automatic competition occurs when abnormal situations arise after resolving administrative actions. Namely: A.1 A STZ or CTZ contains several TF☉. A.2 A STZ or CTZ contains one level 6 TF and one or more other TF.	Administration— master – 2016-04-14 [R]131 A.3 Players disagree on the repartition of exploited resources in a given Area (and there has been a change of situation in this Area: new resource, new levels of COL/TP, successful competition freeing some resource, . . .) A.4 There are two COL or two TP in the same province (note that this may only happen if both were created this turn). B Mechanism Automatic competitions use the following mechanism: every country involved in an automatic competition rolls one die and checks the result in table VI.1 (Administrative Actions). B.1 The column is usually (FTI country) - (Highest FTI of opponent). There is no investment. B.2 Treat ½ as usual by a roll under FTI. B.3 A "F" implies the loss of one level for the field of competition. B.4 The procedure is reiterated again until the conditions of automatic competition do not apply any more. B.5 The automatic competitions do not count in the limit of competitions for the turn. B.6 Resolve automatic competition in each STZ, CTZ or Area separately. That is, if a country competes against two different opponents in two different STZ, each one will use a different FTI of enemy. C If there is a disagreement concerning the order in which automatic competitions should be resolved, they are resolved in a random order. D Fleets All TF☉ in a given STZ or CTZ must compete between them. Simultaneously, each level 6 TF competes again all other TF in its STZ or CTZ. D.1 Note that TF of current level 0 do exist and thus compete against TF of level 6 (and loose maximum level in case of failure). D.2 Each country use the highest FTI of opponents involved in competition against it. D.3 In its own CTZ, a country adds its DTI to its FTI (both as a bonus for itself and a malus for opponents), before finding the highest FTI. D.4 No modifiers apply. D.5 Each country that does not obtain "S" (including after ½) loss one level of TF. D.6 Repeat the procedure until the conditions for competition do not exist anymore. Example: Suppose, that during period V, the CTZ FRANCIA contains a TF of level 6 of HOL (FTI 5), a TF of level 4 of FRA (DTI 2, FTI 4) and a TF of level 2 of ANG (FTI 5). Since there is a TF of level 6, it must compete against all other. FRA being in its CTZ adds its DTI to its FTI for a total of 6. Each other only has 5. Since ANG does not compete against FRA (both their TF could co-exist), it use the FTI of HOL as opponent. So, FRA rolls on columns 1 (6-5), ANG in column 0 (5-5) and HOL in column -1 (5-6). FRA rolls 7, it is a S; ANG rolls 4, ½, a second rolls give 7, thus a F and the level of the fleet decrease; and HOL rolls 3, a F. So, after 1 round of competition, there is a TF of level 5 of HOL, a TF of level 1 of ANG and a TF of level 4 of FRA. The English TF is no more in danger but there are still several TF☉, so competition goes on between HOL (column -1) and FRA (column 1) until one of them goes down to level 3. E Establishments in a province There is an automatic competition when several countries happen to create a COL or TP at the same time in the same province. E.1 There is no automatic competition if a country creates a COL and one creates a TP in the same province at the same time: the COL remains. E.2 Use the highest FTI of opponents involved in the competition. E.3 Any country that does not roll "S" loss one level to its establishment. E.4 The competition ends when only one establishment remains in the province. F Resource exploitation When players disagree on the exploitation of free resources in an Area, automatic competition occurs. F.1 Resources that were exploited on the previous turn are not subject to this competition unless they are first freed somehow (usually, by regular competition).

F.2 New resources appearing in a province are subject to automatic competition if several countries have enough levels to exploit them and the players disagree. F.3 When several establishments gain level in a given Area, there may be more levels than necessarily to exploit all the remaining resources, in which case automatic competition occurs if the players disagree. F.4 A player may, as a diplomatic announcement, free some (or all) resource exploited by its establishment in some Area. Note that this happens before the Income computation, thus the freed resources will not generate income on this turn and can be exploited by someone else only at the end of the Administrative phase. G Area with multiple resources In Area producing several kind of resources, competition is done for each resource in an order chosen by the involved country with the better initiative. H Order of competitions If the player disagree on the order in which the competitions should be resolved, do it in a random order. H.1 Players may renounce to their rights of exploitation at any time during the process. Typically, after a successful automatic competition in one Area, a player may magnanimously decide to leave the resources to someone else in another Area. H.2 Agreements between players may be done globally for several Area. Any agreement announced publicly must be respected. H.3 If a country chooses to stop competition before the end in a given Area (to avoid losing levels), it may not exploit any of the remaining non-attributed resources in this Area during this turn (in case every body else loses). H.4 TP lose levels permanently, COL do not lose levels but only rights of exploitation for the turn. A TP reaching level 0 is destroyed. H.5 Resources are not freed in case of Speculation (§E (Speculation) of section VI.12.1.2 (Variation of price)). Example: HOL, ANG and FRA are competing for the exploitation of two Spices resources. HOL and FRA both have enough levels to exploit one and ANG can exploit both. ANG and HOL have TP while FRA has a COL. After one roll, nobody lost and the situation is unchanged. ANG does not want to risk its levels and says it agree to leave the competition if the other leave 1 Spice to ANG. The other are reluctant but finally convinced after seeing the size of the English navy. So ANG takes 1 Spice and loses the possibility to exploit the second one this turn. The competition goes on between FRA and HOL. At the next roll, both HOL and FRA are unsuccessful and thus lose the possibility to exploit the new Spice this turn. Since HOL had a TP in this competition, it losses a level. The French COL does not loss any level but is simply prohibited from exploiting one resource this turn. ANG is not allowed to take the remaining free resource, even if it has the possibility to do so, because it has already renounced its rights this turn. This last Spice will be exploitable next turn, both by ANG without creating new Establishment (as one of its level still remains with no exploitation), by FRA without creating new establishment (as the "extra" level of COL will regain its rights for exploitation on the next turn) and by anybody successfully managing to create new levels.
VI.9 Resolution of actions A Once all players have chosen their actions, and written them down with all relevant column, DRM, and such, they can be resolved. A.1 In practise, conflicts are few and players may start resolving their actions as soon as they have finish planning them. Playing tip: Players should "pair" to solve their actions. One of them state his actions, one by one, with relevant column and DRM, and roll the die while the other check the table to see whether it's a success or a failure. B The procedure to resolve the action is described together with the action itself, check the relevant Sections.

B.5 By exception, in period III, these actions are planned and resolved by HIS whatever the diplomatic status of PORTUGALLIA (and even if HIS is currently at war against PORTUGALLIA). Design note: This latest exception prevents other players from poorly playing a country that will soon be part of HIS for a long time. C Venice C.1 During periods IV and V, VENETIA has 1 TFI each turn. C.2 Afterwards, it is treated as other minor countries. D Vassals D.1 Vassals have no actions. However, their diplomatic patron may use its own TFI for the benefits of a vassal. D.2 In this case, the patron has to pay for the action. E Other cases E.1 Non-vassal minors have 1 TFI each turn if and only if there is at least 1 CTZ/STZ where their maximum level is strictly less than their reference level. E.2 This action must target one CTZ/STZ where the maximum level is strictly less than the reference level.

Description of Military forces

B.1 The result is a number between 0 and 7 representing an abstract measure of the typical size of forces fielded by this country during that period.

B.2 A larger size means that the country usually fielded more men in battles. However, this is an abstract measure and there is no direct correspondence between the size and an actual number of soldiers. Moreover, these numbers are relative (to other countries). A decreasing size does not mean that the country had smaller armies, but rather than its neighbours started having larger ones.

B.3 Countries with larger size do more damage in battle when facing countries with smaller size.

C Cavalry is abstractly represented by giving a small bonus in battle to certain classes of armies during certain periods of the game.

D Artillery. Each $\Delta\ominus$ and $\Delta\oplus$ contains a certain number of artillery. This number is an abstract representation (rather than an actual number of guns and howitzers) of the amount and efficiency of field and siege artillery.

D.1 The number of artillery per $\Delta\oplus$ can be read in table VII.2 (Artillery per $\Delta\oplus$) by cross-referencing the country (or class) with the current period.

D.2 An $\Delta\ominus$ always contains half the number of artillery of an $\Delta\oplus$ (rounded down).

Table VII.3: Countenance of Fleets

F.3 For maintenance and purchase, 1NDE costs as much as half a NWD.

F.4 NDE are never counted in stacking and supply limits.

G Pirates. The last naval forces are pirates and privateers. They represent independent sailors that attack trade fleets. Privateers (P) work for one country; pirates are represented by the (abstract) minor country PIRATE (who mostly has P units). P have to be maintained or bought.

H Trade fleets (TF) are not naval forces. They only represent trade activity (not specific ships), do not move and can only be attacked by pirates and privateers.

Example: In period III, the size of English fleets is "2/1:5/1". Thus, a $\mathbb{F}\ominus$ of ANG may contain up to 2NWD and 1NTD while a $\mathbb{F}\oplus$ may contain up to 5NWD and 1NTD.

If ANG wishes to group together 3NWD (and no NTD), it must use a $\mathbb{F}\oplus$ (and pay the maintenance cost for one) because this cannot fit within one $\mathbb{F}\ominus$.

In period III, TUR has also a fleet size of "2/1:5/1". However, since NGD only count as half a ND in fleet countenance, one $\mathbb{F}\oplus$ of TUR may hold up to 10NGD and 1NTD.

VII.1.3 Fortifications

A Fortifications are immobile forces used to defend provinces. There are two kinds of fortifications: fortresses and forts. In Europe, fortifications represent the whole defence system of the province thus including several actual fortresses, citadels, fortified towns, ...

A.1 Fortifications are also supply sources for both land and naval troops.

VII.1.3.1 Fortification counters

A Fortresses have a level between 1 and 5.

A.1 Each European province, as well as some ROTW provinces, has a basic fortress of level either 1 or 2 drawn of the map.

A.2 Fortresses of higher level may be built provided the country has a sufficiently high technology.

A.3 Fortresses may lose levels due to sieges. If this puts the fortress below its basic level, use the white level 1 counters to denote it. In no case can the fortress of an European province go below 1.

Logistic— master – 2016-04-14

[R]143

A.4 Note that fortresses counters are double-sided. Thus, building a fortress prevents a country from building the one on the back of the counter. It is always possible to switch one fortress counter for another (of the same level (and country)) if the need arise.

B Forts are sometimes referred to as "level 0 fortresses". They may only exist in the ROTW.

B.1 All colonial establishments (COL and TP), as well as missions automatically have a fort.

B.2 Other forts may be built during the military phase by land forces.

B.3 A COL of level 6 is considered to be an European province. Thus, it gains for free a basic fortress of level 1. Use white level 1 counters to denote it. Since this is a basic fortress, there is no need to pay for its maintenance.

C Præsidios are small fortifications built in enemy territory to try and control access to the sea rather than the land itself.

C.1 In European provinces where there is a circled anchor (whatever its colour), a foreign country may build a Præsidio. See section IX.6 (Building Præsidios) for building it and section VIII.10.7 (Effet d'un presidio (COMPLETER avec 53.8)) for its effects.

D Arsenals. Some countries have fortresses counters with a gold anchor on them. These are arsenals.

D.1 Arsenals can only be built in the ROTW (exception: Gibraltar, Sebastopol and S'-Petersburg).

VII.1.3.2 Fortifications as Supply sources

A Land Supply.

A.1 Forts may only supply detachments (LD or LDE).

A.2 Other fortresses can supply any number of land troops, whatever the level of the fortress.

A.3 COL and TP, although they only have a fort, are supply sources for any number of land troops (that is, the establishment has more supply capacity that its intrinsic fort).

B Naval Supply.

B.1 Forts may only supply detachments (ND or NDE).

B.2 Regular (non-arsenal) ports can supply any number of naval stacks containing at most one \mathbb{F} counter (each), whatever the level of the fortress.

B.3 Arsenal can supply any number of naval forces of any size.

B.4 COL and TP, although they only have a fort, are supply sources as regular ports: each can supply any number of naval stacks containing at most one \mathbb{F} counter (that is, the establishment has more supply capacity that its intrinsic fort).

Design note: Note that supply limits are cumulative. That is, a single fortress may supply as many stacks (land or naval) as wanted, as long as it can supply each of them individually. There is no "using up" of the supply capacity. The "extra supply capacity" of COL or TP (with respect to their fortification level) is reminded in the size of the counter: they use big counters because they have a lot of food.

VII.1.4 Veteran and Conscripts

A Veterans and Conscripts. All land forces can be either Veteran or Conscripts. A Veteran army has seen more battles than conscripts, is better trained, and less likely to flee in the presence of the enemy. A Conscript army is formed of newer soldier and paid less.

A.1 Veteran have a bonus in battle (better moral). However, their maintenance cost is also higher.

B Who is Veteran? If the country is at peace (being only engaged in Overseas Wars (see section IV.5.4 (Overseas Wars)) and limited interventions (see section IV.5.5.3 (Signing an Alliance for Intervention)) counts as being at peace), all land forces are maintained as Veteran forces, using the Peace maintenance price.

[R]152 Recruitment C Navy size C.1 Each country has a maximum number of ND allowed on map at the same time, varying by periods. This counts both ND counters and NF counters. C.2 It can be found in the player's aid of each country, in the column "Max. ND". C.3 It also summarised in table VII.5 (Recruitment per Country) (second line, second number). C.4 NGD and NDE count as half a ND toward this limit. NTD and VGD count as a full ND. D Costs D.1 Each country has a recruitment cost, for NWD, NTD, NF, and, sometimes also for NGD and NF of NGD, varying with its current technology. D.2 It can be found in the player's aid of each country, in the columns "Navy Purchase" and "Purchase (other)". D.3 The cost for one NF is the cost for a full counter, up to its countenance. D.4 Beware! Countries with small recruitment limit (e.g. POL or RUS) may not recruit a NF in one turn unless they first increase their limit. That is, the existence of a price for a counter does not remove other conditions for buying it. D.5 Even if they do not benefit from the technologies, the cost of NGD varies with them. D.6 NDE cost half the price of a ND, rounded up. E Recruitment area. There is no specific recruitment area for navies. They can be brought in any European province with a port, including European provinces in the ROTW and (coastal) COL of level 6. F Recruitment. Each country decides how many ships it wants to purchase, where it wants them recruited and under which form (counters). Then it computes the cost for these. F.1 The cost is written in line B33 of ERS (together with the cost of newly brought armies). F.2 The new units are put on the map when resolving administrative actions. F.3 Since NF counters are containers, it is possible to recruit some ND directly "inside" them (if there is still room left for them) without physically putting the ND counter on the map. Example: Naval recruitment.— In Period IV, the recruitment limit of SUE is 4ND. Since its NF contains 5ND and 2NTD, SUE may not buy one of them in one turn. If the naval technology of SUE is Battery, SUE can in on turn buy one NF (containing 2ND and 1NTD) for 150, plus an additional NWD at 55. This makes a total of 4ND, the recruitment limit for a given turn. The NWD may be directly incorporated within the NF, since a NF is too small to contain 3ND, the counter is turned (and will require maintenance of a full NF, thus it might be way cheaper to keep this stack as 1NF and 1ND). On the next turn, SUE may buy another NF and merge all of this into a full NF. Example: Wood.— Continuing the previous example, suppose that SUE has one Wood MNU of level 1 and also buys a second Wood from ANG. Each of these Wood increases its limit by 1ND to a total of 6ND. Thus, SUE may now recruit 2NF on the same turn (but still not a full NF). If SUE exploits Wood in the ROTW and has the possibility to buy another Wood from POL, that would make a total of 4 Wood available. However, the limit may only be increased by 3ND. That is, the fourth (and subsequent) Wood is useless and, in this case, buying it is a waste of money. Example: Galleys.— In Period III, TUR may "only" recruit 9ND per turn. However, NGD count as half, so TUR may recruit up to 18NGD per turn! Its NF can hold up to 5ND and 1NTD, that is 10NGD and 1NTD. Thus, TUR can largely buy 1NF and 1NF each turn. . . This is, typically, what happened after Lepanto where the Turkish navy was crushed but rebuilt in a couple of years. Given the high cost of both building and upkeeping navies, it is very rare to buy that much ND during a given turn and things are usually more evenly spread over time. VII.3.3.2 Naval Recruitment in the ROTW A Level 6 COL are considered as European provinces and follow the normal rules for naval recruitment.	Logistic— master – 2016-04-14 [R]153 B Other establishments. Each ND (or NTD) built in a COL (of level 5 or less) or TP costs twice the normal price and counts as 2ND in the recruitment limit. B.1 When building NF in the ROTW, make sure that the recruitment limit is high enough! B.2 It is not possible to build navies in forts or missions (alone). C Fisheries In a COL (including of level 6) where Fish is exploited, up to 1NDE per two levels of Fish exploited can be built outside of the construction limit, at normal cost. Example: In Period IV, FRA has a COL of level 4 in TERRE-NEUVE, exploiting 4 Fish. Thus, it may build there 2NDE that do not count toward the recruitment limit (of 5ND). If FRA wants to build 2ND there, that is 3NDE plus 1ND, the first two NDE do not count toward the limit, but the third counts twice (thus, as a full ND) and the ND also counts twice, so this takes 3ND of recruitment. If the technology of FRA is Battery, this would cost 23 (22.5 rounded up) for each of the first two NDE, then the cost of the rest is doubled. This brings the total to 23 + 23 + 2 × 23 + 2 × 55 = 167. VII.3.3.3 Privateers A P may be recruited in any controlled and owned port, including in the ROTW. A.1 Each side cost 10 and counts as 1ND toward recruitment limit. A.2 When P are included in basic forces, they are rebuilt for free (both cost and limit) if destroyed (up to the basic forces). A.3 Some P are also obtained via specific rules (see rules dealing with each power, especially section XIV.2.1.1 (French Privateers) and section XIV.14.8.4 (Ragusa)). These are free of the costs mentioned here (both in and construction limit) but the specific rules may entail specific costs. VII.3.4 Exceptional Levies [should be moved in chMilitary] A Declaring Exceptional Levies A.1 Once per turn, a country which is fully at war may declare Exceptional levies at the end of any round during which it suffered a major defeat in a land battle. This is possible only during regular full wars (i.e. not during civil, religious or overseas wars and not during limited or foreign interventions). A.2 The country immediately loses 1 Stability. Levies may be declared by a country already at -3 Stability, at no additional cost. A.3 Once declared, levies are available for the rest of the turn. It is not possible to declare Exceptional Levies several times during the same turn. A.4 Exception: SUE and PRU may declare levies after any defeat in a land battle (not necessarily major). Moreover, one of them may declare levies after a major defeat without paying 1 Stability. A.5 Exception: POR may declare Exceptional Levies during Overseas Wars, if it has a Vice Roy alive. There are specific conditions for these levies, see section XIV.4.1.1 (Viceroys of the India). B Recruitment during Exceptional Levies B.1 Once Exceptional Levies are declared, the Country may recruit land forces at the end of each round of the turn, except the last one. This is done during the End of turn segment, after the continuation roll. B.2 The recruitment limit is halved (rounded up) and the number of LD recruited this turn is reseted to 0 when levies are declared. B.3 Recruitment due to exceptional levies follows the normal recruitment rules, with this new limit. B.4 The cost of recruitment is written in line B44 (Exceptional recruitments) of ERS.
[R]154 Recruitment B.5 SUE and PRU do not recruit Veteran troops with Exceptional Levies. Example: During Period IV, HIS has a land recruitment limit of 5LD. Exhausted by the Thirty Years War, it suddenly has to face FRA in addition to the Protestants! Thus, it decides to recruit 6LD (one at double cost) during the administrative phase. HIS has a Stability of only 0, due to the already long war. Its technology is Baroque. Alas! At Rocroy, the Spaniards are hopelessly crushed by Grand Condé, a major defeat. HIS loses 1 Stability because of the defeat (thus going to -1) and then decides that there are way too many blue counters on the map and that adding some yellow ones is required. Thus, it declares exceptional levies. This brings the Stability down to -2. Now, HIS may recruit troops anew. The limit is halved (to 3LD), but the number of troops recruited so far is reseted. HIS decides to recruit an A, that is 4LD. Since the limit is 3LD, the fourth is doubled for a cost of 50 + 25 + 2 × 25 = 125. On the next round, HIS manages to avoid the main French armies and wage a war of attrition, thus suffering no new major defeat but still losing some troops in skirmishes. Since levies are declared for the full turn, it may still recruit troop at the end of this round. The treasure fleet made its way safely from AMERICA, thus HIS decides to raise another A, that is 4 new LD. Since it has already recruited 4LD last round with exceptional levies, and the limit is only 3LD, that means that 2LD are below twice the limit and the last 2 are at triple price, for a cost of 2 × 50 + 3 × 50 = 250! Hopefully, disagreement within the French nobility will prevent this war from lasting too long. . . Later this turn HIS suffers yet another major defeat at Nördlingen. Since 8LD were already recruited with Exceptional Levies, it is possible to recruit only one more. Thus, HIS would very much like to declare Exceptional Levies a second time to reset the count of recruited troops. However, this is not possible and HIS has to hold for the rest of the turn with what is left of its armies. VII.3.5 Recruitment of Minor Powers VII.3.5.1 Going to war A When a minor country enter wars, immediately (during the Diplomacy phase) put all its basic force in play. Especially the "one more fortress level per turn" rule do not apply for basic forces (only for reinforcements). A.1 Former majors may have some fortress already in play (maintained from previous turns). These levels are subtracted from any level of fortress they have in basic forces. That is, basic forces is the minimum the country has upon entering war, not the amount it gains. A.2 Basic forces are only received if the country was fully at peace and enters war. No basic forces are received in the middle of a war, even if the basic forces of the country change (due to some events, usually). B Next, during the Administrative phase, minor receive reinforcement as described below. Example: VENETIA has a basic force of 4. If there already are 5 extra levels of fortress on the map when war occurs, VENETIA do not receive any more. If there are 3 extra levels on the map, then VENETIA would only receive 1 level as basic force (to reach the total to 4). Before event IV-11 (The Great Elector Friedrich-Wilhelm of Prussia), the basic forces of BRANDENBURG are A, LD. After, they switch to A, LD. If this event occurs while BRANDENBURG is at war and only A in play (more than the old basic force, but less than the new one), BRANDENBURG do not gain any new forces (it will roll for reinforcement as usual). That is, the country needs one turn of peace to recruit its troop up to its basic forces. VII.3.5.2 Minors fully at peace A Troops and Navies A minor which is fully at peace (no war, overseas war or Limited intervention) recruits up to its basic forces. A.1 Remember that troops in excess of the basic forces are disbanded (except some fortresses), see section VII.2.4 (Maintenance of Minor Powers). A.2 Thus, it is not necessarily to put these counters on map. Once a minor is at peace during the Administrative phase, all its counters (except some fortresses) may be removed from the map. The next time the minor goes to war, it will receive its basic forces. B Fortresses	Logistic— master – 2016-04-14 [R]155 B.1 [TBD] A minor country with Land Technology Baroque or higher has an extra basic force of one level of fortress for every two provinces it owns. B.2 [TBD] A minor country with Land Technology Manoeuvre or higher has an extra basic force of one level of fortress for every province it owns. B.3 [TBD] These levels do not need to be evenly spread over the provinces and may be grouped into the same province. B.4 In addition, during periods V-VII, each minor country with an Income of 16 or more gets one extra level of fortress in its basic forces. B.5 Before Arquebus, a fortress of level 3 can only be placed by minor countries at the cost of 2 levels of fortress on top of an existing level 2. B.6 Before turn 40, a fortress of level 4 can only be placed by minor countries at the cost of 2 levels of fortress on top of an existing level 3. Example: Fortresses.— ALGERIA normally owns 6 provinces and has an Income of 17. If its technology is Baroque, in period IV, it receives 3 levels of as Basic forces and may choose to put 2 of them in Algérie (thus reaching level 3) and 1 in Oran (going to level 2). Note that it is not possible to put a level 4 fortress in Algérie as the fourth level (above a level 3) itself costs two levels before turn 40. In period V, ALGERIA gains a fourth level of fortress as Basic force due to its high Income. It may now put a level 4 fortress in Algérie (if allowed by technology). However, before turn 40, that would cost the four levels as going from level 3 to level 4 cost two levels. If ALGERIA reaches technology Manoeuvre, it now has a total of 7 level of fortress when going to war (1 per province plus 1 for high Income) and may choose to barricade the cost with level 3 fortresses in Oran and Annabah, and a level 4 in Algérie. VII.3.5.3 Minors in Limited Intervention or Overseas wars A Maximum recruitment A.1 A MIN which is doing a Limited Intervention or is involved in an Overseas War (and is not fully at war in some other war) recruits troop if it has less than its Basic forces. A.2 Troops recruited during Limited Interventions or Overseas Wars may not raise the total number of troops above the Basic Forces. A.3 If the allowed reinforcement would bring the total number of troops above the Basic Forces of the country, then it only recruits up to its Basic Forces and excess reinforcement is lost. B Recruitment of non-VA B.1 A MIN which is either Neutral, RM, SUB or MA may recruit its Basic Reinforcement (indicated in the country description in the Appendices). B.2 A MIN in EC or EW may recruit its Basic Reinforcement plus one LD or ND (controller's choice). B.3 These recruitment do not cost anything to anybody. There are considered as payed by the minor, whatever its actual income may be. C Recruitment of VA C.1 A MIN in VA gains no free reinforcement each turn. C.2 Instead, the Patron may pay for reinforcements, on his own treasury, to raise troops up to the basic forces of the country. C.3 The cost are those of the Controller, with the technology of the minor. C.4 These troops are not counted toward the recruitment limit of the major. C.5 The maximal reinforcements raised this way are the basic reinforcements, plus 2 detachments (LD or ND). D Moral D.1 All land reinforcements of MIN are Conscripts, except:

[R]156	Recruitment
D.2 SUECIA recruits all its new forces as Veteran ;
D.3 HELVETIA recruits its new forces as Veteran if its Land Technology is Muskets or less;
D.4 PERSIA recruits half of its new forces as Veteran (round down).
E Campaigns
E.1 Neutral minors in overseas wars or interventions have 1 active campaign each round.
E.2 Countries that are neither Neutral nor VA receive 1 passive campaign each round, plus one active campaign for the turn. The controller may pay for larger campaigns (paying the difference between the chosen campaign and the passive one).
E.3 VA in overseas wars or interventions have no campaign. All their campaign cost must be payed by their diplomatic patron. The patron may either chose to move the minor's troops with its own campaign or pay a whole new campaign only for the minor (in addition to the one used for its troops).

VII.3.5.4 Minors fully at War
A Generalities
A.1 Minor fully at war, whatever their diplomatic status, receive reinforcements according to a Reinforcement roll .
A.2 These roll are made during the Administrative action of minors (incl. recruitment) segment.
A.3 In case the order is relevant, each MAJ, in decreasing order of initiative, roll for reinforcements of its minors.
A.4 The reinforcement roll provides troops, campaigns, fortress levels and leaders.

B Attitude
B.1 Before rolling for reinforcements, the controlling player chooses an Attitude for each minor.
B.2 The choice is usually free (but may be constrained by events). Typically, a minors that was declared war upon can choose an Offensive attitude.
B.3 The attitude chosen may change at each turn of the war.
B.4 Some attitudes entail constraints on the moves the country will be allowed to do during the turn.

C List of attitudes
C.1 Offensive : this attitude gives more troops and campaigns
C.2 Defensive : the troops of the minor country may only move in provinces that it owns or owned at some point in the game, as well as provinces adjacent to the ones it currently owns. This is the best attitude for getting fortresses.
C.3 Naval : this attitude may only be chosen for a minor country that has naval counters at its disposal. It is the only attitude that gives naval forces.

D Reinforcement roll
D.1 Roll 1d10, add some modifiers as indicated on the right of the table and cross reference the result in table VII.6 (Reinforcements of Minor countries Fully at War) with the attitude chosen.
D.2 This die roll gives troops, fortress levels, campaigns and a leader value (in the last column).
D.3 Political There is a Political modifier specific to some minor countries and periods (or events). These modifiers are indicated on the right of table VII.6 (Reinforcements of Minor countries Fully at War), and also in the country's description in the Appendix.
D.4 Incomes There is also an Economical modifier depending on the income of the country. This modifier is used for all minors and is cumulative with the Political modifier. It is based on the income of the provinces that are owned and controlled by the minor, and neither besieged, revolted or pillaged at the time the roll is made (i.e. the provinces that would count in the Land income if this was a major country). Industrial income (gold), Commercial income (TF, Monopolies) and ROTW income (exotic resources, COL, TP) also count toward this total for the few minors concerned.

[R]158	Recruitment
G.2 Before Arquebus , a fortress of level 3 can only be placed by minor countries at the cost of 2 levels of fortress on top of an existing level 2.
G.3 Before turn 40, a fortress of level 4 can only be placed by minor countries at the cost of 2 levels of fortress on top of an existing level 3.
H Campaigns
H.1 Each minor fully at war gets 1 active campaign each round.
H.2 In addition, it may receive multiple campaigns (MC) per reinforcement roll.
H.3 The diplomatic patron may pay for more campaigns (paying the difference between the chosen campaign and the active one).
I Military Leaders of Minors: basic forces
I.1 If there is a living named leader of the country, he automatically comes into play.
I.2 Some minors have military leaders in their basic forces . If there are not enough named leaders to reach this limit, the minor receive ☉ leaders. If possible, take these among the minor country pool, otherwise among the generic grey leaders (of "country" QUIDAM).
I.3 Contrary to major countries, ☉ leaders of minors are not changed each turn. They are only removed when the country is fully at peace. If, due to death, the country falls below its basic forces (in number of leaders), it immediately receive a new one.

J Military Leaders of Minors: reinforcements
J.1 By cross-referencing the (modified) reinforcement roll with the last column in table VII.6 (Reinforcements of Minor countries Fully at War), one gets a Leader value .
J.2 1d10 is rolled. If less or equal than this value, the minor receive a leader for the duration of the war. This does not change its basic forces (that is, no replacement if the leader is killed).
J.3 If the attitude of the minor is Naval , then it receives either a ☉ ± or a ☉ × (controller's choice). Otherwise, it receives a ☉ ×.
J.4 This leader is taken at random among those of the minor, if some exist and among the generic grey ones otherwise.
J.5 Like other ☉ leaders of minor, the leader will be available for this minor until it is fully at peace.

K Military Leaders of Minors: double-sided monarchs
K.1 Several Minors have generic double-sided monarchs. These leaders are usually in the basic forces of the minor.
K.2 These are treated like ☉ leaders. That is, one of the side is chosen (at random) when the minor is activated and it is kept until the minor is fully at peace (or until the death of the leader).
K.3 List of concerned leaders (and countries): Unknown leader Caliph (ÆGYPTUS), House of Giray (CRIMEA) and Shāh (PERSIA).
K.4 Note that Grand Maître (ORDO HOSPITALIS) is not concerned as it is the same leader that may serve either as × or ±.

L Military Leaders of Minors: named and generic monarchs
L.1 Some minors have two (or more) different counters for their monarch, usually an unnamed one (as above) and a named one.
L.2 The named one replace the unnamed one when he is alive. He enters game either at a given turn or following certain rules or event.
L.3 As long as a named monarch is available for a minor, the unnamed one is not available and may not enter game (even through reinforcements).
L.4 List of concerned leaders (and countries): La Valette replaces Grand Maître (ORDO HOSPITALIS), Shāh 'Abbās I and Nādir Shāh Afshār both replace Shāh (PERSIA) and Akbar replaces Great Mughal (MOGOLIS IMP.).

Table VII.6: Reinforcements of Minor countries Fully at War

D.5 The initial income of each minor is written in the appendices. The actual figure has to be recomputed each time it is needed, the figure in the appendices is only the initial income of the country and typically varies if it loses or gain provinces.
--

E Troops
E.1 The reinforcement roll can give some LD and ND to the minor. The new troops must be placed in owned and controlled provinces that are neither besieged nor revolted.
E.2 LD may be freely converted into A as the usual rate of 2LD =1A☉, 4LD =1A☉.
E.3 ND may be used for either 1 NWD, 1 NTD, 1 VGD or 2 NGD.
E.4 Naval forces can be included into f, according to the fleet size of the minor.
E.5 There is no limit to the amount of recruited troops other than the counter limit for the country.

F Moral
F.1 All land reinforcements of MIN are Conscripts , except:
F.2 SUECIA recruits all its new forces as Veteran ;
F.3 HELVETIA recruits its new forces as Veteran if its Land Technology is Muskets or less;
F.4 PERSIA recruits half of its new forces as Veteran (round down).

G Fortresses. Some levels of fortresses are obtained by the Reinforcement Roll. The new levels must be placed in controlled provinces that are neither besieged nor revolted.
G.1 A given fortress can not be improved by Reinforcements by more than one level at a given turn. This rule does not constrain the fortresses that are in the Basic Forces .

Logistic— master – 2016-04-14	[R]159
L.5 Note that the ☉ × of DANIA and UNITED STATES are not concerned. They are always available for these countries as reinforcement leaders even if there are some named leaders alive.
Example: Minor reinforcements.— At turn 10, ALGERIA is at peace. Thus, whatever it had left on previous turn, it rebuilds and keeps only its basic forces of A☉ and f☉ (the f☉ is left out of this example). There is no need to keep these counters on map. The technology of ALGERIA is Renaissance and ALGERIA is a VA of TUR. At turn 11, event III-10 (Revolt in Sierra Nevada) occurs (earlier than historically) and TUR decides to go to war, together with its ally ALGERIA. Basic forces. First, the basic forces of ALGERIA are put on map. TUR puts the A☉ and the f☉ both in Algérie. Then, since Barbarossa is still alive, he is also put in play (or, probably, kept). Reinforcements. Next, TUR rolls for reinforcements of its minor (after all majors have finished their administrative actions, especially after TUR and HIS both have brought their own troops). Since ALGERIA is one of the Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3), it gets a +1 political DRM (in periods I-III). Since its total income is 17 ♣ (it still own all its original provinces and no more), it also gets a +1 economical DRM (for income between 16 and 30 ♣). TUR chooses a Naval attitude for ALGERIA as it wants to try and invade Spain. The roll is 5, modified to 7. Thus, ALGERIA gets 1LD, 1 level of fortress and 1ND. The leader value is 2. TUR rerolls on die for the leader and gets a 2, smaller than the leader value, thus ALGERIA gets an extra leader for the duration of the war. Since it already has an ± (Barbarossa), TUR chooses to take a × for ALGERIA (at random among the grey ☉ ×). Then, TUR raise the fortress of Algérie to level 2. As for the troops, TUR chooses to take 2NGD instead of 1ND and put them directly in the f☉ (and note on its record sheet the exact content of the Algerian f☉). The LD is put in Algérie, waiting to board for an invasion of Spain. . .

VII.4 Removal and Placement of leaders
Design note: Note that removal of leaders must physically occur before placement of new ones because it is possible that the same ☉ counter is immediately reused (at the same place or elsewhere). However, they are considered to happen simultaneously, especially for the replacement of ☉/☉ in the ROTW.

VII.4.1 Removal of leaders
A Death Each named leader whose last turn of activity has passed is removed from the game.
A.1 For leaders with turns on the counter, it happens if this turn is the after the second turn written on the counter.
A.2 For leaders with event on the counter, or other special conditions, check the description of the event to known how long the leader lasts.
A.3 Named major monarchs are removed during the Monarch Survival phase (section III.2 (Monarch survival)) at the time where the Monarch dies.
A.4 Note that leaders may be removed earlier due to death in battles.

Design note: Turns of "life" may either represent the actual life of historical people or their period of military activity. "Death" of a leader (whether scheduled or during battle) may be either actual death, retirement of old age or after a severe wound, change of career (often to become minister), fall in disgrace, . . . Turns of life are sometimes longer than the actual life of the historical leader. This may happen for several reasons, mostly because the actual historical character died early (in battle) and the counter allows for a "what if he didn't die" or for game balance reasons. A leader may last one or two turns more than its historical counterpart to ensure that a given country has a good enough leader at a crucial period. Typically, leaders active in one war are often given "extended" lifetime over the following peace as the in-game wars and peace won't match the historical ones and there are no great historical generals during peaces. . .

[R]160 Removal and Placement of leaders  Example: Removing named leaders.— It is Administrative phase of turn 47. Marlborough (✕ A 5.5.6 -2 [T43–T46]) is scheduled to live for turns 43-46. Since his last turn of activity (turn 46) has passed, his counter is removed from the game (historically, he died in 1722, in the middle of turn 47). At the beginning of turn 26, event IV-1 (1) (Bohemian Revolt) occurs. As per Event description, BAVARIA receives Tilly (✕ A 4.4.4 -1 [Event IV-1]) for 4 turns. Thus, he is considered as having turns 26-30 on his counter. At the Administrative phase of turn 31, if he is still alive, Tilly is removed from game (historically, he died facing Gustav Adolf at the battle of Rain in 1632, during turn 29). B Anonymous B.1 All ② leaders of major countries return to their respective pool. B.2 Exception: besieged leaders stay on the map. B.3 All mercenaries leaders return to the pool of mercenaries. B.4 ② leaders of minors countries fully at peace return to their respective pool. B.5 ② leaders of minors at war stay on the map. C Free redeployment Each player may choose to redeploy any of its named leader still alive. The counter is removed from the map and will be replaced immediately as a new leader arriving this turn. C.1 Exception: besieged leaders must stay on the map. C.2 Exception: Leaders in the ROTW with unknown discoveries must stay in place (hint: you should have redeploy them to an establishment during voluntary redeployment of previous turn).  Playing tip: In other words, named leaders have a free “teleportation” movement at this point. Use this either to change your frontlines or to ensure hierarchy is respected. This is also the occasion to redeploy ♣ to other Areas.  VII.4.2 Placement of leaders A New leaders Each leader who is schedule to be active starting this turn is placed on the map by its controller. A.1 Each leader that was removed due to free redeployment is also placed. A.2 Leaders that were wounded but did not recover during the previous turn are also placed.  Example: New leader.— This is the Administration phase of turn 43. Marlborough (✕ A 5.5.6 -2 [T43–T46]) is active starting with turn 43, thus he is placed on the map now. ANG chooses where to place him (see some restriction below).  B Anonymous Major countries check their minimum leader limit. B.1 For each category of leaders (✕, ±, ♠, ♣, ★) where a country as less leaders than its minimum, draw as many ② leaders as necessary to reach the minimal value (among those of the country). B.2 If a country has more leaders than its minimal value, none is received but none is lost either. B.3 Note that ② leaders that are besieged and thus stay on map are counted toward the limit.  Example: Minimum leaders.— At turn 2, RUS has one ✕ (Shchenya (✕ A 3.1.4 [T1–T5]), provided he did not die during turn 1) but (for period I), RUS has a minimum limit of 2✕. So, RUS gets one ② ✕ at the Administrative phase of turn 2. At turn 4, suppose Shchenya is still alive. RUS receives I. Vorotynsky (✕ B 5.1.3 [T4–T7]) as he is scheduled for turn 4. Thus, RUS now has 2 ✕, equal to its minimum limit, and does not receive any ② ✕.  C Missionaries Some countries receive Mts. Check the specific rules of the country to know when. C.1 If this is the case, new Mts are placed now. D Placement All leaders deemed to be placed at a given turn are placed simultaneously. That is, one first draws all its ② leaders before placing any. E Where to place? 	Logistic— master – 2016-04-14 [R]161  E.1 Mts must be place in an owned, controlled and unbesieged province of the European map. E.2 ♣ must be place in an owned, controlled and unbesieged establishment (COL, TP or fort) in the ROTW, possibly in a COL of level 6. The Area in which they are placed will restrict their possible movement. E.3 Other leaders (✕, ±, ♠, ♣) may be placed either with any unbesieged troop of the same country or in any owned, controlled and unbesieged province. Note that they may be placed with troops in enemy territory if a war is going on. E.4 Additionally, ♠ and ♣ may be placed in any province or seazone where another leader of the same category was just removed, even if there are no more counter of the country here and even if the discovery of this province or seazone has still not been brought back home (the expedition is too small to be represented, but there are still some members to take the lead once the initial leader is dead). E.5 Note that ♠ or ♣ may be placed either in Europe or in the ROTW.  Example: Replacing a ♣.— At the end of turn 3, HIS decides to let the lone Colón (♠ <R> H 6.1.1 [T1–T3]) in CUBA. At turn 4, Colón dies and the counter is removed from game. The province is now empty. However, Solis (♠ <R> J 4.4.2 [T4–T7]) is scheduled to arrive at turn 4, hence he is placed now. Since both are ♠, Solis may be placed exactly where Colón was. ANG leaves a lone ② ♣ on the cost of AMERICA. Since this is an ② leader, it must be removed at the end of turn. However, ANG receives another ② ♣ for the next turn and may choose to place him at the same place. Note that since ANG has only 3 ② ♣, there is 33% chance that the new one is the same as the old one.  F Geographic restrictions Some leaders have Geographic restrictions as where to be placed (America, Asia or Mediterranean). F.1 In addition to other rules, these leaders must be placed in a province or seazone where they are allowed. F.2 That is, e.g., a ✕ with a $ (America) restriction must be place with a stack or establishment in AMERICA and may not be placed in Europe or Asia. F.3 Note that leaders without capacity to go in the ROTW are de facto restricted to Europe and thus must be placed on the European map. G Hierarchy After placement of leaders, hierarchy must be respected. G.1 If not, you should probably have use free redeployment to solve the problem. H Pashas TUR receives new Pashas each turn as per §C (Pashas) of section XIV.8.1.2 (Turkish Military system). They are placed now. H.1 The correct procedure of placement is (i) decide a province where a Pasha will be placed ; (ii) draw a random Pasha and place it here ; (iii) repeat until all new Pashas are placed. H.2 That is, TUR may not wait to see the actual values of a new Pasha before deciding where to place him. H.3 Placement of Pashas may break hierarchy.
[R]162 Preparations   Military Chapter VIII VIII.1 Preparations VIII.1.1 Leadership VIII.1.1.1 Double-sided Leaders A Some leaders have two different sides for the same country and the same turns but with two different roles, and can be used as either one or the other of their roles. A.1 The counter has a ★ written on one of the sides, indicating in which limit the counter counts (independently of the role for which it is used). A.2 Kings that can also be something else do not count in the limits as soon as they are kings. A.3 For most countries, the role has to be determined at the beginning of the round, effective for the whole round. POR is an exception (see §A.1 of section XIV.4.1.6 (Portuguese Explorers)). B Some leaders have two sides but no ★. B.1 The side they're used (and the category they're considered) has to be determined at the beginning of each turn and is effective for the whole turn. B.2 In most cases, the choice is restricted because each side denotes a change of state of the leader (e.g. change of nationality, crowning, . . .) and thus only one of them is available at a given time. B.3 Especially, generic monarchs of minor countries (e.g. Shāh) are chosen at random when the country goes at war and cannot be changed before total peace. C Beware! Some double-sided leaders do not have the same turns of activity on each side. Thus during certain turns only one side will be usable. VIII.1.1.2 Leaders of Multi-national stacks A On land A.1 If there is a Leader with a monarch symbol (Monarch, Turkish Vizier or heir allowed to lead troops) in the stack, he must takes command. A.2 Otherwise, the leader with the most troop of its country (or troops he is allowed to command) takes command (this may be a replacement leader if the country with the most troops has no leader in the stack). A.3 In case of tie, highest ranking tied leader takes command. A.4 If tied again, players choice (at random in case of disagreement). A.5 The country of the commanding leader pays for campaigns and win/loss Stability in case of Major Battle. B At sea B.1 If there is a Monarch, he take command. B.2 Otherwise, the highest ranking leader among those which can command at least one F⁺ counter takes command. B.3 Otherwise, highest ranking leader takes command. B.4 In case of tie, players choice (at random in case of disagreement). B.5 The country of the commanding leader pays for campaigns and win/loss Stability in case of Major Battle. 	Military— master – 2016-04-14 [R]163  VIII.1.1.3 Deployment of leaders A Replacement of unannmed leaders A.1 If, during military rounds, one player falls below the minimum limit of leaders for one category (due to death or injury) he gets as many random ② as necessary to reach the limit again. A.2 The new leader arrive at the beginning of next round, in the same place (♠ and ♣ may also be placed in Europe or in any COL/TP). A.3 This may break the hierarchy in which case the player must try to restore it. A.4 When a wounded leader comes back, the lowest ranking ② leader of the same category is removed and the wounded may take command of any stack without breaking the hierarchy.  Example: At the beginning of turn 1, FRA has two ✕: Foix (rank A) and ② 2 (rank F). During the military campaign in Italy Foix get ambushed by perfidious Spaniards near Napoli. He barely escaped with several sword wounds and must rest for many months. Since FRA has now only one ✕, he pick at random a ② ✕ and gets ② 1 (rank E). A few rounds later, Foix comes back and can take command of any stack. Since ② 2 has the lowest rank (F), he is relieved from command and removed from the game. During turn 2, POR has two ♠ (Dias, if not dead during turn 1, and Cabral). Dias boldly tries to circumnavigate America but dies, his ship crushed in the ice at Cape Horn. Since POR still has 1 ♠, which is larger or equal to his limit for period I, he does not get any ② ♠ in replacement.  B Admirals in the ROTW An admiral temporary gets the possibility to go in the ROTW if both the following conditions are fulfilled: B.1 The country has no naval leader allowed in the ROTW (either ♠ or a ± with the ROTW capacity). B.2 It is period V or later, or the country as at least 3 COL/TP in AMERICA. B.3 The ± allowed to go in the ROTW (for this turn) is the lowest ranking ±. He may not go in seazones with a malus. If he arrives this turn, he must be placed in Europe. C Conquistador table The Conquistador table may be used only: C.1 in AMERICA and AFRICA, by any ♣ and ♠ (half values) ; C.2 in INDONESIA by Coen, van Diemen and Maetsuycker only ; C.3 in INDIA by all ♣ restricted to ASIA (@). Namely, Clive, Duplex, Bussy and the minimum ♣ @ of FRA and ANG in period VII. VIII.1.2 Stacking VIII.2 Deployment [to be moved from ch. [R]164 On battles [17] A.2 This is possible only if the naval stack owns the port. A COL or TP is required for a ⚡, a fort is sufficient otherwise (including convoys). A.3 Portugal It is possible for HIS to go through Cabo Verde (or any other portuguese settlement) if it has PORTUGALLIA as a special vassal. A.4 Cape Horn As a special exception, it is not possible to go out through a different sea zone if it avoids Cap Horn, unless the naval stack ends its movement there (and goes out at the next round). Example: It is possible, with a TP placed in Kyōto, to enter in the same move with 1NWID coming from Mer du Japon and going out from Mer des Philippines, without going through Mer Jaune nor Pacifique Nord-Ouest. However, it is not possible with a ⚡, nor if the TP is not owned by the naval stack. B Wasteland Movement in the Wasteland area (see section I.1.3.1 (Wasteland area)) (for all purposes, including LoS length computation) is doubled until the end of the Wasteland (see §B of section XIV.6.1 (Russian under-development)). C Blockading with several coasts A naval stack may blockade a port from any sea zone adjacent to the port, unless there are multiple coasts as defined in §C (Multiple coasts) of section I.1.2 (Provinces and Sea Zones). C.1 In this special case, there is a main coast which is the one that must be blockaded (usually where the anchor is drawn). VIII.5 On discoveries [58] A One can try to discover several sea or provinces at the same time, using the most difficult sea and adding +1 for each sea eone/province beyond the first. On Land, themovement capacity limits how many provinces can be discovered. B As long as the forces doingthe discoveries have not came back to an establishment existing at the beginning of the military phase, the discovery are not yet usable by other forces. Neither is 'rendez-vous' authorized between stacks having made independent discoveries (no stacking). C Diffusion of discoveries MODIFICATION 07/2007. C.1 On sea At the beginning of period IV, all discovered sea zones of Atlantique Ocean are known to everyone else at the beginning of the military phase of the turn following the discovery. Other discovered sea zones have a bonus of -2 for discoveries by other players. C.2 On land At the beginning of period IV, all provinces containing a COL or TP are known to everyone else at the beginning of the military phase of the turn following the discovery. VIII.6 On battles [17] VIII.6.1 Convoys Do not use if using the experimental system for Revolts, ⚡ and Natives. A Convoy movements and Pirates/Privateers A convoy (or a naval stack carrying Gold) entering a sea zone of STZ or CTZ is attacked on table IX.1 (Pirates, Privateers and Natives raids) by the pirates, and each privateer allowed to attack the owner of the convoy present in the STZ (even if not in the right sea zone) if it has the right to attack the power (see section IX.3 (Attacks by Pirates & Privateers)). A.1 Only ⚡ may attack (be they pirates or privateers). A.2 The pirates attack first (one only, with leading named Pirate if any), then the privateers in order of initiative. The attack is resolved before regular naval interceptions.	Military— master – 2016-04-14 [R]165 A.3 Only one attack for all the pirates in a given STZ or CTZ; and one attack per ⚡ is allowed per move. B Attack Procedure B.1 Roll for naval interception. Pirates with no leader use 2 as Manoeuvre. If successful, reduce the ⚡ to ⊖ and proceed with the attack, else test for the next interception. B.2 Before the attack, an accompanying fleet may try to disperse and reduce the pirates or privateers by making a roll on the corresponding table. If successful, the ⚡ is not reduced but the attack is aborted. B.3 If not aborted, resolve the attack on the Pirate/Privateer raid table. B.4 Each level in the column TF corresponds to one NTID captured (with 15 ⚡). B.5 Afterwards, ⚡ goes at port and are finished for the turn. However Pirates stay in the CTZ or STZ and will attack normally Trade Fleets. B.6 The Barbaresque corsairs cannot attack a Convoy if it is not in MEDITERRANEAN SEA. C Convoy in battles If a battle occurs between two naval forces, one of them containing a convoy or Transports, the convoy does not take part in the battle, nor incurs losses during it. C.1 However, at the end of the battle, the pursuit * result may apply to the convoy or the Transports if the winner decides so. C.2 Each * captures 2 NTID with corresponding transports points sunk if loaded with troops, or 10 ⚡ captured and 5 ⚡ sunk for NTID loaded of Gold. C.3 The rest of the convoy is kept by the loser. D Flota de Oro As soon as the Flota de Oro (and only this convoy) is sunk or reaches Europe, it reappears in a Spanish port on the Atlantic coast. VIII.7 Siegecraft [18] VIII.8 End-of-phase [19] VIII.9 Redeployment [20] VIII.10 Unsorted rules Design note: This Section consists in a bunch of unrelated rules relevant to the Military Phase. These rules should be properly grouped and dispatched in the correct place of this Chapter. This will be done when the military rules will be written (aka in a long time. . .) Rules presented here are sometimes barely more than a summary rather than a proper rule written in a proper way. VIII.10.1 Occupations [BLP] A Occupation markers are in limited amount. VIII.10.1.1 Placement of occupations A Occupations markers may be placed instead of Controls in any of the following cases. A.1 Any country may place occupations in CARIBBEAN. A.2 [TBD] Any country may place occupation on TP of a major or former major country.
[R]166 Unsorted rules A.3 POR may place occupations on AYMAN and ADEN. A.4 RUS may place occupations on any province adjacent to its national territory. A.5 HIS may place occupations on Dutch provinces during event III-1 (1) (Revolt of the United Provinces). Similarly, HOL may place occupation on Spanish provinces that were part of BURGUNDIA during the same Event. A.6 TUR, AUS and POL may place occupations in any province that was part of HUNGARIA, after event I-E (Downfall of Hungary). A.7 [TBD] VEN may place occupations in ITALY if Itali e San Marco has been declared. A.8 [TBD] Before event II-1 (1) (Act of Supremacy), ANG may place occupations in former territory of the 100 years war: Guyenne, Quercy, Poitou, Picardie. A.9 FRA may place occupations in provinces of the HRE that are adjacent to owned territory. A.10 SABAUDIA may place occupation in any province with its shield (blurred or not). B Contrary to Controls, occupations are not removed when peace is signed and may stay in place. B.1 However, the peace treaty may include removal of certain occupation. This does not change the rest of the peace (i.e. it is purely an agreement between players and do not change the level of the peace or the number of conditions exchanged). C Occupations may be voluntarily removed by a diplomatic declaration. In that case, the control of the province is immediately given back to its owner. D If a country annex an occupied province, the occupation is removed. E As control markers, if an occupied province is besieged and taken by another power, the occupation is removed. F In order to maintain occupation, a country must keep at least 1LD in each occupied province. If, at any moment, this garrison is not present, immediately remove the occupation marker and F.1 If the occupant and the owner are at peace, return control of the province to its rightful owner; F.2 If they are at war, replace the occupation by a control of the same country. VIII.10.1.2 Effect of occupation A In addition to giving control of the province or establishment, occupations also give income (including exploited resources) to the occupant rather than the owner. B Each country with an occupied owned province has a free CB (Overseas CB if this is a COL or TP) against the occupant. C The province is still owned by the rightful owner for all VPs purpose (especially for period objectives). D The occupant must maintain a garrison of at least 1LD. D.1 If there are less troops and the occupant and occupied are not at war (interventions do not count), remove the occupation and control of the province is immediately returned to its owner. Any remaining occupant troops (NDE in the ROTW) are immediately destroyed. D.2 If there are less troops and the two countries are at war, immediately replace the occupation by a control. E The Portuguese occupations also enforce an AT with AYMAN or ADEN. VIII.10.2 About logistic A Campaigns for MIN A.1 limited intervention: 1 simple campaign each turn. 1 passive campaign each round. More can be paid by the MAJ (pay only the difference in cost of campaign, not the full campaign). A.2 full intervention: 1 simple campaign each round. Multiple campaigns may be obtained by reinforcement. More can be paid by the MAJ (as above). VIII.10.3 Military campaigns A Interception is allowed according to the last campaign paid.	Military— master – 2016-04-14 [R]167 A.1 For player without initiative, this is the campaign of the previous round. A.2 During first round, players without initiative may intercept (before their first move) as if they had done a passive campaign. B When moving both at sea and on land, the cost of both campaigns is computed separately and only the maximum cost is paid. Example: A Major campaign allows to both: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • attack with one naval stack of 3F ; • move without attacking (exploration possible) with as many naval stacks as wanted (non-aggressive movement is not restricted) ; • maintain as many blocus and fight against ⚡ as wanted (only movement is restricted) ; • attack with as many small (≤ 5LD) land stacks as wanted (the reason for which the campaign is Major needs not to be the same at sea and on land) ; • move without attacking as many large land stacks as wanted (non-aggressive movement is not restricted) ; • maintain as many sieges and fights against revolts with large stacks as wanted (only movement is restricted). C None 0 ⚡: No action, no movement, no exploration, no siege, . . . allowed (troops may retreat before battle and will fight back if attacked). [R]176	Le combat rapide revisité – Version initiale du PPI – en chantier – BEWARE	Military— master – 2016-04-14	[R]177
VIII.11.1 Présentation
VIII.11.2 Autres règles militaires
– NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE –		C d. Hiérarchie des chefs. La hiérarchie des généraux doit être respectées à chaque round. Si la hiérarchie n'est pas respectée en début de round, des forces terrestres ne peuvent être intégrées à une pile ou laissées que si cela permet de satisfaire à nouveau la hiérarchie (si plusieurs mouvements sont nécessaires, ils sont autorisés dans n'importe quel ordre du moment qu'à la fin des mouvements la hiérarchie est correcte). Sinon aucune armée ne peut modifier sa composition. Une pile terrestre ne peut pas ramasser ou laisser des forces en violant la hiérarchie. Les piles multi-nationales sont commandées comme il suit : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - le monarque passe devant tous les autres généraux (y compris d'un autre pays) pour commander une pile, - la majorité des troupes décide sinon de quel général commande ; en cas d'égalité du nombre de DT les joueurs choisissent (ou tirent su hasard si ils ne se mettent pas d'accord) ; si le pays majoritaire n'a pas de général présent, on utilise un général de remplacement de ce pays, - pour le général qui commande, toute la pile est comptée au regard de la hiérarchie ; pour les généraux des autres pays qui ne sont pas le commandant en chef, ils n'ont que leur contingent sous leurs ordres pour déterminer le respect de la hiérarchie. Ces mêmes règles s'appliquent pour les forces maritimes, avec comme seule différence que la taille de chaque contingent est comptée comme pour les forces terrestres : un pion F- compte comme 2 D, et un F+ comme 4. Les DGA comptent comme les DNav et les DC comme un demi.
VIII.11.2.1 Phase de jeu		– NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE – On propose comme clarification et modification de la phase militaire de prendre la suivante. Le premier camp, ayant l'initiative, est celui qui a son monarque dont la somme des valeurs est la plus forte. Les alliés doivent bouger ensemble (ceci rend possible une coopération militaire) et prennent alors l'initiative du moins bon monarque. En cas d'égalité entre deux camps, tirer au hasard pour tout le tour au début du premier round. A Séquence du round militaire <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Test de fin du tour après le round qui commence. Modification : il n'y a pas de test au 2^e round – ainsi le tour comporte au moins 3 rounds. • Phases du camp 1 : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> choix de la campagne, mouvements et découvertes ; interceptions (et batailles immédiates) possibles par le camp 2 pendant les mouvements, puis usure et batailles. • Phases du camp 2 : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> choix de la campagne, mouvements et découvertes ; interceptions (et batailles immédiates) possibles par le camp 1 pendant les mouvements, puis usure et batailles. • Phases finales : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> dans l'ordre d'initiative, sièges des deux camps (sape et/ou assaut), lutte contre les révoltes et les pirates.
VIII.11.2.2 Mouvement, empiement, attrition		– NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE – A b. Empiement, usure L'empiement maximum est de trois pions dans une même zone terrestre pour un camp donné avec une limite de 8 équivalents détachement d'un même camp et deux pachas. Cette limite doit être respectée à la fin du déplacement de chaque pile. L'usure des mouvements terrestre est jouée sur la table d'attrition donnée ci-dessous dès que la pile fait au moins 6 PM. Elle se fait sur la table ci-dessous en Europe (voir plus pour hors-Europe). Les forces enfermées dans des fortifications subissent aussi une attrition si le siège a été mis depuis au moins le round précédent. B c. Réorganisation des forces. Pendant la phase de mouvement d'un camp, il lui est possible d'intégrer des détachements dans des armées face -. Il faut deux détachements pour passer une armée - en armée +. Il est aussi possible de séparer des pions en armée sans que le nombre équivalent de détachement soit modifié. Ces ajustements peuvent se faire au cours du mouvement.

Le combat rapide revisité – Version initiale du PPI – en chantier – BEWARE
L'attrition éventuelle portera en priorité sur les troupes qui ont poursuivi le mouvement.		après le feu) sur la nouvelle table de combat ; la colonne y est déterminée par la technologie (tables des aides de jeu). Les dommages sont évalués en nombre équivalent de détachements perdus par l'adversaire et en points de moral. Si personne ne craque à la fin du 1^{er} round ni ne tente de retraire pendant la bataille (règle §E (5. Rompre le combat.) of section VIII.11.3.3 (Pendant les rounds de combat)), un second round a lieu de la même manière mais avec -1 aux jets de dés pour les deux protagonistes. L'armée vaincue subit une poursuite (toujours en colonne E) même si elle n'a pas craqué au moral. On calcule ensuite le nombre de pertes effectivement subies par chaque côté (voir plus bas les modificateurs de taille d'armée à utiliser, section VIII.11.3.4 (Variation des pertes)). Le perdant peut subir des pertes supplémentaires en faisant un test sur la table de retraite. La totalité des pertes sont alors appliquées aux armées.
VIII.11.2.3 Logistique des guerres		VIII.11.3.1 Description des armées, moral, technologie – NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE – Toute force militaire est maintenant ramenée à son contenu en détachement selon l'équivalence : 1 A- = 2D ; 1 A+ = 4D. Les pachas turcs valent de 0 à 3 détachements selon ce qui est indiqué. Les pions armées ont quand même une particularité importante : ils sont les seuls à contenir de l'artillerie. Le moral d'une pile est celui de la majorité des forces, comptée en équivalent détachement. En cas d'égalité on prend d'abord le moral de la majorité des pions armées. Une égalité à nouveau donne un moral conscrit. Cette procédure est aussi utilisée pour connaître la technologie militaire d'une pile. La moins bonne est utilisée en cas d'égalité. Chaque pion appartient à une certaine classe militaire qui décrit en quelque sorte l'évolution des diverses doctrines et tailles des armées de l'époque et décide de sa taille (de 0 à 7) en fonction de la période en cours. La taille d'une pile militaire est donnée par la moyenne, arrondie à l'inférieure, des tailles de chaque unité. Cette moyenne est comptabilisée en équivalents détachements (donc une A+ compte pour 4 fois plus qu'un DT) et arrondie strictement à l'inférieur. Exception: Si des pachas accompagnent l'armée, le moral est forcément conscrit. Le restant (taille et technologie) est déterminé selon la règle normale.
A a. Les campagnes. Le fonctionnement des campagnes est modifié. Il existe 4 types de campagnes.		VIII.11.3.2 Séquence de la bataille – NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE – La bataille commence après les tentatives éventuelles d'interception, de retraite avant combat, et les jets d'attrition des forces qui ont bougé. A. Les rounds de combat, simultanés. Si à la fin d'un des 4 rounds, une armée a craqué au moral (aussi appelé déroute, c'est-à-dire est arrivé à 0 ou moins au moral), passer directement en C.1 1. Premier round de feu : chaque camp lance un dé modifié sous la colonne de feu. On retient les pertes faites par les deux camps. 2. Premier round de choc : chaque camp lance un dé modifié sous la colonne de choc. On ajoute les résultat aux pertes faites par chaque camp. B. Possibilité de rompre le combat, défenseur puis attaquant. Si les pertes sont à ce moment suffisantes pour que, une fois modifiées par les pertes variables, un camp soit éliminé, le combat cesse et on passe au C. 3. Second round de feu : chaque camp lance un dé modifié sous la colonne de feu, avec -1 au dé. On ajoute le résultat aux pertes faites par chaque camp. 4. Second round de choc : chaque camp lance un dé modifié sous la colonne de choc, avec -1 au dé. On ajoute le résultat aux pertes faites par chaque camp. C.1 Si une armée a craqué au moral et pas l'autre, effectuer un jet de poursuite (colonne E). C.2 Si une armée a moins de moral restant que l'autre mais n'est pas en déroute, elle perd le combat. Le vainqueur fait une poursuite qui peut causer une déroute. C.3 Si les deux armées ont le même moral final ou que les deux ont craqué au moral, chaque camp retourne d'où il vient, on ne fait pas de poursuite et personne ne gagne
Un pacha compte pour 1 DT dans l'empiement pour cette règle et on peut en mettre un seul dans les piles des campagnes actives ou majeures limitées à SDT. Quand il n'y a pas cette limite, l'empiement maximum est de 8DT, 3 pions plus 2 pachas (règle du chapitre II). La campagne d'une pile multinationales peut être payée par n'importe quel pays majeur ayant des troupes dans la pile. Un pays mineur ne peut prendre à sa charge que les piles qu'il commande.		D b. Achat de troupes. L'achat de troupe se fait uniquement par pion entier. Les limites d'achat par période ont été adaptées dans le tableau final : elles sont exprimées en équivalent détachement. Le prix d'achat d'un détachement terrestre est maintenant toujours égal à la moitié (arrondie au supérieur) du prix d'une A-. Il faut remarquer que les pions armées doivent être achetés comme tels et qu'il est impossible d'en créer au cours des réorganisations. À la phase de logistique les réorganisations sont possibles autant avant qu'après l'entretien et le placement des nouvelles unités.
C c. Entretien des troupes Pour rendre compte de la difficulté de maintenir une armée levée à cette époque, et à la payer, les coûts d'entretien sont majorés en temps de paix (y compris pendant seulement des guerres maritimes). Le prix n'est pas modifié quand le pays est en guerre car l'armée peut vivre partiellement sur le pays et parfois les soldats sont réquisitionnés et ne peuvent repartir même en l'absence de soldé régulière.		Le coût d'entretien des troupes n'est pas le même si le pays majeur est en guerre ou en paix. Les tableaux d'entretien indiquent les nouveaux coûts (pour vétérans et conscrits). Lors d'une guerre commerciale ou une intervention limitée (défensive ou offensive), le pays utilise le coût d'entretien en paix. Le coût en guerre est réservé à une guerre complète. Noter que certaines interventions dans des guerres provoquées par des événements (guerres civiles en particulier), sont des guerres complètes (du moment que l'intervention n'est pas qualifiée de limitée).
D d. Levée exceptionnelle. L'épuisement des forces armées étant trop élevé, on donne la possibilité de lever des troupes durant la phase militaire. En cas de pénurie de troupes durant la phase militaire, un pays peut procéder à une levée exceptionnelle de forces terrestres si il vient de subir une DEFAITE MAJEURE. Décider d'une levée exceptionnel se fait en toute fin d'un round (dans l'ordre l'initiative) et fait perdre 1 en stabilité (sauf à la Suède et à la Prusse).
E f. Prêts exceptionnels. Pour faire face aux dépenses imprévues des rounds militaires, il est possible de souscrire des prêts durant les phases militaires. Ils se font aux mêmes conditions que les prêts de la phase logistique, obéissent aux mêmes restrictions si ce n'est qu'on peut en faire un à ce moment même si un premier a été souscrit pendant la logistique. Un prêt demandé durant les phases militaires ou en fin de tour ne peut en revanche pas être refusé, quelles que soient les conditions obtenues.
VIII.11.3 Le combat rapide
– NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE –
Les forces armées terrestres sont dans ce système toujours évaluées en équivalent détachement pour toutes les fonctions du jeu : combat mais aussi logistique, empiement et attrition, en Europe comme dans le reste du monde. Faisons un survol du combat rapide : il se déroule en 1 ou 2 round, sans avoir à calculer des facteurs de Feu et de Choc. À chaque round, chaque joueur lance 1 dé pour le feu puis un pour le choc (si personne n'a craqué au moral

[R]180 Le combat rapide revisité – Version initiale du PPI – en chantier – BEWARE D. On totalise les pertes de chaque camp (des 4 rounds et la poursuite) qui sont modifiées en fonction de la taille de l'armée causant les pertes, ensuite de sa classe comparée à celle de l'armée prenant les pertes.E. Le perdant du combat (qui doit retraire) fait un test d'attrition au cours de la retraite qui peut accroître ses pertes de 1/2 ou 1. La manœuvre du général est utilisée si la force n'est pas en déroute.F. Les pertes sont arrondies à l'entier inférieur (sauf 1/2 qui devient 1).G. Les tests de perte des généraux sont faits (règle usuelle). On regarde si il y a eu bataille majeure. VIII.11.3.3 Pendant les rounds de combat – NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE – A 1. Technologie et feu. - Une armée en Médiéval ne lance pas de jet de feu.- En Renaissance, une force utilise le table de feu si elle contient des pions armées, ou bien si elle n'a que des DT, quand elle combat des indigènes ou pays non européens en Médiéval. Dans les deux cas elle ne fait que les pertes au moral.- En Arquebuse, les pertes obtenues sur la table doivent être divisées par deux (arrondies à l'inférieur).- Pour toutes les technologies après Arquebuse, les pertes sont celles indiquées. B 2. Modificateurs. Ils sont indiqués à côté de la table de combat (terrain; -1 au second round; effet des généraux). C 3. Avantage de cavalerie. Chaque pile contient un nombre de cavalerie qui dépend de sa taille et de la quantité de cavalerie par équivalent détachement. Une valeur qui dépend de la nationalité de l'armée en question (voir ci-dessous) est multipliée par le nombre d'équivalent de détachement et donne ainsi la quantité de cavalerie dans la force. Les DT contiennent autant de cavalerie par détachement que les A.Si un camp a au moins deux fois plus de cavalerie que son adversaire, il a +1 au dé pour le choc et la poursuite si la bataille est en plaine (qu'il soit défenseur ou attaquant), désert, ou dans les forêts orientales (voir section VIII.11.4.5 (La cavalerie et les forêts orientales), pour certaines technologies seulement). D 4. Poursuite. Les jets de poursuite sont affectés par le différentiel de choc, le terrain, l'avantage de cavalerie et la condition à la fin du combat :+1 si l'adversaire a craqué au feu,+2 si l'adversaire a craqué à un des 2 premiers rounds (cumulable avec le précédent). E 5. Rompre le combat. Lors du segment B. de la bataille, entre les 2 premiers rounds de feu puis choc et les deux derniers, une armée peut décider de rompre le combat. Le défenseur a la possibilité de le faire et, si il décline ou échoue, l'attaquant peut le tenter.Un jet de dé inférieur à la manœuvre du général plus le moral restant à l'armée permet de finir la bataille tout de suite ; celui qui rompt le combat est le perdant. On finit le combat par le segment C.2 et les suivants. Si le test est échoué, le combat continuera et l'adversaire a un bonus de +2 à son jet de feu subséquent. VIII.11.3.4 Variation des pertes – NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE – Le résultat des pertes est le total de ce qui est fait aux différents tests de feu, choc et éventuellement poursuite (mais sans la retraite) donnant un nombre d'équivalent détachement encaissé par l'armée adverse. Cependant la table est prévue pour donner le nombre de pertes faites par une pile de 2 A+ à une armée de même taille. Notez qu'avoir plus de 8 DT dans une pile (pour la Turquie avec les pachas) ne donne aucun avantage : pas de pertes supplémentaires (à la différence du traitement des indigènes, voir infra).1. Pour tenir compte de la taille réelle de l'armée, on consulte la table des pertes variables (voir tables de combat) qui indique combien de perte enlever pour obtenir le nombre de pertes final. On applique une limitation importante	Military— master – 2016-04-14 [R]181 à ce stade : le total des perte ne peut être supérieur à la taille de l'armée causant les pertes, comptée en équivalent détachement.2. On compare ensuite le type de chaque armée. Il y a 5 groupe d'armée qui sont les suivants, leur taille étant indiquée pour les sept périodes (la répartition précise est indiquée dans les annexes pour les mineurs et sur les tableaux des majeurs) :Le tableau suivant (à droite) permet alors de déterminer le différentiel selon la taille de chaque armée. On a mis en caractère gras les lignes et colonnes qui servent usuellement, en caractères normaux celles où des armées de tailles différentes sont mélangées (colonne 1, 5 et 6). L'armée qui subit les dommages est prise en ordonnée sur une colonne, celle qui les inflige sur une ligne ; le tableau est symétrique avec un changement de signe par rapport à la diagonale.Algorithme : diviser la différence de taille entre l'armée la plus grande et la plus petite par 3 et arrondir au modificateur le plus proche pour obtenir le +? accordé à l'armée de taille plus grande.3. Les pertes véritablement infligées sont alors celles données par le tableau ci-dessus, la ligne 0 correspondant au nombre de perte calculé à l'étape A, avant le modificateur dû à la comparaison des classes d'armée.4. On ajoute à la valeur obtenue le nombre de pertes données par la table de retraite (qui n'est pas modifié donc par le point 3). Les pertes obtenue sont arrondies à l'unité inférieure (sauf ½ qui donne 1) et donnent la valeur en équivalent détachement du nombre de pertes effectuées. VIII.11.3.5 Qui gagne le combat – NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE – Les différentes issues du combat sont données dans la séquence des batailles et détaillées ici.Le vainqueur de la bataille.C.1 Si une armée seule armée craque au moral (arrive à 0 ou moins) et pas l'autre à la fin d'un round, l'adversaire gagne le combat. Il effectue une poursuite, on ajuste les pertes. Le perdant recule dans une zone amie adjacente et fait un test d'attrition sans soustraire la manœuvre du général. Les PVs normaux sont accordés.C.2 Si aucune armée n'a craqué au moral après les 4 rounds, l'armée qui a le moins de moral restant perd le combat. Le vainqueur fait une poursuite. Les pertes dues à la poursuite peuvent entraîner une déroute du perdant, en quel cas la fin de la procédure est la même que C.1. Autrement, le perdant recule dans une zone amie adjacente et fait un test d'attrition modifié par la manœuvre du général. Des PVs réduits de moitié sont accordés.C.3 Si les deux armées ont le même moral final, ou si les deux ont déroulé, chaque camp retourne d'où il vient. C'est-à-dire qu'un siège continue à être maintenu, qu'une armée qui vient de se déplacer ou d'intercepter retourne dans la zone où elle était juste avant le combat. Il n'y a pas de poursuite; IL Y A ATTRITION de retraite et personne ne gagne ni ne marque de PV. Une victoire majeure est accordée si le perdant a effectivement perdu 3 détachements de plus que le vainqueur (après modifications de la classe, retraite et arrondis), ou 4 DT si le perdant avait un modificateur de comparaison de taille égal à -2.Les pertes sont réparties par celui qui les subit comme il le veut parmi ses forces. Il peut détruire des pions armées (une A+ = 4D) par exemple ou faire tout son possible pour en garder (par exemple 2 A+ subissant 4 pertes peuvent rester sous forme de 1 A+ ou 2 A- ou encore 4D – ce qui poserait des problèmes d'empilement...) VIII.11.4 Les sièges – NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE – VIII.11.4.1 L'assaut – NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE –

Si l'assiégeant ne peut maintenir le siège en fin de round (après un assaut ou une bataille), il doit immédiatement retraire dans une province amie (avant de pouvoir piller) et jouer l'attrition. Si il choisit de maintenir le siège, il doit soit lancer un assaut, soit faire un test dur la table de sape (qui peut être suivi d'un assaut en cas de brèche).Le propriétaire de la forteresse peut laisser des troupes dans celle-ci. En effet celle-ci domina pendant la période 1500-1600, en particulier la cavalerie polonaise (hussards), grâce à ses capacités de choc, sa mobilité et surtout la possibilité de contrôler les larges espaces de la région et de s'y ravitailler alors que le peuplement n'était qu'éparse. Les changements suivants sont proposés. A a. Étendue des forêts orientales. Ce sont toutes les forêts à l'est de la ligne Neumark, Lausitz, Österreich, Steienmark (provinces comprises), au nord de Transylvania, Marosz, Moldavia (provinces comprises aussi) puis ligne plein est jusqu'à la carte. Les provinces de la Finlande ne sont pas dans la zone, ni celles de la Scandinavie. B b. Supériorité de cavalerie. Le bonus de supériorité de cavalerie en combat est rétabli dans les zones de forêt d'europe orientale pour certaines technologies.Les pays de technologie latine ou orthodoxe peuvent en bénéficier dans ces forêts si leur technologie est Arquebuse, Mousquet ou Baroque. Si l'adversaire est de technologie Manœuvre ou Dentelles, tout avantage de cavalerie est annulé.Les pays musulmans n'ont jamais cet avantage du fait de leur cavalerie plus légère. Leur propre avantage réside dans le nombre de cavalerie présent dans leur armée. C c. Siège. Une force pouvant bénéficier du bonus précédent et qui assiège en forêt orientale avec un nombre de cavalerie supérieur ou égal à 8, réduit le modificateur de mauvais terrain à -1 au lieu de -2. Cela a permis la constitution de flottes pas trop chères et d'efficacité convenable à certains pays mais pas plus.Avant 1615, les galères en mer Baltique ne bénéficient pas du bonus en combat contre les vaisseaux de ligne de la règle 53.7. B b. En cas d'événement de mauvais temps, si le jet de dé est 1 le détroit du Sund est gelé pour le round et autorise le passage d'armées entre la province Danmark et les provinces de Skåne, Schleswig, Lübeck et Jütland. Le passage est considéré un mouvement en terrain difficile mais sans détroit (y compris pour l'effet sur le combat). La province maritime "Sund" est impassable en cas de gel (et les flottes qui y sont présentent restent bloquées) ; une flotte à Copenhague ne peut sortir que en mer Baltique.

Elle dispose en effet à partir de 1550 d'au plus 2 DGal (soit dans des flottes, soit représentées par un pion DN) qui se comportent comme des galères, sauf en combat. Les pions détachements navals peuvent ainsi représenter des navires à voile ou des galères et ceci est à noter sur la feuille de marque.Un nouveau type de pions, notés DTr, représentent des vaisseaux de transport. Les pays mineurs (autres que ceux qui peuvent devenir ou ont été majeur) disposent tous d'un pion DTr qui peut leur servir à représenter un détachement	Military— master – 2016-04-14 [R]185 de transports seulement en plus de ceux dans les flottes. Les convois de Smyrne et des Indes portent 10d par DTr, et la Flota de Oro voile l'Or transportée dans sa capacité de transport d'Or illimitée répartie également entre les 5 DTr.Les explorations maritimes hors de l'Europe peut se faire avec des escadres réduites qui sont appelées de détachements d'exploration, ou DE, qui sont en gros un tiers ou un demi DN (selon le cas)¹. Ils servent aussi pour fractionner l'attrition et les pertes en combat des navires de guerre et galères. Il est ainsi rajouté des pions DE dont le nombre maximal dépend du pays (les mineurs ont 2 DE au plus sauf Oman et Aden qui en ont 4 ; pour les pays majeurs voir la table des limites navales). Les pions DE contiennent en général des navires à voile (pour les explorations maritimes), sauf mention explicite sur la feuille de marque quand il s'agit de galères (après attrition ou combat)².Consolidation - Si 3 DE d'un même pays sont dans la même pile navale (après un combat ou des pertes par attrition, même si ils sont dans des pions F différents), ils sont immédiatement fondus en un DN si un pion est disponible. Il n'est pas possible de volontairement couper un DN en détachements d'exploration (mais on pourra acheter des DE séparément).Tous ces détachements peuvent être réunis dans des flottes, pions notés F, dont la contenance (face - ou +) varie selon le pays et la période (de 2DN/1DTr à 7DN/2DTr). Un DGa (ou DGal) ou un DE n'occupe dans une flotte la place que d'un demi-DN dans les pions de flotte F. Les détachements qui sont dans des pions de flottes n'utilisent pas de pions. Il faut noter sur la feuille militaire ce que contient exactement la flotte comme on note la nature des pions DN (vaisseaux, galères, transports, galéasses ou détachements d'exploration). Voir la table de contenance des pions flottes selon le pays.La limite d'empiement dans chaque pile navale est de deux pions plus un DE à tout moment la phase de mouvement (avant les combats). Des piles navales séparées d'un même camp peuvent être dans la même mer (pour ainsi faire des actions séparées). En revanche un pion posé doit être entretenu sans lui appliquer cette équivalence (F+ ne peut être compté comme 2 F-). Les DTr s'entretiennent comme des DN (de même que DNnav, DGa ou DGal s'entretiennent de la même façon).L'achat se fait par DN, les coûts étant différents entre les DNnav, les DGal et les DTr. [R]186 Le combat rapide revisité – Version initiale du PPI – en chantier – BEWARE VIII.11.6.3Clarification sur les mouvements Une pile navale dispose d'un potentiel de mouvement illimité pendant un round et peut ramasser ou laisser des détachements en route librement. Des forces laissées ou ramassées ne peuvent faire ou avoir fait d'autres mouvements du round. Une pile est restreinte de deux manières durant la phase militaire. Premièrement elle ne peut faire que l'une des activités suivantes par round : transport naval (c'est-à-dire débarquement de troupes, accompagné d'un blocus de la province de débarquement et du soutien de ravitaillement des forces débarquées – on peut embarquer librement des troupes pour les transporter et faire une des actions décrites ici librement si on ne les décharge pas ; voir plus bas l'exception des conquistadors), mise en blocus d'un port (qui peut ne s'annoncer qu'à la phase des sièges, avant tout test de siège), lutte contre les pirates d'une zone commerciale, exploration d'une nouvelle mer, attaque d'une pile navale ennemie en mer.Deuxièmement elle doit faire un test d'attrition à la fin de son mouvement ainsi qu'à chaque combat ou au moment de débarquer des troupes, ce qui cesse même temporairement son mouvement. La flotte peut donc être conduite à faire plusieurs attritions dans un même tour et le nombre de provinces traversées est celui entre deux de ces tests d'attrition. L'empiement est limitée dans chaque pile navale à deux pions plus un DE, et non dans chaque mer. Cependant seule une pile navale d'un camp est autorisée à faire une action donnée dans une mer (c'est-à-dire lutter contre pirates et corsaires, ou attaquer une pile ennemie spécifique, ou encore mettre le blocus à un port précisé). Deux piles maritimes peuvent tout de même mettre un blocus de manière indépendante à deux ports sur la même zone.A Interception. Durant les mouvements, les flottes ennemies peuvent tenter d'intercepter dans leur mer ou la mer adjacente la pile maritime qui bouge, sans limite du nombre de tentative. La force en mouvement peut tenter d'intercepter une fois (et une seule) toute pile maritime en mer en étant dans sa zone, afin de forcer le combat tout de suite. On résout d'abord les interceptions de forces inactives avant de tenter celles de la pile active. En cas de réussite, on fait immédiatement les tests d'attrition des flottes (celle active, et celle inactive si c'est elle qui intercepte). La flotte active pourra continuer son mouvement après interception si elle gagne la bataille. Une flotte défaite ne peut plus intercepter pendant jusqu'à début de sa prochaine phase de mouvement.De toute façon, et sans test d'interception, le combat devient possible et automatique contre une force maritime dans la même mer après les déplacements (mais ceci compte alors comme l'action de la force navale pour le round).VIII.11.6.4Transport maritime– NE PAS PRENDRE EN COMPTE –La table de transport maritime indique le nombre de points de transport nécessaires pour embarquer un DT (il en faut 2) ou une A- (de 3 à 6 selon la classe d'armée). Une A+ compte comme deux A-. Les DN (DNnav, DGa ou DGal) transportent 1 point chacun et les DTr transportent 3 points (c'est même leur unique fonction !). Les DE transportent seulement 1/2 points. Les DC (conquistadors) ne demandent eux que 1/2 point de transport.Autre limite, un pion naval ne peut en général transporter qu'un seul pion terrestre. Pour être plus précis, un pion F de navires peut transporter jusqu'à une A+ (soit l'équivalent de 4 DT, éventuellement en 2 pions, mais pas 3) ; si le transport est assuré par des DGa et des DTr dans F, la limite passe à 2A+ en 3 pions. Un détachement naval (de toute nature : DTr, DN, DE) ne peut contenir plus d'un pion (donc DC, DT ou A- pour les armées les plus petites).Une force navale doit faire un test d'attrition au moment où elle débarque des forces. Si elle obtient des pertes par attrition, le même pourcentage de perte est appliqué aux DT ou armées transportées en consultant la table des forces restantes après attrition. On soustrait d'un autre côté la manœuvre d'un amiral (ou un explorateur si le mouvement commence ou se termine hors Europe). Le résultat est comparé à 11 : chaque point du résultat au-delà de 11 induit 10% d'attrition. Ajouter les pertes de 3 et 5 et les ajuster en fonction du nombre de DN présents. Les retirer des forces navales.7. Si un camp est à 0 en moral, il rompt le combat et se réfugie au port (un des ports amis les plus proches), avec poursuite si l'autre camp n'a pas craqué au moral, et suivi éventuel pour établir un blocus.8. Si personne n'a craqué au moral, les deux joueurs choisissent en secret de rester ou de se replier au port. Si seule une force se replie, l'autre peut suivre au port pour mettre le blocus. Si les deux forces restent, reprendre une journée de combat au segment 2 en utilisant les valeurs de moral restant (contrairement aux batailles terrestres, le combat n'est pas limité à deux journées, le modificateur -1 s'appliquant à partir du 2^e jour). Si jamais les DN du type de navires mis en avant sont tous détruits, il faut choisir un nouveau type et le moral est le minimum entre celui après la journée de combat et celui du nouveau type de navire en 1e ligne.B b. Effet des pertes. Les pertes obtenues en 3 et 5 sont ajoutées et modifiées alors par un pourcentage dépendant du nombre de DN dans la flotte qui fait les pertes (les DE comptent comme une moitié de DN mais l'arrondi est fait vers le bas). Voir le tableau des modificateurs des taille de flottes. On arrondi les fractions du résultat au demi supérieur, sauf si le résultat est ≤ 0, 3 qui est réduit à 0.Ensuite ces pertes sont réparties entre des détachements coulés, immobilisés (reviennent au tour suivant dans un port ami à décider immédiatement) et endommagés (reviennent au round suivant dans cette flotte) en consultant la table de répartition des pertes navales. Si les pertes sont plus que 3 D, utiliser plusieurs fois la table pour chaque tranche de 3 D et le reste. Les DE se combinent ici selon l'équivalence 1DN=3DE.Les pertes affectent d'abord les détachements des navires mis en avant, ensuite sur les autres navires.C c. Poursuite ou suivi au port. La poursuite est un jet de perte sur la colonne E. Les pertes sont modifiées par la taille de la force navale qui poursuit (après les pertes du combat) et se répartissent pour moitié (arrondie à l'inférieur)

Attacks by Natives

C.2 Remember that each province of a given Area holds the same number of native LD and that killing natives in one province does not change the number of natives in other provinces of the Area.

C.3 Example: There are 40LD in JAPON. That means there are 40LD in each of the four provinces of the Area. Even if 30LD have been killed in Edo during a given turn, there are still 40LD in Kyôto this turn.

D All attacks are resolved simultaneously, that is all players decide simultaneously which troops attack (when there is a choice) before any attack is resolved.

E Resolving the attack

E.1 Each attack is resolved by rolling one die on table IX.1 (Pirates, Privateers and Natives raids). This die-roll is modified by:

- +1 for each LD in defence of the establishment (even besieged).
- +N level of the fortress.
- +M Manoeuvre value of a land leader in defence.
- 1 For each LD of the attacking force (native or ROTW minor).
- 1 For each foreign COL or TP in the same Area (not belonging to the attacked country).
- M Manoeuvre value of an attacking leader (native or ROTW minor).
- +3 If the Natives were defeated at least once in the province this turn without being routed, and there is at least 1LD of natives in the attacking stack.
- +6 If the Natives were routed at least once in the province this turn, and there is at least 1LD of natives in the attacking stack.

E.2 All rolls are simultaneous, that is an establishment destroyed by an attack still provides a −1 to attacks in the same Area.

F Reading the result

F.1 The result is read by cross-referencing the (modified) die roll with the last two columns of the table.

F.2 The "Pillages TP/COL" column gives a number of losses on the settlement. Ignore the ‡ and †.

F.3 The "Perm. losses on land" column gives a number of losses on land forces.

F.4 Both results (losses on settlements and on land forces) are applied.

G Applying losses

G.1 Losses on settlements: The establishment of the province loses as many levels as indicated. If it reaches level 3, turn it ⊖. If it reaches level 0, it is immediately destroyed. Exceeding losses are ignored.

G.2 Losses on land forces: as many LD as indicated are lost. The losses may also be applied to fortifications (losing 1 level of fortress or 1 fort instead of 1LD). The controller chooses whether to loose troops or fortifications, but as many losses as possible must be satisfied. Exceeding losses are ignored.

H Exploited resources

H.1 If an establishment loses levels and is still able to exploit all its resources, nothing change.

H.2 If an establishment loses levels and is no more able to exploit all its resources, it must free some of them (controller choice) until it has sufficiently many levels to exploit the rest.

H.3 Resources freed this way will be attributed during the next administrative phase to any establishment in the Area with free levels to exploit them, using the procedure for automatic competition in case of disagreement between players.

H.4 Remember that it is possible to voluntarily free some resource as a diplomatic announcement, typically in order to be allowed to exploit a more valuable resource that has just been freed.

I End of activation

I.1 Once the attack is resolved in a province, natives of this province cease to be active.

- 2 ORDO HOSPITALIS with port on Mer Égée or Bassin Levantin
- +N Twice the level of the fortress for land raids, +1 for fort

Modifiers against Natives

- +1 per LD defending
- +M Manoeuvre of a defending leader
- +N Level of the fortress
- 1 per attacking LD
- 1 per third party COL/TP in the area
- M Manoeuvre of an attacking leader
- +6/+3 if Natives beaten this turn (routed/not routed)

Pirates/Privateers effects

- Income of the STZ per fleet level destroyed
- Permanent losses: 1 TF level per * (to be chosen in the targeted TFs)
- Centre of Commerce: -10 ⊕ per * caused by the Alliance having the CC (Exception: ℙ of ORDO HOSPITALIS)
- Land raids‡ is a Pillage⊕, † is⊖, gives incomes pillaged (and Resources).

[R]194

Attacks by Pirates & Privateers

Example: Bantu raids.— In the late game, event VI-16 (Bantu Raids) occurs. As per event description, natives in 4 provinces are activated and attack with 6LD and one leader. The 4 provinces are occupied as follows:

- NYASA S.: TP of level 2 of HOL, no fortress.
HOL sends 2LD and scores a victory against the Bantu (but no rout). 2LD of natives are killed, the Dutch leader has a Manoeuvre of 3 and the Bantu has 4.
- NATAL N.: TP of level 3 of FRA, fortress of level 2.
FRA does not manage to send any troops to fight the natives ; the Bantu leader has 3 in Manoeuvre.
- NATAL S.: TP of level 2 of ANG, no fortress.
ANG sends 1A ⊕ and routs the Bantu, killing 5LD. The English leader has a Manoeuvre of 2 and the natives has 5.
- CAP E.: nothing.

The attacks are then resolved:

- NYASA S.: the modifier is +2 (troops in defence) +3 (Manoeuvre of the defending leader) -4 (4LD attacking) -4 (Manoeuvre of the native leader) +3 (native defeat) = 0. HOL rolls 9 and loses 3 level of TP (destroyed) and 2LD (both killed).
- NATAL N.: the modifier is +2 (fortress in defence) -6 (6 native LD) -1 (presence of a foreign TP in the Area (the English one)) -3 (native Manoeuvre) = -8. FRA rolls 6-8 = 2 and loses 6 level of TP (destroyed) and 8LD or level of fortress (destroyed).
- NATAL S.: the modifier is +4 (LD in defence) +2 (Manoeuvre) -1 (native LD) -1 (French TP) -5 (Manoeuvre) +6 (rout) = +5. ANG rolls 7+5 = 12 and loses 1 level of TP (1 stays) and 1LD (3 remain).

Remark : when sending troops to fight off natives, don't do it half-heartily. Otherwise, you may lose your troops in addition to your establishment. . .

IX.3 Attacks by Pirates & Privateers

Design note: Ignore if using the experimental rules of Attacks during the military rounds.

TODO: Should move in Military

A Pirates and privateers attack commercial fleets to attempt to decrease their levels, and possibly to capture gold repatriated to Europe by these fleets.

A.1 Pirates Pirates appear as explained in section III.5 (Piracy) and they remain until completely eliminated. They are active every turn.

A.2 Privateers Privateers are raised by Major Powers (see section VII.3.3.3 (Privateers)), or are in the basic forces of some minor powers (the ORDO HOSPITALIS and the Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3)). They must go out at sea on the first or second round or they will have no effect.

A.3 Beginning with the third round, they stay in the sea they were placed in, and will be able to attack one STZ or CTZ in this sea or an adjacent sea. The specific STZ or CTZ has to be announced at that time.

TODO: Should move in Military

B Raiding Fleets with Privateer Admirals Privateer, or an Admiral with Privateer capacity, may lead one ℙ he starts the turn with. He may lead it in the same stack as naval forces not containing a ℱ. The ℙ does not count for attrition, nor in battle. The stack acts both as regular naval force (and can attack, blockade, and so on), and a Privateer stack (other players may attempt to suppress the ℙ counter). The ℙ does not count for attrition, nor in battle (nor is affected by battles). The stack may split at any time (for instance if the naval force has to retreat in a port), and the leader chose which stack he stays with.

B.1 As an exception to §A.2 (Privateers) of this section, a ℙ led by Privateer or Privateer-Admiral may move after the second round, and has to remain in place only on the last round (the player telling at the beginning of this round which CTZ STZ will be attacked if there are several of them). However, it still has to be at sea at the end of every round after the first, else (if at port), it cannot leave again for the rest of the turn and will not attack commercial fleets (or loot) this turn.

B.2 Note that the leader may move as he prefers but can only lead the one ℙ he starts the turn with (even leaving it then coming back), or naval forces.

IX.3.1 At sea

TODO: Should move in Military

C Looting by Pirates or Privateers Pirates and Privateers may try to loot Trading Posts or Colonies, and also enemy provinces for privateers, that are a province bordered by the sea they are in.

C.1 Looted provinces, Colonies or Trading Posts may belong to minor countries or to players. For privateers to be allowed to loot, it is necessary that a state of war exists between the owner of the privateer unit and the owner of the looted province. Overseas Wars are enough to loot TP or COL, but not European provinces.

C.2 Exceptions: Looting of European provinces by the Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3) is permitted, as well as looting in their provinces. Sea Hounds may loot European provinces also, see section XIV.1.2.1 (The Sea Hounds).

C.3 Pirate may loot following section III.5.3 (Sea or land?). After a turn of looting, non-eliminated pirates go back to the STZ they belong to.

C.4 The privateer intending on looting is placed in the concerned province, Trading Post or Colony. They have to disembark during any round except the last from the sea zone they are operating in.

C.5 If privateer/pirate unit is still present at the Redeployment phase, it loots. Looting privateer/pirate are unaffected by forces or battles (except that those forces may attempt to destroy them during the military phases).

C.6 A maximum of 1 privateer/pirate unit (any side up) can loot the same Colony/province in the same turn. Privateers/Pirates looting a province or COL/TP can not attack at the same turn the CTZ/STZ.

Design note: Ignore if using the experimental rules of Attacks during the military rounds.

A Naval actions of Pirates and Privateers In each STZ/CTZ where ℙ are active, an attack on TF occurs.

A.1 First, PIRATÆ ℙ attack all TF in the zone.

A.2 Then, each alliance resolve the attacks of its privateers, in decreasing order of initiative. In case of disagreement within the alliance, attacks of this alliance are resolved in a random order.

A.3 ℙ of different alliances that have the exact same targets (same TF in a given STZ/CTZ) attack together as if they were allied.

A.4 Especially, all ℙ of Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3) are considered as one alliance, acting at the initiative of TUR. They are automatically allied with any ℙ of TUR if they have the exact same targets.

[R]196 Attacks by Pirates & Privateers A.5 The P of ORDO HOSPITALIS acts at the initiative of its diplomatic patron, or of the Sole Defender of Catholic Faith (XIV.14.3.1) if neutral. It is automatically allied with any and all P of any and all countries having the same target (that is, only TUR). B Targets of piracy B.1 P of PIRATÆ target all TF in the STZ/CTZ they are. B.2 Note that some seas may belong to several STZ or CTZ (especially in Europe). However, P of PIRATÆ are specifically created in one of them (e.g. event E-6 (Looting and insecurity) creates them in the CTZ of the country rolling it). They target this zone. B.3 P of Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3) attack all christian TF in the STZ/CTZ they are. TUR must declare when moving them which STZ/CTZ they'll attack B.4 P of other countries attack all TF of countries against which they are at war (including overseas wars) in their STZ/CTZ. Owner must declare which STZ/CTZ is targeted when moving a P. B.5 TUR may attack Christian TF while Instability of the Balkans (XIV.14.1) is active. TUR must declare upon moving its P which CTZ/STZ and TF are targeted. Example: Combined attack.— Note that only TF in the current STZ/CTZ may be targeted. Thus, e.g., if VEN is the only country with TF in one zone, a P of Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3) will only target VEN in that zone even if it would target other TF elsewhere. In this case, the P could combine with a P of TUR being at war against VEN only, even if in another zone the presence of a non-belligerent TF of FRA (targeted by Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3) but not by TUR) prevents the combined attack. C Resolving the attack C.1 Each attack is resolved by rolling one die on table IX.1 (Pirates, Privateers and Natives raids). This die-roll is modified by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> +2 if the P is not exactly in the sea zone of the STZ/CTZ (the zone where the symbol is located). +3 if a lone P⊖ is attacking. +1 per side of targeted TF. +1 If one or more ND defending (see below) and no F. +2/+4 per F⊕⊖ defending (see below). +M Manoeuvre of one defending ± (see below, count only one defending ± per attack). -1 per year in the sea zone (max. -3) (see below). -M Manoeuvre of one P ± (count only one attacking ± per attack). +1 if a naval battle occurred in the sea where the P is located during this turn. -2 if the P of ORDO HOSPITALIS is in the attack and there is a Christian port on Mer Égée or Bassin Levantin. D Years at sea D.1 Each military round is named by letter ('S' or 'W') and a number (from 0 to 5). D.2 Each round with a different number in its name, at the end of which the P is in the zone, is considered as one "year at sea" and gives a -1 to the roll. D.3 Two rounds with the same number in their name are considered as only 1 year and give only a bonus of -1. Example: Years at sea.— A P stays in the same zone during the rounds 'S4', 'W4' and 'S5'. There are only two years at sea ('4' and '5'), hence a bonus of -2. If it is here during the rounds 'S2', 'W3', 'S4', 'W4' and 'S5', that is 4 years at sea, thus the maximum bonus of -3. E Defending naval force Any naval stack in any zone of a STZ/CTZ may be declared as a "defending force" by its controller if it is allowed to fight at least one of the P in the attack. F Reading the result F.1 The result is read by cross-referencing the (modified) die roll with the first three columns of the table.	Redeployment— master – 2016-04-14 [R]197 F.2 The "TF⊕" column gives the number of levels temporarily lost by an eventual TF⊕ in the zone. F.3 The "TF⊖" column gives the number of levels temporarily lost by each TF⊖ in the zone. F.4 The "perm. loss" column gives the number of levels permanently lost (one per +) by some TF in the zone. F.5 ND may be lost instead of levels of TF. F.6 All results are applied. G Applying losses G.1 First, each targeted TF⊖ decreases its Current level (see section VI.3.1 (Commercial fleet adjustment)) by the number of loss obtained for TF⊖. G.2 Then, if there is a TF⊕ in the STZ/CTZ, decrease its Current level by the number of loss obtained for TF⊕. G.3 Instead of loosing TF levels, players may choose to loose ND (or NGD) of defending naval stacks. The choice is made by the controller of each defending stack on a 1 for 1 basis. It is possible to transform any number of levels lost in ND (or NGD) lost (but no more than the total number of ND (or NGD) in the defending stacks). Several defending stacks may thus protect the same or different TF. G.4 Lastly, each + obtained decrease by 1 the maximal level of the largest targeted TF (the one with the largest maximal level). Apply these + one by one. In case of equality, the controller of the P chooses, at random if its neutral (e.g. PIRATÆ) or in case of disagreement (allied P). G.5 Exception: In the ROTW, + may only be applied to TF of major countries or of countries at war (minors at peace and close to their base manage to repulse local piracy). G.6 This decrease of the maximal level cannot be transformed into lost ND. It does not decrease the current level unless the maximal level becomes higher than the current (in other words, result "5 + +" on the first line means "2 permanent losses and 3 temporarily losses"). Playing tip: Remember that temporarily lost levels return one per turn per TF automatically, but the process can be sped up with TFI actions. Permanent losses, on the other hand, are gone for good and TFI actions must be use to regain these. However, monopolies (both for income and VPs) as well as attribution of Trade centres are computed according to the current levels. Thus, when there is a strong trade competition, a few temporarily losses may change the owner of the centres for a couple of turns, with dramatic influence on incomes which may be crucial during wars. End of period VPs are computed based on maximal levels in order to avoid a last moment backstab that would causes an important change in VPs and create an "end of period" effect. H Income of Privateers Each level eliminated (temporarily or permanently) by a P brings an income to its controller equal to the small number printed in the STZ (the presence income). P of minor countries give no income (even if VA). H.1 This "privateers income" is recorded in line A9 (Pillages, privateers) of ERS. H.2 In case of stacks with P from several powers, this income is equally divided between the powers (including minor ones), dropping any fraction.
[R]198 Attacks by Pirates & Privateers Example: Resolving the attack.— During period II, Barbarossa (♣ <Pm> A 5.4.5 [T5–T11]) sails out of al-Jazā'ir with a P⊖ into Golfe du Lion where he is joined by a P⊖ of TUNESIA. During the turn, A. Doria (♠ <Pm> A 5.4.4 [T7–T16]) leads a Genoese F⊖ at sea and manage to hunt down the Tunisian P. At the end of the turn, the situation is as follows: F⊖ of ALGERIA lead by Barbarossa, F⊖ of GENUA lead by A. Doria, TF⊕ of level 4 of FRA, TF⊖ of level 3 of HOLLANDIA, TF⊖ of level 3 of GENUA, TF⊖ of level 2 of HIS, TF⊖ of level 2 of VEN and TF⊖ of level 1 of TUR. The P stayed at sea for 3 years. Now, it is time to check the result of Barbarossa relentless attacks on the Christian trade. There are 6 targeted sides of TF (2 of FRA, 1 of each HOLLANDIA, GENUA, HIS and VEN; the Turkish TF is not targeted as Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3) only target Christian TF). Thus, the total DRM is +6 (targeted sides) +2 (F⊖ in defence) +5 (Manoeuvre of A. Doria) -3 (years at sea) -5 (Manoeuvre of Barbarossa) = +5. TUR rolls one die and obtains 2 + 5 = 7. Thus, the TF⊕ loses 2 level and each TF⊖ loses 1 level. All these losses are temporarily, and there are no permanent losses. HIS (the diplomatic Patron of GENUA) decides to lose 2 NGD on the Genoese F in order to save the Spanish and Genoese TF (one level each). So, after the attack is resolved, the situation is as follows (with maximum level in parenthesis): TF⊖ of level 2 (4) of FRA, TF⊖ of level 3 of GENUA, TF⊖ of level 2 (3) of HOLLANDIA, TF⊖ of level 2 of HIS, TF⊖ of level 1 (2) of VEN and TF⊖ of level 1 of TUR. FRA will be the most hurt by this attack as it will lose the monopoly (income and VPs) of the STZ for 2 turns. 4 levels were actually lost in the attack. Thus, the P generate an income of 4 (levels lost) × 2 (presence income of the zone) = 8 ♠. However, these are "gained" by a minor country (ALGERIA) and thus forgotten. If the Genoese F was not here, then the DRM would have been -2, resulting in a 2-2=0 causing 5 levels lost on the French TF and 2 on all other, and 2 permanent losses (the first must be on the French TF, the second on either FRA, GENUA or HOLLANDIA, at the choice of TUR (say, GENUA)). Thus, the situation at end would be: TF⊖ of level 0 (3) of FRA, TF⊖ of level 1 (2) of GENUA, TF⊖ of level 1 (3) of HOLLANDIA, TF⊖ of level 0 (2) of HIS, TF⊖ of level 0 (2) of VEN and TF⊖ of level 1 of TUR. A much more devastating result. I Privateers and Trade Centres I.1 Privateer attacks may cause temporary loss of incomes of the Trade Centre containing the STZ/CTZ they are located. I.2 For each + obtained by a P allied with the country owning the Trade Centre of the sea zone (at the moment of the attack), decrease the income of the Centre by 10 ♠ for the next turn (only). I.3 Exception: The P of ORDO HOSPITALIS does not decrease the income of the Mediterranean Centre if it is owned by a Christian country. I.4 Exception: The P of Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3) do not decrease the income of the Mediterranean Centre if it is owned by TUR. Design note: Trade and piracy don't go well together. Even your own merchants will become suspicious of the privateers respecting their target or turning to piracy, thus decreasing the overall trade in the seas and the income of the Centre. This is especially true when you are dominating the trade. Since most of the trade ships are yours, even your privateers may lack legitimate targets and start attacking anything at sight. In other words, to maintain a commercial domination, peace is required and frequent attacks on trade, even on the trade of someone else, will make it more dangerous and less profitable. Example: In period V, a HOL-ANG-HIS alliance battles FRA. The Atlantic Centre is in HOL. ANG chooses to send a P in STZ Amérique in a attempt to dominate the trade with the new World and causes 2 + on the French TF there. Meanwhile, HIS sends a P in CTZ FRANCIA and causes another + on the French TF here. All in all, 3 + have been obtained in zones of the Atlantic Centre by allies of the owner, thus decreasing its income by 30 ♠ (to 70 ♠) for the next turn. Note that eventual + in Mediterranean seas would have cause loss on the Mediterranean Trade Centre if it is also owned by a member of this alliance (but not if it is owned by FRA or TUR). J Privateer and Peaces	Redeployment— master – 2016-04-14 [R]199 J.1 During Overseas wars (only), each TF ⊕ reduced to current level 0 or 1 counts toward peace. J.2 See §D (Military situation in overseas war) of section XI.3.3 (Peace differential) for details. TODO: Should move in Military K Minor countries against Piracy K.1 Minor countries at war can use their naval forces against P in STZ or CTZ where they have a TF of their own (only). K.2 Christian Minor countries whose TF are attacked by P of Barbaresque countries (XIV.13.1.3) may also use their naval forces to fight against those privateers (Patron's choice to move their forces), even if at peace. K.3 Remember that minors at peace have only Passive campaigns each turn, thus the Patron must pay for moving (when entering the zone where P are located). K.4 Against PIRATÆ, minor countries at peace fight in an abstract way in the STZ where there are no major country TF (usually in ASIA in the early game): each round, roll 1d10 for each STZ with PIRATÆ P and no major TF and add 1 for each side of commercial fleet of a minor country. If the result is 8 or higher, one P⊖ is eliminated. IX.3.2 On land Design note: Ignore if using the experimental rules of Attacks during the military rounds. A Land actions of Pirates and Privateers In each province where P are active, an attack occurs. A.1 First, resolve PIRATÆ P attacks. A.2 Then, each alliance resolve the attacks of its privateers, in decreasing order of initiative. B Resolving the attack B.1 Each attack is resolved by rolling one die on table IX.1 (Pirates, Privateers and Natives raids). This die-roll is modified by: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> +3 if a lone P⊖ is attacking. +1 Per full LD in the province (including militia and LD in A). +M Manoeuvre of a defending X/O/♣. -1 per year in province (max. -3) (computed as at sea). -M Manoeuvre of a P admiral (½ for land raids in Europe). +N Twice the level of the fortress, +1 for fort. C Reading and applying the result C.1 The result is read by cross-referencing the (modified) die roll with the "Pillages TP/COL" column on the table, looking only the + or ±. C.2 If a ± is obtained, the province is looted: place a Pillage⊕. The P owner receives the total income of the province/settlement (including income of exploited resources at their current price). C.3 If a + is obtained, the province is weakly looted: place a Pillage⊖. The P owner receives half the total income of the province/settlement (including income of exploited resources at their current price). C.4 Income received by a minor country (including PIRATE) is lost. C.5 This income is recorded in line A9 of ERS. C.6 Note that existing Pillage marker neither prevent new one nor prevent the P from getting money. C.7 There is neither loss of land forces due to the looting (opposite to Natives attacks) nor protection by sacrificing forces in the province (opposite to attacks at sea). D Seizing gold D.1 If either a + or ± was obtained in an attack against a COL/TP with Gold stored in it, all the gold is stolen.

[R]200 Revolt and Rebellion D.2 Remove all the stored gold from the establishment. D.3 The owner of the P (nobody if PIRATE or a minor) records that amount in line A10 of ERS. E Reducing Pillages E.1 Pillage placed by land raids are considered simultaneous with military looting (section IX.5 (Land Military Looting)). E.2 Especially, they are never reduced the turn they appear (contrary to Pillage caused by attrition during military rounds). IX.4 Revolt and Rebellion IX.4.1 Revolts in minor countries A Revolt/Rebellion in inactive minor countries are automatically removed without any roll. A.1 Revolt/Rebellion in active minor countries must be fought using the normal rules. IX.4.2 Loss of Stability due to Revolts A If one or more Revolt/Rebellion still exist in a country, this country loses Stability. A.1 For each Revolt/Rebellion⊖, it loses 1 Stability level. A.2 For all Revolt/Rebellion⊖, it loses only one additional Stability level (only one, not one for Revolt and one for Rebellion). B However, the maximum a country may lose from Revolt/Rebellion of all types is 3 Stability levels. Ignore excess losses. C Revolt/Rebellion in minor countries cause loss of Stability as if they were in their diplomatic patron. C.1 Especially, if there is a Revolt ⊖ in a country and one in one of its minors, the country only losses 1 Stability. C.2 Similarly, the maximum loss for all Revolt in a country and all its minor is 3, not 3 per country (the major and each minor). Design note: Revolts in minors Since Revolt in inactive minor countries are removed before the loss of Stability occur, the easiest way to get ride of Revolt in your minor allies is simply to keep them at peace. This prevent abusing minors by sending all their troops to a foreign war instead of fighting local troubles, and letting the situation of the minor deteriorate without end. IX.4.3 Extension of Revolt A Who extend? After Stability losses, Revolt and Rebellion extend. Adjust all the markers simultaneously: A.1 each Revolt/Rebellion⊖ becomes a Revolt/Rebellion⊕; A.2 each Revolt/Rebellion⊕ generates a Revolt/Rebellion⊖. A.3 Unbesieged cities in revolt/rebellion and revolted/rebelled troops generate a Revolt/Rebellion⊖ in their province if there is neither Revolt nor Rebellion counter in it. A.4 Note that this apply only for cities controlled by or troops with counter baring the name "Rebellion". When specific minor entities exists to depict rebellion (typically, FIDELIS REGI or HUGUENOTIS), they do not generate Rebellion. B Where to extend? B.1 When extending, Revolt only create Revolt and Rebellion only create Rebellion. B.2 When a Revolt/Rebellion ⊕ extends, the new counter is placed in the same or adjacent province. If there are two Revolt ⊕ in the same province, the two new Revolt ⊖ may appear in separate provinces. B.3 This province must belong to the victim country in case of Revolt.	Redeployment— master – 2016-04-14 [R]201 B.4 This province must belong to the region allowed by the event in case of Rebellion (the victim country if no region is specified). B.5 The choice is made by the player controlling the Revolt/Rebellion. If none was specified, roll one country on the Revolt table of the current period as controller for this turn (reroll until the result is not currently allied with the victim). B.6 [TBD] Revolt/Rebellion in IRELAND may extend this way across Mer d'Irlande into ANG (and reciprocally): Uladh is considered adjacent to Alba, Ayr, Galloway and Cumberland; Brega is considered adjacent to Cumberland, Lancashire and Cymru; Laighean is considered adjacent to Cymru and Cornwall. B.7 If the extension of a Revolt/Rebellion⊕ is not possible (due to overstacking of counters), a Revolt or Rebellion LD is placed in the same province (immediately merged with existing Revolted or Rebelled troops into an A ⊖ or A ⊕ using usual rules for conversion). B.8 If there are two Revolt ⊖ (or Rebellion ⊖) in the same province, they are immediately merged in a Revolt/Rebellion ⊕ (before checking stacking). B.9 Remember, that there can be at most 2 Revolt/Rebellion markers stacked in each province. Example: Suppose that there is a Revolt ⊕ in French Béarn, a Revolt ⊖ in Savoia (a French ally, active in an Italian war), a Revolt ⊖ in Berry, another in Pfalz (another active French ally) and a last Revolt ⊕ in Lorraine (an inactive French minor). Note that this is a very unlikely situation that almost never happens out of examples. First, since LOTHARINGIA is inactive, the Revolt there is automatically removed without need for rolls or anything. Then FRA loses 3 Stability: 1 for each Revolt ⊕ (in Béarn and Savoia) and 1 for all the Revolt ⊖ (in Berry and Pfalz). Next, Revolt extend. All the Revolt extend simultaneously, that is newly created Revolt do not extend in the phase they were created (otherwise, you're trapped in an infinite loop). Both Revolt ⊖ become Revolt ⊕. The two Revolt ⊕ create new Revolt ⊖. Since the Revolt ⊕ in Béarn is in FRA, it may only extend in FRA. Thus, the new Revolt ⊖ may not be created in Spanish Vizcaya, Navarra, Pirineos nor Rosello. It may, however, extend in French Béarn (creating a second Revolt here), Guyenne or Languedoc. The controller of the Revolt chooses to create it in Béarn, hoping that the mountain will give some protection to it and that it will take longer to crush it (rather than risking an extension to Languedoc that would cause more money loss but will likely be easily crushed next turn). The Revolt ⊕ in Savoia may only extend in SABAUDIA, hence either Savoia, Bresse or Nice. It may not go in Spanish Lombardia nor even in the French provinces even if SABAUDIA is a French ally. Note that for FRA, the best way to get ride of this dire situation is probably to sign peace, thus making its minors inactive (that will remove two Revolt ⊕ and one Revolt ⊖) and freeing its armies from the front line to crush its peasants. However, French enemies are not likely to give an easy peace as they may want to take advantage of the troubles. . . IX.4.4 Revolts and fortresses A If a Revolt (not a Rebellion) controls a fortress, reduce the fortress to level 2 (turn 39 or earlier) or 3 (turn 40 or later) if it is higher. A.1 Each level lost that way gives one Revolt LD which stays inside the fortress and is immediately merged with existing troops. Exceptionally, the troops in the fortress may exceed the usual fortress capacity (of 1LD per level). IX.4.5 Independence of Revolted Principalities A A MAJ may give the independence to some groups of provinces if all the provinces of the group he owns (except at most one) have a Revolt or a Rebellion. This announce is made during the diplomatic phase. See section XIV.14.9 (Independence of Revolted Principalities) for the precise conditions. IX.4.6 Execution of the Monarch A If at least half of all owned national provinces (rounded up) are in revolt (either a Revolt or Rebellion counter or control of the city), the regime of the country is overthrown. The tyrant is executed and a new benevolent monarch accedes the throne.
[R]202 Land Military Looting A.1 At least 3 national provinces must be revolted for this to apply. Design note: The last point avoids a "one revolt extends, you're dead" effect for PRU and VEN with very few national provinces. B Consequences Unless specified by an event, execution of the Monarch has the following effects: B.1 All revolts present in the country are removed: all Revolt and Rebellion counters and troops are removed, and fortresses they control are given back to their legitimate owner. B.2 A new monarch is immediately determined using normal rules. His first turn of reign is considered to be the current one. The new monarch is rolled as after a "Dynastic Crisis". B.3 The Stability is reduced by 2 levels and no Stability improvement action is allowed this turn. B.4 The DTI is reduced by one (1 is the minimum). B.5 3 levels of TF are reduced in the CTZ of the country (chosen at random among all the levels present, even on other countries' TF) Design note: This represents pillage and lost properties due to this really unstable situation! C Execution and Civil wars C.1 In most events creating Rebellion, execution of the monarch ends the event in a loyalist defeat. Often, the precise effect is different from the ones described above (Stability loss, new monarch, . . .) Check the precise description of the event. Playing tip: Beware that execution of the monarch happens after extension of Revolt. Thus, a seemingly controlled situation may get out of hands because of poor prevision of the extension. This is especially true for small countries with few provinces. Beware also that execution of the monarch happens after loss of Stability. This usually leaves the country in a very bad state. Since the execution prevents Stability improvement this turn, it is often a bad idea to use it as an "easy" way to remove Revolt, especially during wars (when troops may seem more useful on the front line). IX.5 Land Military Looting A Adjustment of Already Existing Pillage Markers In each province where there is at least one Pillage: A.1 Remove one Pillage ⊖ if there is one. A.2 Otherwise, flip one Pillage ⊕ to its ⊖ side. A.3 Exception: Pillage markers put this turn due to land raids of P are not touched. They will only be reduced next turn. Design note: Each side of Pillage represent one level, since there may be up to 2 markers in any given province, there may be up to 4 levels of looting. During adjustment of the markers, the "looting level" of each province is reduced by 1. Simply be cautious not to flip a Pillage ⊕ after removing a Pillage ⊖ in the same province as this would reduce the level by 2. Pillage obtained because of attrition during the rounds may be immediately removed. Thus, a small "tax" on the local farms will have no impact. However, if the war stays in the same area for long, Pillage ⊕ may appear due to attrition and will cause a loss of income the next turn. Pillage obtained by P are not reduced the turn they appear. That is, they are considered to be placed at the same time as military looting, just after adjustment, but are resolved together with other actions of P. B Looting	Redeployment— master – 2016-04-14 [R]203 B.1 Each stack in a enemy province may loot if it has sufficiently many troop to besiege the province (either the province is already controlled, or 1LD per level of fortress). B.2 Looting is never mandatory. B.3 The decision to loot or not is taken by the controller of the stack. The choice may vary from one province to another (it is possible to loot one province and decline the possibility in another provinces). B.4 Looting are resolved in decreasing order of initiative: the alliance with the higher initiative resolves all its looting, then the next and so on. C Looting and Pillage C.1 Place a Pillage ⊕ in each looted province. C.2 Exception: in the ROTW, if the looting stack contains no A counter, only place a Pillage ⊖ (if another already exists here, immediately merge both into a Pillage ⊕). C.3 If there are more than two Pillage markers in any province, remove the smallest one in each of these provinces (this can happen when looting a province which has already a Pillage ⊕ and a Pillage ⊖, or two Pillage ⊕). D Looting Income D.1 If there was no Pillage marker in the province before the looting take place, money is gained from looting. D.2 The controller of each looting stack gains income equal to the income of the looted province. D.3 In the ROTW, only the regular income is taken, not income from exotic resources. D.4 In the ROTW, if there was no A counter, gain only half the income. D.5 The sum of these incomes is recorded in line A9 of ERS. D.6 Nobody gets money for provinces looted by minors country (including VA). That is, the minor keep the money for itself. E Burning TP E.1 Instead of looting, troops controlling enemy TP (not COL) may choose to burn it down. E.2 Besieging is not sufficient to burn a TP. The establishment must be controlled, and a stack (at least 1LDE) has to be here. E.3 Simply remove any burned TP from the map, it now has level 0 and exploit no more resource. E.4 No income is gained from burning a TP. Only the destruction of the establishment. Example: Looting.— In period III, HIS took control of Dutch Utrecht and besieges Zeeland, a stack is still present in Utrecht (defending against a potential counterattack). There is already a Pillage ⊖ in Utrecht (a Pillage ⊕ was here and was reduced). Since HIS is still besieging Zeeland and intends to continue the siege in the next turn, it chooses not to loot here. The Pillage would hamper the siege by increasing attrition. However, Utrecht being already controlled is a good target for looting. Indeed, a Pillage there would hamper a future attempt of Dutch reconquest. . . The presence of an existing Pillage here does not prevent looting: there are always more villages to burn and peasants to kill. A new Pillage ⊕ is put in Utrecht, but since another Pillage is present, no income is gained for HIS. Note that HIS could have chosen to loot also Zeeland. This would be especially useful if it did not intend to continue the siege as the Pillage would prevent Dutch income for two turns. In that case, HIS would gain 9 D (the income of Zeeland). Example: Burning TP.— At the same time, HOL is besieging a TP ⊖ of PORTUGALLIA and controls another TP ⊕. It may choose to loot the TP ⊖. It may not burn it as it does not control it. If looting it, HOL will only gain 1 D (regular income of a TP ⊖). For such a small amount, HOL chooses to leave it, hoping to take it later. On the other hand, the TP ⊕ is controlled and HOL chooses to burn it (rather than looting for 2 D). The province is now empty and open for attempts of Dutch TP placement. An efficient albeit morally disputable way of freeing old markets for your merchants. . . IX.6 Building Præsidios A Where to build?

[R]204 Redeployment of land troops A.1 Præsídios may only be built in provinces with a port or arsenal depicted with a circled anchor on the map. A.2 Præsídios may only be built in non-owned provinces. A.3 Only one Præsídio may be built in each province. B How to build? B.1 To build a Præsídio, a country must either control the province or besiege it and not be forced to redeploy (that is, either Siegework ☉, Breach or HW obtained during the turn). B.2 It is possible to build Præsídio even if deciding to voluntary redeploy from the siege. B.3 Contrary to fortresses, Præsídios may be built at any level directly. The cost is then the sum of costs for each level. B.4 Præsídios are never build during administrative phase. Similarly, raising a Præsídio can only happen at the same conditions than building it. C Cost C.1 Præsídios are fortresses and cost the same price (construction and maintenance). They have the same restrictions on levels and technology. C.2 Præsídios may never be of level more than 3. C.3 Contrary to fortresses, Præsídios may be built at any level directly. The cost is then the sum of costs for each level. C.4 This cost is recorded in line B46 (Præsídios build) of ERS. D Præsídios in play D.1 Præsídios are represented by fortresses of the owning power. Thus, they do count toward the counters limit of that power. D.2 At most one country may have a Præsídio in any given province. D.3 Because of Præsídios, up to two fortresses of different countries may exist in the same province. Put the regular fortress on top of the fortress icon on the map, and the Præsídio on top of the anchor. D.4 If a country ever gains ownership of a province where it has a Præsídio, it may either dismantle the Præsídio or keep it and replace the regular fortress of the province with it (remove any existing regular fortress counter and move the Præsídio counter on top of the fortress icon to depict the new fortress). IX.7 Redeployment of land troops A Mandatory redeployment A.1 A stack without LOS must redeploy. A.2 A besieging stack must redeploy if it is too small to maintain the siege (less than 1LD per level of the fortress). This typically occurs in case of siege attrition during the last round. A.3 A besieging stack must redeploy if there is no Siegework ☉ and there was neither Breach nor HW obtained during this turn. B Voluntary redeployments B.1 Other besieging forces may choose to redeploy. The controller of each stack decides what to do with it. B.2 Decisions to redeploy are taken in decreasing order of initiative. Redeployments are resolved once all decisions have been taken, thus the decision it self does not reopen LOS or similar effect. B.3 Stacks may not partially redeploy. Either the whole stack redeploy or the whole stack stays. B.4 If the redeployment of a stack would cause another stack to be out of supply, then the would-be OOS stack must also redeploy. This is, however, considered as voluntary redeployment. C Redeployment in the ROTW C.1 Any stack in the ROTW not in a controlled province may be redeployed as per voluntary redeployment procedure. C.2 This include stacks with unknown discoveries and this is a way to bring back discoveries.	Redeployment— master – 2016-04-14 [R]205 D Where to redeploy? D.1 Stacks must redeploy into the closest (in MP) friendly controlled territory. In case of equality, the controller of the stack chooses. D.2 Exception: Redeployment by naval move is never forced if there is a possibility to redeploy by land, even if it is further (in MP). D.3 Redeploying stacks may not enter provinces with non-redeploying unbesieged enemy troops (troops that have finished their redeployment are still "redeploying" until the end of the segment and thus do not hamper other redeployments). Enemy fortresses, even unbesieged, do not hamper redeployment. D.4 Redeploying troops may use naval move if there is a large enough naval stack adjacent to the redeploying stack at the beginning of the redeployment. Redeployment is then done together with return to port of the naval stack (see below). Note that combined land/sea movement is not possible during redeployment. D.5 Redeploying stacks may not split nor pick up more troops. All the stack redeploy at the same place. D.6 Redeploying stacks may enter or cross provinces with friendly troops without any effect on these troops (no "rout"). D.7 Redeploying stacks may not be intercepted. D.8 If redeployment is not possible in 12MP or less, the stack is destroyed. Any leader will reappear next turn as reinforcement. D.9 After redeployment, if any province exceed its stacking limit (8LD), remove any exceeding troops. E Redeployment and attrition E.1 Redeployment is a cause of attrition. Each redeploying stack must roll for movement attrition with the usual modifiers. E.2 In addition, troops redeploying because they have no LOS have a malus of +2 to this test. E.3 Troops conducting a voluntary redeployment have a bonus of -2 to this test. F Continuing siege F.1 Besieging troops which obtained either a Siegework ☉, a Breach or a HW during the turn may continue the siege for next turn. F.2 In this case, remove all Siegework and put a Siegework ☹ (even if there was no Siegework previously). F.3 Continuing siege does not cause attrition. Example: Simple redeployment.— A Turkish stack is besieging Banat and got a Siegework ☉ and a Siegework ☹. It may choose to either stay (and replace both Siegework by a single Siegework ☹) or redeploy to the first friendly province between Valahia (1MP), Serbia (2MP) or Bulgaristan (3MP) (or some other provinces, depending on the military situation but these three are the most likely). If it redeploy, it must roll for attrition at +8 (entering one enemy province, namely Banat), -2 (voluntary redeployment) -MAN (+2 if this is a large stack as this is an extra cause of attrition). If there was only a Siegework ☹ in Banat, then redeployment is mandatory and the bonus of -2 to attrition is lost. Since the stack still has a LOS, there is no specific malus for the roll. Example: Double redeployment.— Suppose that there was another stack besieging Buđà in Magyarország, with a Siegework ☉. If the stack in Banat redeploy, then the stack in Magyarország must also redeploy as it would otherwise by out of supply (its supply line goes through Banat). This is, however, voluntary redeployment, even if the redeployment in Banat was mandatory. That is, TUR must choose to redeploy from Magyarország, but the presence of a Siegework ☉ allows for an orderly redeployment (and the -2 to attrition). Note that it is likely that the closest province is the same from Banat and Magyarország, thus resulting in an overstacking and destruction of exceeding troops. So, voluntarily redeploying both stacks might be a bad idea... This is not always the case due to rivers and mountain pass. Example: Mandatory redeployment.— If a Polish counter-attack managed to relieve the siege of Banat (and stay there), then the Turkish stack in Magyarország is out of supply and must redeploy (with a malus of +2). The closest province is Serbia (provided there is no enemy troops in Croatia). The Polish stack in Banat may not intercept (neither in Croatia, nor in Serbia). If there was an HUNGARIA stack (even a lone LD) in Croatia, then the stack must go to either Moldova (if friendly) of Valahia (in that case, that's a 6MP move, hence another cause of attrition resulting in another +2 to the test).
[R]206 Gold repatriation Example: Impossible redeployment.— Suppose now that Dalmacija belongs to VEN and that there are enemy troops in both Croatie and Erdély (due to a way too bold Turkish attack: destroy enemy troops before going deep in their territory). If MOLDAVIA is neutral, the Turkish stack is trapped and cannot redeploy: it is simply destroyed (it may not cross neutral territory). If Moldova is friendly, the troop may redeploy there. If both Moldova and Basarabia are enemy (eg Polish) and Valahia is neutral, then the stack could possibly redeploy through Kárpátok, Bukovina, Moldova and Basarabia to Doğu Rumeli. However, that 13MP, more than the 12MP limit, thus this redeployment is not possible and the stack is destroyed. Example: Naval redeployment.— A Turkish stack of two Yeniçeriler A ☉ landed in Malta. By the end of the turn, due to the heroic defence of La Valette, TUR only managed to get a Siegework ☹ and is thus forced to redeploy. Fortunately, the Turkish armada is still here to carry the troops back home. Since naval move is 3MP whatever the distance and return to port is not constrained by distance, the stack can redeploy to any Turkish port (or arsenal). Contrary to regular naval move, the land stack may not move after landing in the port. Note that in addition to the mandatory redeployment, the stack is conducting a naval move embarking out of controlled port, and is a large stack. Two extra causes for attrition, each giving a +2 to the roll. If there was no naval stack adjacent to Malta, then redeployment would have been impossible and the Turkish army is destroyed. If SUE is besieging Danzig and owns Hinterpommern, then its closest redeployment possibilities are first by sea (3MP) and then to Hinterpommern (4MP due to swamp and river). Redeployment by sea, however, does not takes precedence over redeployment by land and SUE can freely choose any of the possibilities (but may not split its stack). IX.8 Return to Port A Navies A.1 Naval stacks being located in a sea zone have the choice to either return to any friendly, unblockaded port (or arsenal) of the controller's choice (not necessarily the closest one); OR stay at sea. A.2 This is considered a move (even if staying at sea) and, as any naval move, it causes attrition with the usual modifiers. A.3 In addition, naval stacks staying at sea at the end of turn have a malus of +2 to this roll. A.4 No interception, including by Præsídios or Strait fortifications, may occur during this move. B Pirates and privateers B.1 PIRATÆ P stay where they are. They will still be active next turn. B.2 Other P are repatriated to a port of their owner's choice. B.3 No interception, including by Præsídios or Strait fortifications, may occur during this move. IX.9 Gold repatriation A Before redeployment A.1 Income. During Income phase, gold produced in a COL may be stored in any coastal COL in the same or adjacent Area. See §B of section V.5.3 (ROTW gold). A.2 Military. During military rounds, gold may be moved either with troops or ships (including convoys) and intercepted by enemies. See §D (Spanish convoys) of section VI.12.2.1 (The convoys) for the apparition of the Spanish convoys and section VIII.6.1 (Convoys) for the attacks on convoys. B Reaching Europe B.1 As soon as a land or naval stack carrying gold reaches a owned and controlled province on the European map, the gold is emptied and the amount is tallied in line A10 of ERS.	Redeployment— master – 2016-04-14 [R]207 B.2 Note that COL of level 6, as well as Açores or Islas Canarias, are European provinces but not on the European map and are thus not sufficient to bring gold back home. C Gold transportation C.1 During the Redeployment phase, gold gain a free land movement (only). C.2 Exception: Gold in any establishment bordering the Mer Caspienne at the beginning of this segment may cross it and reach any other province bordering that sea. C.3 It may thus moves any distance along a chain of friendly establishments (COL, TP or fort). C.4 Each establishment along the chain must be 12MP or less from the previous one (counting the cost as for LD). C.5 The path may not cross a province with a non-besieged enemy stack or fortress. C.6 Gold can thus be repatriated for any distance as long as each "leg" of the movement is 12MP or less. C.7 If Gold reaches an owned and controlled province on the European map, it is immediately emptied and tallied in line A10 of ERS. C.8 This movement of Gold may not be intercepted in any way. Design note: Siberian gold is usually repatriated this way and thus do not require any campaign or accompanying troops to move. On the other hand, American gold must cross the Ocean and can only do so during the military rounds. This repatriation still allows to easily concentrate all the gold in one place and prepare for an immediate naval move during the next turn.

Budget

Example:

A correctly filled new international loan (of 100 £, at turn n, in red) over an existing one (of 200 £, from turn n − 2, in black):

	Turn	n − 2	n − 1	n	n + 1	n + 2	n + 3
1	New International loan	200		100
2	I. loan interest		20	20	2030	10	10
3	I. loan refunds				200		100

See also section VI.5 (Loan refund) for more detailed examples on how to fill the loan management record.

E.1

Write in line A24 (RT balance) of ERS the sum of line A21 of ERS + line A22 of ERS + line A23 of ERS minus line A20 of ERS. It may be negative if line A20 of ERS is too big.

E.2

Write in line A25 (RT after Exchequer test) of ERS the sum of line A13 (RT before Exchequer) of ERS + line A24 of ERS.

Design note:

line A20 (Remaining expenses) of ERS depict expenses that are left to be paid after using the Regular income. Hence it is subtracted from the RT while other lines are added (they are money taken from prestige or loan in order to fill the treasury).
If line A20 of ERS is negative, regular income was enough to cover all expenses. Then, the surplus is added to the treasury (as subtracting a negative number results in an addition).

Design note:

All in all, do not try to understand all the steps here while reading the rules. After a couple of turns of computing your budget, things will become more natural. Note that if you are having a "teaching session", you should try several "stupid" things with your budget to see the consequences.

Stability Improvement

X.4.2 Loan Management

A

Players must then correctly take care of their loans for the next turn.

B International loans

B.1 Since the interests are not changed by partial refund of the capital, management of the international loans is entirely done during the administrative phase (when bankrupting or refunding) and the budget segment (for new loans).

C National loans

C.1 Compute in line C10 (National loans at end) of ERS the difference between line C5 of ERS, minus line C7 of ERS, minus line C8 of ERS and add line C9 of ERS.
C.2 Report this number in line C5 of ERS of the next turn.

X.4.3 Prestige and Wealth

A Wealth

During each period, a global wealth is computed for each country. Wealth represent the overall economical situation of the country, as well as exceptionally good management (in the form of Prestige).
A.1 At the end of each period, wealth is converted into VPs. Each country has a different rate of exchange of wealth for VPs as each country has different typical economical situation.
A.2 All in all, each country is expected to score around 100VPs for wealth each period, give or take a few dozens if this is supposed to be a period of glory or decay.

B Prestige

Write in line A26 (Prestige VPs) of ERS the difference between line A16 (Prestige income) of ERS minus line A21 (from Prestige) of ERS. That is the remaining Prestige income that was not spend for covering daily expenses.

C Wealth

Turn wealth is the sum of the Gross income and the Prestige VPs. Period wealth is the sum of all turn wealth over all the period.
C.1 Write in line A27 (Wealth) of ERS the sum of line A14 of ERS and line A26 of ERS.
C.2 Write in line A28 (Period wealth) of ERS the sum of line A28 of ERS of the previous turn and line A27 of ERS of the current turn.
C.3 Exception: If this is the first turn of a period, simply copy line A27 of ERS into Period wealth. That is, period wealth is reseted at each period.

X.5 Stability Improvement

A Stability

A country may attempt to improve its Stability, but this is never mandatory. As many actions, Stability improvement requires an investment and is resolved by a die roll. Beware that in some situations the result may be negative and cannot be forfeited once the die has been rolled.
A.1 Countries whose monarch was just overthrown due to revolts (see section IX.4.6 (Execution of the Monarch)) may not do a Stability improvement action this turn.

B Investment

Each player wanting to improve the Stability of his country first chooses an investment and writes its cost in line A29 (Stability improvement) of ERS. As for administrative actions, higher investments give bonuses to the roll.
B.1 The investment are:
Basic Investment: 30 £
Medium (+2 to the die-roll): 50 £
Strong (+5 to the die-roll): 100 £

Exchequer test and budget— master – 2016-04-14

[R]213

Playing tip:

When planning expenses, it is obviously a good idea to keep an eye on the possible income... Too many expenses result in bankruptcy while too few result in money "wasted" for prestige (instead of being use for buying troops or waging war).
Here are some guidelines in preparing your budget:
First, check in the administrative actions table what are the possible and plausible results with respect to your current (and expected) Stability. You may discard very unlikely results (with only 10% chance of happening) but you know you take a risk doing so. It is especially important to take into account the worse possible result you may obtain if you want to limit risks.
Second, check in the Exchequer test table the sum of percentages these results produce. Check separately the sum of Regular + Prestige income (income without debt) and the sum of the three percentages (income with debt). Applying these percentage to your Gross Income will give some amount of money.
Do not spend more than your best income with debt, obviously, doing so will result in problems. Spending more than the worse income with debt means taking risks. Estimate the risks (Is it a 10% or 30% chance of getting the worse result?) compared to the situation (Do you have lot of money in your RT to handle the loss?) and the expected gain (Will the extra expense allow you to win the war?)
Spending less than the worse income without debt means that some money will necessarily go into Prestige VPs. Are you sure it won't be better used for troops, economical development, ... ? Spending less than the best income without debt means that you may get Prestige VPs but they are not guaranteed either.
The good cases is when the worst income with debt is roughly equal (or larger) to the best income without debt. Spending that amount of money means that the worse that can happen is to take a new loan (that can be handled later) and that you won't waste too much money on Prestige. Note that you have to plan your administrative actions and loan refund before the military phase, thus without knowing precisely how long the turn will last and how much you'll spend for moving troops (especially if at war). Thus, there is often some risk involved. ...
Remember that the economical system works best if you have some loan that you refund and recontract immediately (for a net effect of transferring Prestige income into the RT). If you plan to use this loan trick, then the amount of loan involved is not really a debt, that is increase you income without debt by this amount when planning your expenses.
Remember that the worse that can happen is a RT collapse. But even for that you need several turns of bad luck, bad management, or bad wars. Thus, don't be afraid of making too big errors with the economical system. You should get the hand of it before catastrophic results occur. ...
Note also that the malus to the Exchequer test if for loans still going on during the test. Thus, if you have 299 £ of national loan at the start of the turn, and refund 100 £ of them during the administrative phase, you're left with 199 £ of loan before the test, thus only a −1 malus (because that's not two "full 100 £"). Sometimes, it is better to refund a bit more than what you'd naturally do because avoiding a −1 DRM can be an extremely good idea.

Example:

If your Stability is +2 and you are at peace (+2 to Exchequer test), then you'll likely to get ½+, S or S+ (with only 10% chance of ½). ½+ has 100% income with debt while S+ has 100% income without debt. Thus, by spending as much as your Gross income, you're almost guaranteed to be able to cover your expenses, maybe with some new loans. There is a small risk (10%) of a bad result (½) that will leave you with only 80% income. Estimate the risk versus gain for the last 20% of expenses. On the other hand, a good result gives you up to 120% with debt, hence some choice on whether to contract loan in order to get more Prestige.
If your Stability is -2 and you roll at −3 due to heavy loans or previous bankruptcies, then the likely result are F+, F or ½ (disregarding the unlikely ½+). If you are at war, the income with debt for F+ is 80%, and the income with debt of ½ is 90%. Thus by spending around 80% of your Gross Income, you're sure to be able to fill your budget with some loan. But you're also sure to need some new loan... (and a good surprise may arise in the form of ½+).
Note that the true difference in the table is between ½ (only 50/80% of the total) and ½+ (70/100%). Especially, being at peace with a Stability of +3 guarantees a good result.

C Procedure

This action is resolved without requiring a table. The player rolls a die modified as follows (all modifiers are cumulative):
+? ADM monarch.
+2/5 if medium/strong investment.
+2 if the country was victim of a declaration of war this turn without having broken an alliance or declared a war itself.
-3 if the country is at war with at least one major country (including overseas wars but excluding interventions).
-2 if the country is at war with at least one minor country and no major country (including overseas wars but excluding interventions).
-5 if an enemy A counter is in an owned national province and controls the city (not applicable during a Religious/Civil War, do not count revolt and rebel troops).
-3 Exception: for HIS, the malus for having an enemy A counter controlling the city, is -3 only, however it applies for any owned territory (not only its national territory). This specificity ends with event IV-2 (1) (Olivares) (if effects are applied), or with event V-4 (The War of Spanish Succession) (whatever the choices and outcomes).
+3 for a Prosperous Power (see below).
-3 for an Anti-Prosperous Power (see below).
±? by event.

Design note: Spanish empire

The early Spanish empire was more of a multicultural empire including both Spain, Italy and the Netherlands than a modern country. Hence, occupying any part of the empire will hurt some people (and hamper Stability). There is no real notion of national territory to defend at all cost opposed to more distant vassals and "colony". However, only part of the empire is shocked by the war, thus the malus is smaller. Olivares policies recentred the empire on Spain, making it more like other European powers of the time.

D Result

If the modified result is equal to:
5- the Stability decreases by 1.
6-10 Nothing changes.
11-14 the Stability increases by 1.
15-17 the Stability increases by 2.
18+ the Stability increases by 3.
D.1 Reminder: Stability varies from -3 to +3. It is not possible to decline the result (especially the loss of Stability) once the die has been rolled.
D.2 Stability is recorded on the Stability track on the ROTW map. Move the Stability marker according to the result of the action.

E Prosperity

tracks the evolution of the Gross income (as recorded in line A14 of ERS). A regular increase of the Gross income will make people happy and ease Stability improvement, a regular decrease will make people unhappy.
E.1 Prosperous Power A country is Prosperous if its Gross income has not decreased during the last 2 consecutive turns and increased during at least one of those turns.
E.2 Anti-Prosperous Power: A country is Anti-Prosperous if its Gross Income has decreased 2 consecutive turns.

Example: Prosperity.—

If the Gross income for the last two turns and the current one are:
• 100, 110, 120: the country is prosperous.
• 100, 100, 101: the country is prosperous (no decrease, at least one increase).
• 100, 110, 109: nothing (one decrease prevents prosperity even if the final result is higher than two turns earlier)

It is advised to try and minimise the time involved for peace discussions and keep the negotiations for the Diplomatic phase. However, evaluation of the new situation is required and some complex transactions are not uncommon (nor unrealistic given what historically happened during the time frame of the game). Discussions should be kept focused on the current peace and not diverge toward long term agreements (these are best suited for the Diplomatic phase). Players may isolate themselves from other players in order to discuss peaces. Either allies wanting to prepare a common proposal or enemies wanting to discuss secret clauses without third party players interfering in the discussion. Private discussions do not need to include all members of a given alliance. . . As a rule of thumb, peace discussions between enemies is faster if there are no other players listening and commenting the proposals, trying to influence it. However, do not hesitate to ask advice from other players to check if some proposal is as balanced as it seems. If the military situation does not modify this, it is rounded to +1 in favour of the alliance. SUE and TUR are at war against RUS. The Stability of RUS and TUR are 1 while the Stability of SUE is 0. Thus, the basic PD is +0.5 in favour of RUS. However, the alliance controls four Russian provinces while RUS controls no enemy province. Thus, the PD is modified by 2 in favour of the alliance, for a result of +1.5, rounded down to +1 in favour of the alliance. Note that if rounding had occurred before modification, the PD would have been rounded to 0 and then modified to +2 in favour of the alliance. That is, countries in limited or foreign intervention do not risk to lose anything at peace time, but they may not either have any gain. Obviously, there may be some promises to be fulfilled at a later Diplomatic phase, but as always promises are not binding. B.2 There are 4 types of conditions that may be given at peace:   Territorial concessions: The losing alliance gives ownership of one province to the winning alliance. See section XI.3.5 (Transfers of Provinces by Peaces) to know which province may be annexed by who. The province may belong to any member of the loosing alliance (including minor allies). The province can be given to any member of the winning alliance (including minor allies). The choice of the province is made either by the losing or winning alliance, depending on the level of the peace. Indemnities: The losing alliance must give some money to the winning alliance. The money must come from the RT of one or more majors of the loosing alliance (minor allies may not pay the indemnities) and can be given to one or more members of the winning alliance (minor allies may receive the indemnities). The amount is written in line A30 of ERS of the concerned countries (negative for the losers, positive for the winners). If the losing alliance is composed solely of minor countries, they may pay indemnities. The losing alliance always choose who pay, while the winning alliance always choose who gets the money. Diplomatic concessions: Either of the choice below. The precise choice is only decided when implementing the condition and is always made by the winning alliance. The minor involved must not necessarily be part of the war to be chosen (drastic changes of alliances and distant weddings were not uncommon). The minor involved may however not be at war elsewhere (it may be part of the just finishing war). <ul style="list-style-type: none"> (Europe) The loosing alliance must give diplomatic control of one of its European minor allies to the winning alliance. If the loosing alliance is solely composed of minors, then the winning alliance may gain diplomatic control of one of them. (ROTW) One ROTW minor breaks its diplomatic status with some member of the losing alliance and may increase its status with some member of the winning alliance. Special conditions: Events and other specific rules sometimes create specific concessions that may (or must) be used as peace conditions for some wars. Sometimes, a minimum level of the peace is required in order to ask for this concession. Sometimes, a concession is automatically added to other peace conditions as soon as the peace reaches a certain level.   C Terms of the peace When a peace is agreed between majors, the terms must specify both the level of the peace and the nature of the conditions. For example, two countries may sign “a peace of level 3 with one territorial concession first and then one diplomatic concession”.   C.1 Once the peace is agreed, players may choose the precise conditions (which province to annex, who is going to pay the indemnities, . . .) C.2 The order of the concessions is important only in case of disagreement between players.   D Deciding details In each alliance, the country whose monarch has the higher DIP has all power to decide which peace to sign.   D.1 However, for the precise choice of the conditions, the choice is made in decreasing order of DIP in each alliance. That is, the monarch with higher DIP chooses the first condition, the second one chooses the second, and so one (looping back to the monarch with higher DIP if needed). D.2 Not that choices are made sometime by the losing alliance and sometime by the winning one. The choice order is followed by each alliance separately. D.3 For Territorial concessions only, the alliance who choose depends on the level of the peace and the number of territorial concessions (only). That is, if the only territorial concession is the second condition of the peace, it is still the first territorial concession.

[R]224 Peace offers and discussions Example: Disagreement.— HIS and HOL are losing a war against FRA, allied to PORTUGALLIA. HOL has higher DIP than HIS. The peace differential is 4, so the only peace that may be signed is of level 4, hence three conditions. After some discussions, FRA and HOL agree on indemnities as first conditions and then two territorial concessions after that. Note that having lower DIP, HIS may take part in the discussion but in the end, the decision is made by HOL, however, if HOL wanted to stay at war, HIS could have signed a separate peace. Since HOL has the higher DIP, he choose how to implement the losing side of the first condition and decides that HIS is going to pay all the indemnities (they could have been split in any way between the losers). Being the only Major, FRA chooses who receive the money. Even if it could have given some to PORTUGALLIA, it prefers to keep all of it. . . (note that as part of the discussion, it could have been agreed that this money goes to PORTUGALLIA (and is lost) but this would have been only a verbal non binding agreement and in the end FRA decides who gets the money). Even if the first territorial concession is the second condition, it is the first territorial one, hence chosen by the winning alliance (for a peace of level 4). FRA chooses to annex a Spanish province. Lastly, the second territorial concession is implemented. It is chosen by the losing alliance. Since HOL already has its turn in choosing a condition (for the indemnities) and HIS did not has its, HIS chooses and decides to give a Dutch COL to PORTUGALLIA. Playing tip: Note that letting an unwilling ally support all the weight of the peace is probably not a good long term strategy if you still need allies for future wars. Usually, the precise implementation of the peace conditions is agreed upon between players before signing the peace. The precise order of choice is rarely needed. A lot of rules are written to handle disagreements because that's the special cases where we need how to resolve the situation for the rare cases where players really have divergent opinions. In most of the cases, the players go out of the negotiation room already knowing all the details of the peace, and the high DIP country discuss with its allies rather than imposing a peace. Especially, Europa Universalis is a (very) long term game. Backstabbing people during peace negotiation is probably not a good long term strategy. You may do it sometime when you really have a huge gain or a big opposing goal with someone, but be careful.	Peaces— master – 2016-04-14 [R]225 B.1 Territorial concession The province is selected by the losing alliance. B.2 Indemnities The losing alliance gives 50  of war indemnities to the winning alliance. B.3 European Diplomatic concession One European country, neither in VA nor AN, is removed from one loser's Diplomatic Track and placed back into the Neutral box. In this case (only), the controllers of the minors select the nature of the conditions and must choose territorial or specific conditions if possible (and indemnities last), resolving disagreement as if they were allied. Note that it is still possible to attempt a regular peace of level +5 (favouring the minor) and rolling die. G.3 Minor countries always accept to sign a global White Peace in Overseas War. Note that the major may choose not to propose the peace and stay at war, or roll to try and get a winning peace. H Consequences of Peace H.1 The conditions of Peace are the same as for a Peace between Major powers. H.2 A Minor country will at most pay indemnities up to 4 times its income (total), immediately before the conclusion of the Peace (before changing ownership of provinces) but disregarding enemy control, Revolt or Pillage. Any other indemnities are void but are still a valid peace condition. H.3 The controller of the minor makes all decisions concerning peace if needed (normally, only the choice of annexed provinces, depending on the level of the peace and the number of territorial concessions). If the controller has to choose which provinces to annex, he must choose provinces adjacent to the minor's territory if possible. H.4 A minor country never takes Diplomatic concessions, only provinces, indemnities and special conditions. It may, however, give Diplomatic concessions.
[R]230 Peace offers and discussions Design note: Fair play When making decision on behalf of a minor, players should always take the minor's interest into account. Neutral minors do have a controller only as a game artefact because it's impossible to play them otherwise. However, the controller should not take advantage of this to poorly play the minor, and especially not as an asset to be negotiated (i.e. "I choose to have the minor annex a province you don't need for your victory objectives if you give me 50 ⚡." is definitely not the way this game is intended to be played. . .) As much as possible, we tried to have neutral minors controlled by powers who should have interest in letting the minor do well (or at least no interest in having it do poorly). But this is not always the case due to circumstances. Don't abuse your position as controller of a minor's country. Play it for the best interest of the minor, not yours. Don't hesitate to ask advice to other players on the decisions the minor should make if you have doubts. Minors who have a Diplomatic patron are another matter. They are basically part of one country's empire and more or less obey the orders. . . I Multiple and Separate Peace If one or more major sign a separate peace with a minor country (and stay at war against the controlling country); this minor may not be again involved in a war against these majors next turn (unless by an event). Example: Nature of the peace.— Proposing to a minor a peace of level -1 (the minor loses) with territorial concessions (i.e. annexing one province of the minor), creates a modifier of $3 \times (-1)$ (level of the peace) - (+1) (territorial concession) = -4. With indemnities, the modifier would be -3 - (-1) = -2. Minors are more eager to sign peace giving money than territory (one needs to roll high to obtain peace). Proposing a peace of level +3 (the minor wins) with two indemnities (for a total of 150 ⚡) creates a modifier of $3 \times (+3)$ (level of the peace) + (-1) + (-1) (two indemnities) = +7. With two territorial concessions, the modifier would be +9 + (+1) + (+1) = +11. It's easier to sign peace if you give territory than money.	Peaces— master – 2016-04-14 [R]231 Example: Military situation.— On turn 15, event III-4 (1) (Northern Seven Years War) erupts and DANIA attacks SUE. During turn 15, SUE wins two naval battles but loses one where its admiral is captured (in game, killed) and loses one land battle, while trying to invade Skåne. Meanwhile, the Swedish Northern army manages to take control of Trøndelag. Thus, the situation modifier is +2 (one province of the minor is occupied) while the action modifier is +2 (two battles won by SUE) -2 (two battles won by DANIA) -1 (one Swedish leader killed) +1 (one successful siege) = 0. Since there is a -2 nationality modifier for DANIA and an additional -2 due to the Danish claim on the Swedish crown (section XIV.7.2.1 (Relations with Dania)), the global modifier is -4. Not wanting to sign a white or losing peace, SUE decides to stay at war. During turn 16, SUE wins three naval battles, killing the Danish admiral once and on land both win once. Trøndelag stays in Swedish hands and no other siege succeed but the Danish general Rantzau is nonetheless killed in an unsuccessful assault. Thus, the situation modifier is still +2. The action modifier, however, is now +4 (four Swedish victories) -1 (one Danish victory) +2 (two Danish leaders killed) = +5. Note that the actions of turn 15 are now forgotten and only what happened recently is taken into account. With the nationality modifier and the special modifier, this results in a +1 favouring SUE. Being also involved in the Livonian war, SUE wants to sign peace. Being in a not too bad situation (especially with Rantzau dead), SUE wants to attempt a winning peace. Depending on the peace, the modifier will be: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> Peace of level +1 (Danish victory), giving indemnities (no province may be given as DANIA controls none): +1 (situation, action and nationality modifiers) + $3 \times (+1)$ (level of the peace) + (-1) (giving indemnities) = +3 and will have 80% chances of success (3 or more). Peace of level 0 (back to status quo): $+1 + 3 \times 0 = +1$ (60% success). Peace of level -1 (Swedish victory), annexing a province (either Trøndelag or one of the three national provinces of SUE owned by DANIA): $+1 + 3 \times (-1)$ (level of the peace) - (+1) (taking one territorial concession) = -3 (only 20% success only, and the special modifier stays for future peaces). Peace of level -1, taking indemnities: $+1 + 3 \times (-1)$ - (-1) (taking indemnities) = -1 (40% success, but very little gain with only 50 ⚡). Peace of level -1, asking DANIA to abandon claims on the crown (special peace condition provided by section XIV.7.2.1 (Relations with Dania)): $+1 + 3 \times (-1)$ - 0 (no modifier for this condition) = -2 (30% success and future peaces will be much easier). This was the historical result of the war (treaty of Stettin). Peace of level -2, asking heavier indemnities: $+1 + 3 \times (-2)$ - (-1) = -6 (impossible). In this not really decisive situation, it is simply impossible to ask for a peace of level 2. Example: Separate peace.— At turn 7, FRA is at war against HIS and SABAUDIA. FRA controls Savoia (from a previous turn) and Bresse (from this turn) but HIS controls Artois (annexed earlier by FRA) and Languedoc. SABAUDIA was not involved in any battles (its last troops heroically defended Nice against a french siege). The Stability of FRA is +0 and the Stability of HIS is +1. The Peace Differential between the alliances, seen from the French side, is -1 (Stability differential) not modified (FRA controls 3 provinces, the capital counting as two, but HIS controls 2, so there is only 1 extra province, not enough to modify the PD). HIS is not willing to sign an unfavourable negotiated peace (level 1 favouring FRA) and FRA also refuse the conditional peace of level 1 (favouring HIS). However FRA wants to try and get SABAUDIA out of the war in order to free its occupation troops and repulse the Spaniards. The situation modifier is +4 (two provinces occupied, the Spanish occupation does not count for a peace with SABAUDIA) +2 (capital was conquered) = +6. The action modifier is +1 (one siege) and there is a separate peace modifier of -2 (Separate peace) -1 (Peace differential versus the alliance of the minor) = -3. Thus, the global modifier is +4. FRA is almost guaranteed to have a white peace (90% success) and may even try to annex Bresse (50% success). Design note: Peace differential If the minor is on the winning side of the war, it does not want to betray its allies to get out (or only with heavy spoils), thus the PD acts negatively in the peace roll. On the other hand, if the minor is on the losing side of the war, it may want to try and cut its losses before being involved in a dramatic peace, thus the PD acts positively. Always take the PD as seen from the alliance proposing peace. Always consider the PD versus the whole alliance of the minor (not only its controller, this is not a separate peace with the controller).

[R]232 Peace offers and discussions Example: Max indemnities.— FRA is at war against the lone LOTHARINGIA and controls Lorraine. Since it is the only province of the minor, it automatically accepts an unconditional surrender leaving FRA with three conditions to choose. Since its only province is a capital, FRA may not annex it. FRA choose to take 3 indemnities. Since it is a peace of level 5, each indemnity is worth 150 D for a total of 450 D. However, the income of LOTHARINGIA is only 7 D, thus the maximum indemnities it may pay is $7 \times 4 = 28 \text{ D}$ total. The 422 other D are lost (but still represent a valid peace condition, that is FRA may sign the peace for 28 D). Remark: in this situation, it would probably be wiser for FRA to ask for diplomatic concessions, representing in this case the long-term French occupation of LOTHARINGIA in the 16th and 17th centuries. XI.3.7 General Consequences of the Peace A Peace brings the conflict opposing the belligerent countries to an end. A.1 Unless involved in another war, the countries are now considered at peace for all game purposes. B Resolving peaces Peace conditions must be transferred immediately upon signing the peace. B.1 Provinces given as territorial concession change ownership. Mark with the correct ownership counters. If there is a fortress in the province, the new owner may immediately replace it with one of its fortress of the same or lower level or destroy it (special European arsenals may be replaced by a fortress of the same level or an European arsenal if one is allowed here). B.2 COL and TP given as territorial concessions also change ownership. Replace the counter by a counter of the same nature of the new owner. Level and exploited resources stay the same, update the corresponding record sheets. Any fortress or arsenal may be replaced by a counter of the same nature and same or lower level of the new owner (a fortress may also replace an arsenal, an arsenal may not replace a fortress), or destroyed. B.3 If the new owner does not have available counters, it may immediately destroy (or reduce levels of) existing ones as needed. B.4 If not enough fortress, COL or TP counters are available (COL and TP limit is usually smaller than counter mix), the owner may destroy one of its existing one. If not enough ownership counters are available, make new or use whatever mean you wish to denote ownership. B.5 Any minor given as diplomatic concession changes patron. Place its diplomatic counter at the right position on the diplomatic track. B.6 Indemnities must be payed immediately in full, even if this leads to a future bankrupt. B.7 Other specific conditions are also implemented immediately, marking any changes as possible. C Returning control Remove any control markers of country signing peace that is located inside a country signing peace with it. Control of these provinces is returned to their rightful owner. C.1 Any fortress of a country signing peace located in a province owned by another country signing peace with it may be immediately replaced by a counter of the same or lower level of the owner, or destroyed. Owner of the province chooses. C.2 Exception: Præsidios are kept. They do not change ownership and are not removed. D Peace Evacuation Any land unit in a not-owned province must evacuate unless the owner of the unit is either at war or intervention with (ally) or against (enemy) the owner of the province. D.1 Evacuating units must move to owned and controlled territory. D.2 Evacuating units may move through any country that was part of any just ended war with (ally) or against (enemy) them, including former enemies, regardless of the presence of any unit (even those that were not part of a just ended war, e.g. third party units involved in another war). D.3 Exception: they may not enter a province with an unbesieged enemy unit or fortress (from another war). D.4 Evacuating units may not, however, move through provinces of countries that were not part of the war. D.5 Evacuating units may move by sea, even if there is no fleet to transport them.	Peaces— master – 2016-04-14 [R]233 D.6 Evacuating units have unlimited movement capacity (i.e. they are not limited to 12MP). Evacuation is not necessarily done toward the closest province, however, evacuating units may not move more than 12MP if they can evacuate in 12MP or less. D.7 Evacuating units may not be intercepted. D.8 Evacuating units roll for attrition as usual, with a –2 to the roll, and considering all provinces as friendly. Ignore any bad weather. Each set of 6MP expanded is one cause of attrition. E Evacuation at sea Naval units of a country signing at least one peace may either evacuate to any owned and controlled port or stay at sea. E.1 If they return to port, they must roll for attrition with a bonus of –2. E.2 However, if they stay at sea, they do not need to roll for attrition. Design note: Control and evacuation Returning control and evacuating only happens between former belligerents (including allies). If a country is involved in another war, it does not have to return control and evacuate from this war (if it is still going on). When, evacuating, you must also evacuate from your ally, except if your are still together fighting in another war. If ending an intervention, you must also evacuate any unit that was part of the intervention. Land unit in non-controlled provinces of countries at war are handled by section IX.7 (Redeployment of land troops). F Evacuation and redeployment If any stack is out of supply after evacuation (this may happen because of separate peace), it may chose to also evacuate or stay where it is. F.1 If it evacuate, it does not get the –2 to attrition roll. In addition it is considered to have entered at least one enemy province (the one where it starts its evacuation). G Memento G.1 At this point of the turn, land units should be either: In a controlled province. OR In a controlled Præsidio. OR Besieging a province where they could maintain siege. OR In a province controlled by a member of the same alliance, together at war (or intervention). OR Besieged in a fortress. OR In the ROTW, in a province without any establishment. G.2 Any other land unit must either have redeploy or evacuate [or I did overlook an obvious special case]. Example: Returning control and Evacuation.— FRA and HIS sign peace and are now fully at peace. After any change in ownership of provinces due to the treaty, FRA must give back control of any province owned by HIS it currently controls and reciprocally HIS must give back control of French provinces. Next, any French troop in Spanish province must evacuate to a French province. During evacuation, it may cross any French or Spanish province and ignore the presence of any other unit (stacking limit is still enforced at the end of evacuation). Similarly, Spanish troops must evacuate French territory. Example: Neutral provinces.— FRA and HOL sign peace and are now fully at peace. When evacuating Dutch provinces, French troops may not cross Spanish provinces (typically in the Spanish Netherlands) because HIS was not part of the just ended war. FRA is involved in two separate wars, one with HIS and the other with HOL. Both end the same turn. Now French unit evacuating Dutch territory may cross Spanish provinces (it would be too complicated and no that much realistic to try and track which troop was in which war).
[R]234 Peace offers and discussions Example: Neutral and enemy troops.— FRA is at war against HIS and HOL (separately) and HIS is also at war against HOL. FRA signs peace with HOL but stays at war against HIS. HIS stays at war against HOL and currently control or besiege several Dutch provinces. FRA must evacuate from Dutch territory as it is now at peace with HOL. FRA do not need to evacuate from Spanish territory as it is still at war against HIS. When evacuating from Dutch territory, French troops may not cross provinces owned by HIS (they are not part of a just ended war) nor Dutch provinces with Spanish control or siege (military presence of an ongoing enemy). If, on the other hand, FRA signs peace with both HIS and HOL, then its troops evacuating from Dutch territory may move through Spanish units (ignore any non-enemy unit). Even if FRA was not at war against HIS (but only against HOL), its evacuating troops may move through Dutch province controlled by Spanish troops. Example: Alliance.— FRA is at war against allied HIS and HOL, they sign peace and are now fully at peace. HOL must not only evacuate from French provinces but also from Spanish ones (not-owned, not at war allied with). If the war goes on, however, Dutch troops may stay in Spanish or French provinces. Similarly, if HOL and HIS are still involved together in another war, Dutch troops in Spanish provinces should not be evacuated and must stay here (evacuation is not an option, if you don't need to evacuate, you may not evacuate). If ANG is in limited intervention allied to HIS and HOL and stops its intervention (either because the war ends or because it wants to do something else), then it must evacuate from the territory of FRA, HIS and HOL and must go back to England. If the intervention continues, however, the English stack may stay on the continent. H Pacification Unless this is a Negotiated Peace, or a Conditional white peace: H.1 All existing CB at the time of the peace are negated for 1 turn, even permanent ones. H.2 Additionally, each loser is forbidden to declare war without CB against any victor next turn. H.3 For this purpose, all peaces of level 1 are considered Conditional peace if possible. Only the peaces that could not have been signed as Conditional peace are Negotiated peaces. Design note: This effectively prevents the losers from attacking the winners next turn, unless an new CB appears, usually by event. The winners, however, may attack the losers but at high cost (no CB). I Peace and Casus Belli I.1 Any permanent CB whose cause does not exists any more is cancelled (e.g. return of the last national province, conversion of an heretic, . . .) I.2 Unless this is a white peace, all temporary CB from all belligerents (not only the attacker) obtained before the end of the war are considered to have been used. Design note: Temporary CB Most temporary CB are one time. In case of war, all of them are considered used, that is, the war is waged over all former causes of resentment not just over the single border dispute that made it erupt. Some temporary CB are multiple use (e.g. once per period). In this case, the war “uses” one of these. J Peace and Stability Any major country that both was fully at war against at least another major country or was victim of a declaration of war by a minor (either by political event or R/D) during one of the previous turns ; AND is now completely at peace (no intervention either) for the first time since these wars ; immediately gains 1 Stability. J.1 If the country is not completely at peace now, the Stability will be gained when it will be at peace, even if the last peace treaty should not be enough to gain it. J.2 This gain is limited to 1 Stability per country per turn, no matter how many peaces are signed. Example: Standard case.— At turn 46, at the end of event V-4 (The War of Spanish Succession), FRA and HIS sign peace with ANG, HOL and AUS. AUS is still involved in a war in HUNGARIA against TUR. Since FRA, HIS, ANG and HOL are now fully at peace they each gain 1 Stability, and only 1, no matter how many enemies they signed peace with. AUS is prevented from gaining it by still being at war against TUR. At turn 47, AUS and TUR sign peace. They are now fully at peace and both gain 1 Stability.	Peaces— master – 2016-04-14 [R]235 Example: Peace with minors and Stability.— At turn 5, TUR attacks SYRIA, a minor. If it signs peace at the end of turn 5, it does not gain Stability as this is a minor and TUR was the attacker. At turn 5, TUR attacks SYRIA. At turn 6, event II-5 (War between Persia and Turkey) happens early and PERSIA attacks TUR. At the end of turn 6, TUR manage to sign peace with PERSIA. Since it was victim of a declaration of war by a minor, it should gain Stability. However, it is still at war against SYRIA and may not gain it, but the fact that it got out of a “big” war is remembered. At turn 7, TUR signs peace with SYRIA. Since it is now completely at peace, it gains 1 Stability. Example: Separate peaces and Stability.— At turn 10, TUR is at war against allied HIS and VEN. It signs a separate peace with VEN. Since it is a major country, it should gain 1 Stability but is prevented to do so by still being at war against HIS. VEN, however, is now fully at peace and gain 1 Stability (thus mitigating the 2 Stability loss of breaking an alliance for separate peace). At turn 8, TUR and HIS sign peace. TUR is now fully at peace and has two reasons to gain Stability: the former treaty with VEN and the current with HIS. However, the max gain is 1 per turn, so it gains only 1 Stability. Similarly, HIS is now fully at peace and gains 1 Stability. Example: Peace and interventions.— At turn 28, POL is both at war against RUS and in foreign intervention in event IV-A (Thirty Years' War). It signs peace with RUS. Since it is a peace with a major, it should gain 1 Stability, but being in intervention prevents this. At turn 29, POL ends its intervention. At the end of the turn, since it is now fully at peace and was previously at war against a major, it gains 1 Stability. Playing tip: This Stability gain may only occur when a country becomes fully at peace. So most of the time you don't need to figure out whether you gain Stability or not. The question should only arise when becoming fully at peace. XI.4 Stability adjustment XI.4.1 Wars A The Stability of each country that is not fully at peace (and some other cases) decreases. B Full war B.1 Each country fully at war (either against a major or minor) loses as many Stability as the duration of the war (in turns). B.2 Thus, the loss is 1 Stability on the first turn of the war, 2 on the second and so on. B.3 The loss is limited to a maximum of 4 Stability per turn. B.4 Note that this loss is applied after peaces have been signed, thus countries signing peace are not affected by it. C Overseas Wars C.1 The same loss of Stability is applied for Overseas Wars C.2 The loss for an overseas war is limited to 2 Stability per turn, however. D Multiple Wars Loses for wars are not cumulative. Only apply the bigger loss.

[R]236 Inflation Example: Thirty years war.— At turn 26, event IV-1 (1) (Bohemian Revolt) occurs and AUS enters war against BOHEMIA. At the end of the turn, AUS loses 1 Stability for this war. At turn 27, the war degenerate in event IV-A (Thirty Years' War) and both HIS and HOL enter the war. At the end of the turn, HIS and HOL both lose 1 Stability, as they have been at war for one turn, while AUS loses 2 Stability, as it has been at war for two turns. At turn 28, SUE takes the defence of the protestant cause and enter the war. At the end of the turn, SUE loses 1 Stability, HIS and HOL lose 2 each and AUS loses 3. . . At turn 29, FRA enter the war against the Habsburg empire. At the end of the turn, FRA loses 1 Stability, SUE loses 2, HIS and HOL lose 3 each and AUS loses 4. At the end of turn 30, FRA loses 2 Stability, SUE loses 3, HOL and HIS lose 4 each and AUS should lose 5 but the loss is limited to 4. Richelieu starts asking his opponents if they're ready to accept his terms. . . XI.4.2 Interventions A Limited Intervention A.1 For each continued limited intervention, the intervening country loses 1 Stability. A.2 This loss is cumulative with the loss for full wars. B Foreign intervention B.1 There is no cost for continuing a foreign intervention. However, the intervening stack may not be reinforced. B.2 Remember that it is always possible to withdraw from a foreign intervention and re-intervene next turn (while limited intervention may only be declared at the beginning of the war). This does cost 1 Stability and de facto allows to reinforce the stack. Example: Interventions.— FRA is at war against HIS and enters a limited intervention against ANG. At the end of the turn, FRA loses 1 Stability for the war and 1 for the intervention, for a total of 2 Stability. At the next turn, FRA will lose 2 Stability for the war and 1 for the intervention. ANG is in intervention both against FRA and against AUS (in two separate wars). At the end of the turn, it loses 2 Stability, one for each intervention. XI.4.3 Other cases A Some other rules or events cause lose of Stability at this point. A.1 Sometime, the loss is cumulative with others losses, sometimes it's not. B Turkey and the Knights B.1 If the P of ORDO HOSPITALIS caused the loss of at least one Turkish TF level, TUR loses 1 Stability. B.2 This loss is not cumulative with any other. Thus it happens if and only if TUR did not lose Stability at this segment yet. C Włen C.1 If TUR took control of Włen this turn and still controls it at the end of the turn, each Catholic country among HIS, AUS, POL, FRA and ANG loses 1 Stability. C.2 If TUR controls Włen without owning the province (either from this turn or a previous one), AUS* loses 1 Stability. C.3 These losses are cumulative with other losses. D Rōma D.1 If TUR took control of Rōma this turn and still controls it at the end of the turn, each Catholic country loses 1 Stability. D.2 If TUR controls Rōma without owning the province (either from this turn or a previous one), the Sole Defender of Catholic Faith (XIV.14.3.1) loses 1 Stability.	Peaces— master – 2016-04-14 [R]237 D.3 These losses are cumulative with other losses. XI.5 Inflation A Each turn, the RT of each country is decreased as a way to represent Inflation (increase of prices is equivalent to decrease of stockpiled money). A.1 Countries with negative RT still lose money from Inflation (as the debt owner adjust their requests). Design note: Inflation increases quickly as the gold and silver flow from AMERICA becomes high and regular. Do not hope to go back to the good old days of low inflation. . . XI.5.1 Increase of Inflation A Inflation varies between 5% and 33%. The Inflation counter is placed on the bottom line of the Resources prices track (on the ROTW map) in the box corresponding to the current Inflation. A.1 Place the counter with the "≥ 3" side up if there is 100 ₮ or more of gold exploited in the ROTW this turn, and with its "≥ 7" side up otherwise. A.2 Count all the gold exploited in the ROTW, no matter who exploited it where (i.e Russian gold from SIBERIA counts) and no matter whether it was repatriated in Europe, kept in the ROTW or sunk. A.3 Also count gold exploited from new COL even those placed this turn. B Increase of Inflation Roll 1d10. If it is larger than the threshold on the counter (≥ 3 or ≥ 7 depending on the side up), move the Inflation marker one box to the right. B.1 Exception: the counter may never go beyond the 33% box. C Other variations C.1 Economic situation may increase Inflation as per §B (Inflation) of section III.4 (Economic situation). C.2 Economic events event E-32 (Inflation) or event E-45 (Deflation) may increase or decrease Inflation. XI.5.2 Inflation A Inflation value A.1 Countries that do exploit gold in AMERICA have an Inflation value equal to the percentage written in the box where the counter is located (between 5% and 33%). A.2 Other countries have an Inflation value equal to the percentage written on the box on the left of the marker (between 5% and 25%, also use 5% when the marker is on the leftmost box). A.3 Exception: TUR before its reform use Inflation as if it exploited gold in AMERICA (§E (Corruption Cost of Pashas.) of section XIV.8.1.2 (Turkish Military system)). A.4 Countries that exploit gold in the ROTW out of AMERICA (usually RUS in SIBERIA) do not suffer from higher Inflation. Only gold from AMERICA counts. Design note: Gold flow The Russian gold flow was way smaller than the Spanish Silver flow from America. Moreover, higher Inflation for RUS causes some non-historical gamey tactics. Playing tip: Spanish World Due to the increased Inflation, exploiting only one mine in AMERICA is probably not worth the effort. That is, if you start going for gold, go and grab as much as possible. Usually, only HIS manage this due to its early arrival in the New World. B Minimal inflation
[R]238 Test for crusade B.1 Each country has a Minimal inflation which is equal to its Inflation value, in ₮ (e.g. a country with an Inflation value of 10% has a Minimal inflation of 10 ₮). B.2 Exception: POL (always), RUS (during periods I-V) and SUE (during periods III-V) have a Minimal inflation equal to half their Inflation value (round up). C Computed Inflation, Actual Inflation C.1 Each country has a Computed Inflation which is its Inflation value (percentage) applied to the absolute value of its RT (drop the minus sign if any). C.2 Each country has a Actual Inflation which is the maximum between its Minimal inflation and its computed inflation. D Inflation D.1 Each country loses an amount of money equal to its Actual Inflation. D.2 This loss is written in line A32 (Inflation) of ERS. Design note: In practice, if your RT is between -100 ₮ and 100 ₮ (or between -50 ₮ and 50 ₮ for "poor" countries), your Actual Inflation is equal to your Inflation value (no need to compute). Otherwise, it's equal to your Computed Inflation. Thus, the actual computation is easier than what the rules suggest. . . Example: Inflation value.— If the Inflation markers is in the seventh box (leftmost 20%), then countries that exploit gold in AMERICA (usually, only HIS, plus TUR because of its special rule) have an Inflation value of 20% while all other countries have an Inflation value of 10% (the box on the left of the marker). If the marker is in the eighth box, then all countries have an inflation value of 20%. Example: Computed and Actual Inflation.— Suppose that the Inflation value for FRA is 25%. FRA has thus a Minimal Inflation of 25 ₮. If its RT is 60 ₮, then its Computed Inflation is 15 ₮ (25% of 60 ₮) and its Actual Inflation is 25 ₮ (maximum between the Minimal Inflation of 25 ₮ and the Computed Inflation of 15 ₮). If its RT is 160 ₮, the Computed Inflation is 40 ₮ and thus the Actual Inflation is also 40 ₮. If its RT is -60 ₮ (debts), the Computed Inflation is still 15 ₮ (computed on the absolute value) and the Actual Inflation is 25 ₮. If the RT is -160 ₮ the Computed Inflation is 40 ₮ and so is the Actual Inflation. Example: Poor countries.— Suppose that the Inflation value for POL is 25%. POL has thus a Minimal Inflation of 13 ₮ (25/2, round up). If its RT is 40 ₮, the Computed Inflation is 10 ₮ and the Actual Inflation is 13 ₮. If its RT is -60 ₮, the Computed Inflation is 15 ₮ and so is the Actual Inflation. Playing tip: Happy budget Keeping your RT after peace between -100 ₮ and 100 ₮ is the key to avoid too many losses due to Inflation. In most cases, this is relatively easy because you can always take more or less loans to adjust your RT. Note that since loans interest is only 10%, it is usually more interesting to get loans than a highly negative RT (once the Spanish silver starts flowing, inflation will likely be stuck on the 25%/33% box with only a handful of turns in the 20%/25% box). Loans, however, have other disadvantages. Because of peaces indemnities, the Spanish Gold flow or too many military expenses, it is sometimes tricky to achieve this. Each turn, you will need to pay for your Inflation, that is most of the time 25 ₮ (or 13 ₮ for poor countries). This means that each turn you must manage to get a budget positive by 25 ₮. Or you'll start getting into negative RT which is not a good idea. Getting this positive each turn is not as easy as it seems and will require clever use of National loans. . . Obviously, during big wars you may not manage it and start getting into debt. Hopefully you'll stay at peace long enough to stabilise your budget before the next war. XI.6 Test for crusade A During periods I-III, each turn TUR annexes a Christian province as a result of a peace, a test for Crusade is made.	Peaces— master – 2016-04-14 [R]239 A.1 These tests end in period IV. A.2 The test only occurs on the turns where TUR signs a peace resulting in the annexation of one or more province belonging to a Christian country. It does not occurs if TUR gains ownership of provinces via Dynastic ties with another power, diplomatic annexation, special BALKANS annexation (section XIV.14.1 (Instability of the Balkans)) or any other mean. B Call for Crusade B.1 Roll 1d10, modified as follows. B.2 Modifiers (up to a maximum of +5): +1 for each province belonging to a Christian country annexed by TUR (whatever the mean (count provinces from BALKANS annexed from a Christian country, not those that where Neutral before annexation) during the last 5 turns; -2 for each Catholic major at war against a Christian country -3 if the event event I-8 (1) (Reformation) has occurred. +5 if Włen or Rōma is controlled by TUR (whether owned or not). B.3 If the unmodified result is 10 (whatever the modifiers) or if the modified result is 10 or more, the Pope calls for Crusade. C Rōma During periods I-II, if TUR takes control of Rōma and still holds it at the end of the turn (whether the peace has been signed or not), an automatic call for Crusade is made by the Pope. C.1 This only occurs on the turn where Rōma is captured by TUR. If it keeps control of it (including annexation of the province), there is no automatic call for Crusade. If TUR loses control of Rōma and retakes it during another turn, another automatic call for Crusade may happen. D Crusade If the pope calls for Crusade, consider that event II-B (Call for Crusade) is rolled as a fifth event on the following turn. There may be only 4 other political events (no extra event, consider that a "+1" result was already obtained).

[R]242 How to win the game ?  <h1>Winning the game</h1> <h2>Chapter XIII</h2> Design note: Even if the spirit of the game is mainly to simulate the whole modern history, a complete victory points (VPs) system is explained here. It allows to designate a winner of the campaign, and also to know who is doing well and who isn't. The VPs system is currently unbalanced. It will only be balanced once sufficiently many test games with stable rules will have been played. Thus, it should not be taken too seriously. A 1 VP difference at the end of the game hardly qualifies as a "Victory". It is not only within the margin of error of the system but also within the margin of counting errors during the game (are you sure you did not forget a 1 VP discovery at some point in the game?) Of course, if you're playing an EU championship, a 1 VP difference is all it takes to be champion rather than vice-champion. . . . Thus, VPs should be considered more as a guideline at what actions should be attempted even if they seem silly. Many monarchs of the period took decisions that in retrospective are considered stupid and no gamer would make the same error of spending that many efforts toward a useless goal. VPs are an incentive to pursue some of those goals. This is especially true for some of the 'Mandatory' objectives that are often extremely hard to achieve but nonetheless were the main concern of historical monarchs (the Spanish "Conversion of a Protestant major" objective is a famous example of such a waste of efforts) . So, any action that is rewarded (or punished) by 50 VPs should be considered as something extremely important and a huge goal to achieve for the players. A 10 VPs bonus is more of a secondary objective, or a penalty that may be payed once or twice. Design note: All in all, players are expected to gain around 2000-2500 VPs along the game. The end of period check should be around 100-150 VPs per period, more for countries in their period of Glory, less for decaying countries. The period objectives should be around 100-200 VPs per period depending on your success on the field. Playing tip: Some period objectives, as well as the end of game objectives, must be prepared in advance. Often, if one start trying a period objective only at the period it brings VPs, it is too late. The "Mediterranean Trade Center" objective for FRA is notorious for this. Thus, you should probably look your objectives in advance, as part of a long term strategy. Playing tip: Get one player in charge of counting the VPs. Other players won't need to know the VPs per turn as well. That player should get a notebook and tally VPs along the game. Since there are VPs every turn, there is a lot of things to write. End of period (and end of game) VPs are best checked with two players. One is reading the objectives and end of period checks while the VPs accountant note the result. Others players should be around ready to answer questions (typically for computing Wealth). <h3>XIII.1 How to win the game ?</h3> A The VP system is composed of 3 parts. 	Winning the game— master – 2016-04-14 [R]243  A.1 VPs per turn: Those VPs are earned by players performing special actions and discoveries. This corresponds approximately to one sixth to one quarter of the final VPs. A.2 End of period VPs: At the end of each period, players earn VPs corresponding to their Wealth and Prestige Expenses during the past turns and to the objectives they chose at the beginning of the period. This corresponds approximately to one half to two third of the final VPs. A.3 End of game VPs: At the end of the game, after counting VPs of the end of seventh period, a check-up of the the situation of each country is made, and VPs are earned according to it. For players who change country mid-game, a Transfer check is also computed. This corresponds approximately to one sixth to one quarter of the final VPs. <h3>XIII.2 VPs per turn</h3> A Players earn or lose VPs each turn for regular or particular situations, and also for particular discoveries. A.1 Even if these VPs are earned at different moments of the turn, it is often easier to count them all together at the end of the turn. B Note that some other actions (e.g. some events, . . .) may also give or take VPs during turn and are not all recalled here. <h4>XIII.2.1 VPs earned during each phase</h4> A During the Diplomacy phase: -10 for each declaration of war without CB; +? the income value of annexed provinces (Dowries); -? twice the income value of lost provinces (Dowries). B During the Administrative phase: -5/15/30 for a Small/Major/Complete bankruptcy. C During the Military phase: +5 per major battle won. D During the Peace phase: +? the income value of annexed provinces; -? twice the income value of lost provinces; +2 per peace level of a war won against at least one major power; +1 per peace level of a war won against only minor powers; -2 per peace level of a lost war; -20 for a forced religious conversion (unless another VPs penalty is already stated); E During the Interphase: +1 per partial monopoly of Exotic Resource +3 per total monopoly of Exotic Resource F Definitions of monopolies for exploitation of each exotics resources

VPs per turn

F.1 For each resource, a country has a partial monopoly if it produces at least 6 units and at least half of the world production of this resource. Note that two countries may have a partial monopoly of the same resource in the rare case where both produce exactly one half of the total.

F.2 A country has a total monopoly of a given resource if it produces at least 6 units of that resource, and if no more than 2 units of that resource are produced by other countries.

F.3 Resources produced by minor countries are counted as usual when computing monopolies. Especially, resources exploited by a minor in AT are counted as if exploited by the major gaining the corresponding income.

F.4 If a ROTW minor country happen to have a monopoly in one resource, no VPs are gained (because ROTW minors do not have diplomatic patron).

G VPs of minor powers The players also earn (or lose) half of the VPs earned (or lost) by a minor country which they control.

G.1 This is both for allied minors and for Neutral minors controlled by the player (in order to avoid the players to voluntarily play poorly).

XIII.2.2 VPs earned for discovering the World

A Discoveries

+50 the 1st round-the-World trip (if it is completed in a single turn)
+20 the 1st round-the-World trip (if it is completed in 2 turns)
+20 the 2nd round-the-World trip
+10 the Cap Horn sea zone
+3 the Baie d'Hudson sea zone
+3 the QUÉBEC area
+2 the GRANDS LACS area
+3 the ROCHEUSES area
+3 the ALASKA area
+5 the PANAMÁ area by the West
+1 per province of the AMAZONIA area
+1 per province bording Mississippi river

B Discoveries VPs are earned when the discovery is made (successful exploration roll), even if the stack is later destroyed before bringing it back home (that is, some rumours about it reach the home country and Europe anyway).

B.1 If several countries are able to claim VPs for the same discovery during the same round, they are considered as moving in order of initiative: the first country to do the discovery, and actually gain the VPs, is the one with the higher initiative.

B.2 Discoveries VPs of Areas are given to the first country who discovers at least one province in the Area.

B.3 Discoveries VPs of provinces and sea zones are given to the first country who discovers it. Each province of AMAZONIA as well as each province bordering the Mississippi river is worth 1VP individually.

B.4 List of provinces bordering the Mississippi: all provinces of MISSISSIPPI, the two central provinces of ILLINOIS and the two Eastern provinces of KANSAS.

C The way is more important than the destination.

C.1 Discovery of PANAMÁ by the West is landing one stack in PANAMÁ from the Pacific Ocean. Both the land stack and the naval stack carrying it must have cross the Cap Horn sea zone (or used the special movement of $A (Provinces with several coasts) of section VIII.4.1 (Special Movements) to avoid it).

[R]246

End of period VPs

Example: At the end of period III, TUR managed to have a total Wealth of 6012 ¢ (line A28 of ERS at turn 25). Period III is 11 turns long and TUR percentage is 20% in this period. Hence TUR scores $6012/11 \times 0.20 = 109.3$ rounded down to 109 Wealth and Prestige VPs.*

At the same time, VEN has 5696 ¢ of Wealth, with 26 ¢ in RT but an ongoing national loan of 148 ¢. VEN percentage is 25% and this is a transfer computation as VEN switch to AUS in period IV. Thus, its Prestige and Wealth VPs are $(5696 + 26 - 2 \times 148)/11 \times 0.25 = 123.3$ rounded down to 123VPs.

XIII.3.2 End of period check up

A Some countries earn VPs at the end of each period according to their overall situation (colonial, territorial and diplomatic).

A.1 Not all countries gain VPs this way and some countries have special modifiers representing the historical policies that were pursued.

B Colonial situation. The countries indicated below (and only these countries) gain 5 VPs for each COL or TP in the specified continents (or country) and periods (any time if no period specified).

B.1 ANG: INDIA in periods IV to VII; OCEANIA in period VII.

B.2 FRA: AMERICA always; INDIA in periods VI, VII; OCEANIA in period VII.

B.3 POR: AMERICA only if there is 3 or more POR COL counters (whatever their side) in BRAZIL; in this case, each COL⊕ counts as 2 COL (and earns 10VPs).

B.4 RUS: CHINA, AMERICA; each COL⊕ counts as 2 COL (and earns 10VPs).

B.5 SUE: AMERICA.

Design note: If ANG or FRA has COL in OCEANIA in period V, they do not earn any VPs for these. They will only bring VPs in period VII. This represent the fact that most of this area was discovered by the expeditions of Cook, Bougainville or La Pérouse and thus were only known to Europeans in the very late game and colonised in the 19th Century.

Similarly, French COL in INDIA only earns VPs in the end game while English COL there start earning VPs in period IV. This represents the different colonial policies (and power) of these countries and the early start of ANG in INDIA (with the East India Company) while FRA focused its efforts toward colonising Canada (especially during the reigns of Louis XIII and Louis XIV).

Example: At the end of period I, POR as a COL⊕ in RECIFE W., a COL⊖ in BELEM E. and a COL⊖ in AMAZONIA SE. Since that's only 2 COL counters in BRAZIL, it does not earn VPs for Colonial situation.*

Suppose now that the third COL is in RIO S. instead of AMAZONIA. Now that's 3 counters in BRAZIL and since the COL⊕ counts as 2, that's a total of 4 COL and 20VPs.

C Territorial gains. Each country gains VPs equal to the income value of each province annexed during the period with following modifiers. Note that these are in addition to the VPs gained when annexing the province.

C.1 FRA: former provinces of BURGUNDIA×0 during periods I and II, ×2 during periods V to VII; provinces in ITALY×2 in periods I to III.

C.2 HIS: provinces in ITALY×2 in periods I to III.

C.3 ANG: provinces bordering MEDITERRANEAN SEA×5; other continental provinces ×2.

C.4 TUR: provinces taken from PERSIA×2; provinces lost against PERSIA count negative; provinces bordering MEDITERRANEAN SEA×2.

C.5 SUE: provinces bordering BALTIC SEA×3.

C.6 RUS: provinces taken from POL or POLONIA×2 ; provinces lost against POL or POLONIA count negatively.

C.7 POL: provinces taken from RUS, SUE or SUECIA×2.

C.8 AUS: former provinces of HUNGARIA or MOLDAVIA, Serbia×3.

Winning the game— master – 2016-04-14

C.2 For this discovery, the VPs are earned once the condition on the way is met, even if the province is already known (including by the power doing the discovery).

Example: HIS first discovers PANAMÁ from the East (Golfe du Mexique) and build a COL there. Later HIS goes round America and lands in the same, already colonised province from Golfe de Panama. Since HIS already knows the province, no discovery roll is needed. HIS still gets the "PANAMÁ by West" VPs (unless another country already grabbed these VPs, of course).*

XIII.3 End of period VPs

A The end of period VPs are decomposed in 3 parts: Wealth and Prestige VPs; a check up of the situation of each country; and the verification of the objectives chosen at the beginning of the period.

XIII.3.1 Prestige

A Wealth and Prestige VPs for each country are a certain percentage of the average Wealth of the period. It is computed as follow.

A.1 The base Wealth is line A28 (Period wealth) of ERS.

add the RT if positive (line A33 (RT at end) of ERS);
remove twice the RT if negative (line A33 (RT at end) of ERS); remove twice the amount of ongoing loans (line C10 (National loans at end) of ERS plus the amount of international loan not yet refunded).

A.3 Divide this result by the number of turns in the period (do not round yet). In case of transfer or end of game computation, only count the number of turns actually played.

A.4 Multiply this average Wealth by the percentage indicated in the table below and round down. This is the amount of Wealth and Prestige VPs gained by the country.

B Period percentage:

Percentages for Wealth and Prestige VPs
	ANG	FRA	POL +PRU	POR +SUE	RUS	HIS	TUR	VEN +AUS	HOL
pl	25	25	100	40	100	25	30	25	na
plI	20	25	75	20	75	20	25	25	na
plII	20	20	60	60	60	20	20	25	20
plV	15	20	50	50	40	15	15	50	15
pV	10	15	50	30	40	10	15	40	10
pVI	10	10	50	25	30	10	15	25	10
pVII	10	10	50	25	30	10	15	25	15

Winning the game— master – 2016-04-14

[R]247

C.9 PRU: provinces of the HRE or provinces take from POLONIA×2.

C.10 VEN: lost islands in MEDITERRANEAN SEA count negatively.

D Some countries have special modifiers for provinces taken from (or lost to) a specific country (e.g. RUS versus POL). For this modifier to apply, the province must be owned by the specified country just before being owned by the other.

D.1 Thus, e.g., if RUS annexes a former Polish province which is currently owned by SUE, it does not trigger its special modifier.

D.2 Other countries have special modifiers for specific provinces, whoever owned them prior to the annexation.

Design note: Here also, the variations along the game represent different policies of countries. For example, FRA focused its effort in Italy in the early game and only tried to grab parts of the Burgundian legacy after its Wars of Religion, with the policies of Richelieu and Louis XIV, or the "pré carré" of Vauban.

E Diplomatic situation

E.1 Each country earns 6 VPs for each minor country in VA, AN or AT, as well as special EW (those with no diplomacy allowed), and 3 VPs for each other controlled minor country, with following modifiers:

E.2 HIS: minors in ITALY×2; ORDO HOSPITALIS×2 ; do not count autonomous Habsbourg states ; do not count ORDO HOSPITALIS if they are still in Rhodos.

E.3 TUR: Muslims: only 4 VPs for VA, AN or AT, 2VPs for other status; do not count Non-Muslims minors except TRANSILVANIA.

E.4 FRA: minors in ITALY×2 during periods I to III ; minors of the HRE×2 in periods IV to VII

F Special

F.1 If ORDO HOSPITALIS is still in Rhodos (whatever its diplomatic status), HIS gains 20VPs.

XIII.3.3 Period's objectives

A Overview

A.1 At the beginning of each period, each player chooses global orientations for its country by selecting 3 out of 5 possible objectives.

A.2 Once the period ends, objectives that were successfully achieved earn VPs.

A.3 The list of all objectives, per country, is given in section XIII.4 (Period objectives per country). A comprehensive table is also provided as a player's aid. Note that in case of ambiguity or contradiction, the long list in the rules is correct and the table is wrong.

A.4 Each objective is associated with a VPs value. Sometimes it is a yes/no objective with a single value (e.g. ownership of a specific province) and sometimes it is a "for each" objective with a value for each item and a maximum value for the objective (e.g. some VPs for each TF counter of the country in play).

B Choosing objectives

B.1 At the beginning of each period (before the first turn of the period), each player must secretly pick 3 of the possible 5 objectives for its country.

B.2 One of the 3 must be marked as main objective.

B.3 Each player should write the 3 objectives on some paper, and then all these papers should be put together, e.g. in an envelop (sealed if you don't trust your fellow players. . .)

C Scoring objectives

C.1 At the end of each period (during the end-of-period VPs check), objectives are revealed and checked, and players earn VPs according to this.

C.2 A VPs value is indicated for each objective. If a player chooses an objective and completes it, he earn its VPs value, if this is the main objective, he earns twice this value instead.

[R]248 Period objectives per country D Mandatory objectives D.1 Some objectives are marked on the tables with M ('Malus, or 'M'andatory objectives), they are objectives with malus. D.2 If a player both does not choose this objective, and does not complete it, he loses the associated VPs. D.3 If this is a "for each" objective, having a single one of the required elements is enough to avoid the penalty. However, having none of them result in a penalty equal to the maximum potential value of the objective. E Event objectives E.1 Some objectives depend on the occurrence of an event. E.2 If the corresponding event has not finished when the period ends, the check for the success of the objective is postponed until the event terminates. E.3 If the event did not occur yet, even if it may occur later, then the objective is considered as being half realised, entitling the player to gain half the VPs value. Design note: The event may occur later (in the next period) without changing the VPs gained by the objective, whatever its outcome. In some case, it is also possible that the event occurred one period early and is already resolved when the choice of objective has to be made, resulting in a "free" objective that is already fulfilled and is guaranteed to bring VPs. Enjoy! Design note: M objectives are usually hard goals that historical monarchs pursued with a lot of efforts but often did not succeed and resulted in a loss of these efforts. In retrospective, wargamers would like to ignore these and focus their efforts on goals more likely to succeed. The system forces the players to not completely ignore these. If they choose not to pick the M objective and ignore it, they will loose VPs. If they pick up the objective, since only three objectives can be picked, ignoring it is equivalent to picking only the two others thus forfeiting potential VPs for a third one. . . Since M objectives are usually among the ones with highest VPs value, it is normally best to choose it. Of course, the question of choosing it as main objective or not remains open. Example: At the start of period I, ANG chooses objectives "Calais" (as main objective), "Hundred years war" (the M objective, representing a policy of continuing the Hundred Years War) and "Pacified Ireland". At the end of the period, ANG still owns a Præsidio in Picardie (representing Calais) but does not own Guyenne. Good revolt rolls resulted in IRELAND without revolt for 5 out of the 6 turns. During the same time, SCOTIA was VA for 2 turns of the period. Since Scotland was not an objective, ANG does not earn any VP for it. Since the maximum possible gain for the Irish objective is 40VPs, ANG only gains these 40VPs and not 50 as would be expected for 5 turns without revolt. Thus, the objective VPs for ANG are: $2 \times 45 + 40 = 130$VPs. Note that if ANG had chosen the Scottish objective instead of the Hundred Years War one, then it would have failed a not chosen M objective and lost the associated VPs, resulting in a total of $2 \times 45 + 40 + 20 - 50 = 100$ VPs only. If Ireland was the main objective, then the maximum is computed before doubling, that is it would result in $2 \times 40 = 80$ VPs. Example: Still in period I, suppose that HIS does not choose its M objective "Barbary Coast". If HIS nonetheless manage to have at least one Præsidio on the Barbary Coast, the objective is considered successful and no VP is lost. If no Præsidio is there, then the objective is failed and HIS loses the full 50 VPs of it.	[R]249 Winning the game— master – 2016-04-14 <ul style="list-style-type: none"> levy Sund taxes (section XIV.14.8.1 (Levies of the Sund)); has diplomatic control of the minor with right to levy Sund taxes (whether there are taxes or free trade); has Commercial Monopoly in STZ Baltique (section V.4.3.2 (Monopolies)) and nobody is levying the Sund taxes. Design note: Note that if the minor with right on the Sund is not Neutral, then the Domination is awarded to its Diplomatic patron whatever the status of the taxes. On the other hand, if it is Neutral, and does not levy the taxes, then having Commercial Monopoly is enough. Similarly, if the right on the Sund is owned by a MAJ and it's not levying taxes, then Commercial Domination is awarded to the country with Commercial Monopoly. The taxes where initially in the hand of DANIA but the Swedish independence and conquest of Skåne switched this important source of income to other hands. HOL, having a large trade activity in STZ Baltique, wasn't happy with foreign taxes and preferred free trade. This resulted in several Dutch implications in the Northern wars, often using the Dutch fleet to reinforce the Danish one. B Dominium Marii Baltici. SUE has the DMB if all provinces bordering the BALTIC SEA are owned by either SUE, BRANDENBURG (or PRU) or DANIA. This represents the Swedish expansion towards the Southern shores of the sea. Including the frequent struggles with POL, the will to destroy HANSA and the ongoing conflict with RUS around Ingermanland. C Orient Income VEN has objectives depending on its Orient Income. Orient Income is computed over each period and is the sum of all income from any of the following source: C.1 CC Grand Orient or CC Indian; C.2 convoy of İzmir or East Indies convoy; C.3 resources exploited through an AT with ADEN, AYMAN or GUZARATE; C.4 total income of each COL/TP producing at least one unit of PO, Spice or Silk; C.5 TF in any STZ of the CC Indian. D TF and Trade Centres. For period objectives only, consider that the Trade Centres are given according to the maximum levels of TF and not according to the current level as per normal rules. D.1 This does not move the counters nor changes the ownership of the Centres for any other purposes. D.2 Similarly, when counting the number of TF counters owned by a country (and their side), consider that the counters are here according to their maximum level, not to their current level. This does not change any TF level or counter. D.3 When counting Commercial Monopolies (section V.4.3.2 (Monopolies)) consider any TF of maximum level 6 as a total monopoly and any TF of maximum level 4 or 5 as a partial monopoly. This may result in several countries having monopoly in the same CTZ/STZ for objective purposes. D.4 All this only applies for period objectives. At any other times, use the current level for placing counters, counting monopolies, triggering automatic competition or placing Trade Centres. Design note: This avoids last instant backstabs and lessens the "end of period" effect. Especially, IP can cause a lot of temporary losses in one turn and it would be unfair to bet a lot of objectives VPs on this.
XIII.4 Period objectives per country
XIII.4.1 Explanation of some objectives
A Commercial Domination in the BALTIC SEA. Each turn, one country may have Commercial Domination in the BALTIC SEA. Commercial Domination is attributed, in decreasing order of precedence, to the MAJ who
[R]250 Period objectives per country Example: At the end of period III, after a long commercial struggle and several Barbaresque's raids, the situation in the Mediterranean is as follows (current level/maximum level): • STZ Golfe du Lion: HOL (3), HIS (1/3), VEN (2/5), FRA (2/3). • STZ Mer Ionienne: HOL (4/5), VEN (0/4). • CTZ VENETIA: VEN (6). • CTZ TURCIA: TUR (5), VEN (3), HOL (3). • STZ Mer Noire occidentale: HOL (5), VEN (3), TUR (2), FRA (3) • STZ Mer Caspienne: VEN (3), HOL (4). Thus, HOL as a total of 19 current levels and 20 maximum levels while VEN has a total of 17 current levels and 24 maximum levels. Hence, even if the CC Mediterranean is currently located in Holland with 19 levels, for objectives purpose (only), VEN is considered has having it, thus fulfilling its objective (while HOL fails it). That is, HOL should have planned its attack earlier. If the number of TF were needed for objectives purpose, then VEN is considered as having a TF⊕ both in STZ Golfe du Lion and STZ Mer Ionienne even if the first one is currently ⊖ and the second is not here. Similarly, still for objectives purposes, both HOL and VEN are considered as having a partial monopoly in STZ Mer Ionienne. E No province lost objectives mean that the country did not loose ownership of any province it owned at the beginning of the period. E.1 If the country annexes new provinces during the period and looses them later during the same period, the objective is still successful. Only provinces that were owned at the beginning of the period are checked against this objective. Design note: Thus, countries with a "No provinces lost" objective may still pursue an aggressive policy. Any province annexed early is a province that can be relinquished later without penalty rather than one more province to defend at any cost.	[R]251 Winning the game— master – 2016-04-14 I Minor provinces. When an objective refers to the provinces of a minor country (CRIMEA, GEORGIANI, HANSA, HUNGARIA, MOLDAVIA, PERSIA, SICILIE, TERRÆ DEPRESSÆ, WALACHIA), it consists in all the provinces barring the corresponding solid or blurred shield, and owned by the country at some point in the game, whatever their current owner (especially if the country was destroyed). I.1 However, when an objective refers to provinces "taken from" a specific country, then the province must have been owned by that country just before it was transferred (either by peace treaty, diplomacy, . . .) I.2 List of Crimean provinces (🇹🇷): Hacibey, Zaporozhye, Crimée, Azov, and possibly Caffa, Kuban. I.3 List of Georgian provinces (🇧🇬): Géorgie, Kuban. I.4 List of Hanseatic provinces (🇩🇪): Bremen, Lübeck, Holstein, Mecklenburg. I.5 List of Hungarian provinces (🇭🇺): Mures, Erdély, Bukovina, Kárpátok, Szlovákia, Balaton, Carniola, Kapela, Croatie, Pécs, Magyarország, Banat. I.6 List of Moldavian provinces (🇲🇩): Moldova, Basarabia. I.7 List of Napolitan provinces (🇮🇹): Abruzzo, Campania, Basilicata, Puglia, Calabria, Sicilia, Palermo, Saldigna. I.8 List of Persian provinces (🇮🇷): Pars, Meshhed, Bam, Isfahan, Kermānshāh, Azarbayadjān, Kordistān, Van, Arménie, Shirvan, Dağestān. I.9 List of provinces of the North-East (🇳🇱): Friesland, Gelderland, Holland, Overijssel, Utrecht, Zeeland. I.10 List of Walachian provinces (🇷🇴): Valahia. I.11 Note that Kuban may be both a Georgian and Crimean province and thus bring VPs for both reasons. It may, however, only count once for each objective. Example: In period III, RUS has an objective for provinces taken from CRIMEA. Only provinces that were owned by CRIMEA just before being owned by RUS count. Other provinces with a 🇹🇷 shield that were owned by, say, UKRAINA before Russian annexation do not count. On the other hand, in period VII, RUS has an objective for provinces of GEORGIANI or PERSIA. Now, any province with either a 🇧🇬 or 🇮🇷 shield counts, even if it was annexed from, typically, TUR.
F Commercial monopolies. When objectives ask for Monopoly in STZ or CTZ or in production of resource without precision, any monopoly (partial or total) counts toward fulfilling the objective. G Independence wars event VII-4 (War of Independence in the Colonies) may occur several times, resulting in several rebellions. The associated objective is checked as follows, in decreasing order of precedence: • If at least one rebellion war occurred in the country's colonies and all independence wars in the country's colonies were crushed, full success. • If at least one successful rebellion war occurred in the country's colonies, the objective is failed. • If no rebellion war occurred at all, half-success. • If at least one rebellion war occurred in another country's colonies, and the major helped the rebels in all rebellion wars, and the rebels were successful every time, full success. • If at least one rebellion war occurred in another country's colonies and the major helped at least one successful rebellion, half-success. • Otherwise, failure. G.1 Note that most of the time, the war occurs only once, thus the objective is simply to take part in the war and win it. H Duration. Objectives for actions only concern what happens during the period just ended. H.1 For example, a "per turn" objective in period II can only be fulfilled with actions done during period II. H.2 Similarly, a "per province annexed" objective in period IV only scores VPs for provinces that were annexed during period IV. H.3 However, objectives for situation only check the current situation, no matter when it was settled. H.4 For example, a "per province owned" objective in period IV scores for each province owned at the end of period IV no matter whether it was annexed during period I or IV.	J Ownership and Control J.1 Most objectives requiring ownership of several provinces don't care about who is the controller of the province. That is, if a war is going on when objectives are checked, only the rightful owner of the province may claim it for these objectives. J.2 On the other hand, most objectives requiring ownership of a single province require both ownership and control when the objective is checked and only provide half success if owner and controller are different. Thus, a war may quickly change some VPs. Design note: This lessens an end-of-period effect where players tend to stay in lost wars one more turn to score the full VPs value of a specific province as an objective before signing a peace and relinquishing that province on the very next turn. TODO: The English objectives of SCOTIA Vassal are incompatible with the idea of the Auld alliance forbidding a ANG-SCOTIA vassalship before Elisabeth. Anyway, objectives for ANG in the early game need to be seriously revamped into something more interesting and interactive. . . XIII.4.2 Objectives of ANGLIA XIII.4.2.1 Period I A SCOTIA Vassal: 10 per turn (max 30) — Each turn SCOTIA is VA of ANGLIA. B ANG may use its IP counters in addition to its forces involved in limited intervention. C ANG may use the forces of any minor country in VA position on its diplomatic track in a limited intervention. Those forces are dealt with as if in limited intervention of a minor country at the side of the alliance supported by ANG, excepted that they can not be fully involved in the war by the enemy unless the enemy alliance first declares war to ANG. D During any War, ANG may announce that he will send forces of a minor country in VA position on its diplomatic track in the ROTW. This declaration costs 1 Stability for each vassal that will be used, and is valid for the rest of the period. The troops of the vassal are then used in limited or full intervention with the change that they can go in the ROTW (and be supplied there by English fleets or colonial settlements). XIV.1.1.1 Military leaders A Royal Marines appear as a general only during event V-4 (The War of Spanish Succession). ANG can however attack only one such player per turn, and must announce the target country during the military rounds, at the end of the second round at the latest. B.1 Privateer If commanding a IP unit that was committed to the attack of commercial fleets not at war, a Sea Hound must stay the rest of the turn with this IP. B.2 There is no loss of Stability for England in doing so as there is no state of war between itself and the attacked country. He has values 5/9/4, and lasts from turn 42 to 46. During his reign, POL can not make any alliance with SUE, nor be in the same alliance as SUE during a war. G.1 Patkul (Jan Reinhold von) Even if Patkul is only a general, he serves as a Minister giving a Diplomacy of 9. POL may also sign offensive limited alliances to enter a war against SUE when Patkul is a Minister or a Monarch. H Stanislas (Stanisław Leszczyński) may be put on the Polish throne by event part VI-1.β (Polish Civil War), with a new dynasty. He has values 6/5/6 and will last for 1 to 6 turns.
XIV.3 POLONIA 		XIV.3.2 Political Disunity
XIV.3.1 The Polish Crown		XIV.3.2.1 Economical difficulties
XIV.3.1.1 Elective Monarchy		A POL has a malus of -1 to the die-rolls to implant Manufactures or raise FTI and DTI. B POL has no own CTZ. C POL may use only 3 counters of TF, excepted if it is Protestant in which case it can use all its 6 TF. D POL is an Orthodox country regarding military technologies.
A General modifiers. A.1 A modifier of -2 is applied to the die-roll to determine the length of reign of a new Polish Monarch. This also increases the probability of Dynastic Crisis. A.2 A bonus of +1 is applied to the die-rolls to determine the capacities of Manoeuvre and Shock as a general of a Polish Monarch. B Generals as Monarch. B.1 Some generals can be elected as Kings: Báthory , Sobieski , Patkul . Whenever POL has to roll for a new Monarch and one of these generals is in play, he can decide that the general is elected as Monarch. This changes the Polish Dynasty. B.2 When this happens, the new Monarch will last for the number of turns remaining to the general (but he will test for survival now, from the following turn on). The Monarch keeps his abilities as general. B.3 If ever this Monarch is replaced due to an event, he goes back to his normal general status (and is not killed).		XIV.3.2.2 The Union of Lublin
XIV.3.1.2 Particular Monarchs		A In 1492, the player of POL controls forces of POLONIA , LITUANIA and UKRAINA . Those forces are distinct. A.1 POL has distinct free maintenance for each country. A.2 POL can raise forces only in their national provinces, or at doubled cost in other provinces. A.3 POL has a no CB if some national territory of LITUANIA is owned by other countries. But for other effects, provinces of both countries of national provinces. A.4 Generals may depend from one of these countries, and can lead only forces of their country (or a multi-national stack). Other generals (with no country specified) are only constrained by the Hierarchy rules. B Union of Lublin. It is established by event II-13 (Union of Lublin). B.1 POL is now one country: every national provinces of POLONIA and LITUANIA are national provinces of POL. B.2 Units of POLONIA and LITUANIA are no more differentiated, and their basic forces and their leaders are associated. B.3 Add +2 to the die-rolls for determining the length of reign of a new Monarch (this effectively cancels §A.1 of section XIV.3.1.1 (Elective Monarchy)). B.4 Some limits of POL are raised. B.5 The Union of Lublin can be broken if a MAJ imposes a peace of level 3 or higher against POL, and forfeits all conditions of peace in order to break the Union. It is also broken if POL is not Catholic.
A John and Alexander (Jan I Olbracht and Aleksander Jagiełłończyk) are two successive kings (considered as one for game purposes) in 1492. He has values 4/5/4 and is supposed to die at the beginning of turn 5. His heir is Zygmunt I . B Zygmunt I (Stary) also called Sigismund I the Old has values 8/7/8 and is supposed to last 8 turns. He will not test survival for the first 5 turns. He cannot be used as a general. C Báthory (István) is a general Báthory (✕ B 5.2.4 [T17–T22]) that can be elected as a Monarch. He has values 8/7/9. C.1 Before he is elected, he can command only LD, Ukrainian A or Polish vassals. C.2 After he is elected, these restrictions are removed. D Sobiesky (Jan III Sobieski) is a general Sobieski (✕ A 4.2.5 ↔ ♣ A 4.2.5 [T37–T42]) can be elected as a Monarch. He has values 6/6/8. E Zygmunt III (Wasa) is put on the Polish throne by event III-13 (Union between Polonia and Suecia) with a new dynasty (the Wasa). He has values 5/5/6 and is also general Zygmunt III (♣ A 4.3.4 [Event III-13]). He is supposed to last 9 turns. F August II (Mocny) is put on the Polish throne by event V-12 (Augustus II, a Saxon king in Poland), with a new Dynasty. He will last 7 turns, but his values are to be determined randomly on the last column of the table.		XIV.3.2.3 The two Polish Capitals
XIV.3.2.4 Liberum Veto or Absolutism		A The Polish capital is initially set to Kraków in Małopolska . B Mazowia is owned by POLONIA in 1492 as a permanent Vassal but is not a national province of POLONIA . C During the reign of Zygmunt I , POL can annex Mazowia by using one Diplomatic actions and spending 100 ₤. C.1 Alternatively, POL can make a war against MAZOVIA (it has no CB). It annexes it by imposing an unconditional surrender on it. In both cases, the province then becomes a national province of POLONIA, and MAZOVIA disappears. D At any point after annexation of Mazowia , during diplomacy phase, POL can decide that Warszawa is its new capital. POL gains 2 Stability immediately. From now on, Warszawa and Kraków are both capitals of POL for the rules of peace, except that Małopolska can be annexed as the result of Peace by another country, at which point it ceases to have a Capital in there.
A.1 It nullifies the +2 modifier to the die-roll for determining the length of reign of a new Monarch given by the Union of Lublin (the -2 malus thus resumes). A.2 Declaration of war by POL costs 3 Stability without CB, and 2 Stability with a CB (and 0 with a free CB). A.3 POL has a malus of -5 instead of -3 to raise its Stability if at war against a MAJ at the end of a turn. A.4 POL can not maintain fortresses of level higher than 3 if at peace. A.5 If RUS is at war, and POL not, RUS can cross provinces in POL (no siege, no pillage, no supply into or through). If it does so, POL has a free CB against RUS the very next turn the trespassing happened. B War for Absolutism. After event IV-10 (1) (Liberum Veto), each time there is a new Monarch in POL (before the events), POL can begin a war to establish Absolutism in the country. Event event IV-B (Civil War in Poland) occurs this turn as one of the 4 events. B.1 If the war is successful in establishing Absolutism, all the effects of the Liberum Veto are nullified. B.2 Absolutism can end as a result of a war against POL. If a MAJ imposes a peace of level 3 or higher against POL, and forfeits all conditions of peace, this ends Absolutism. It cannot be imposed anew.		C POLONIA never uses the CB offered by events, unless they are mandatory. D There is a permanent malus of -3 to have POLONIA enter a war (unless Absolutism was established, see below) and to diplomacy on it. E Land Technology and Naval Technology of POLONIA is linked to Orthodox counters, and raises at the same time (but stays where it is if ahead of the Orthodox counter). F If RUS is at war, and POL not, RUS can cross provinces in POL (no siege, no pillage, no supply into or through). If it does so, the Patron of POL has a CB against RUS the very next turn the trespassing happened, and if used, POL enters fully in the war with no test (and is place in EW). G If Absolutism is established in POLONIA (because POL as a Major power did it, or because of events), neither the Russian trespassing nor the -3 on Diplomacy or entry in war apply. Additionally, POLONIA has a bonus of +2 to its reinforcements die-rolls.
XIV.3.2.5 Polish Ukraine		XIV.3.3 Religious attitudes
A Provinces in UKRAINA are not national provinces of POL (neither LITUANIA nor POLONIA). They have their own army of Cossacks. A.1 One A and 4 LD can be used by POL and raised in UKRAINA as long as it owns at least one province in the country. Those forces are identical to Polish forces. B Agitations of Cossacks. B.1 When there is an Ukrainian A controlled by POL, it can let it cause some Agitations by its own in adjacent countries. This has to be decided at the beginning of the Military Phase. This is not possible if POL is at war against TUR or CRIMEA. B.2 The army is taken over from the map and POL chooses the target of the Agitations: RUS or TUR. It then rolls 1d10, and add +2 if the A is ⊕, and a further +2 if the target is TUR. A result of 10 or higher causes a revolt that is rolled on the table of the target country. If this revolt is not north of Alep , Kordistan and Azarbāyadjān (not included), it does not happen. The army is unavailable for the whole turn and is replaced in UKRAINA at the end of the turn (if there is no province available, it is destroyed). C Event event IV-17 (2) (Revolt of the Cossacks) separates UKRAINA from POL, and so its forces can no more be used by POL. D Religious attitude regarding Orthodoxy may affect the use of the forces of UKRAINA by POL.		XIV.3.3.1 Regarding Orthodoxy
XIV.3.2.6 Polish Annexations and Crusades		A POL has to choose an attitude regarding Orthodoxy at the time of event event I-8 (1) (Reformation). B Conversion of Orthodoxes. This is the historic choice. No changes. C Tolerance of Orthodoxes. C.1 POL can use no more forces of UKRAINA (and loses the associated free maintenance for these forces). C.2 The Cossacks won't revolt per event IV-17 (2) (Revolt of the Cossacks). D Support of Orthodoxy. Warning: this option is experimental, not tested and should be used with care. D.1 Main religion of POL is now Orthodoxy. It gains actions for colonisation and some conquistadors. D.2 POL can annex and destroy any Khanate country for the remainder of the game, if the destroyed minor is adjacent to a province of POL. D.3 As long as POL owns a province in UKRAINA, it raises one free LD of UKRAINA each turn, and has 2 LD added to the free maintenance of the forces of UKRAINA. D.4 Forces of LITUANIA are not adversely affected by the restrictions of §B (Wasteland) of section VIII.4.1 (Special Movements) (as well as the forces of UKRAINA). This is not true for forces of POLONIA. D.5 Many events are modified. The Union of Lublin and the Absolutism in POL will not be possible. POL is Conciliatory when the second Reformation occurs.
XIV.3.2.7 POLONIA as a minor country		XIV.3.3.2 Regarding Protestantism
A See §E (Poland-Prussia) of subevent XXVI.1.3.2 (Eight-players game) for the conditions of the transfer to PRUSSIA . A.1 The events event VI-11 (War of Polish Succession), event VI-13 (War of Austrian Succession) and event VII-1 (The Seven Years War) trigger the change to PRUSSIA if in period VI. If none of those happen, the transfer happens at the beginning of turn 51. B POLONIA immediately becomes a MIN. The ongoing wars continue. B.1 POLONIA never uses the CB proposed by events unless if they are mandatory. B.2 If a dynastic union with SAXONIA is effective due to event V-12 (Augustus II, a Saxon king in Poland), the union is kept: the two MIN are as one for diplomacy purposes. The only way to propose a separate peace is through an unconditional peace. The union is kept as long as there is no change of dynasty (which can happen only by events such as event VI-11 (War of Polish Succession) or event VII-7 (First Partition of Poland)).		A POL has to choose an attitude regarding Protestantism at the time of event event I-8 (2) (Growth of the Reformation). B Catholic/Conciliatory. This is the historic choice. No changes. C Catholic/Counter-Reformation. C.1 Provinces in the DUCHY OF PRUSSIA quit POL and are annexed by BRANDENBURGUM. C.2 POL has a CB against any Protestant country until the end of period IV. C.3 It can abandon all peace conditions when obtaining a unconditional surrender over a Protestant country and ask restoration of Catholicism in this country. It gains 20 VP if it as a MAJ, and 10VP if it is a MIN power. D Protestantism. POL becomes Protestant. D.1 The Union of Lublin is broken and will not be possible. D.2 Various limits per turn/period are modified. POL gains actions for TP/COL and increased commercial capacities. D.3 The free maintenance of the Ukrainian army is reduced to LD in periods II and III, and none afterwards. D.4 POL can annex any capital province of HANSA (and possibly destroy this country) if the province is adjacent to POL.

The Russian player decides of a province whose city he controls among Karelen, Ingermanland, Estland, Livonija and Kurland. C.2 RUS has to spend 100 ♠ per turn during 3 turns (consecutive or not). Such an expense can not be made if the city is besieged or the province is pillaged. If ever the RUS loses the military control of the province, the process will have to be renewed from the start. C.3 On the first spending, put the S'-Petersburg (Санкт-Петербург) fortress counter on level 0. Increase it by one level for each turn the spending is done. If besieged, the city has a fortress level that is the maximum of the intrinsic or regular fortress of the province and the current S'-Petersburg fortress. C.4 If RUS controls the city at the end of a turn following the third expense, and the city is not besieged, then he annexes the province immediately (with no need of peace treaty) and puts here a fortress of level 3, using the S'-Petersburg counter. The intrinsic minimal fortification of the city is now the level 3 if RUS controls it, and 2 if conquered by another power. Note that the maximum level is the one authorised by the land technology of RUS. The level of the fortress can then be raised using usual rules. C.5 The former fortresses and cities in the province do not exist any more, for the remainder of the game. C.6 The income of the province for the RUS equals the normal income multiplied by the level of the fortress in the province, with a maximum of 20 ♠. C.7 If another player pillages the province, its uses the Russian income. Until it gains a proper port, it can only operates for a blockade on the specified fortress, or for naval interceptions and battles in the specified sea zone. It has to go back at part at the end of each turn. F.5 The ♠ can be blockaded (at the mouth of the river) as if it was in a port bordering the sea. B During periods VI and VII, SUE can not create new COL or TP by administrative attempts. Its actions can only raise the level of existing COL/TP, and it can gain new TP/COL only by conquest or Dowry. C SUE has no CTZ of its own. B The recruitment area of SUE comprises Livonija, Kurland and FINLAND as well as its national provinces. C SUE has an added A⊕ in its basic forces when it is at war. This is increased to an added A⊕ if its current Monarch has a MIL of 7 or more. D SUE can proceed to exceptional levies (see section VII.3.4 (Exceptional Levies [should be moved in chMilitary])) with no loss of Stability or with a loss in Stability after a normal (not major) defeat in a land battle. E SUE has each turn a free major campaign. As long as this is the case: A.1 SUE uses the values of the Monarch of POL. SUE is considered Catholic during the Union (in every aspect). A.2 SUE has a mandatory offensive alliance with POL in which it is compiled to answer any call. A.3 SUE cannot declare war without a CB or the agreement of POL. It cannot declare war against POL (even with a CB). A.4 POL cannot declare a war against SUE, except if it has a valid CB against it. B The alliance is contested when the Monarch of POL dies or if POL refuses to answer a call for defensive war (not offensive war), or if POL declares a war against SUE. B.1 A new monarch is then rolled for SUE. B.2 POL, having still dynastic claims over Sweden, can renew the war to impose its ruler. POL renews the Union if it wins a peace of any level against SUE. As long as the war continues, the Union exists for matters related to VP, if not in its consequences. C Dynastic Claims. Even if event III-13 (Union between Polonia and Suecia) does not result in the Union, POL may keep dynastic claims over SUE, at the conditions of the event. C.1 POL can renounce these dynastic claims by an announcement at any diplomatic phase, or as a condition for peace in a losing war against SUE. C.2 Each time there is a new monarch in SUE, POL has a CB against SUE at this turn to claim its inheritance (see the event). A.3 See §B (Levant Convoy) of section VI.12.2.1 (The convoys) about the specific rules for the convoy of İzmir. B Colonial Expansion. TUR may only place COL by land contacts, i.e., in a province (not an Area) adjacent to its territory in Europe or to an existing COL, or through Mer Caspienne. B.1 TUR ignores restrictions of section VI.7.4.2 (Pioneering [TBD]) in Area belonging to Muslim minors (ADEN, OMAN, SUDAN and, if they still belong to GUJARATE, GUJARAT and MALACCA). B.2 TUR has no such restrictions regarding TP placements. C If TUR has a TP in the ROTW or an AT with a minor having a TP and it has no ± allowed to go in Asia ('R' or '@'), then its lowest ranking ± which is not restricted to the Mediterranean gain the ability to go in Asia (@). D Mecca (مكة) and the Ka'aba (الكعبة) D.1 Ka'aba is placed in W. Nedj at the beginning of the game. D.2 For all game purposes, it acts as a Turkish mission.

 [R]292 Turcia   D.3 Exceptionally, this mission may not be destroyed by any mean. If it should be destroyed (e.g. the fort is taken by a non-Muslim), simply leave it in place. This effectively prevents any other country from building a mission there. The Kaaba is a building at the heart of Muslim most sacred mosque of Al-Masjid al-Haram (المسجد الحرام) in Mecca. Its cornerstone is the Black Stone (الحجر الأسود), supposed to have fallen from Heaven to show Adam and Eve where to build an altar, and embedded in the building by Muhammad. Muslim prayers all around the World are done facing toward the Kaaba.   Design note: Although it has obviously little in common with Christian missions and the attempts to convert local people, the Kaaba has the same in-game effects to represent the religious fervour that created great centres of population in a rather desetic area.   XIV.8.1.2 Turkish Military system A The initial system of Timarlar. Land counters if the Turkish forces are of two different kinds: Yeniçeriler (or equivalent professional forces) and Timarlar. A.1 Janissaries Yeniçeriler are the normal forces of TUR (same color, name). They function like the forces of any other power. Initially, TUR uses at most 2 Yeniçeriler ⚠ counters. Note that these armies have augmented artillery, and increase the losses in siege assaults (add ²/₃ if there is such an ⚠ involved, during periods I–III only). A.2 Timars Other forces are Timarlar: counters with the Timarlar mention (different color) and Pashas units. Timarlar are limited initially to the Arquebus Technology, and are considered so if TUR has a higher level. Timarlar are always Conscripts (even those maintained in the basic forces). If Timarlar units are stacked in battle with other units of a higher Technology, the morale of the stack is always that of the Timarlar (i.e., has the morale of conscript from the Timarlar Technology). Finally, Timarlar units may never be moved by sea transport. A.3 Yeniçeriler and Timarlar are not the same kind of forces. Basic Maintenance is separated between Yeniçeriler and Timarlar. Also they can not absorb LD from the other kind. A.4 Technology limitation TUR can not go beyond Land Technology Muskets, and Naval Technology Battery. Its markers must stop before entering a higher Technology Level. It has malus of -1 to the die to raise its Naval Technology, and -1 to the die to raise its Land Technology unless if it is currently less than Arquebus. B Yearly Campaigning. At the passing of each Winter box (end of it, or if bypassing), there is a specific attrition test on all stacks containing Timarlar. B.1 Roll 1d10+ 2 times the distance in provinces to the National Territory of TUR (Note: count through provinces controlled or owned, ÆGYPTUS and SYRIA counts as National Territory here once owned). B.2 Read the result on the Attrition table, crossed with the number of Timarlar detachments (only) and ignore the P results. B.3 Each loss is a LD of Timarlar that goes home. Regular Timarlar LD that go home are given back freely (above all construction limits) at the beginning of next turn, or can be raised at a following round at half cost (not counting in the limits). Pasha units that go home will be raised in addition to usual reinforcements at the beginning of next turn.   Design note: The preceding rule simulates the limit in supply of their kind-of-feudal forces that were to withdraw almost every winter.   C Pashas TUR has a certain number of Pasha units at his disposal. Each one is similar to a general, with military values and a hierarchical rank, that is accompanied by their own intrinsic troops. A Pasha has a standard military force of one Timarlar LD for each number of force increment. D New Pashas. TUR has a maximal number of Pashas in play equals to its number of owned provinces divided by 3 (rounded down). Each turn, it receives new Pashas up to this limit. 	 Specific Rules— master – 2016-04-14 [R]293   D.1 During the administrative phase of each turn, TUR receives a number of new Pasha units equal at most to its Stability, plus 1 if HUNGARIA has fallen according to event I-E (Downfall of Hungary), plus 1 if ÆGYPTUS has been conquered. If this number is negative, no new Pasha is received (but none lost). D.2 Pasha counters are taken randomly among those not yet placed on the map. D.3 If TUR controls more provinces than he has available Pashas to rule them, the extra is lost and placement cancelled. D.4 Placement of Pashas. New Pashas can only be placed in owned provinces where there is no Pasha nor in any adjacent province, and that is not TUR capital. They must be placed in TUR national provinces, except that one at most can be placed directly in former provinces of SYRIA or MESOPOTAMIA, and one can be placed in BALKANS or former provinces of HUNGARIA. E Corruption Cost of Pashas. E.1 TUR always uses the inflation as if it was exploiting gold in AMERICA. E.2 Some Pashas may become corrupted. They are flipped on their corrupted side. On this side, a Pasha cannot move, it has no intrinsic force, it is not a military leader. Its only effect is to nullify all the incomes coming from the province it is in. F Decadence. One Pasha becomes corrupted when one or more of the following situations occur: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> TUR raises exceptional taxes (see section V.6.2 (Exceptional taxes)) TUR exceeds its MNU limits (see section II.4.3.2 (Exceeding Limits in MNU)) [BLP] On a modified roll of 6 at the survival test. F.1 The newly corrupted Pashas are chosen randomly among those that are not. The Sole Defender of Catholic Faith (XIV.14.3.1) places each of them in the province it is in, or any adjacent province where there is no Pasha; or, if the Pasha is not in a Turkish owned province, it has to be placed in any Turkish owned province where there is no Pasha in, and which is not adjacent to another Pasha unit. Once placed, a corrupted Pasha can be moved in only two instances: the Pasha is dismissed, or the ownership of the province is lost by TUR (in which case the corrupted Pasha is replaced as above). G Death of a Pasha [BLP] This effect occurs on a modified roll of 5 or 7 at the survival test. G.1 The Sole Defender of the Catholic Faith may choose one Pasha (corrupted or not). This Pasha is removed from play and replaced by a new random (uncorrupted) Pasha. G.2 If one Pasha was removed this way, then TUR may also choose one and replace it. G.3 The Sole Defender of the Catholic Faith and TUR take turns replacing Pashas that way until one of them decides to stop. H Dismissal of Pashas. The Turkish player can dismiss (or impale...) a Pasha at any given time during the Redeployment phase (replace the removed Pasha among those not yet in play). It is not possible if TUR is at war or has a negative Stability. Every time a Pasha is removed, the Turkish player loses 1 Stability level for each Pasha that is dismissed. I Pashas as military units. I.1 When at peace, TUR must move its Pashas so that there is a maximum of one Pasha per province at the end of the turn. In addition, no Pasha may ever finish its move in the Turkish capital province. I.2 When at war, the Pashas can be moved without any constraint of placement but must respect hierarchical rank constraints. They can not go in ROTW. I.3 Being Timarlar units, Pashas are always conscripts (and their stack also, disregarding the presence of other Veteran units), are limited initially to Arquebus, and can not move by sea. I.4 Stacking of Pashas The Turkish player can stack up to 2 Pashas in addition to the other military units in a stack. This is an exception to the rule that limits to 3 the number of units in a stack. They are counted as their value in LD for attrition and battle purpose (but not for activation and hierarchy).
 [R]294 Turcia   J Pashas and Hierarchy Even if Pashas can be used as generals, they are disregarded as generals to enforce the hierarchy. They can only command if there is no regular general. J.1 [BLP] Pashas may not lead other Pashas or more than 5LD of troops (plus their owns). K Pashas troops The force content in LD of a Pasha cannot be incorporated in any other military unit (and conversely). K.1 Losses undergone during combat or attrition can be attributed to an engaged Pasha, up to the number of LD part of that Pasha counter, using the normal rules of assignation of losses. In this case, whatever is the supported loss, the Pasha is lost.   XIV.8.1.3 Turkish Reformation A Attempts of Turkish Reformation. TUR may attempt to reform the government and the military system during the play. The 7 steps of the reformation are divided in two groups: government and military, and in three levels of progression. Each level of progression (both groups) has to be finished for any attempts on a higher level to be allowed. A.1 This is an Administrative Domestic operation (and takes the place of the allowed Domestic operation of the turn, see §C (Administrative limits) of section VI.2.1 (General mechanism and list of actions)) that has a fixed cost of 100 ₤. A.2 A given Sultan can make only one attempt of reform during his whole reign. A.3 No reformation attempt can be made before the death of I. Süleyman. That is, the first sultan allowed to attempt a reform is the heir of I. Süleyman. A.4 A its last scheduled turn of life, no Sultan may attempt an Administrative Reform. B A test is made on table VI.1 (Administrative Actions), using the column (MIL or ADM)+DTI-9, with the following die modifiers: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> ±? Stability of country -? the Level of the attempted reformation -? the number of corrupted Pashas B.1 A “S” result is a success: the attempted reform is activated, -1 in Stability, roll for one revolt in TUR and the Turkish monarch has a malus of +2 to its Survival die roll next turn. B.2 A “½” result is a failure, -1 in Stability and roll 1d10 against FTI: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> if higher than FTI, the monarch is killed, 1 Pasha is corrupted and the next monarch will not be allowed to attempt a reform of the same group, else roll for one revolt in TUR and the Turkish monarch has a malus of +2 to its Survival die roll next turn. B.3 A “F” result is a complete failure: death of the monarch and dynastic crisis, 2 Pashas are corrupted and the next monarch will not be allowed to attempt any reform. C Government Reformation C.1 Level 1: Elder Succession The effect of dynastic crisis (§C (Dynastic Crisis) of section III.2.1 (New monarchs)) for TUR is reduced from now on: the only effect is a -1 in Stability. When rolling for a new Sovereign in table III.1 (Reign), DC and Fragile Health are always ignored and the length of reign of new monarchs is changed : for die results 1 to 7, the result is divided by 2 (rounded down), and results 8, 9 and 10 are for (respectively) teen, child and baby monarch lasting 6, 7 or 7 turns. C.2 Level 1: Reforms against corruption. Exceptional taxes are no more causes for corruption of Pasha anymore. When this reform is achieved, the Turkish player may remove up to 4 corrupted Pasha units at no cost. C.3 Level 2: End of feudality All corrupted Pashas are removed and there can be no new corruption of Pasha anymore. From now, TUR uses normal inflation. Gives a bonus of +1 to all further attempts of Reformation. D Military Reforms The effects are summarized on a table on the Turkish aid of play. 	 Specific Rules— master – 2016-04-14 [R]295   D.1 Level 1: Development of the Yeniçeriler Corps The number of Yeniçeriler ⚠ available is now 4, and the number of Timarlar ⚠ decreases to 2. [R]300	Hispania	Specific Rules— master – 2016-04-14	[R]301
F.2 A dynastic action may also allow be used to annex a province of TERRÆ DEPRESSÆ, in which case this dynastic action is not counted for the sake of Habsburg endogamy (see §B.1 of section XIV.13.3.1 (The Low Countries: Terræ Depressæ)).
XIV.10.1.2 List of dynastic actions
A Class A of dynastic actions:
A.1 Habsburg wedding Difficulty 7. Activates event I-A (Dynastic Alliance of the Habsburg).
A.2 Burgundy inheritance Difficulty 7. Activates event I-B (Burgundy Inheritance).
A.3 Neapolitan inheritance Difficulty 8. Activates event I-I (Spanish Naples).
B Class B of dynastic actions:
B.1 Bohemian wedding Difficulty 8. Activates event I-C (Habsburg Bohemia).
B.2 Milanese wedding Difficulty 9. Activates event I-F (Habsburg Control of Milano).
C Class C of dynastic actions:
C.1 Hungarian wedding Difficulty 12. Activates event I-D (Habsburg Inheritance of Hungary).
C.2 Cession of Lombardia to Spain Difficulty 10. Activates event I-G (Spanish Milano).
C.3 Portuguese wedding Difficulty 11. When event event III-6 (Portuguese Disaster in Africa) happens, event event III-7 (Annexation of Portugal by Spain) is also applied immediately.
C.4 Bavarian Wedding Difficulty 9. AUS* (or HIS as long as HIS and AUS* are not dissociated) has a diplomatic bonus of +1 on BAVARIA.
XIV.10.1.3 Habsburg endogamy
The Habsburg family often practised intra-familial weddings. Combined with the frequent violent deaths, this reduced the number of family members of high rank and increased the risk of congenital illnesses. Only a large crisis such as the Spanish War of Succession managed to inject some new blood in the royal family of Spain.
A Each dynastic action increases the problems related to the Habsburg endogamy for the Spanish sovereigns.
A.1 A special malus is applied to the dice throw of reign duration. The malus does apply only to know if there is a dynastic crisis. If there is no dynastic crisis (net result larger than 1), the malus does not apply to determine the length of the reign.
A.2 The same malus is subtracted from 6 to determine the column under which are read the characteristics of the new sovereign.

[R]302	Hispania	Specific Rules— master – 2016-04-14	[R]303
E.2 For all other countries, the provinces of these autonomous kingdoms are still assimilated to provinces of their owner (for peace levels, etc.).
XIV.10.2.2 HABSBURGENSIS SICILIÆ
A HABSBURGENSIS SICILIÆ is constituted by the provinces of Campania, Basilicata, Abruzzo, Puglia, Calabria. If activated by AUS or minor HABSBURGUM only, add the three following provinces: Sicilia, Palermo, Saldigna
B HABSBURGENSIS SICILIÆ has an Ⓐ⊖ (III, Latin, Tercios if HIS is) and a Ⓕ⊖ (choose between galleys or warships).
B.1 A fortress may be maintained for free in Campania.
B.2 The Ⓐ may act in the whole kingdom and in ITALY, the Ⓕ may act in Mediterranean.
XIV.10.2.3 HABSBURGENSIS LOMBARDIA
A HABSBURGENSIS LOMBARDIA is constituted by the sole province of Lombardia. HIS may grant autonomy only after event I-G (Spanish Milano) has been played.
B HABSBURGENSIS SICILIÆ has an Ⓐ⊕ (III, Latin, Tercios if HIS is).
B.1 A fortress may be maintained for free in Lombardia.
B.2 The Ⓐ may act in HISPANIA, in ITALY, in AUSTRIA.
XIV.10.2.4 HABSBURGENSIS BOHEMIA
A HABSBURGENSIS BOHEMIA is constituted by the provinces of Bohême, Lausitz, Silésie, Morava, and is part of the HRE.
B HABSBURGENSIS BOHEMIA has an Ⓐ⊕ (III, Latin).
B.1 A fortress may be maintained for free in Bohême.
B.2 The Ⓐ may act in the whole HRE, in POLONIA, HUNGARIA, AUSTRIA (or minor HABSBURGUM).
XIV.10.2.5 HABSBURGENSIS HUNGARIA
A HABSBURGENSIS HUNGARIA is constituted by the provinces of Szlovákia, Kárpátok, Bukovina, Balaton, Pécs, Erdély, Mureş, Carniola, Croatia, Banat, Kapela, Magyarország.
A.1 It may be granted autonomy by HIS only if event I-D (Habsburg Inheritance of Hungary) was played (not event I-E (Downfall of Hungary)).
A.2 If autonomy is granted by AUS, AUS may no more use the military counters given by event I-D or event I-E, nor the augmentation of basic forces due to HUNGARIA.
B HABSBURGENSIS HUNGARIA has an 2Ⓐ⊕ (IIII, Latin).
B.1 If HABSBURGENSIS HUNGARIA is reduced to 4 provinces or less, the forces are reduced to 1Ⓐ⊕.
B.2 Fortresses may be maintained for free in any province.
B.3 The Ⓐ may act in any potential province of HABSBURGENSIS HUNGARIA, in POLONIA, TURCIA, HABSBURGENSIS BOHEMIA, HUNGARIA, AUSTRIA (or minor HABSBURGUM) and provinces of the Balkans (listed in section XIV.14.1 (Instability of the Balkans)).
XIV.10.2.6 Autonomous States and Events
A Like in any minor country, the revolts in an autonomous state at peace are automatically subdued.
B During event IV-1 (1) (Bohemian Revolt), the Kingdom of Bohemia may revolt, and thus HABSBURGENSIS BOHEMIA ceases to be an autonomous state. AUS may redeclare autonomy (if desired) after the end of the event.
C At the time of dissociation, AUS* may decide to take anew the control of HABSBURGENSIS BOHEMIA or HABSBURGENSIS HUNGARIA. It is made by a simple announce. It is complied to give the autonomy to HABSBURGENSIS SICILIÆ when it is in its control, at the first diplomacy phase where AUS is at peace. This autonomy cannot be deactivated.
C.1 The same does apply to HABSBURGENSIS LOMBARDIA if AUS obtains this territory at the end of event V-4 (The War of Spanish Succession).

XIV.10.1.4 Spanish Annexations
A The annexations that increased the Habsburg territory or Spanish territory are set by events (such as event III-7 (Annexation of Portugal by Spain) or dynastic actions that themselves trigger events.
B Italy The annexation of SICILIÆ is made after event I-I (Spanish Naples) either by conquest or diplomatic annexation. The annexation of Lombardia is made after event I-F (Habsburg Control of Milano) and event I-G (Spanish Milano).
C Bohemia The annexation of BOHEMIA is made through event I-C (Habsburg Bohemia).
D Hungary The HUNGARIA is quite sensitive to the instability of the BALKANS (section XIV.14.1 (Instability of the Balkans)). Then several events lead to event I-E (Downfall of Hungary), which splits the Hungarian kingdom among POL, TUR and AUS*.
E Low countries The Dutch provinces have to be either conquered or annexed through dynastic actions. The remainder of the Burgundy inheritance is given through event I-B (Burgundy Inheritance). See also section XIV.13.3.1 (The Low Countries: Terræ Depressæ).
E.1 If AUS* does not control all the provinces of TERRÆ DEPRESSÆ and HOLLANDIA when event III-1 (1) (Revolt of the United Provinces) occurs, AUS* loses 5VP per uncontrolled revolted province.
XIV.10.2 Autonomous Habsburg States
Design note: AUS and HIS may choose to grant a greater autonomy to the cadet branches of their estates, losing the income provided by those lands in exchange for free basic forces maintained by those states.
XIV.10.2.1 General Conditions of Autonomy
A The autonomy is declared during the diplomatic announces phase. The Habsburg country doing the declaration (HIS or AUS—the “owner” hereafter) loses 1 Stability.
B The autonomy is granted to a whole group of provinces, none of them can be retained.
B.1 Any revolt in the newly-autonomous country is automatically removed.
B.2 The group must have at least three provinces to be declared autonomous, except for HABSBURGENSIS LOMBARDIA (one province only).
C The income of the autonomous kingdom is no more perceived, but the country granting autonomy keeps the ownership of the provinces.
C.1 The sum of the land income of the autonomous kingdom is neither added to the Blocked Trade, nor to the Vassal or main land income.
D No military forces can be raised in an autonomous kingdom but the ones of the autonomous kingdom itself.
D.1 The autonomous kingdom has basic forces freely maintained, but does not receive any reinforcements. His armies have the characteristics mentioned in the appendix (section XXIV.7 (Habsburg vassal kingdoms)).
D.2 Their owner may rebuild forces if they were destroyed.
D.3 In some provinces, a fortress can be built (at the expense of the owner), that is then maintained for free by the autonomous kingdom.
D.4 The forces of the autonomous kingdom have a limited range.
D.5 The military campaigns are included in those of the AUS* having granted Autonomy, and paid by him.
E The autonomous kingdom is not subject to diplomacy. It is in automatic EW of the owner, never makes any separate peace and has its provinces subjected to the peace agreements of its owner.
E.1 HABSBURGENSIS BOHEMIA and HABSBURGENSIS HUNGARIA are automatically put on the AUS diplomatic track; HABSBURGENSIS SICILIÆ is automatically put on the HIS diplomatic track; HABSBURGENSIS LOMBARDIA is put on the track of its owner (depending on whether event I-G (Spanish Milano) has been played or not).

XIV.10.3 Spanish economy
XIV.10.3.1 Spanish Colonial Policy
A Viceroy The Spanish player is allowed one extra colonisation action (as compared to the turn limit), free of charge and of investment low, each turn and for a specific Area, provided that HIS has named a Viceroy in the Area.
A.1 A Viceroy is a Spanish Conquistador that is publicly announced to be a Viceroy during the Administrative phase. This Conquistador is not allowed to leave the Area anymore.
A.2 When a Spanish Conquistador captures the AZTECA capital city of Tenochtitlan, or the INCA capital city of Cuzco, this Conquistador is named viceroy of those respective Areas (as well as the adjacent Area of CHICHIMECA in the case of the AZTECA Area conqueror) and is not allowed to leave them anymore until removed from play.
A.3 A Viceroy acts as a Governor for the bonuses in COL attempts. It is a Conquistador for discoveries and the use of the table of Conquistadors.
A.4 If more than one Area has a Viceroy, only one each turn gains the free colonisation action (player's choice).
B El Dorado The Spanish player may only attempt to place COL in Areas in AMERICA that contain at least one gold mine site, or in Areas adjacent to such gold mine Areas, or also in CARIBBEAN.
B.1 This restriction is lifted from 1615 (turn 26, period IV) onward.
B.2 Exception: Starting from 1560 (turn 15, period III), HIS may also attempt to place COL in PHILIPPINES.
C Foreign trade index HIS has a specific FTI for COL operations, that is different from its FTI (see §B (Other Trade Indexes) of section VI.6.2 (Trade index improvement)).
C.1 This FTI is also used for Portuguese COL operations while PORTUGALLIA is in annexation.
XIV.10.3.2 New Spain
A HIS may annex all establishments (COL and TP) of its enemies in an Area in the El dorado (as defined above).
A.1 This count as 1 peace condition, plus 1 per establishment not controlled by HIS in the Area at the time of the peace.
XIV.10.3.3 Spanish Missionaries
A See section XIV.14.7 (Use of Missions and Missionaries) for the general rules.
B Unnamed Mis
B.1 HIS has four unnamed Mis: two Dominicos and two Franciscanos.
B.2 Between turn 2 and 25 included (periods I to III), if there is no new named Spanish Mis scheduled this turn, HIS receives an anonymous Mis (if one is available).
B.3 From period IV onward, HIS only receives an anonymous Mis on even-numbered turns (they have a †symbol on the turn track).
B.4 If an anonymous Mis dies (battle, exploration, attrition, . . .), he is returned to the counter pool.
B.5 However, if a Mis is used to build a mission, its counter is permanently removed from game as with regular Mis.
C Spanish missions add 1LDE of colonial militia and give the Veteran status to the Colonial Militia in the same province.
D HIS loses 5VP each time one of its Mission is destroyed.
E HIS should place one Mission in each Area where it has a COL (nor necessarily for TP). For each colonised Area without such a Mission HIS loses 5VP at the end of the period.
E.1 Only one Mission is needed for CARIBBEAN (in any one Area).
XIV.10.3.4 The Gold Flow
A As soon as the gold mines bring at least 40 Ⓓ per turn to HIS, there is a permanent malus of -2 for MNU construction and FTI or DTI augmentation.

[R]304 Hispania XIV.10.3.5 The American Empire A On turns 21 and 22, Antonelli allows the free building of one level of arsenal or of fortress in the ROTW province where he is during the expense phase. XIV.10.3.6 The Flota de Oro A HIS can use each turn two convoys: the Flota de Oro and the Flota del Peru. They are transports fleets each containing 5 NTID and allowed to carry gold only (thus up to 75 ). A.1 Those fleets can be placed automatically full and back on the ROTW map, in a COL port belonging to HIS, at the beginning of each military round upon reaching Europe or being destroyed (sunk or captured). A.2 The Flota de Oro is placed in any Spanish port in AMERICA on the Atlantic Ocean, and the Flota del Peru in any port in AMERICA on the Pacific Ocean. B The counters are considered to be naval units but count in the stacking limit as a small counter (a LD, and not a fleet). B.1 Therefore it must roll for attrition as any other naval unit. If this unit is intercepted while alone (not escorted), all the gold it currently carries is captured. B.2 If attacked when escorted and if the escort loses the battle, the attacking player receives any gold transported on Transport that would be captured during a pursuit. B.3 Losses due to attrition are of 15  per sunken NTID. C [BLP] During periods II to VI included, HIS gains an extra  ± out of limit each turn. C.1 This  ± is always stacked with the Flota de oro. It gains the capacity to go in the ROTW if the counter does not have it. C.2 Every time the Flota de Oro is moved back to AMERICA (after reaching Europe or being sunk), its admiral is changed (discard the previous  ± and draw a new one at random among the Spanish ones). XIV.10.3.7 The Spanish Holland A See also section XIV.13.3.1 (The Low Countries: Terræ Depressæ) for the state of Holland before annexation by HIS, and section XIV.11.2 (Revolt of the United provinces) for what happens after event III-1 (1) (Revolt of the United Provinces). B The Spanish Tax The Spanish Holland is the set of all provinces belonging to HIS in the limits of the national territory of HOLLANDIA (Friesland, Gelderland, Holland, Overijssel, Utrecht, Zeeland). HIS does not raise directly income from these provinces, but may choose to tax those after event I-A (Dynastic Alliance of the Habsburg). B.1 The income is of 40  plus 10  per province owned, for a maximum of 100 , to be added in line B22 (Special income) of ERS. B.2 These provinces are counted as foreign for section V.4 (Trade income). C Trade implantation See rule §D (Dutch Trading Fleets) of section XIV.11.1 (Holland as a minor country). C.1 The Dutch TF are counted as Spanish for section V.4.4.3 (Atlantic, Mediterranean and Indian Ocean centres) after event I-A (Dynastic Alliance of the Habsburg) and event I-B (Burgundy Inheritance) have been both played. The Atlantic Trade Centre is initially set in Vlaanderen (and counts for TERRÆ DEPRESSÆ and BURGUNDIA). D All the preceding rules do not apply any more if PRIMA HOLLANDIA comes into existence (through section XIV.14.9 (Independence of Revolted Principalities)). This may lead to applying the effects of event III-1 (1) (Revolt of the United Provinces) before period III. XIV.10.3.8 The Flanders Factories A The Cloth MNU that is available following event I-B (Burgundy Inheritance) must remain in Vlaanderen. It is destroyed if Vlaanderen ceases to be Spanish.	Specific Rules— master – 2016-04-14 [R]305 A.1 It is also destroyed also the first time that ANG, HOL and FRA each have a Cloth MNU and if HIS is Counter-Reformation. A.2 Before event IV-2 (1) (Olivares), this Cloth MNU can only be re-built in provinces of Flanders and Holland. XIV.10.3.9 Expulsion of the Jews and the Moriscos The Alhambra Decree was issued in 1492 by the Monarchs of Spain, following the final triumph over the Moors after the fall of Granada. The decree ordered the expulsion of all Jews from Spain. After the fall of Granada in 1492, the Muslim population was promised religious freedom by the Treaty of Granada, but that promise was short-lived. The persecutions led to an uprising in 1500. This was suppressed, and the Spanish authorities took that as a pretext to void the rights and obligations in the surrender treaty. The Moriscos, or converted Muslims, still lived in Spain, especially in the Granada and Valence areas. They were, however, persecuted by the inquisition and the population, leading to the uprising of Granada in 1568. Several edicts of expulsion were tried in various part of Spain until the final expulsion of the Moriscos from all the kingdom in 1614. A Nouvelle règle d'expulsion des Juifs et des Moresques de l'Espagne : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - choix au moment de I-8 (1) : Politique d'expulsion ou non - si CR : pas d'expulsion = -50 PV - si Conc. : pas de pénalité <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - Politique d'expulsion : <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a- limite en FTI/DTI b- ajoute 10% à la capacité d'emprunt national c- bonus +1 aux tests de banqueroute - Ces effets se terminent d'un manière ou de l'autre : <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1) Expulsion finale après III-10 : annule les effets b et c 2) Revenir sur la politique d'expulsions : annule tous les effets, coûte 25 PVs ou gratuit lors de IV-2 (1) Olivares A.1 This effect is cancelled if HIS chooses to be conciliatory. XIV.10.3.10 Asiento and Exclusivity A HIS applies a commercial policy of exclusivity, conceding the right to trade with the Spanish colonies (the Asiento) to a very limited number of merchants. There are three different possible statuses: A.1 Exclusive Asiento to Spain; A.2 Weakened Asiento (allows for some contraband and partial trade with foreigners); A.3 Asiento conceded to another MAJ. B Exclusive Asiento. B.1 HIS cannot grant the right to trade for STZ where it has COL to other countries. B.2 HIS cannot use Slaves from any other establishment than its own and those of its vassals. B.3 If PORTUGALLIA is in annexation, the same policy applies to the COL of PORTUGALLIA. B.4 HIS has a free Concurency of high investment against a TF in a STZ bordering a Spanish (or Portuguese if annexed) COL. C Weakened Asiento C.1 From 1615 (turn 26, period IV) onward, HIS may choose each turn to redefine its commercial policy. The first time it goes to Weakened Asiento, HIS loses 20VP and 1Stability. Changing later does not cost anything.
[R]306 Hispania C.2 HIS can now use Slaves from the contraband, or buy Slaves to a MAJ having a TF in a STZ bordering a Spanish COL. C.3 HIS can grant the right to put a TF in a STZ bordering a Spanish COL, paying 10VP per country and per STZ. C.4 When HIS returns to Exclusive Asiento, all the countries with a TF in a STZ bordering a Spanish COL have an Overseas CB for this turn only. D Asiento conceded to a country The Asiento is a right that can be conceded to someone else due to wars after 1665 (turn 36, period V) (Asiento is equivalent to one province in terms of peace condition and can be taken also by an oversea war). The former owner of the Asiento (if not HIS) gains an Overseas or normal CB this turn or the next one (to be chosen by the victim). D.1 A country imposing a peace to HIS can ask for the Asiento instead of a province. HIS cannot oppose this. HIS has then a permanent Overseas CB to retake the Asiento right. D.2 If the Asiento is given, the Weakened Asiento effects are applied (with losses of VP and Stability for the first time). D.3 HIS must use the Slaves of only the owner of the Asiento. HIS may request between 0 and 4 Slaves each turn, to be given for free. More may be sold, but there is no obligation. As long as the Asiento owner can give the requested Slaves that HIS requests, he keeps the Asiento. He loses the Asiento after 3 consecutive turns of not providing the requested Slaves. D.4 HIS may use the Slaves contraband. D.5 VP of the Asiento A MAJ with the Asiento accumulates 20VP, plus 1 per turn where he can meet the Slaves request. Those VP are stored, and received at the end of the game or if Asiento is retaken following a war. The VP are lost if the Asiento is lost due to not giving the requested Slaves 3 consecutive turns. XIV.10.4 Military means of an empire XIV.10.4.1 The Tercios A Tercios is a technology specific to the Spanish forces, obtained when HIS Land technology marker reaches the Tercios box. A.1 The autonomous kingdoms of HASBURGENSIS SICILIE and HASBURGENSIS LOMBARDIA are also Tercios during periods I and II if HIS is Tercios. A.2 The technology Tercios cannot be obtained before 1530. [AUS/HIS] = AUS sinon HIS; AUS = le majeur ; minor HABSBURGUM ou HABSBURGUM = le mineur ; AUS* = regroupe les deux (majeur ou mineur)... A There are several designations for the Habsburg Empire in these rules: AUS* is the generic denomination. HABSBURGUM is the minor country, often written minor HABSBURGUM if an independent minor country (after dissociation from Spain). AUSTRIA and AUS are used for AUS* if the rule only applies to an independent major country. When player actions are done for [AUS/HIS], [AUS/HIS] indicates AUS if possible and HIS otherwise. B AUS* is Emperor of the HRE, unless specific events say the contrary (especially event I-2 (Election of the HRE Emperor) and event II-2 (1) (Election of the HRE Emperor)). XIV.12.2 Austria as a minor country XIV.12.2.1 The Habsburg Dynastic Alliance A Until event V-4 (The War of Spanish Succession) takes place, HIS and HABSBURGUM share a special relationship. As such, no country may till then make diplomacy on HABSBURGUM. A.1 Before event I-A (Dynastic Alliance of the Habsburg), AUS* is considered to be in EW of HIS. It reacts like a normal minor country. A.2 Between those two events, HABSBURGUM is a special ally of HIS: the Spanish Habsburg Dynastic Alliance. A.3 At the beginning of event V-4 (The War of Spanish Succession), the Habsburg Dissociation happens. There isn't anymore a Dynastic lliance andHABSBURGUM (if it happens to be played as a minor power) is now a regular power . B Effects of the Habsburg Dynastic Alliance The general principle is that HIS and HABSBURGUM are involved in a permanent Defensive and Offensive Alliance. Moreover, it gives a free CB to HIS when HABSBURGUM is calling for its Defensive ally (but only in this case). B.1 When a declaration of war is made against HABSBURGUM, HIS may announce that this is also a declaration of war against HIS (at no extra cost), and thus be fully involved in the war. This is not mandatory, in which case HIS may not be fully involved in the war. B.2 The reverse is not true in principle (some events may overrule this), and HIS must pay in Stability to have HABSBURGUM enter a war declared against or by HIS. B.3 HABSBURGUM has the right to declare war, at no cost in Stability to HIS, on any country declaring war on a minor member of the HRE. This may be changed after event IV-A (Thirty Years' War). B.4 HABSBURGUM may make limited or foreign interventions in other wars, decided by HIS. B.5 When HIS asks for full involvement of HABSBURGUM, however, the roll automatically succeeds (as if HABSBURGUM was VA of HIS). C Separate peace HABSBURGUM may however accept to negotiate separate peace, as any other minor, unless events say so. D Access to AUS* When HIS is the Emperor: D.1 It gains free access to all HABSBURGUM territories even in peace. D.2 Its monarch may leads troop of AUS.
[R]314 Austria and Habsburg Empire XIV.12.2.2 Conduct of the minor HABSBURGUM country A As a minor country, HABSBURGUM always uses the CB offered by political events. When declaring war, it always calls upon any country that would have developed diplomatic relations at least in EW, like if it was a MAJ offensive alliance. If attacked, it calls upon any country like if it was a defensive alliance between MAJ. The penalty for not honouring the alliance is the loss of the diplomatic position. B HABSBURGUM always takes back the control of the autonomous Habsburg states, except for HASBURGENSIS SICILIE. C A few events may place countries on the diplomatic track of AUS* even when it is only a MIN. They are managed (until the dissociation) — giving their incomes or entering in war — as if they were on HIS diplomatic track. C.1 Before the dissociation, if HIS does not defend their position on the track, they are automatically defended by HABSBURGUM (with the DIP of HIS and a small investment). C.2 After the dissociation, they are defended by AUS* as if AUS* was an abandoned MAJ (see §B (Diplomatic track of minor countries) of subevent XXVI.1.2.5 (Position of the now Minor country)). D After Dissociation due event V-4 (The War of Spanish Succession), the basic forces of HABSBURGUM are increased by ♠ and 2 levels of fortification. XIV.12.3 Specific affairs of AUS* This section applies to both major and minor AUS*. XIV.12.3.1 Crusades against the Ottomans A Catholicism and Crusades The religion of HABSBURGUM is always Catholic, and Catholic/Counter-Reformation as soon as possible (from event I-8 (2) (Growth of the Reformation)). A.1 AUS* has a free CB against TUR if a Crusade is called for. If Emperor, HABSBURGUM will always use it. TUR can use its own naval forces to fight against them. B.2 The diplomatic patron of the ORDO HOSPITALIS play this forces, or HIS if they are neutral. B.3 The annexes specify the reinforcements gained by the ORDO HOSPITALIS each turn: a F⊖ (or ⊕ if in Rhodos), and a NGD or a NDE. B.4 This state of war does not cause automatic Stability loss at the end of turn. But, each turn that the pirate of The Knights inflicts losses on Turkish commercial fleets, TUR loses 1 Stability level if at peace and not anti-prosperous. C Transfer to Malta Whenever Rhodos is conquered by the Turkish player, the Spanish player may cede the province of Malta to The ORDO HOSPITALIS (if this province is still Spanish). C.1 If Malta is not owned by HIS when this happens, the Sole Defender of Catholic Faith (XIV.14.3.1) may ask to the owner of Corfou or Kreta (if Catholic) to transfer the ORDO HOSPITALIS on one of these islands. The province is ceded in the same way and the Sole Defender of Catholic Faith (XIV.14.3.1) receives the benefits of the operation (instead of HIS). If no MAJ accepts a transferal, the ORDO HOSPITALIS is definitively destroyed. C.2 In counterpart of the cession, HIS receives the diplomatic marker of the ORDO HOSPITALIS, placed directly in his VA box. It will remain there until the disappearance of the ORDO HOSPITALIS. No diplomacy is then allowed anymore on this minor, except for HIS (for possible diplomatic annexation). C.3 Units of the ORDO HOSPITALIS are transferred and refilled automatically to their new province upon ceding of this province by HIS. C.4 If it is conquered by the Turkish player after this transfer, all ORDO HOSPITALIS units are destroyed definitively, even if the province is subsequently recaptured by a Christian player. D Military forces of the Knights D.1 Units of the ORDO HOSPITALIS are always Veteran. Their maintenance is free, including that of all reinforcements received. D.2 Their F may not go out of MEDITERRANEAN SEA. If there is a port under Christian control (it doesn't matter which Christian nation, player or minor country) touching sea zones in the Bassin Levantin or Mer Egée, the privateer's dice rolls are modified by -2. D.3 The rest of their forces can only be used against Turkish forces, or forces of countries allied to TUR in a current war. D.4 The Grand Master The Knights have a permanent military leader named Grand Maître. It is never eliminated (a new Grand Maître is automatically and immediately elected if it is killed, injured or captured). He may be used either as an Admiral (privateer Admiral included) or a General, at the discretion of the player controlling that minor. D.5 La Valette The Grand Maître is replaced by La Valette if, beginning with period III or the transfer of the ORDO HOSPITALIS outside of Rhodos, a roll of 4 or more is obtained on 1d10. This roll is made in the first battle or siege were the Grand Maître is used (except in naval combats because of the limited Overseas War against TUR). La Valette remains for 4 turns in the game (including the current turn), and will be replaced back by the usual Grand Maître at the end of this time (or if killed or captured, or temporarily if injured). He may enter the game only once.

The following rules give explanations to that part of the game.   XIV.14.3.1 Sole Defender of Catholic Faith A That title is also a period objective for some Catholic countries and is defined as follows. B If FRA, HIS, ANG or POL is the only Catholic major country (do not count POR or VEN), it is automatically the Sole Defender of the Catholic faith. B.1 Alternatively, if there is only one Catholic MAJ that is Counter-Reformation, it is automatically the Sole Defender of the Catholic Faith. C Else, if more than one country is Catholic, a Catholic MAJ becomes the Sole Defender of the Catholic Faith when the conditions below are fulfilled: C.1 Control of the SANCTA SEDES diplomatic marker for at least 3 turns in the last 5 turns just elapsed. C.2 Participated in all Crusades that happened in the last 5 turns, with at least one Simple Campaign per round and no separate peace with TUR. D Restoration of Catholicism after the Reform Each time a player (either HIS (if Counter-Reformation) or the Sole Defender of the Catholic Faith) declares war on a Protestant country and obtains an unconditional peace from this country, the player may decide to abandon all province(s) transfer and ask as sole peace condition the restoration of Catholicism (of the same attitude of the power imposing Catholicism) in this country. D.1 This clause is mandatory if the power is Counter-Reformation. D.2 Gain on Conversions For each Protestant country thus forcibly converted, the victorious Catholic player receives 10VP if the loser is a minor country and 20VP if it is a player (or the value indicated in the period objective, if any, which takes precedence). Also, if an event gives different values, apply them and ignore the above. E Effect of the Reconversion All reciprocal permanent CB between these players and/or minors are cancelled following the restoration of Catholicism. A major country (i.e. a player) who is reconverted more than two turns after its initial change of religion suffers from the following side effects, each turn during the next 10 turns, if it maintains the new (forcibly imposed) religion: E.1 The country loses 1 additional level of Stability each turn. E.2 Every even-numbered turn, the player must roll on the revolt table, in addition to any revolt mandated by events or the rules. F Revert to the Reformation F.1 If a major country reverts to its religion as it was before the reconversion, it loses 1 Stability level and grants a temporary CB to the country that imposed the change of religion on it. In such a case, side effects as per above are cancelled. F.2 On the other hand, a forcibly reconverted minor country returns to the Protestant faith at the start of the turn following its reconversion without any side effect.   XIV.14.3.2 End of Religious Struggles A The Religious Struggles between Protestant and Catholic end in 1664 (Interphase of turn 35 and 36, beginning of period V), or when event IV-A (Thirty Years' War) is ended and the year is 1615 or after (turn 26, period IV). Other countries are not affected. TUR receives 25 VP more for the capture and holding of Więń, but only once in a game and AUS* loses 25 VP because of the same event. B Więń and the Crusade The capture of Więń gives a bonus of +5 to the Crusade die-roll. C Turkish Control of Więń Each turn where Więń stays under Turkish control, AUS* loses 1 Stability level per turn in addition to all other losses of turn-end. C.1 [AUS/HIS] receives a bonus of +3 for all its diplomatic actions (and Entry in War tests) with minor countries that have a common frontier with AUS*. It also does not cost any special VP to AUS*/AUS. D.3 Więń become automatically and immediately the capital of the HABSBURGUM again if the province of Österreich is re-conquered by the AUS* player. XIV.14.5 The Wars of Succession		XIV.14.6 Using mercenaries
XIV.14.5.1 Conditions A Wars of Succession may occur whenever a country suffers from a dynastic crisis. The country suffering from the crisis (and, potentially, from the War) is called here the victim. B If the victim is christian and at war against at least one other christian major country, then its enemies can decide to turn the on going war into a war of succession (thus supporting a dissident monarch). B.1 In that case, one of the christian enemies of the victim is designed (by its alliance) as the pretending power. B.2 In the case when several separate alliances are at war against the victim, each can decide to support a separate pretending power (several people are pretending to the throne, supported by different powers). C Any country (any religion) that gave a dowry to the victim in a Dynastic Alliance signed less than 8 turns ago has, in reaction, a free CB against any alliance that turned the war into a war of succession. If it is used, this country is called the supporting power. C.1 The supporting power is automatically allied to the victim country for the current wars of succession. C.2 If the supporting power is part of an opposing alliance, it can still choose to support the new monarch of the victim by breaking its alliance (and paying the usual cost in Stability). C.3 There can be at most one supporting country. If several meet the conditions, the victim country can ask one (and only one) to support its new monarch. D If the victim received a dowry in a Dynastic Alliance signed less than 8 turns ago then any christian country that gave the dowry has a normal CB to declare a war of succession on the victim this turn and become a pretending power. D.1 If one (or more) other countries also choose to declare a war of succession, this may lead to several different pretending powers.		Condottieri In the thirteenth and fourteenth centuries Italian city-states were becoming enriched by their trade with the Orient. These cities, such as Venice, Florence, and Genoa, had woefully small armies and were increasingly becoming targets of attack by foreign powers as well as envious neighbours. The noblemen ruling the cities soon resorted to hiring companies of mercenaries known as condotta ("contract") to defend their territories. Each condotta was led by a condottiere, a term which soon became synonymous with "captain". The condottieri were the key forces in the Italian wars. Later, they were overwhelmed with other forces such as the Swiss pikemen, German Landsknechts, English musketeers, French cavalry or Spanish tercios, but the use of mercenary forces remained in strong use. This term is used there for all the mercenary leaders that can be recruited by larger powers during the games. A It is possible to buy mercenary generals. . This has to be done in the logistics segment. A.1 All the countries willing to buy mercenaries announce their intention of doing so. A.2 A die roll is made on table XIV.2 (Condottieri) to see how many mercenary generals are available for sale. A.3 The mercenaries are drawn randomly and kept hidden in the pool of mercenary generals. Each one is sold before the next one is drawn. A.4 Each interested country makes a hidden bid for the mercenary. All the bids are revealed simultaneously. A.5 The highest bidder gains the mercenary general for his service and pays the corresponding price. In case of equality, a second round of bids is made among the highest bidders. In case of a second equality, the mercenary is no more available. A.6 The mercenaries are revealed only after all mercenaries have been sold. B It is also possible to recruit a mercenary explorer or conquistador. For each of both, all the interested countries have to follow the same procedure as for the generals. B.1 However, the number of explorer or conquistador is at most 1 (see table XIV.2 (Condottieri)).
XIV.14.5.2 Results A In addition to any other peace conditions, dynastic ties with the victim are added has a possible compensation for the war of succession. B Dynastic ties If a country obtains dynastic ties with the victim, the following apply immediately: B.1 Both countries sign a defensive alliance. The victim must answer to this alliance whenever called for. The country that has the ties can refuse to answer the defensive alliance, but this voids the ties. B.2 The victim may not declare war to the country obtaining dynastic ties, unless with a CB given by event, for the next 5 turns. B.3 If the country having the ties declares war to the victim, this voids the ties. C Claiming dynastic ties Dynastic ties may be granted either to pretending or supporting country. C.1 The pretending country (only) can ask for dynastic ties as a peace condition. This cancel any status of supporting country of the victim that may exist. C.2 If the victim country wins the war of succession (peace of level 1 minimum), then the supporting country (if still at war) automatically gains dynastic ties. D Multiple pretending countries If there are several pretending countries, then when claiming Dynastic ties, the following conditions are added:		<table><tr><th>1d10</th><th>Generals</th><th>Explorer</th><th>Conquistador</th><th>Blind bid for each in turn, at least 10 ⚬.</th></tr><tr><td>1-4</td><td>0</td><td>0</td><td>0</td><td></td></tr><tr><td>5-6</td><td>1</td><td>0</td><td>0</td><td></td></tr><tr><td>7-8</td><td>2</td><td>1</td><td>1</td><td></td></tr><tr><td>9-10</td><td>3</td><td>1</td><td>1</td><td></td></tr></table> Table XIV.2: Condottieri C [BLP] Named mercenaries (J Cabot and S Cabot) are added to the pool of mercenaries during their lifetime. XV.2 Description of Economical Events

E-1 CRISIS OF MADNESS Orig

Reduce all values of the monarch's characteristics by half for this turn (rounded down). Modify next-turn survival die-roll by +1.

E-2 EXCELLENT MINISTERS (×3) PBmod

A Event Phase

A.1 A Minister is appointed per §K (Excellent Ministers) of section III.2.1 (New monarchs). His characteristics as ruler are rolled for the three values by 1d10 modified: a die-roll of 1 becomes 7, of 2 becomes 8, 10 becomes 9. Another die roll sets the length of the Ministry:

1d10	1	2	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	10
Duration	3	3	3	4	4	5	5	6	6	6
Value	7	8	3	4	5	6	7	8	9	9

Table XV.2: Excellent Ministers

A.2 The office of the Minister include the current turn, and ends just before the "economical events" segment of the events phase following the last full turn of office.

A.3 A value of the Minister is used only if it is strictly superior to the monarch's own characteristic.

A.4 If the Monarch dies when the Minister is still in office, a malus of −2 is applied to the characteristics determination die-rolls for the monarch's successor, but only for a characteristic that was increased due to the Minister by at least 2 above the Monarch value.

E-3 SERIOUS SICKNESS Orig

Reduce all characteristics of the monarch by 3 for this turn only, 1 being the minimum value. In addition, roll a die. If the result is 10, the monarch deceases immediately. Else, modify next-turn survival die-roll by +1.

If the current monarch did benefit from §K (Excellent Ministers) of section III.2.1 (New monarchs), the characteristics are only reduced by 1.

The monarch cannot lead armies or fleets during the turn except if he must do so due to a political event.

E-4 AGRICULTURAL CRISIS (×4) Orig

The country has seen real trouble in crops and farming. The loss is of 50% (lowered by 10% per unit of Cereals MNU already owned by the country) of its income of provinces this turn (line B1 of ERS). The loss is registered in line B4 of ERS.

Other countries that possess Cereals MNU gain immediately 10 ⌚ per unit in their RT, to be added from line A1 of ERS to line A2 of ERS.

E-5 NAVAL LOSSES (×2) Orig

Fires, storms and disasters spread at sea. Roll 2d10, and add +2 if the MAJ has at least 3 ⚓ counters deployed at that time, or subtract −2 if it has only one (or none). The number of ND lost is given by the result:

≤4	5–10	11–15	16–19	≥20
0	1	2	3	4

The ND can come from anywhere. NGD count for half a loss only; NTD can be lost only if there are no warships or galleys left.

[E]338

Description of Economical Events

E-6 LOOTING AND INSECURITY (×3) JCMoD

The country loses 10% (rounded up) of its income of provinces this turn (line B1 of ERS). The loss is registered in line B4 of ERS.

Place a Pirate ⚓ in the player's CTZ (if any); in STZ Baltique if the player has a port on this STZ (and no CTZ); in STZ Adriatique if the player has a port on this STZ (and no CTZ). There may be no Pirate if there are no such ports.

E-7 FISCAL EVASION (×5) Orig

A Event Phase

Reduce the Royal treasury by 20% of its absolute value (min. is 20 ⌚) this turn (from line A1 of ERS to line A2 of ERS). Furthermore, if TUR receives this event, he has to check for Pashas' corruption.

α CORRUPTION OF PASHAS

α-B Event Phase

α-B.1 One Pashas (§C of XIV.8.1.2) becomes corrupted (turn the counters on their corrupted side). This Pasha is chosen by the Sole Defender of Catholic Faith (XIV.14.3.1) (or [AUS/HIS] is there is none). This pasha must be in owned Turkish provinces; if none are available, displace the newly corrupted pashas in any province (except the capital).

E-8 CORRUPTION (×3) Orig

A Administrative Phase

All costs of purchase double this turn (reinforcements and campaigns). Costs of maintenance increase by 10% (rounded up). In addition, TUR suffers the effects described in event part E-7.α (Corruption of Pashas).

E-9 TECHNOLOGICAL ADVANCE (×4) Orig

The player can move one of his two technology marker (naval or land) a number of boxes forward on the technology track determined by the roll of a die (choice of the technology must be made before rolling the die):

≤1–5	6–8	9–10
1 box	2 boxes	3 boxes

E-10 DISCOVERY OF MINES (×2) JCMoD

A Event Phase

A.1 Place a Gold Mine counter in one national province of the player (still controlled) in mountain terrain (or non-clear terrain if none available, or clear terrain as a last resort), where there is not already such a counter, and provided the country (not the player) did not benefit from this event two times.

A.1.a If the country had already benefited from this event two times, test for event part E-26.α (Depletion of mines in America) instead.

If no controlled terrain is available, re-roll.

E-11 WAVE OF OBSCURANTISM (×2) Orig

Reduce the Stability by 1 level if player is Protestant, and 2 levels in all other cases.

E-12 PIRATES (×2) JymMoD

TODO: TBD Replace the two Pirates events by minor country colonisation.

A Event Phase

A.1 This event is only resolved during the economic situation segment of the event phase.

[E]339

Economical events— master – 2016-04-14

E-13 DEVELOPMENT OF WARSHIPS (×2) Orig

The player advances his naval technology by 1 box.

E-14 MILITARY LEADER (×3) Orig

Roll one die. If the result is even, draw a general, else draw an admiral. The leader will be drawn from the anonymous pool of the player, and will not be included in the minimum leaders limit for the period that the leader is entitled to.

The leader is available for 1 turn if the result is between 1 and 5, 2 turns (current and following) if it is between 6 and 10.

E-15 DROUGHT (×2) Orig

The country loses 30% (rounded up) of its income of provinces this turn (line B1 of ERS). The loss is registered in line B4 of ERS.

E-16 EXCEPTIONAL YEAR (×5) Orig

The country gains 10% (rounded up) of its income this turn (line B23 (Income) of ERS). The gain is registered in line B24 of ERS.

E-17 SALES OF HONORARY TITLES (×3) Orig

The Major Power may opt to sell honorary titles. If it chooses so, roll 1d100. The result gives the product of these sales in ⌚ , added immediately to line A1 of ERS in line A2 of ERS. Then the minimum number of generals of the power is lowered by one this turn (only). If may opt to have none of these effects (before rolling the dies).

E-18 EPIDEMICS (×3) Orig

The country loses 20% (rounded up) of its income this turn (line of ERS). The loss is registered in line B24 of ERS.

E-19 RUSH OF COLONISTS (×3) JymMoD

If the country has no COL placement or TP placement, it may elect to ignore this event and re-roll another one (to be decided immediately).

This event gives a bonus of +3 to the die-roll of COL placement, as well as a supplementary and free COL placement with small investment (30 ⌚), usable this turn or any other turn of the current period (lost if not used before the end of the current period). Moreover, the country may ignore restrictions of section VI.7.4.2 (Pioneering [TBD]) for this turn.

If this is not period I also apply event part §α (Minor country colonisation).

α MINOR COUNTRY COLONISATION

If this is not period I, roll on the following table; subtract 3 in periods II and III and add 3 in periods VI and VII.

-2 Destruction of a Minor establishment.

-1 Creation of a Minor establishment in BRAZIL.

0 Creation of a Minor establishment in ECUADOR/YUCATÁN/PANAMÁ.

1–2 Creation of a Minor establishment in CARIBBEAN.

3–4 Loss one side of a Minor establishment.

5 Creation of a Pirate Haven in CARIBBEAN.

6–7 Creation of a Minor establishment in a coastal province in the American zoom.

8 Increase one Minor establishment.

9 Creation of a Minor establishment in a coastal province in INDIA.

10 Creation of a Pirate Haven in MADAGASCAR

11 Creation of a Minor establishment in a coastal province in INDIA.

12–13 Creation of a Minor establishment in CARIBBEAN.

RECTIFICATION

PBMod

The monarch yields to pressures yielding to straighten the domestic and foreign situation. The player can choose one option exactly among the three following bonuses:

- Pay without overcosts all his land forces up to the triple of the normal limit.
- Increase his construction limit for ships by 50% (rounded up).
- Obtain a bonus of +5 to his die-roll concerning the action of improvement of Stability.
- Refund for free National Loans up to 200 ⚡.

Choice must be written down immediately to be valid.

E-49

TREACHERY

PBMod

The player benefits from a treachery against one of his opponents with whom he is already at war (either a player or a minor country). The player can choose one option immediately among the three following bonuses:

- Capture immediately an enemy fortress that he currently besieges, or obtain a one time bonus of +4 to a siege works action die-roll in the current turn (if he establishes a siege this turn).
- Move himself one land stack of his opponent one time during his opponent's movement phase this turn, instead of his opponent. The player will pick the exact round. However, he cannot make this stack attack any units except a stack commanded by him, nor can he exceed 5 MP on land, or make a naval move with a modifier higher than +8 for attrition on sea.
- Obtain a bonus of +5 to one his diplomatic operations against a minor country whose marker is on his opponents diplomatic track, this turn only (the choice is announced along the diplomatic actions).

XVI.2.1

Summary of the procedure

A Roll 2d10 and read the revolted country in the column of the current period. The target country may be a MIN or other abstract entity in which case a pseudo-stability is provided in brackets.

A.1 Decrease this pseudo-stability of minors in the table by –1 if:

- This is HOL* and HIS perceived the taxes at the preceding turn;
- This is POR* at the turn of event III-6 (Portuguese Disaster in Africa) or after.

B Roll 1d10+the Stability (or modified pseudo-stability) on the target country's table. Reroll in the description of groups below if needed.

C Lastly, roll 2d10 in the last column of the table below to find the strength of the revolt.

Design note:

The COLrevolt area is mutually exclusive with both event IV-20 (Revolts in Singala/Formose), event V-17 (Slave Revolts in the West Indies), event VI-15 (Slave Revolts in the West Indies) and event VII-11 (Revolt in Indonesia). If using the COLrevolt area, consider these events as R/D. If not, reroll the revolt area whenever COLoccurs.

A formal peace should be obtained.	[B Event Phase] B.1 The MOGOLIS IMP. will try to invade the regions in (or near) India in the following order: DELLI, AFGHANISTAN, AYOHDYĀ, BĀŅGLĀ, GUJARAT, PĀJĀB, INDUS, BALOUCHISTAN, ORISSĀ, GONĎĀNĀ, MUMBAĪ, HYDĀRĀBĀD, MALABĀR, KARNĀṬAKA. A circled number on the map shows this order. B.2 Each event will call for a varying number of invasions (between 1 and 4). The province invaded are determined and the invasion resolved in parallel. The provinces are aimed in the following order. B.2.a The regions with the lowest number and no MOGOLIS IMP. Area counter in it (so it is not “conquered” or “lost” due to failed invasion or a rebellion) are the first aimed, by an invasion. Note that a failed invasion during one event will force the MOGOLIS IMP. to invade again the same region during the next expansion. B.2.b Then if needed, the regions having a MOGOLIS IMP. Lost Area counter and with the lowest number are second to be aimed at, for a new invasion that will have a malus of −1. B.2.c If there is not enough uncontrolled regions to make all the attempts called for by an event, a test of Rebellion is made in replacement for the remaining actions called for. The regions aimed are those that are conquered and have the highest number. A Rebellion is resolved as an invasion but with −1. B.3 The list of regions invaded is defined globally during the event, and the resolution will wait the end of the turn. The MOGOLIS IMP. is not (technically speaking) at war with countries having TP/COL or regions in the aimed regions. The invasion attempt will be resolved at the end of the military phases. An opposition does not affect the diplomatic status of any power with the MOGOLIS IMP. C.1.b Non-European minor countries do not oppose invasion. European minor countries may oppose if their diplomatic patron decides it. They can use their non-European basic forces for this. C.1.c In each province where invasion is resisted, a land battle is fought between the forces of the European country and the 2 A⊕ of the MOGOLIS IMP. Then, these CB are resolved in initiative order. B.1.b All countries that use this CB are call crusaders and are automatically allied against TUR. B.2 Mediation of the Pope Any Catholic country can immediately propose a white peace to any or all of its current Christian enemies. B.2.a If one or more of these peaces is refused, the free crusade CB is consider to be fulfilled (for the country that asked for the mediation). The would-be crusader is not forced to declare war on TUR or loss Stability. B.2.b Catholic minors always accept this peace. Other minors never accept it (and thus give an “excuse” for not participating). B.2.c If a country does not ask the mediation of the Pope, the fact that it is at war is not an excuse for avoiding the Crusade. B.3 Refusing to participate Any Catholic country that either refused to participate or rejected the mediation of the Pope suffers from the following effects: B.3.a Loss of 1Stability (2Stability for the Sole Defender of Catholic Faith (XIV.14.3.1)). B.3.b Loss of the diplomatic control of SANCTA SEDES. B.3.c All other Catholic majors have a normal CB against this country this turn. B.4 If no major country participates in a Crusade, no minor participates either and the rest of the event is ignored. [C Diplomatic Phase] C.1 Minor Countries and Crusades The following minor countries only: AUS* (if Emperor or HUNGARIA has been inherited), HUNGARIA, SANCTA SEDES, GENUA, ORDO HOSPITALIS, TOSCANA and PARMA always participate in a Crusade. C.1.a If they are on the diplomatic track of a crusader, they are immediately raised in EW (if not already higher). C.1.b Otherwise, they are temporarily put in EW of the first crusader (the first country that declared war on TUR, either the Sole Defender of Catholic Faith (XIV.14.3.1) or the one with higher initiative). They will return back to the Neutral box at the end of the crusade.	C.2 Other Catholic minors may participate if controlled by the crusader, using the normal rules. C.3 Protestant, Orthodox and Muslims minors may not participate in a Crusade (even if controlled by a crusader). C.4 HUNGARIA, HABSBURGUM, the HRE. C.4.a If the minor HABSBURGUM is the Emperor of the HRE, it participates automatically in the Crusade if at least one provinces of either HABSBURGUM, HRE or HUNGARIA is owned by TUR. C.4.b HUNGARIA automatically participates in the Crusade on a die roll of 8 or more. This roll is modified by +1 for each province of HUNGARIA owned by TUR. C.5 Endorsement of SANCTA SEDES Crusaders receive at the end of each Diplomatic phase a global diplomatic income of 150 ₤, shared equitably between them in divisions of 25 ₤ (the surplus going on the first participant). C.5.a This money is coming from the SANCTA SEDES, so the usual 50 ₤ gift (see §B.2 (The Papal treasury) of section XIV.13.1.1 (Sancta Sedes)) that SANCTA SEDES gives for a MA status is not perceived anymore. C.5.b This is valid during all the length of the current Crusade. At the same time, the modifier value for SUB on SANCTA SEDES becomes -150. [D Administrative Phase] D.1 Crusader army The crusaders, whether major or minor, may used the Crusader A counters to hold troops of any crusader country. D.1.a Whatever the actual content of these counters, they are considered to be of class III and have all the features of this class. D.1.b Track the nationalities of the LD in these A in order to give them back to their owner. D.1.c Crusader A may be lead by X of any crusader country, even if it has no LD inside. D.1.d Note that he may well “pick up” troops from other crusaders without their agreement. D.2 Military Leader of the Crusade A X or ± of the first participant player is chosen as leader of the Crusade. For the duration of the Crusade, he is considered to possess the highest hierarchical rank (even above monarchs). D.2.a He is allowed to lead any troops of crusaders countries. He may thus lead a stack with no troops of his own nationality. [E Military Phase] E.1 The way to Crusade crusaders countries automatically give free access to their territory and supply to other crusaders. E.1.a In the rare case where two crusaders are still at war elsewhere, they must choose upon entering enemy territory whether the stack is crusading (and allied) or not. The status of a stack may not change before it exits enemy territory. Crusader stacks still in enemy territory at the end of the Crusade are immediately moved into friendly territory per the peace redeployment procedure. Design note: The following points are meant to force crusaders to really “wage crusade” and not sit and watch. There are undoubtedly loopholes in them that tricky players will find and use to circumvent the Crusade rules. Remember here what the spirit of the rule is: if you’re part of the Crusade, you must really participate in the Crusade. Use good sense and fair play. Do not let a player that really participated in the Crusade be punished by this. Do not let a player that found a loophole to abuse it. Make an homerule if you don’t think this correct. E.2 Participating to the crusade At the end of the first military round of each turn of the Crusade, each major crusader country must design one of its stack with at least 3LD or ND (or 6NGD) belonging to it as a “main crusading stack”. E.3 At the end of each following round, each crusader major country loss 1Stability unless at least one of the following conditions is true. E.3.a All his troops initially in his main crusading stack (they may split) have been destroyed (reinforcing the crusading stack does not prevent the destruction of the initial troops).

[E]392	Political Events of Period III	α-E.5 During the war between HOL and HIS neither side loses Stability due to the number of turns engaged in war as per normal rules. Instead, for being at war with each other, or with the allies of each other, they lose the following fixed amounts: Period III HIS1 Stability, HOL1 Stability. Period IV HIS2 Stability, HOL1 Stability. Period V+ HIS3 Stability, HOL2 Stability. α-E.6 This applies only to the war between HOL and HIS due to this event and only to HIS and HOL. Other allies involved in this war lose Stability in the usual manner as well as HOL and HIS for non-connected wars. α-F Interphase α-F.1 HIS receives 5VP each turn that the Independence of HOL is not recognised (the war of Revolt goes on or the Revolt has failed) in period III. This bonus is reduced to 2VP during period IV and terminates in period V. The bonus is given even if the turn was spent in Armistice. β War between Holland and Portugal β-G Condition: If HOL is in Revolt against HIS and PORTUGALLIA has been annexed by HIS according to event III-7 (Annexation of Portugal by Spain), add the following event to a Revolt (first and subsequent ones). β-H Event Phase β-H.1 PORTUGALLIA and HOL are involved in an Overseas War, as long as the War of Revolt continues between HIS and HOL. β-H.2 PORTUGALLIA uses its forces as defined in event part III-7.α (Portugal in Annexation) and HIS can help it as they are allied. β-I Diplomatic Phase β-I.1 An Armistice in the war between HIS and HOL does not imply an Armistice between minor PORTUGALLIA and HOL. β-J Administrative Phase β-J.1 All COL and TP of POR occupied by HOL give all their revenue to HOL (and none to HIS) as if owned. β-K Interphase β-K.1 All TP⊖ of POR occupied by HOL can be replaced by HOL TP with 1 level less. β-K.2 Portuguese TP may not be annexed in this way or burnt by HOL at the turn where HIS recognises the Independence of HOL (but see afterwards). β-L Peace Phase β-L.1 This war terminates at the end of period IV, or if HOL is conquered or recognised by HIS or if minor PORTUGALLIA breaks free from HIS. In the latter case, HOL has a free Overseas CB against PORTUGALLIA to be used immediately. Else, HOL has to leave Portuguese territory at the end of the turn. β-L.2 When the Independence of HOL is recognised, HOL can immediately annexe two COL or TP of PORTUGALLIA, or only one COL or TP if the peace is unfavourable. In both cases, the level of the COL/TP remains the same. HOL must have military control of these settlements, but the agreement of HIS about which TP/COL are gained is not needed. β-L.2.a Instead of one TP/COL, HOL may obtain the right of implantation of fleets in STZ bordering Portuguese COL/TP. β-L.3 Until the end of Period IV, HOL having won the Revolt gains an Overseas CB against PORTUGALLIA as long as this country is annexed by HIS. γ Subsequent Revolts γ-M Event Phase γ-M.1 If the Revolt occurs again after a failed Revolt, the rules are the same as in First Revolt against the Spanish Crown (§α) except for the following points.	[E]393	Political Events of Period III— master – 2016-04-14	γ-M.2 Points §α-B.3, §α-B.7, §α-B.8, §α-B.11 and §α-D.2 of subevent III-1 (1).α (First Revolt against the Spanish Crown) above are ignored. γ-M.3 Technological markers are where they were left at the end of the previous Revolt, or at the box of Latin technology (the better). HIS loses 5 VP for each of the provinces now in HOL that were not his own just before the event. TERRÆ DEPRESSÆ is dissolved and does not exist anymore. δ-N.1.a Former (non-Spanish) owners of those provinces can declare a war against HOL but have no CB. δ-N.2 The characteristics of HOLLANDIA are as defined in the Annexes. The named ⌚⊕ and ⌚⊖ of HOL are used, with a minimum of one ⌚⊕ and one ⌚⊖ to be taken in unnamed counters. The discoveries or wars are resolved by the player in charge of the administrative actions. δ-O.3 If at war, it uses its full forces and reinforcements. δ-P Lasting Effects δ-P.1 HOLLANDIA may Revolt against HIS because of some war between these two countries in period III. δ-P.2 Or HOLLANDIA may break free or/and become a Major Power because of event IV-A (Thirty Years' War). δ-P.3 Finally, a peace of level 5 against HIS breaks the special status of VA and HOLLANDIA becomes a neutral minor country; the player waiting to play HOL according to the rules of the Grand Campaign has the choice to immediately become HOL. δ-P.4 In all those cases, the event and the rules described here terminate. III-1 (2) VEREENIGDE OOSTINDISCHE COMPAGNIE RistoMod Date: Vereenigde Oostindische Compagnie was created in 1602. [A Condition: A.1 If this event already happened because of event IV-9 (Dutch Colonial Dynamism), reapply IV-9 instead.

A war against HIS does not imply necessarily PORTUGALLIA in the war. [α-D Administrative Phase] α-D.1 HIS receives a part of the incomes of PORTUGALLIA: it receives all income from TP/COL, Exotic Resources, TF (but no income from European provinces, foreign or domestic commerce, manufactures – these are removed). This income can not be higher than 400 ₤, plus the East Indies convoy. α-D.1.a HIS gains the VP for the monopolies detained by PORTUGALLIA. It does not combine resources or fleets of PORTUGALLIA with it to determine monopolies or the ownership of a Commercial Centre. α-D.2 HIS must pay for the maintenance and recruitment of Portuguese units and fortresses as if they were Spanish units (except that their content remains that of Portuguese units and they can only be placed within Portuguese territory, including COL/TP). HIS has 3D of basic forces and an additional limit of recruitment of 1LD and 1ND to maintain or raise Portuguese units. One unnamed Portuguese ⚔ leads the naval forces. α-D.3 HIS can make administrative actions for Portuguese TF and COL/TP, but using Portuguese FTI/DTI (without the former Portuguese bonus for ROTW actions). HIS has 2 (in periods III and IV) or 1 (period V) actions for Portuguese COL and can use also its own actions for Portuguese establishments. One of these actions can be used on a Portuguese TP each turn. HIS has one action of TF in periods III and IV for Portuguese fleets. [α-E Military Phase] α-E.1 HIS must pay for all campaign activations of Portuguese units jointly with Spanish units. [α-F Peace Phase] α-F.1 HIS can renounce annexation at the end of any peace phase (except on the same turn when event IV-4 (1) (National Revolt of the Portugal) occurs) losing control of PORTUGALLIA and 3 Stability. α-F.1.a If HIS renounces the inheritance before event IV-4 (1) occurs, PORTUGALLIA is placed in forced EW of HIS until the death of current Spanish monarch. After that, it is treated as normal minor and subject to diplomacy. α-F.1.b If HIS renounces the inheritance after event IV-4 (1) has occurred, PORTUGALLIA becomes neutral and it makes a white peace with HIS. Its provinces are shared as follows: B.1.a Estland is given to SUE*. B.1.b Memel joins the DUCHY OF PRUSSIA and is given to whoever controls this Duchy (POL* or BRANDENBURGUM). B.1.c Livonija and Kurland are associated as the DUCHY OF COURLAND. This Duchy is claimed by SUE* and POL*. B.1.d If one of these provinces was conquered by another country than the one that should take it, this wronged country has a CB against the country possessing the province. A minor country will always use this CB. B.1.e All other provinces are given to their legitimate owner in 1492 (as indicated on the map). B.2 War for Kurland B.2.a POL* has a CB against SUE*; refusal to use it costs 1 Stability and gives all the DUCHY OF COURLAND to SUE*. minor POLONIA always uses the CB. B.2.b SUE* has a CB against POL; refusal to use it costs 1 Stability and gives all the DUCHY OF COURLAND to POL. Minor SUECIA always uses the CB. B.2.c If both countries use their CB against the other one, POL* owns both provinces, but SUE has initially the military control of Livonija. They can make no Armistice on the first turn of this war. B.2.d If neither SUE nor POL use this CB, CURLANDIA is created as a normal minor country with the two provinces. [C Diplomatic Phase] C.1 Any country which was at war against FRATRES MILITÆ CHRISTI has an immediate free CB to be used jointly against POL* and SUE* (and CURLANDIA if it exists). An additional malus of −1 is received for each Turkish or minor allied LD inside any province in Revolt (even if besieged). D Interphase D.1 Revolt caused by this event can never extend beyond Granada, Córdoba, Murcia and La Mancha (with a maximum of two Revolt counters per province). D.2 If the Revolt survives the first turn, place a minor general on it. D.3 For each interphase this event continues TUR receives 2 VP. This bonus is increased to 10 VP per interphase whenever TUR or its minor ally units are within Granada (a war must have been declared to the controller to do this). D.4 If a Revolt⊕ exists for a whole turn in Granada without being suppressed at any point during this turn, a new minor GRANADA is created and becomes a permanent VA of TUR (but the war is not necessarily ended). It owns any of the 4 mentioned provinces having a Revolt in them, but has no capital (so can be destroyed by any country). D.5 If Granada is later annexed by any other player than TUR, place a Revolt⊖ in the province during the peace phase and consider this event as having been activated again, but without the malus of −3 for suppress of Revolt. From now on, it cannot declare war on anyone as long as the event lasts. A.3 If no-one controls GENUA at present, the controller is chosen as per normal rules when minor neutral is activated. A.4 This event is treated as a civil war in GENUA (see section IV.5.5.5 (Religious Wars, Civil Wars)). Only the controllers of GENUA and of the Revolt are allowed to do a Foreign Intervention with their own forces. B Administrative Phase B.1 This event must be played even if no player country is involved in it. POL has now the Monarch Zygmunt III, with values 5/5/6 and is also general Zygmunt III (♣ A 4.3.4 [Event III-13]). Its reign will last 9 turns. B.2 The Vasa Dynasty remains on the Polish throne until a Dynastic crisis occurs in Poland or an event (or some elected specific general) changes the Dynasty; POL has to lose 2 Stability to keep its Dynastic Claims or this terminates the event. From now on, POL has Dynastic Claims over SUE. C Lasting Effects C.1 POL can renounce its Claims at any diplomatic phase (that is a declaration) and that terminates the event. POL loses 1 Stability.
[E]402 Political Events of Period III C.2 Each time there is a new monarch in SUE, POL has a CB against SUE at this turn to claim for its Inheritance. In case of Dynastic Crisis in SUE, POL is a valid pretender as long as it has Dynastic Claims over Sweden. C.2.a The first time after the beginning of the event that this situation happens, POL must either use the CB or lose 2 Stability or renounce its Claims (costs 2 Stability). C.3 The first new Swedish Monarch after this event will be Karl IX, with values 8/6/6 (but not a general) and random duration (ignore Fragile health and Dynastic crisis. Exception: if Gustav Adolf was to be the new monarch due to another event, use Gustav Adolf. D Diplomatic Phase D.1 If a war is declared because of its CB, SUE is now in Civil Religious War (see section IV.5.5.5 (Religious Wars, Civil Wars)). Apart from POL, only foreign intervention in the war is allowed. D.2 The first time a war is declared due to Dynastic Claims, POL gains the military control of one province owned by SUE, chosen by POL (the capital is forbidden). This effect is not applied for subsequent wars. E Administrative Phase E.1 POL can recruit troops in Swedish provinces that are under its military control, at double price (because those are not normal recruitment provinces). E.2 POL can use outside its own territory only land forces paid with ducats and not paid with free maintenance (mercenaries only). There is no such restriction for naval forces, nor if the kings of SUE are Protestant/Rigorous in which case the war is not limited for POL. Note that it is not mandatory to use the free maintenance. F Peace Phase F.1 If SUE wins the war, a valid peace term is to ask for renouncement to Dynastic Claims (equivalent of one province). F.2 If POL wins the war with a peace of level 3 or more, or forces an unconditional peace, the Monarch of POL becomes ruler of SUE as one of the Victory conditions (instead of one province). F.2.a The Monarch of SUE is executed; now SUE uses the values of the Monarch of POL. SUE is considered Catholic during the Union (in every aspects). F.2.b SUE has a mandatory offensive alliance with POL in which she is compelled to answer any call. F.2.c SUE can not declare war without a CB or the agreement of POL. It can not declare war against POL. F.2.d The alliance is in question when the Monarch of POL dies or if POL refuses to answer a call for defensive war (not offensive war), or if POL declares a war against SUE. A new monarch is rolled for SUE. POL having still Dynastic Claims over Sweden, it can renew the war to impose its ruler but it renews the Union if POL wins a peace of any level against SUE. As long as the war continues, the union exists for Victory Conditions, if not in its consequences. F.2.e Note that if this event is rolled for a new time when the Union exists, SUE is Catholic and event III-B (Religious War in Sweden) is thus applied. III-14 UNION OF LUBLIN PB Date: 1569. A Condition: A.1 This event is described in event II-13 (Union of Lublin). A.2 If it has already occurred, mark off and apply either event III-15 (1) (Oprichnina) or event III-15 (2) (The Time of Troubles in Russia). III-15 (1) OPRICHNINA PB Date: 1565-1572. Duration: as long as there is a Revolt in Russia. A Condition: A.1 If Ivan IV has not been yet Monarch of RUS, do not mark off and re-roll.	Political Events of Period III— master – 2016-04-14 [E]403 A.2 If Ivan IV is already dead, mark off and apply R/D the first time (with a Revolt in RUS), the second event the next time. B Event Phase B.1 RUS is in Civil War for the duration of the event. B.2 Revolt are placed in Moskva and Novgorod; their force is randomly decided. B.3 Another Revolt is rolled for in Russia. B.4 The Russian leader Kurbsky is withdrawn from game as long as Ivan IV rules in RUS and can not be used. C Administrative Phase C.1 RUS is not restricted by limits of land building this turn only, and has no penalty for doing so. Political Events of Period III

III-D (5) LAST STAND OF THE HERETICS PB

Date: Alternate history.

A Condition:

A.1 If event III-D (4) (War of Succession) is not finished, do not mark off and reroll.

A.2 If FRA is Catholic/Conciliatory and no unconditional surrender was obtained by FRA against HUGUENOTIS in a previous war, mark off the event, play R/D instead and the French king will have a malus of +2 to his Survival test for the next turn.

A.3 If FRA is Catholic/Conciliatory but did force an unconditional surrender of HUGUENOTIS in a previous war, HUGUENOTIS rebels itself.

A.4 If FRA is Protestant or Catholic/Counter-Reformation at the end of event III-D (4) (War of Succession) and event III-D (Final) (End of the Wars of Religion) was not applied, the rest of the event happens.

A.5 If FRA is Protestant or Catholic/Counter-Reformation but event III-D (Final) (End of the Wars of Religion) already occurred, play R/D instead with the Revolt on the table of FRA.

B Event Phase

B.1 One of SANCTA LEGA or HUGUENOTIS rebels itself depending on the religion of FRA. Apply the full effects of event part III-D.α (Politic crisis), event part III-D.β (Economic crisis), event part III-D.γ (Uprisings in France) and event part III-D.δ (Military Troubles). Also apply event part §α (Military operations during the fifth event) and event part §β (How to end the Last Stand?).

B.2 If the revolting minor was already annexed by FRA (this may happen if a mandatory religious change is then forced on FRA), recreate it immediately. It will get no troops at beginning.

B.3 If the non-rebelling minor still exists, it is immediately annexed by FRA: its provinces become regular French provinces and its units become french units.

B.4 REB is not obliged to do a white peace with FRA.

B.4.a If it chooses to continue a war, it can make a full military intervention in the Civil War. But it will continue to suffer a normal loss of Stability at the end of turns, whereas FRA will lose at most 2 Stability each turn during the Civil War.

B.4.b If it chooses to sign a white peace, or if it was at peace, REB can make a limited intervention in the war.

B.5 LIG can make a limited intervention as an ally of a Catholic/Counter-Reformation FRA.

B.6 HOL can make a limited intervention as an ally of Protestant FRA. Else it can make a limited intervention as an ally of HUGUENOTIS.

C Diplomatic Phase

C.1 Usual foreign interventions are allowed.

Specific conditions of the last event

α MILITARY OPERATIONS DURING THE FIFTH EVENT

α-D Military Phase

α-D.1 Use the rules of event part III-D.ε (Military operations during the wars).

α-D.2 A city in FRA that had not a Revolt at the beginning of the turn, makes an immediate voluntary surrender if besieged by a land stack of FRA (or its allies) that sets a siege with at least one ⚠ and there is no more Revolt in the province (including if the Revolt was just crushed this round).

β HOW TO END THE LAST STAND?

β-E Peace Phase

β-E.1 FRA loses at most 2 Stability per turn because of the war.

β-E.2 No Truce happens ever in this civil war. It keeps going until one side wins.

Political Events of Period III

B.6.d Result 11+: 2 levels level of French TF are lost to HOL, and 2 to ANG; both FTI and DTI of FRA are diminished by −1;

B.6.e HOL chooses first the TF it takes, then ANG chooses.

B.6.f If FRA is Catholic/Counter-Reformation, the level chosen by HOL are lost but not received by HOL; ANG gains the levels if it is Catholic, if not those levels are lost for everyone.

B.6.g if ANG is Catholic/Counter-Reformation and FRA is not, SUE chooses and gains the levels instead of ANG.

B.7 Undesired policy

B.7.a If the chosen Heir was Protestant but FRA is no more Protestant at the end of the Wars of Religion, FRA has a malus of −2 to all its colonial actions during the period IV and its FTI and DTI are diminished by a further 1.

B.7.b If the chosen Heir was Catholic/Conciliatory but FRA is Catholic/Counter-Reformation at the end of the Wars of Religion, FRA has a malus of −1 to all its colonial actions during the period IV. Each event R/D obtained in period IV has a chance to make appear a second Revolt in FRA. Roll 1d10: 1-3 Poitou, 4-6: Guyenne, 7-10: none.

B.7.c If the chosen Heir was Catholic/Counter-Reformation but FRA is no more Catholic/Counter-Reformation, FRA has a malus of −2 to all its Technological actions during the period IV. Each event R/D obtained in period IV has a chance to make appear a second Revolt in FRA. Roll 1d10: 1-3 Armor, 4-6: Orléanais, 7-10: none.

γ Civil War between Protestants and Puritansγ-E Event Phase γ-E.1 ANG is now in Civil war (section IV.5.5.5 (Religious Wars, Civil Wars)) between two sides: the (Puritans and Calvinist) Rebels (possibly with Orange Partisans) and the (Protestant) Royalists. Catholics rebel against both sides. γ-E.1.a The Rebels are controlled by a Protestant FRA, or HOL (or SUE if there is no HOL). They use the FIDELIS REGI counters. γ-E.1.b The (Protestant) Royalists are controlled by ANG and use ANG counters; all ANG leaders are with them. γ-E.2 Four Rebel Revolt are rolled for in England (re-roll until in English owned territory). [γ-H Peace Phase] γ-H.1 Peace is determined with usual rules except that: γ-H.1.a The Rebels surrender unconditionally if they have no forces nor Revolt left (fortresses do not count). γ-H.1.b If the English King is overthrown by Revolt, it also surrenders unconditionally to the Rebels and their controller. γ-H.2 If the Rebels win, ANG will have a Dynastic Crisis next turn, and loses 50 VP. γ-H.2.a event VI-8 (Act of Union) is broken. If it did not happen yet, may occur later. γ-H.3 If the Rebels win unconditionally and their controller was involved in full intervention, additional consequences are: γ-H.3.a ANG makes a mandatory Dynastic Alliance with the controller of the Rebels and must give a COL or TP as dowry. γ-H.3.b ANG makes a mandatory offensive alliance with the controller of the Rebels for 2 turns. It cannot declare war against it (except with CB from events; then, the alliance has to be broken with the usual cost in Stability). γ-H.3.c event VI-8 (Act of Union) is broken. α CREATION OF THE GERMANIC ALLIANCES α-B.1 Two German sides are made up for this war: the (German) Catholic LEAGUE and the Protestant ALLIANCE (more properly called: Protestant Union or League of Evangelical Union). All minor countries of the HRE at war will be part of one or another. When a minor country joins one alliance, it is placed in Neutral diplomatic position and will change of status before the end of the war only if specified by this event or another political event. The HRE is now in Civil and Religious War (see section IV.5.5.5 (Religious Wars, Civil Wars)), with all the usual restrictions. α-B.1.a The ALLIANCE is formed by all the German minor countries that were enemies of the AUS* during the previous turn. α-B.1.b AUS* and its German allies (minor countries at war with it) form the LEAGUE. Minor HABSBURGUM is part of the LEAGUE as any other minor. BAVARIA automatically joins this alliance. α-B.1.c The stability of both sides is placed on +2, modified by any Major Victory of the preceding turn of their side (battles with troops of German minor countries or AUS*). This stability will evolve during the turn because of the major victory/defeat of any forces in their alliance that is in any province of the HRE (even if there are only forces of non Germanic major powers). α-B.2 Attitude of the Netherlands If HOL is not a Major Power, the following conditions apply: α-B.2.a If HOLLANDIA is either owned by HIS or is TERRÆ DEPRESSÆ or PRIMA HOLLANDIA, apply event III-1 (1) (Revolt of the United Provinces). This gives a new status to HOLLANDIA (it may trigger the following points if still a MIN). α-B.2.b If HOLLANDIA is a VA of HIS (special or regular), HOLLANDIA breaks its special status with HIS. HIS has an immediate free CB against HOLLANDIA; if used, HOLLANDIA revolts against the Spanish Crown. (re)apply III-1 (1) and HOL is now a Major Power. If it does not use it, apply §α-B.3 (Transfer to HOL) of this event part. For the rest of the event HOL* is neutral, and may not be involved in any manner in the incoming war. Ignore any reference to HOL* hereafter for this event. α-B.2.c If HOLLANDIA is a normal minor country, apply §α-B.3 (Transfer to HOL) of this event part. HOL* is involved in the war. α-B.3 Transfer to HOL If HOLLANDIA is liberated by the preceding paragraph, VEN may be allowed to choose between incarnating AUS or HOL according to the rules of the Grand Campaign. α-B.3.a If VEN chooses Minor HABSBURGUM (which becomes AUS), HOLLANDIA is now a normal minor country. α-B.3.b If VEN chooses minor HOLLANDIA (which becomes HOL), HOL is created with no Revolt (using the current position of minor HOLLANDIA). α-B.3.c TODO: establish full starting position of non-revolted HOL. α-B.4 The ALLIANCE is controlled according to the order of preference (a player may not refuse control): HOL, ANG (Protestant), FRA (Protestant), SUE (Protestant), RUS. α-B.5 The LEAGUE is controlled according to the order of preference (a player may not refuse control): HIS (Counter-Reformation), AUS (if it exists), HIS (Conciliatory). α-B.6 If the War of the Schmalkaldic League or the League of Nassau still do exist, the countries part of the League immediately join the Protestant ALLIANCE and the Leagues are dissolved. α-B.7 If the period IV has not begun yet, the Major Powers: HIS, HOL, SUE, FRA and AUS have to choose immediately if they take or not the Objectives relevant to this war. The Objective are conditions to be true at the end of period IV (and not especially this war). β EXTENSION OF THE ALLIANCES β-B.1 Every minor country of the HRE that is not part of the war is checked for war entry at the beginning of each turn. One rolls 1d10, added to the Stability of the side it could join, the current turn of the war (+1 this first turn), and specific modifier for some countries. Turn 1 (1624–1629)
C Event Phase		5-D.2 The ALLIANCE is due to receive 4 LD and the result of random reinforcements with a global modifier of +2 . 5-D.2.a The attitude chosen must be offensive during the first two turns of the war and may be either offensive or defensive afterwards. 5-D.3 The controller of the ALLIANCE can pay 50 to give a further +1 to the reinforcement roll, or 100 for a +2 . If it does not pay, SUE has the opportunity to do so and in this case will control ALLIANCE for this turn only. 5-D.4 The reinforcements of the ALLIANCE are lowered by 1 LD for each one of the following cities that have been conquered by the enemies (even if liberated later on): Magdeburg and: • Stuttgart, Erfurt if the war follows War of the Schmalkaldic League (II-9), • Münster, Rostock if the war follows League of Nassau (III-1 (3)), • Speyer, Praha if the war follows Bohemian Revolt (IV-1 (1)) • Braunschweig, Weimar if the war follows Revocation of the Truce of Augsburg (IV-1 (2)) or War for the Unity of the HRE (IV-2 (2)). 5-D.5 The reinforcements of the ALLIANCE are also lowered by 1 LD for each two cities in the following list that have been conquered by the enemies (even if liberated later on): Hannover, Cassel, Dresden, Berlin, Lübeck, Hamburg. 5-D.6 If minor HABSBURGUM is part of the LEAGUE, the LEAGUE is due to receive 3 LD and the result of random reinforcements with a global modifier of +2 . Else (AUS is a MAJ), the LEAGUE receives only a random reinforcements with a global modifier of +2 . The LEAGUE uses the A counter of the HRE regardless of who the Emperor is. 5-D.6.a The attitude chosen must be offensive during the first two turns of the war and may be either offensive or defensive afterwards. 5-D.7 The controller of the LEAGUE can pay 50 to give a further +1 to the reinforcement roll, or 100 for a +2 . 5-D.8 The reinforcements of the LEAGUE are lowered by 1 LD for each one of the following cities that have been conquered by the enemies (even if liberated later on): Wien, Salzburg and München. 5-D.9 Placement: ALLIANCE then LEAGUE 5-D.9.a The reinforcements obtained are freely distributed among the countries part of the alliance. AUS as a Major power buys its own reinforcements but may take up to 2 LD from the LEAGUE as its own reinforcements. 5-D.9.b They can only be placed in provinces not pillaged, not controlled by the enemy and free of enemy forces. 5-D.9.c They have to be placed in a province of their nationality, or with at least one LD of the same nationality if their country is not completely occupied by the enemy. 5-D.10 Wallenstein AUS* may hire mercenary general Wallenstein (X A 4.5.5 -1 [Event IV-A]). He costs 40 (paid by the controller of LEAGUE) to recruit him for one turn. 5-D.10.a If Wallenstein is not hired at turn 1 or 2 of this war, he will not be available later. He can not be hired anew after the Peace of Prague (5n). The first time Wallenstein is hired, he appears anywhere in a friendly province of HABSBURGUM or BOHEMIA with one Veteran A⊕ (use an AUS or HRE counter). 5-D.10.b Wallenstein can command any stack of the LEAGUE (including AUS*) but no Bavarian counter. 5-D.10.c If at the end of a turn the Stability of the LEAGUE is positive or its situation favourable, Wallenstein is automatically dismissed. He can be hired again on the round and/or turn after LEAGUE suffered a Major Defeat. 5-D.10.d [AUS/HIS] can assassinate Wallenstein at any time (even if he is currently dismissed). He is eliminated and LEAGUE (and AUS) gain immediately 1 in Stability. 5-D.10.e After the Peace of Prague, Wallenstein is no more available (and cannot be murdered anymore). 5-D.11 Three mercenary generals are available each turn of this war. They can be recruited by the LEAGUE or the ALLIANCE. A general is recruited for one turn only. He can lead any stack of the alliance (including allied MAJ); by paying 10 more, he can lead a stack even if there is a general with higher rank.
→ Specific rules for the war ←
Y THE TURKISH FRONTIER
Y-C.1 As long as there are 2 A⊕ of AUS* in Wien or any province once owned by HUNGARIA and a X, TUR may not declare a war to AUS* (but may continue one). For the first turn, this restriction is enforced if AUS* has this force available anywhere in the HRE instead. Y-C.2 If Wien is conquered by the ALLIANCE, or the previous condition is not respected at the Diplomatic Phase, TUR has no such restriction. Y-C.3 If TUR takes Wien, the LEAGUE will concede a winning peace to the ALLIANCE at the end of the turn. A Crusade might then happen. Y-C.4 [BLP] §B (The Little war and The Long war) of section XIV.13.4.3 (Bohemia, Hungaria and Transilvania) is reactivated for TUR only, and only with a small stack (up to 5LD plus one Pasha). Y-C.4.a That is, TUR (not CRIMEA) may send one (small) stack in non controlled former provinces of HUNGARIA and loses Stability accordingly. Y-C.4.b Additionally, TUR may also send this stack in national provinces of AUS.
5 GERMAN REINFORCEMENTS
5-D Administrative Phase
5-D.1 Reinforcements for both ALLIANCE and LEAGUE are determined globally for all German minor countries involved in an alliance.

5 GENERAL CONDITIONS OF THE WAR
5-E Military Phase		G.2 SUE has to enter the war as an ally of the Protestant ALLIANCE. If it is Catholic, roll for 2 Revolt in SUE and it loses 1 Stability; nothing happens if it is Protestant – no CB is necessary and this is not a declaration of war. G.3 Military revolution SUE receives Gustav Adolf . He is due to last 7 turns. G.3.a If the current Monarch has 1 or 2 turns of life left, Gustav Adolf would be his heir. If Gustav Adolf dies (in battle) before the current Monarch, SUE will use the columns 7 to roll its next Monarch. G.3.b If the current Monarch has more than 2 turns left, Gustav Adolf replaces him entirely and will last for the remaining of the 7 turns as a Monarch (but a death in battle). G.3.c Gustav Adolf is a military genius, a general Gustav Adolf (♣ A 6.6.6 [Event IV-A]). As long as the war goes on for SUE, it benefits from a Military Revolution (see section VI.8.1.6 (Military Revolutions)) G.3.d [BLP] The moment Gustav Adolf dies (even in the middle of a round), SUE receives Banér for 3 turns. Banér replaced the deceased king (replace one counter by the other). G.3.e Sachsen-Weimar Sachsen-Weimar (X A 3.4.4 -1 [Event IV-A]) joins SUE for 7 turns also. G.3.f If Gustav Adolf dies, FRA (if allied to SUE) may hire Saxe-Weimar as a mercenary general to fight in the present war. It costs 30 the first turn, then 20 to keep Saxe-Weimar ; when Saxe-Weimar is not paid one turn, he is eliminated (he does not go back to SUE). Saxe-Weimar takes command of one German stack of the ALLIANCE when he goes to FRA; at each following turns, FRA can take half (round down) of the reinforcements of the ALLIANCE (up to 4LD) to be placed with Saxe-Weimar . If he dies the forces go back to normal status in the ALLIANCE. G.4 FRA, if Protestant, can begin a limited intervention in the war on the side of the ALLIANCE. G.5 Any MAJ that was doing a limited intervention during the previous turn (as defined in the original war) can continue this limited intervention to help the same side. G.6 The Turkish frontier (5y) is in effect this turn.
5-E.1 Each alliance has a Simple Campaign available each round. Major or Multiple Campaign could be paid for by the controller of the alliance (cost lowered by 20).		[H Administrative Phase]
5-E.2 Each alliance and their allies draw supply in the HRE from any province controlled by their side that is not pillaged or that has an unblocked port.		H.1 Roll for reinforcements as in the first turn, see German reinforcements (5δ).
5-E.3 Supply can be traced through any neutral province, or controlled province (pillaged or not).		I Military Phase
5-E.4 Both alliances can freely cross any neutral HRE minor countries ; this is also permitted to DAN*, SUE, ANG in limited intervention, AUS* of course and HIS but not to other allies.		I.1 The war is conducted according to General conditions of the war (5ε).
5-E.5 Alternatively, a side may, before its movement, declare war against any neutral country of the HRE. Its forces are immediately deployed.		I.2 SUE takes the control of the forces of one minor country of the ALLIANCE (its choice). This country can change from one turn to the other and is chosen at the beginning of any military round of the turn.
5-E.6 All pillages of the LEAGUE and of the ALLIANCE are decided by their controller and goes in their Treasury.		I.3 SUE may force a minor country to enter the war in the ALLIANCE if it is one of the countries that could join the ALLIANCE and SUE has at least 1 A⊕ and Gustav Adolf in a province of the country.
5-E.7 A Major Victory involving forces of one or both alliances adjust the Stability of this side accordingly of the usual rules.		I.4 If SUE makes a siege of allied or neutral Mecklenburg, Hinterpommern or Vorpommern with at least one A⊕, then the city surrenders without fighting at the end of the round.
5 WHO IS WINNING THE WAR ?		I.5 All cities taken (by siege, assault or automatic surrender) with at least one Swedish A, or only Swedish troops, have now Swedish garrisons (and the town counts as Swedish presence in the HRE). Other Major powers put their garrison if the city is taken with only their own forces (else, German garrisons are in charge).
5-F Peace Phase		J Peace Phase
5-F.1 No minor country of an alliance ever makes a regular peace (even unconditional) outside of the peace of its alliance.		J.1 The balance of the war is checked as in Who is winning the war ? (5ζ). The losses of Stability are applied except that now there is one turn more:
5-F.2 One side may be in favoured position depending on the military control of the following cities. 5-F.2.a The ALLIANCE is awarded 2 points for the control of Wien. 5-F.2.b One point is awarded for each of those: Speyer, Praha, München, Freiburg, Strasbourg, Hannover, Kleve, Cassel, Magdeburg, Berlin, Dresden, Frankfurt and Braunschweig 5-F.2.c ½point is awarded for each of these: Köln, Stuttgart, Ulm, Mainz, Trier, Hamburg, Münster and Erfurt 5-F.2.d A side has a favoured position of it has at least 3 points more than the other alliance.		J.1.a Both the ALLIANCE and the LEAGUE lose each 3 Stability.
5-F.3 Both the ALLIANCE and the LEAGUE lose each 2 Stability.		J.1.b Then if a side is favoured, it gains 2 Stability.
5-F.4 Then if a side is favoured, it gains 1 Stability.		J.1.c Any Major Power in its second turn of war lose 2 Stability.
5-F.5 HIS, HOL and AUS lose 1 Stability if they were not in the original war (in full intervention, not just a limited one) on the previous turn.		J.1.d HIS, HOL, AUS lose 3 Stability if they are in their third turn of war.
5-F.6 HIS, HOL, AUS lose 2 Stability if they were at war (full intervention) on the previous turn (even if it was a war that lasted since more than one turn ; this war counts as one turn of the current one); their second turn of war just ended.		J.1.e SUE and ANG if continuing their intervention lose 1 Stability.
← end of specific rules for the war →		J.2 Suing for peace
F.7 Result of the Danish Crusade		J.2.a A German alliance sues for the Peace of Prague (5n) when it is at -3 in Stability at the end of two consecutive turns, and the position in the HRE is not in its favour. The enemy side grants necessarily this peace.
F.7.a If DAN* wins a battle against at least 1 A⊕ of the LEAGUE (or its allies) in the HRE, is never routed in battle and has forces left in HRE at the end of the turn, then its Crusade is successful.
F.7.b Thus the ALLIANCE gains 1 Stability; minor DANIA is placed in EW of ANG, annexes immediately Lübeck and Holstein (or Mecklenburg if it owns already both) and will continue its intervention until the end of the war, or when it signs any separate peace (in this war or another). It will not receive reinforcements per se , but some can be given from those of the ALLIANCE.
F.7.c If the Danish Crusade failed, minor DANIA makes a white peace and withdraws from the war. Christian IV remains as a Danish general for the full 4 turns.

G Event Phase
G.1 Check for a possible extension of each alliance, see event part §B (Extension of the alliances).

[E]456 Political Events of Period IV J.2.b If both alliances are at –3 in Stability at the end of any turn, their controllers can agree to a Status Quo and sign the Peace of Prague. J.2.c When the Peace of Prague is signed, the German alliances are partly dissolved; their stability will not be recorded further and most of the minor countries in these alliances make a peace. The alliances want to stop the war and sign a peace so, from now on, all foreign countries have no constraint to sign peaces also. It would not be a separate peace from the German alliance point of view (but could be from another country...) J.2.d However, if some Major Powers want to keep fighting in the HRE and refuse to sign the Peace of Prague, see event part §9 (The War after Prague). Keeping fighting means that the Major power does not sign treaty of peace with every enemy (that are MAJ, the enemy German alliance, and possibly minor HOLLANDIA and minor DANIA); moreover this country is not allowed to sign a Truce next turn. Minor HABSBURGUM signs or not the Peace of Prague alongside HIS. J.2.e If no Major Power contests the Peace of Prague by continuing the fight, apply now the Peace of Westphalie (§!). Turn 3 (1632–1636) and after: a Foreign War Date: Turn 4: 1637–1641 (first turn after the Peace of Prague); Turn 5: 1642–1648 (from Rocroi and Jankov to Lens); Turn 6: 1648-1654 (La Fronde); Turn 7: 1654–1660.. [K Event Phase] K.1 Check for a possible extension of each alliance, see Extension of the alliances (§§). K.2 No limited intervention of the previous turn can be carried on. K.3 At any turn, FRA and ANG can enter the war as an ally of the side they chose. They have a CB against a side which has not their Religious Stand, and none against an alliance having the same Religious Attitude; the ALLIANCE is Protestant and the LEAGUE is Catholic/Counter-Reformation. K.4 At any turn, POL (unless it is Orthodox) can make a full or limited intervention in the war as an ally of any side. POL can do such an intervention only once during the war. It has a CB only against an alliance that has not the exact same Religious Attitude (relative to Catholicism) as itself. [L Administrative Phase] L.1 Roll for reinforcements as in the first turn, see German reinforcements (§§). L.2 Two turns after a Military Revolution caused by SUE, the Land Technology of the Latin minor countries reaches this new Technology. [M Military Phase] M.1 The war is conducted according to General conditions of the war (§c). M.2 SUE takes the control of the forces of one minor country of the ALLIANCE (its choice). This country can change from one turn to the other and is chosen at the beginning of any military round of the turn. M.3 On the third turn only (not after), if SUE makes a siege of allied or neutral Mecklenburg, Hinterpommern or Vorpommern with at least one A⊕, then the city surrenders without fighting at the end of the round. M.4 All cities taken (by siege, assault or automatic surrender) with at least one Swedish A, or only Swedish troops, have now Swedish garrisons (and the town counts as Swedish presence in the HRE). Other Major powers put their garrison if the city is taken with only their own forces (else, German garrisons are in charge). [N Peace Phase] N.1 The balance of the war is checked as in Who is winning the war ? (§§). The losses of Stability are applied with one turn more. This war can not cause a loss more than 4 Stability at the end of turn. On turn 3 of the Religious War, the losses should be: N.1.a the ALLIANCE and the LEAGUE lose 4 Stability; N.1.b the favoured side then gains 2 Stability; N.1.c any Major Power in its third turn of war lose 3 Stability. N.1.d HIS, HOL, AUS lose 4 Stability if they were at war before the Religious War in the HRE.	Political Events of Period IV— master – 2016-04-14 [E]457 N.1.e SUE loses 2 Stability. N.1.f Any other Major Power intervening in the war at this turn lose 1 Stability. N.2 Suing for peace As described in §J.2 (Suing for peace) of event IV-A,ζ (Thirty Years' War). N.3 If SUE, ANG or POL (in full intervention) do not hold any city nor have any A left in the HRE, they make a mandatory white peace against all its enemies in this war. This will count as a losing position in Peace of Westphalie (§!). N.4 If POL is doing a limited intervention and wins a battle against at least one A⊕ of the enemy side (any nationality) in the HRE, then loses no battle in the HRE, the alliance it helps gains 1 in Stability (AUS also). All its forces are withdrawn from the map, and the cities of SAXONIA surrender immediately to the Catholics; Protestant forces in the provinces are withdrawn. ¶-N.1.d BRANDENBURGUM will continue (or enter) the war as an ally of the Protestant if SUE gives up its claims on Vorpommern to BRANDENBURGUM in Peace of Westphalie (§!).

The Great Campaign

Scenarios

Chapter XXVI

TODO: Add battle scenarios, war scenarios and short campaigns (from EU6).

XXVI.1 The Great Campaign

Design note: The Great Campaign is the way this game is meant to be played. It retraces history of the world from the European perspective between the discovery of the New World and the French Revolution.

The Great Campaign is currently designed for 9 players. One of them only starts to play in period III, taking the role of the Dutch as they revolt against the Spanish empire. Six of the players play each a single country while the three other play several countries.

We start here by describing the setup at the beginning of the game, followed by indications on what happens whenever a player has to change and play another country. Lastly, we give the indications for who plays which country both for the standard nine players game and for variants with fewer players.

XXVI.1.1 Placement in 1492 (turn 1)

XXVI.1.1.1 Miscellaneous

A During round 1 of turn 1, No country may explore a STZ adjacent to AMERICA, unless the stack is commanded by Colón.

B No monarch survival roll is made for turn 1.

C Marco Polo All coastal provinces in the areas between BALOUCHISTAN and NANKIN (included) are known by all players.

XXVI.1.1.2 Global markers

A Inflation is on the leftmost 5% box.

B The prices of all exotic resources are at their respective minimums, as shown on the track.

C Land Technologies: Latin 6, Orthodox 4, Islam 4, Asia 1. Naval Technologies: Latin 7, Orthodox 4, Islam 5, Asia 1.

C.1 Technological goal are on the boxes shown on the counters.

D KARNĀṬAKA and BĀŅGLĀ only produce 1 of each resource: put the “1 resource” markers there.

E There is no Russian CTZ. Put a counter there.

F Sund taxes are not raised. Put the “Free trade” counter.
